Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Warren County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Senate Bill 40 Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Sheriff's Civil Fees Fund	1997
Sheriff's Forfeiture Fund	1998 and 1997
Prosecuting Attorney Forfeiture Fund	1998 and 1997
Domestic Violence Fund	1998 and 1997
Road and Bridge Capital Improvements Fund	1998
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
RADE Fund	1998 and 1997
DARE Fund	1998 and 1997
Family Access Fund	1998

CDBG Fund	1998 and 1997
FEMA Fund	1997
EDA Grant Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Capital Improvements Fund	1998
Sheriff's Civil Fees Fund	1998
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

A deficit budget balance is presented for the General Revenue Fund for the year ended December 31, 1997.

However, the budget of that fund also included other resources available to finance current or future year disbursements. Generally, other available net resources represented current year property taxes not received before December 31. Such resources were sufficient to offset the deficit budget balance presented.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
CDBG Fund	1998 and 1997
FEMA Fund	1997
EDA Grant Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The Senate Bill 40 Board of Directors' deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997 were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $370,405 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $195,332. As of December 31, 1998, $73,247 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

WARREN COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Warren County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Warren County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Warren County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Warren County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. However, the results of our auditing procedures disclosed an instance of noncompliance with those requirements, which is required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which is described in the Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-2.

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Warren County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

We noted a certain matter involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be a reportable condition. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over compliance that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the county's ability to administer a major federal program in accordance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. The reportable condition is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-2.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we do not believe that the reportable condition described above is a material weakness.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Warren County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section II - Financial Statement Findings

This section includes the audit finding that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

98-1.	Revenues Reconciliation

The County Treasurer records monies received on a one-write receipt ledger and enters the receipts onto the county's computer system. The County Clerk does not receive copies of the receipt slips or perform a reconciliation between the manual and computer systems to ensure accuracy. Failure to reconcile revenues increases the risk that errors or irregularities will not be detected on a timely basis. In addition, Section 51.150 RSMo 1994, requires the County Clerk to maintain accounts with the County Treasurer.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk perform a monthly reconciliation of revenues with the County Treasurer.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

The County Clerk indicated she will implement the recommendation. The County Treasurer will continue to enter revenues into the system and the County Clerk will perform a monthly reconciliation of revenues with the County Treasurer. The County Clerk is the contact person and the anticipated date of implementation is October 1, 1999.

Section III - Federal Award Findings and Questioned Costs

This section includes the audit finding that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

Section .310(b) of Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, requires the auditee to prepare a schedule of expenditures of federal awards (SEFA) for the period covered by the auditee's financial statements. The county is required to submit the SEFA to the State Auditor's Office as part of the annual budget.

The county does not have a procedure in place to adequately track federal assistance for preparation of the SEFA. The county prepared a SEFA for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997; however, the schedule did not include seven of the fourteen programs the county was involved in during 1997, and four of the twelve programs the county was involved in during 1998. In addition, the information presented by the County Clerk for several of the programs presented did not agree with the county's expenditure records.

Without an accurate SEFA, federal financial activity may not be audited and reported in accordance with federal audit requirements which could result in future reductions of federal funds.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk prepare a complete and accurate schedule of expenditures of federal awards to submit to the State Auditor's Office as part of the annual budget.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

The County Clerk will implement the recommendation. The County Clerk is the contact person and the anticipated date of implementation is January 2000.

WARREN COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

WARREN COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Warren County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated June 10, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Warren County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated June 10, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Emergency Services Board is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed those audit reports and the substantiating working papers.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials and the county board referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned

Costs. These findings resulted from our audits of the special-purpose financial statements of Warren County and of its compliance with the types of compliance requirements applicable to each of its major federal programs but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting or compliance that are required for audits performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations.

1. County Controls and Procedures

A. The County Commission obtained professional services such as legal services and investment services. There is no documentation of the discussion of which firms to use or the criteria on which the County Commission based its selection. In addition, the County Commission does not have written contracts for the legal services.

The County Commission should always document the basis for selection of providers of professional services and obtain written contracts to ensure the county is receiving quality service at a reasonable and agreed upon price.

B. The county has a personnel manual; however, it is not provided to employees unless requested. The manual only includes policies related to holiday, vacation, and sick leave. A comprehensive employee manual which summarizes policies can benefit both county officials and employees by providing a basic understanding between management and employees regarding rights and responsibilities. In addition, an employee manual can help ensure that management's policies are fairly and consistently applied to all county employees.

C. The county received monies from the Department of Justice for the Public Safety Partnership and Community Policing ("COPS") grant program to fund the salary and fringe benefits of entry-level officers. The application kit the county used to apply for this grant provides all quarterly claims are required to be submitted within 45 days after the end of each quarter. We reviewed the reimbursement claims prepared by the County Clerk for the two years ended December 31, 1998. We noted only one claim that was submitted within the required time frame of 45 days. In addition, we noted as of June 2, 1999, the County Clerk had not yet submitted a reimbursement claim for the last quarter in 1998. Failure to comply with program's requirements could result in loss of revenues.

D. Some federal grants received on behalf of the county and matching funds provided by other entities were not maintained in a bank account controlled by the County Treasurer.

The county contracts for administrative services for various programs with Booneslick Regional Planning Commission (BRPC). Program monies are deposited to the bank account maintained by the BRPC. The BRPC prepares the checks and the Presiding Commissioner and County Clerk sign the checks. The Presiding Commissioner and County Clerk obtain and review supporting documentation for the expenditures. Monies handled by the BRPC totaled approximately $73,000 and $540,000 in 1998 and 1997, respectively.

All monies received on behalf of the county should be in the custody of the County Treasurer and disbursed through the county's expenditure system. Section 54.140, RSMo 1994, provides that it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to separate and divide the revenues of the county as they come into his hands and to pay out the revenues on warrants issued by the county commission. In addition, Section 251.300, RSMo, 1994, states that the function of the regional planning commission shall be solely advisory to the local governments and local government officials.

Conditions similar to A, B and D were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Document the basis for selection of providers of professional services and enter into written agreements for such services.

B. Develop a comprehensive employee manual to be distributed to all county elected officials and employees.

C. And the County Clerk submit the COPS grant reimbursement claims in a timely manner.

D. Ensure all county funds are held in the custody of the County Treasurer and are disbursed through the county's expenditure system.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated:

A. They have interviewed providers for professional services and will try to do a better job of documenting the criteria used for the selection process. In addition, they will consider whether written agreements are necessary.

B. The updated personnel manual has been approved and is at the printer. It will be distributed with September paychecks and is effective September 30, 1999.

C. The 1998 fourth quarter and the 1999 first and second quarters reimbursement claims have been submitted. The County Clerk indicated she will try to submit future claims in a timely manner.

D. They will investigate this situation.

2. Budgetary Practices and Published Financial Statements

A. Formal budgets were not prepared or obtained for various county funds (including funds in the custody of the regional planning commission) for the years ended December 31, 1998, and 1997.

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires preparation of annual budgets for all county funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year. By preparing and obtaining budgets for all county funds and activities, the county commission is able to more effectively evaluate all county financial resources. To be of maximum benefit to the county and its taxpayers, a complete and detailed budget document is needed.

B. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds in the custody of the regional planning commission as required. Section 50.800, RSMo 1994, provides that the financial statements show receipts, or revenues, disbursements, or expenditures and beginning and ending balances for all county funds. For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

C. Actual expenditures exceeded approved budgeted expenditures for the Capital Improvements Fund by $102,720 and the Sheriff's Civil Fees Fund by $410 during the year ended December 31, 1998. The over expenditure of the Capital Improvements Fund occurred because the county purchased jail kitchen equipment and an elevator which they funded through a bank loan. The county planned for the bank to write a check for payment of the equipment directly to the vendor; however, the bank gave the funds to the county and the county paid the vendor causing actual disbursements to exceed budgeted disbursements.

It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo. 1122, 273 S.W.2nd 246(1954), that strict compliance with county budget laws is required of county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's Office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1997, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Ensure budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds.

B. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

C. Not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures. Extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and, if necessary, the budgets properly amended following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's Office.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated they will try to implement the recommendations.

3. Allocated Distributions

The County Clerk did not correctly apportion 1998 railroad and utility taxes to the school districts. While calculating the apportionment of railroad and utility taxes the County Clerk incorrectly rounded some of the initial calculations. As a result, the various school districts were over or underpaid as follows:

School District	Amount Under (Over) Paid
Washington R-1	$ (532)
Gasconade County R-1	5013
Lincoln County R-3	(34)
Montgomery County R-2	(58)
Wright City R-2	(1377)
Warren County R-3	(3012)

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk consult with the various school districts and the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education for guidance on how to correct these past errors.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Clerk indicated she will implement the recommendation.

4. Property Tax Controls and Procedures

The County Clerk does not generate or verify the back tax books. A review should include verification of individual entries in the back tax book and footing total tax book charges. The County Clerk is responsible for the accuracy of the personal and real estate back tax books and the amounts with which the County Collector is charged. Failure to perform adequate reviews of the tax books could result in an overstatement of delinquent taxes not being detected. Section 140.050, RSMo 1994, requires the county clerk to make the back tax book and charge the county collector with the aggregate amount of taxes, interest, and County Clerk's fees contained in the back tax books.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk generate or foot the back tax books and formally verify individual entries to ensure the accuracy of the back tax books.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Clerk indicated she will implement the recommendation.

5. Senate Bill 40 Board's Collateral Security

Collateral securities were not pledged by the Senate Bill 40 (SB40) Board's depositary bank for deposits in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) coverage. During January 1999, 1998, and 1997, the SB40 Board's bank balance exceeded FDIC coverage by approximately $180,000, $200,000, and $190,000, respectively.

Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires the value of securities pledged shall at all times be not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the FDIC. Inadequate collateral securities leave county funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of bank failure.

A similar condition was noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Senate Bill 40 Board of Directors ensure collateral securities are pledged for all deposits in excess of FDIC coverage.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Senate Bill 40 Board of Directors will contact the bank in December and arrange for the bank to have the papers for collateralization completed prior to the deposit being made, thus assuring that the monies over $100,000 will be collateralized correctly.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Warren County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

WARREN COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Warren County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996. Finding number 2.A is omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. County Controls and Procedures

   A. We noted the following concerns regarding professional services obtained by the county:

      1) The County Commission contracted with an investment firm to be the bonding agent for revenue bonds related to the justice center. The County Commission indicated they discussed the project with representatives of investment firms; however, there was no documentation of the discussions or the criteria on which they based their selection.

      2) The County Commission solicited proposals from several architects for the justice center project and selected an architect which subcontracted the designing of the jail to another architect. The lead architect resigned from the project in August 1994. No documentation was retained to support the original selection process or to support the decision to contract with the second architect.

      3) The County Commission obtained legal services from law firms for various issues and lawsuits. There was no evidence that the County Commission solicited proposals from various law firms.

   B. The county did not maintain fuel usage logs and no reconciliation was performed between fuel purchased for and used from the county's fuel tanks.

   C. The county had a personnel manual; however, it was not made available to employees. The manual only included policies related to holiday, vacation, and sick leave.

   D. The Sheriff and several deputies were issued credit cards in the county's name to use for various law enforcement expenditures. We noted credit card expenditures for which supporting documentation was not submitted to the County Clerk. In addition, the county did not have a formal written policy for the use of credit card purchases.

   E. The county's depositary agreement did not indicate if the County Collector's accounts were included. The amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary banks at January 28, 1997, was insufficient to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer and County Collector.

F. The county did not have a formal contingency plan for the computer system.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Solicit and document proposals for professional services. Written agreements should be entered into and supporting documentation should be reviewed for propriety before payments are made for services.

B. Require records of fuel usage be maintained and reconciled to the amount of fuel purchased and on hand. Any significant differences should be investigated and resolved.

C. Develop a comprehensive employee manual to be distributed to all county elected officials and employees.

D. Require all credit card expenditures be supported by receipts or vendor-provided invoices which contain an adequate description of the goods or services received and establish a written credit card usage policy.

E. Ensure collateral securities pledged by the depositary banks are sufficient to protect monies at all times. In addition, the County Collector's accounts should be specifically included in the depositary agreement.

F. Seek arrangements of alternative data processing equipment for use during emergency situations.

Status:

A&C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

B. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

D. Implemented in 1998.

E. Partially implemented. The County Treasurer does monitor account balances; however, due to a misunderstanding, the county's balances were undercollaterized by approximately $1.5 million on January 19, 1999. Collateral securities were sufficient at December 31, 1998 and 1997, and at the highest January 1998 account balance. The County Collector's accounts are not specifically included in the depositary agreement; however, bank personnel indicated all county officials' accounts are covered by the agreement. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

F. Partially implemented. The County Collector adopted a formal written policy. The County Commission has not made formal arrangements for alternative data processing equipment to be used during emergency situations; however, the County Commission indicated an informal arrangement has been made with an adjoining county. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

2. Federal Financial Assistance

B. During the two years ended December 31, 1996, the Sheriff's Department received Domestic Cannabis Eradication/Suppression (Cash Crop) Program funds from the U.S. Department of Justice. One reimbursement for $2,500 had no supporting documentation.

C. The county received monies from the Department of Justice for the COPS Grants program to fund the salary and fringe benefits of an entry-level officer. The county received $2,597 more than the amount to which it was entitled for one reimbursement claim reviewed, resulting in questioned costs.

D. One claim for reimbursement submitted by the Circuit Clerk did not have supporting documentation for postage and copies of $127, resulting in questioned costs from federal funds passed through the state Department of Social Services (DSS) for the Child Support Enforcement (Title IV-D) Program

E. A review of the time sheets maintained by the officer working on the DARE program indicated that during the period July 1, 1994 to May 31, 1995, approximately 53 percent of the officer's time was spent on DARE activities; however, 100 percent of funding provided was claimed for reimbursement.

As a result, DARE reimbursements of $6,580 that were spent on non-DARE activities have been questioned. In addition, $15,276 of previously questioned costs have not been resolved.

F. The county did not have a drug-free workplace policy or awareness program for its employees as required by the Drug-Free Workplace Act as a condition of receiving direct federal funds.

G. Some federal grants received by the county were not adequately monitored by the County Commission, nor were they maintained in a bank account controlled by the County Treasurer.

The county contracted for administrative services for various programs with Booneslick Regional Planning Commission (BRPC). Program monies received by the county from the state were electronically transferred to the bank account maintained by the BRPC. The BRPC prepared the checks and the Presiding Commissioner and County Clerk signed the checks. The Presiding Commissioner and County Clerk indicated they did not review supporting documentation for the expenditures.

Recommendation:

The County Commission consult with the grantor agencies to resolve the questioned costs. In addition, the County Commission should:

B. Ensure that all future expenditures of the Cash Crop program are supported by source documentation.

C. Base future reimbursement requests on actual costs. In addition, other claims should be reviewed to determine whether additional reimbursements exceeded actual costs paid.

D. Require the Circuit Clerk to retain supporting documentation for all reimbursement claims filed. In addition, other claim forms should be reviewed to determine whether there are additional claims for reimbursements of postage and copies which should be resolved with the grantor agency.

E. Ensure salary reimbursements are allocated equitably between the work being performed for federal programs and other projects.

F. Develop a drug-free workplace policy and an awareness program in compliance with federal requirements.

G. Require supporting documentation for all expenditures. In addition, all county funds should be in the custody of the County Treasurer and disbursed through the county's expenditure system.

Status:

B&C. Implemented.

D. Implemented. Documentation for postage expenditures is now maintained.

E. Partially implemented. Warren County no longer receives DARE monies from the Department of Public Safety (DPS). DPS personnel indicated the department is reviewing the situation. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

F. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

G. Partially implemented. The BRPC still has custody of program monies; however, supporting documentation for expenditures from these funds is reviewed by the Presiding Commissioner. See MAR No. 1.

3. Property Tax Controls and Procedures

A. Controls over property tax additions were not adequate. The County Assessor made changes to the computer property tax data files for additions occurring throughout the year and sent a copy of the addition to the County Clerk. The County Commission did not approve these additions.

B. The County Collector provided the County Clerk with information regarding taxes charged to the County Collector, monthly collections, delinquent credits, abatements and additions, and protested amounts. However, the information was not verified by the County Clerk from aggregate abstracts, court orders, monthly statements of collections and the tax books. In addition, the County Commission did not verify the County Collector's annual settlement.

C. The County Clerk did not verify the back tax books. In addition, the computer program did not generate tax book page or control totals, but only a summary total at the end of each book.

Recommendation:

A. The County Commission work with applicable county officials to establish controls over the property tax additions process that would allow the County Clerk to periodically reconcile all additions to changes made to the property tax records and charge these amounts to the County Collector. In addition, the County Commission should approve the additions.

B. The County Clerk verify the information provided by the County Collector and use this information to verify the County Collector's annual settlement.

C. The County Clerk generate or foot the back tax books and formally verify individual entries to ensure the accuracy of the tax books. The computer program used to generate the tax books should be updated to generate tax book page or control totals so the tax book totals can be more readily verified.

Status:

A. Implemented. The County Commission now approves all additions monthly, and the County Clerk's office reconciles court orders to the County Collector's annual settlement.

B. Partially implemented. The County Clerk does verify the information provided by the County Collector for additions; however, other information is not verified. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Partially implemented. The computer program does generate page and control totals. However, the County Clerk does not generate or verify the accuracy of the back tax books. See MAR No. 4.

4. Treasurer's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Formal bank reconciliations were not prepared on a monthly basis. The County Treasurer did reconcile his semi-annual settlements to bank statements; however, outstanding check lists and details of other reconciling items were not maintained.

B. The County Treasurer accepted cash, checks, and money orders; however, the method of payment was not documented on the one-write receipt ledger.

Recommendation:

A. Ensure formal bank reconciliations are prepared on a monthly basis.

B. Ensure the method of payment is indicated in the accounting records and reconcile the composition of receipts to the composition of deposits.

Status:

Implemented.

5. Senate Bill 40 Board's Controls and Procedures

A. During the year ended December 31, 1996, the SB40 Board paid $15,000 to a NFP for services to promote and/or aid mentally retarded/developmentally disabled persons residing in Warren County for which there was no written agreement.

B. Actual expenditures exceeded approved budgeted expenditures by $1,263 for the year ended December 31, 1995.

C. Collateral securities were not pledged by the SB40 Board's depositary bank for deposits in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) coverage.

D. The SB40 Board loaned a total of $51,600 interest free to a NFP the board had contracted with to provide county services.

E. Our review of the relationships between the Board and the NFPs revealed the Board and one of the NFPs was not independent of each other.

Recommendations:

A. Obtain written contracts for all services.

B. Refrain from incurring expenditures in excess of budgeted amounts. If it becomes necessary to incur expenditures in excess of the approved budget, the circumstances should be fully documented and the budget properly amended prior to incurring the expenditures.

C. Ensure collateral securities are pledged for all deposits in excess of FDIC coverage.

D. Cease loaning monies in the future and take appropriate action to recover the loan amounts due from the NFP.

E. Review potential conflicts of interest and ensure steps are taken to eliminate conflicts.

Status:

A, B&D. Implemented.

C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

E. Not implemented. The SB40 Board Treasurer is married to the NFP President and the bookkeeper for the SB40 Board is also the executive director for the same NFP. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

6. Public Administrator's Controls and Procedures

A. The Public Administrator did not retain supporting documentation for some disbursements.

B. Bank reconciliations were not performed monthly.

C. The Public Administrator provided cash to the wards for spending money and personal items without obtaining adequate supporting documentation.

D. During the two years ended December 31, 1996, the Public Administrator sold two cars for two different wards without publicizing or soliciting bids.

Recommendations:

A. Retain supporting documentation for all disbursements.

B. Prepare and retain monthly bank reconciliations for each estate and agree the reconciliations to the accounting records.

C. Obtain receipt slips from the wards when giving them cash for personal use.

D. Publicize or solicit bids for the sale of all assets.

Status:

Implemented.

7. Prosecuting Attorney's Controls and Procedures

Money orders and cashier checks received for administrative fees which are made payable to the County Treasurer are not restrictively endorsed until after they are transmitted to the County Treasurer.

Recommendation:

The Prosecuting Attorney require all money orders and cashier checks be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

Status:

Implemented.

8. Sheriff's Controls and Procedures

A. The Sheriff's department did not maintain a log for the uniform traffic tickets (UTTs) assigned to various deputies, copies of the tickets issued, or a ticket issuance log listing the ticket number, date issued, violator's name, offense, and disposition.

B. Receipt slips issued by the Sheriff's deputies for monies received were rediform receipts rather than official prenumbered receipt slips.

C. Vehicle mileage logs were not adequately maintained by the Sheriff's office for county-owned patrol cars. In addition, a comparison between fuel usage and actual vendor billings to the county was not always performed.

D. The Sheriff maintained a separate bank account for the personal monies of inmates incarcerated in the Warren County Jail until the jail closed in August 1995. The sheriff did not perform bank reconciliations on the inmate account. The sheriff did not maintain a cash control ledger which included all receipts, disbursements, and a balance for the prisoner account. A subsidiary ledger showing each inmate's balance was not maintained.

Recommendation:

A. Maintain traffic ticket logs accounting for the issuance and ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets and copies of all UTTs issued.

B. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

C. Establish procedures for maintaining accurate and complete usage logs for all county owned patrol cars and compare expenses billed to the county to the vehicle logs.

D. Maintain a cash control ledger for inmate monies which includes all receipts, disbursements, and a cash balance. A subsidiary ledger which includes receipt and disbursement activity and cash balances for each inmate should also be maintained.

Finally, the cash control ledger and subsidiary ledger should be reconciled to the bank statement on a monthly basis.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. A log of ticket books issued is maintained, and copies are kept of UTT's issued. However, the ultimate disposition is not accounted for. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B&C. Implemented.

D. Partially implemented. Beginning in May of 1998, a running checkbook register balance is now maintained; however, bank reconciliations are not performed on a monthly basis. A subsidiary ledger is maintained for active prisoner balances; however, a subsidiary ledger is not maintained for inactive prisoner accounts. A reconciliation is not performed between the bank account and the subsidiary ledger. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

9. Planning and Zoning Accounting Controls and Procedures

Accounting duties for the P&Z Office are not adequately segregated.

Recommendation:

The County Commission provide for adequate segregation of duties and the performance of independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records.

Status:

Partially implemented. Four county employees can receive planning and zoning and sanitation fees. The secretary prepares a report of monies received and the Planning and Zoning Officer reviews and signs the report and turns the monies over to the County Treasurer. However, the person preparing the report has access to monies on hand and no independent reconciliation is performed between receipt slips issued and the report. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

10. Emergency Services Board Budgetary Practices

Actual expenditures exceeded approved budgeted expenditures by approximately $60,000 for the year ended December 31, 1996.

Recommendation:

The Emergency Services Board refrain from incurring expenditures in excess of budgeted amounts. If it becomes necessary to incur expenditures in excess of the approved budget, the circumstances should be fully documented and the budget properly amended prior to incurring the expenditures.

Status:

Implemented.

WARREN COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1833, the county of Warren was named after Joseph Warren, a Revolutionary War patriot. Warren County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Twelfth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Warrenton.

Warren County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Warren County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-88
September 29, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

September 1999

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Dade, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Dade County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

< The county overspent its Special Road and Bridge Fund budget in 1998. The audit recommended officials not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures.

The audit also includes some other matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Dade County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Dade County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Dade County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 24, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Dade County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 24, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed an instance of noncompliance that is required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1. We also noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Dade County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board of Trustees. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund	1998
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998 and 1997
Domestic Violence Fund	1998 and 1997
Recorder User Fee Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the Special Road and Bridge Fund in 1998 and the Health Center Fund in 1997. Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The financial statements do not include the cash balances of the Ex Officio County Collector, who collects and distributes property taxes as an agent for various local governments. However, for the purpose of these risk disclosures, the Ex Officio County Collector's cash balances are included since collateral securities to cover amounts not covered by federal depositary insurance are pledged to the county rather than to specific county officials.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1998, $1,206,685 was covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, and $305,778 was uninsured and uncollateralized.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1997, $1,238,324 was covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, and $308,369 was uninsured and uncollateralized.

Furthermore, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, the amounts of uninsured and uncollateralized balances were substantially higher at those times than such amounts at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The Health Center's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997 were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the health center's custodial bank in the health center's name.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $78,521 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $35,944. As of December 31, 1998, $15,524 remains to be paid.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Because Dade County expended no noncash awards for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, the schedule includes expenditures of cash awards only.

C. Basis of Accounting

The schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $281,036 to subrecipients under Emergency Management - State and Local Assistance (CFDA number 83.534 during the year ended December 31, 1998.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Dade County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Dade County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Dade County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Dade County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Dade County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section II - Financial Statement Findings

This section includes the audit finding that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

98-1.	Budgets

Warrants in the amount of $299,432 were issued in excess of approved budgeted expenditures for the Special Road and Bridge Fund in 1998 primarily due to unanticipated Federal Emergency Management monies being received and spent..

It was ruled in State Ex. Rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo.1122, 273 SW 2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials.

If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's Office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend the budget.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission responded that they concur and that budgets will be amended as required.

The County Clerk responded that in the future, no checks will be issued unless there are sufficient budget funds available.

The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510 (a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

Letter on Other Matters

DADE COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Dade County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 24, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Dade County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 24, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Dade County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. Budgets and Financial Statements

   Budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the two years ended December 31, 1998. The county's annual published financial statements did not include the financial activity of some county funds.

2. County Expenditures

   The county did not always solicit bids nor was bid documentation always retained for various purchases. Some lodging and meal expenses paid from the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund did not appear reasonable. Adequate documentation of training expenses incurred by an employee of the Sheriff's department was not provided.

3. County Clerk's Procedures

   The County Clerk did not maintain an account book with the Ex Officio County Collector. Property tax additions are added to the tax books by the Ex Officio County Collector and Township Collectors only when taxes are paid. As a result, this process does not allow for an independent review or a complete delinquent tax amount.

4. Personnel Procedures

Time cards and time sheets of the Sheriff's department employees were not always signed by the employee and their supervisor.

5. Collateral Securities

The amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary banks at January 4, 1999 and December 31, 1998 and 1997 were insufficient to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer and Ex Officio County Collector.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Dade County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Newton, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Newton County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

The audit includes some matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Newton County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Newton County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Newton County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated July 15, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Newton County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 97, and have issued our report thereon dated July 15, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Newton County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, or the Mental Health Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Sheriff's Civil Fees Fund	1997
Domestic Violence Fund	1998
DARE Fund	1998 and 1997
Emergency Shelter Fund	1998 and 1997
Local Records Grant Fund	1998
Family Access Fund	1998

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the Assessment Fund, Local Emergency Planning Council Fund, County Fair Fund, and Circuit Clerk Interest Fund in 1997. Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Community Development Block Grant Fund	1997
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The Health Center Board of Trustees' deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the health center's custodial bank in the health center's name.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $670,353 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $306,862. As of December 31, 1998, $132,569 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

NEWTON COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Newton County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Food Distribution Program (CFDA number 10.550) represent the dollar value assigned to commodities based on prices provided by the state Department of Social Services. Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided federal awards to subrecipients as follows:

Federal CFDA Number	Program Title	Amount Provided Year Ended December 31, 1998	1997
14.228	Community Development Block Grants/State's Program	$ -0-	2,000,000

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Newton County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Newton County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Newton County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Newton County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Newton County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

NEWTON COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Newton County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated July 15, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Newton County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated July 15, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Newton County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. Payroll Policies and Procedures

   Centralized leave records are only maintained for the sheriff's department and emergency 911 department. Employees of the sheriff's department are allowed to carry negative compensatory and holiday leave balances. The county clerk does not perform a reconciliation of the sheriff's department compensatory time payment requests to the balance of compensatory time recorded on the related employee's time sheet. The number of hours worked by courthouse employees vary by department.

2. Budgetary Practices

   Several budgets prepared by the county did not adequately reflect the county's anticipated financial condition. Appropriations were budgeted to use all available resources. The practice of budgeting to spend all available resources or over estimating disbursements decreases the effectiveness of the budget as a management planning tool and as a control over disbursements.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Newton County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Barry, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Barry County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

< The county did not prepare a budget for the Special Road District Fund for 1998. The audit recommended officials ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds.

The audit also includes some other matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Barry County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Barry County.

As more fully described in Note 1 to the financial statements, the county's financial statements do not include statements of receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash - budget and actual for various funds totaling $3,059,892 in receipts, and $3,045,604 in disbursements for the year ended December 31, 1998. Statements of receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash - budget and actual are required by the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, except for the omission of the 1998 information discussed in the preceding paragraph, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Barry County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated June 23, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Barry County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated June 23, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed an instance of noncompliance that is required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1. We also noted an immaterial instance of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted a certain matter involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be a reportable condition. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the county's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements. The reportable condition is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design of operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we consider the reportable condition described above, finding number 98-1, to be a material weakness. We also noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Barry County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official or the Developmentally Disabled Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Special Road District Fund	1998
Shelter Home Fund	1997
Sheriff Fund	1997
Peace Officer Standards Training Fund	1997
Local Emergency Planning Commission Fund	1997
DARE Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Search and Rescue Fund	1998 and 1997
Juvenile Office Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Special Road District Fund	1997
Recorder Microfilm Fund	1997
Sheriff Fund	1998
Multiflora Rose Control Fund	1998
Local Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The deposits of the Developmentally Disabled Board at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the custodial banks in the name of the Developmentally Disabled Board.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $405,785 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $185,753. As of December 31, 1998, $80,250 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

BARRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Barry County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Food Distribution Program (CFDA number 10.550) represent the dollar value assigned to commodities based on prices provided by the state Department of Social Services. Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Barry County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Barry County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Barry County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Barry County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Barry County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section II - Financial Statement Findings

This section includes the audit finding that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

98-1 Omission of Budgetary Information

The county does not have adequate procedures to ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds, and as a result, budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the year ending December 31, 1998. The lack of budgetary information for these funds, especially the Special Road District Fund, is a significant omission from the county's financial statements. Receipts and disbursements which were not budgeted for 1998 totaled $3,059,892 and $3,045,604, respectively. In addition, budgets were not prepared for some funds during 1997.

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires preparation of annual budgets for all funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuring year. By preparing or obtaining budgets for all county funds, the County Commission and other county officials and boards would be able to more effectively evaluate all county financial resources.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission and other applicable officials ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

We accept your recommendation. A budget for the Special Road District fund was prepared for 1999, and we will continue to ensure budgets are prepared in the future.

Section III - Federal Award Findings and Questioned Costs

BARRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

SECTION OF OTHER MATTERS

BARRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Barry County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997 , and have issued our report thereon dated June 23, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We also have audited the compliance of Barry County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated June 23, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Barry County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. Purchasing Procedures

   Bids were not always solicited for various purchases made by the county during the audit period. Invoices were not always approved by an authorized employee prior to payment. Assets purchased were not always posted to the county's general fixed asset listing.

2. Circuit Clerk's Interest Fund

   The Circuit Clerk's interest ledger contained numerous mathematical and posting errors, and a running balance of accumulated interest is not maintained.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Barry County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Lewis County, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Lewis County was a financial compliance audit of various county operating funds.

< The county had not established cash management procedures to ensure federal off-system Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation monies were disbursed within the time frame required by the Cash Management Improvement Act Agreement.

The audit also includes some other matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Lewis County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Lewis County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Lewis County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 20, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Lewis County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 20, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Lewis County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the Sheriff Civil Fees Fund, Special Projects Law Enforcement Fund, DARE Fund, Circuit Clerk Interest Fund, Associate Circuit/Probate Division Interest Fund, Local Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund, and CDBG Small Bridge Project Fund for the year ended December 31, 1997.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Local Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund	1997
CDBG Small Bridge Project Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit/Probate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, or by commercial insurance provided through a guarantee bond.

The health center's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held in the health center's name.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $135,625 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $71,522. As of December 31, 1998, $26,819 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

LEWIS COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Lewis County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Lewis County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Lewis County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Lewis County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. However, the results of our auditing procedures disclosed an instance of noncompliance with those requirements, which is required to be reported in accordance with

The management of Lewis County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Lewis County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

98-1. Cash Management

Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Transportation
Pass-Through Grantor: State Highway and Transportation Commission
Federal CFDA Number: 20.205
Program Title: Off-System Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: BRO-056(6) & BRO-056(8)
Award Year: 1998 and 1997
Questioned Costs: Not Applicable

During the two years ended December 31, 1998, the county participated in the Off-System Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program. Through this program, 80 percent of eligible expenses are reimbursed from federal funds passed through the Missouri Department of Transportation. During the two years, the county received approximately $340,000 through this program.

The county has not established cash management procedures to ensure the minimum time lapses between its receipt of federal project monies and the disbursement of such monies to contractors. The County Commission makes payments to contractors at the next meeting following receipt of the reimbursement. We reviewed two reimbursements totaling $120,858 which were held for 6 days before the related payments were made to contractors. While the liability was incurred prior to the reimbursement, payment was not made to the vendor on a timely basis.

Section 6.2.2 of the Cash Management Improvement Act Agreement between the State of Missouri and the Secretary of the Treasury, United States Department of the Treasury, states that funds shall be requested such that they are received not more than two days prior to disbursement of a payment.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission establish procedures to minimize the time elapsed between the receipt of federal monies and disbursement of such funds.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

The recommendation was implemented April 1999. County Commission meetings were previously one day a week. Effective April 1, 1999, County Commission meetings are held two days each week. This will allow compliance with the two day payment requirement. The County Clerk is the contact person for the county.

LEWIS COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS FOR AN
AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

Our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

LEWIS COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

LEWIS COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lewis County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 20, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Lewis County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 20, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Lewis County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. County Expenditures

   Bids were not solicited or bid documentation could not be located for a used police car costing $7,995 and farm supplies totaling $8,829. While the County Commission indicated verbal bids were obtained for the car; no bid documentation was maintained.

2. General Fixed Asset Records

   Some general fixed assets were not recorded on the general fixed asset listing including various purchases of computer equipment of approximately $22,000, a police car costing $7,995, and a copier costing approximately $4,600. The County Clerk indicated road and bridge purchases are recorded on the general fixed assets records when received. For other items, the County Clerk maintains a copy of the invoice and records the items on the general fixed asset ledger when she has time. The County Clerk indicated she is looking at a general fixed assets program which will allow her to update the records more timely.

3. Special Projects Law Enforcement Fund

   In 1997 the Prosecuting Attorney directed a payment of $8,000 be made to the Lewis County Law Enforcement Youth Soccer League from the Special Projects Law Enforcement Fund. A written contract was not entered into specifying the intended purpose of the funds and documentation was not provided to allow the County Commission to monitor the expenditures of these funds. In addition, the Prosecuting Attorney has custody of the Law Enforcement Youth Soccer League monies.

4. Compensated Absences

Leave records are not reviewed for accuracy. Errors were noted during our review of the county's annual leave and compensatory time records. Without proper leave records, there is little assurance that the Fair Labor Standards Act is being complied with properly. The County Commission indicated the county has a new payroll system which allows the County Clerk's office to maintain more accurate leave records.

5. Financial Condition

Lewis County's Special Road and Bridge Fund is experiencing a declining cash balance. The cash balance decreased from $80,487 at January 1, 1997 to $45,424 at December 31, 1998. In addition, the 1999 budget reflects an anticipated ending cash balance of $0. Given the county's outstanding lease purchase obligations to be paid from this fund, the County Commission should continue to monitor the financial condition of the Special Road and Bridge Fund. The County Commission indicated they monitor this fund closely.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Lewis County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Webster, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Webster County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

< The county did not sufficiently rollback its property tax levy to comply with the sales tax ballot issue passed by Webster County voters. For the 1998 rollback, a calculation error caused the county to collect $22,829 in excess property taxes, and higher than projected sales tax revenues caused an additional $27,533 in excess property taxes. The County Commission indicated the 1999 property tax levy has been rolled back sufficiently to correct these errors.

The audit also includes some matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Webster County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Webster County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Webster County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 3, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Webster County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 3, 1998. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed an instance of noncompliance that is required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1. We also noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Webster County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, the Senate Bill 40 Board, or the Emergency 911 Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Local Emergency Planning Commission Fund	1997
Peace Officers Standards Training Fund	1997
Sheriff Fund	1997
Community Development Block Grant Fund	1998 and 1997
Emergency 911 Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Assessment Fund	1997
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998 and 1997
Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund	1998
Sheriff Equipment Fund	1997
DARE Fund	1997
Recorder User Fee Fund	1997
Childrens Trust Fund	1997
Peace Officers Standards Training Fund	1998
Health Center Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Community Development Block Grant Fund, Law Library Fund, Circuit Clerk Interest Fund, and Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions. The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The Health Center Board's, Senate Bill 40 Board's, and Emergency 911 Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by the federal depository insurance or by collateral securities held by the custodial banks in the applicable boards' names.

3. Property Tax

Through December 31, 1998, Webster County had collected $50,362 in excess property taxes. Section 67.505, RSMo, requires the county to reduce property taxes for a percentage of sales tax collected. Webster County voters enacted a 1/2 cent sales tax with a provision to reduce property taxes by 50 percent of sales taxes collected. Tax levies were not reduced sufficiently for actual sales taxes received.

4. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $295,742 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $135,380. As of December 31, 1998, $58,490 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

WEBSTER COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Webster County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Webster County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Webster County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Webster County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Webster County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Webster County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section II - Financial Statement Findings

This section includes the audit finding that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

98-1. County Sales Tax

The county has not sufficiently reduced its property tax revenues by 50 percent of the sales tax revenues as provided in the ballot issue passed by the Webster County voters under the provisions of Section 67.505, RSMo 1994.

Following are the calculations used in determining excess property tax revenues collected for the two years ended December 31, 1998:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997
Actual sales tax revenues	$ 761,760	781,104
Required percentage of revenue reduction	X 50 %	50 %
Required property tax revenue reduction	380,880	390,552
Assessed valuation	185,972,246	177,107,663
General Revenue Fund tax levy reduction (per $100 of assessed valuation)	X 0.19	0.22
Actual property tax revenue reduction	353,347	389,637
Excess property tax revenues collected	27,533	915
Excess property tax revenues collected for prior years	22,829	21,914
Excess at December 31,	$ 50,362	22,829

When computing the 1998 property tax rollback, the county did not rollback the $22,829 excess collections from 1997 and prior years due to a calculator error. In addition, higher than projected sales tax collections during the last six months of 1998 resulted in $27,533 in excess collections. The county should consider this $50,362 in excess collections when computing future property tax rollbacks.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission reduce the county property tax levy adequately to meet the sales tax reduction requirements, including reductions for excess property taxes collected in prior years.

AUDITEES RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

Our annual calculations always include an adjustment because of higher sales tax collections during the last six months of the year. The $27,533 excess which occurred during 1998 for this reason has been adjusted in the 1999 calculation.

The $22,829 excess represents a one-time calculation error, and this has been corrected by an additional one-cent rollback in the 1999 tax levy.

Section III - Federal Award Findings and Questioned Costs

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

WEBSTER COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Webster County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 3, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Webster County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 3, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Webster County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. Property Tax Additions and Abatements

   The County Commission and County Clerk do not review and approve tax book additions and abatements and do not charge the County Collector with the applicable changes.

2. Health Center Policies and Procedures

   As noted in our prior report, the Health Center Board obtained lease financing for the new health center building at an interest rate of ten percent, and based on the going interest rates for similar lease financing arrangements, it appears the board could have saved as much as $134,500 over the life of the lease. The board discussed this matter at a meeting and decided to make extra payments in 1998 and 1999 to reduce the lease principal; however, the board has decided to continue with the current lease agreement and has not solicited proposals to refinance the lease.

   In addition, budgets were not accurately prepared and actual expenditures exceeded budgeted expenditures by approximately $89,000 in 1997. Employees are allowed to accumulate annual leave in excess of the Health Center's leave policy. For example, the Health Center Administrator's annual leave balance at December 31, 1998, was 496 hours more than the 336-hour maximum. An employee was paid for sick leave for approximately six weeks; however, the employee was not required to submit a physician statement or other documentation as required by the sick leave policy. Checks are sometimes signed in advance for routine monthly expenditures. The Health Center's property records do not include the total cost of land and buildings.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Webster County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Stoddard, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Stoddard County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

The audit includes some matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Stoddard County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stoddard County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Stoddard County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Stoddard County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Stoddard County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Stoddard County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 11, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Stoddard County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stoddard County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 11, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stoddard County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stoddard County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Stoddard County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission or an elected county official. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Sheriff’s Civil Fund	1998

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
911 Fund	1998 and 1997
Use Tax Fund	1998

Capital Improvements Fund	1998
Sheriff's Forfeiture Fund	1997
P.O.S.T.C. Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

Although Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, requires a balanced budget, a deficit balance was budgeted in the 911 Fund for the year ended December 31, 1997.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Special Road and Bridge Fund	1997
Assessment Fund	1997
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1998, $387,648 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $3,424,243 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by the safekeeping department of an affiliate of the same bank holding company.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1997, $252,809 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $3,803,767 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by the safekeeping department of an affiliate of the same bank holding company.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

STODDARD COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Stoddard County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Food Distribution Program (CFDA number 10.550) represent the dollar value assigned to commodities based on prices provided by the state Department of Social Services. Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) and the Department of Public Safety-Surplus Property Program (CFDA number 12.unknown) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $253,207 and $272,071 to subrecipients under the Off-System Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program (CFDA number 20.205) during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Stoddard County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Stoddard County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Stoddard County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Stoddard County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Stoddard County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

STODDARD COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stoddard County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 11, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Stoddard County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 11, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audits of the special-purpose financial statements of Stoddard County and of its compliance with the types of compliance requirements applicable to its major federal program but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting or compliance that are required for audits performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. County Expenditures

   The County Commission has no assurance payments made to the Sheriff totaling more than $118,000 for preparing and serving meals to prisoners during the two years ended December 31, 1998, are reasonable and based on costs incurred by the Sheriff. The County Commission reimbursed the Sheriff for meals at a daily rate of $3.25 per prisoner during this period. The County Commission does not receive and does not review invoices supporting the actual food costs incurred by the Sheriff.

2. CART Distributions

   Distributions totaling approximately $1,099,000 were made to the special road districts and townships without obtaining written contracts with the special road districts and townships for the year ended December 31, 1998.

3. County Clerk's Procedures

   The County Clerk does not prepare the back tax books or verify the back tax book totals for real estate or personal property taxes. The County Clerk does not maintain an account book with the Ex Officio Collector and does not maintain general fixed asset records.

4. County Treasurer's Procedures

Receipt slips issued by the County Treasurer's office are not prenumbered and the method of payment received (cash, check, and money order) is not indicated. At December 31, 1998, twenty-one checks totaling $4,827 had been outstanding in excess of one year.

5. Federal Awards

The county did not comply with federal regulations limiting construction engineering charges to 15 percent of construction costs excluding construction engineering costs, preliminary engineering costs, and right-of-way costs. As a result, the county received excess reimbursement of $1,265.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Stoddard County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

CITY OF BROWNINGTON, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1999

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-82
September 23, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to the request of petitioners from the City of Brownington, Missouri.

In 1885 Brownington was incorporated as a village; however, the governing body of Brownington has been operating as a fourth class city for many years. Brownington elects a Mayor and a Board of Aldermen similar to a fourth class city, and levies and collects taxes consistent with the laws governing a fourth class city. In addition, numerous ordinances and official records refer to Brownington as a city.

While state law allows voters within the Village to elect by majority vote to become a fourth class city, there is no documentation to indicate that the classification of Brownington was ever officially changed from a village to a fourth class city. We recommend the Board of Aldermen consult legal counsel to determine the status of Brownington's classification.

The city does not have a formal bidding policy. As a result, the decision of whether to solicit bids for a particular purchase is made on an item-by-item basis. During the past several years, bids were either not solicited or bid documentation was not kept in some instances.

A company owned by the brother of a board member was paid $2,355 in October 1997, for siding for the city's community building. The minutes of the board meeting where this purchase was discussed do not include details of the vote by specific board members, and give no indication that the brother abstained from voting on this purchase. While city officials indicate that the city paid a wholesale price for the siding, there is no indication that bids were obtained from any other source.

Discussions and decisions concerning transactions where a potential conflict of interest exists should be completely documented so that the public has assurance that no city official or agent has improperly profited.

The City receives state motor vehicle-related revenues and deposits them into its General Fund. The Missouri Constitution requires motor vehicle-related revenues apportioned by the State of Missouri be expended for street-related purposes. The city has not established a spearate fund or separate accounting for those revenues and expenditures and does not monitor the use of these funds to ensure compliance with the Missouri Constitution.

The city does not prepare and adopt annual budgets. State law requires the preparation of an annual budget which shall present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year.

The city's ordinance book is not complete. Several ordinance numbers are not included in the book, two ordinances have the same number, and there is no index of all ordinances passed by the city. Since ordinances represent legislation which has been passed by the Board of Aldermen to govern the city and its residents, it is important that the ordinances be maintained in a complete, well organized, and up-to-date manner. Such items as duties and compensation of city officials and the annual tax levy should be set forth in the ordinances to give the taxpayers information on how the city is to be governed.

The City Clerk also serves as the City Treasurer, and with the exception of property tax collection, is responsible for most of the record keeping duties of the city. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls could be improved by segregating duties to the extent possible.

An annual maintenance plan for city streets has not been prepared. We recommend the Board of Aldermen prepare a formal maintenance plan for city streets at the beginning of the fiscal year and periodically update the plan throughout the year. In addition, the board should review the progress made in the repair and maintenance of streets to make appropriate decisions on future projects.

Missouri State Auditor

To the Honorable Mayor
and
Board of Aldermen
City of Brownington
Deepwater, Missouri 64740

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMO, to audit the city of Brownington, Missouri. Our audit of the city included, but was not limited to, the year ended June 30, 1999. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, ordinances, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, city policies and ordinances, and various city financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on the selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the city and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the city.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

CITY OF BROWNINGTON
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. City Classification (page 8)

   The city is operating as a fourth class city but no documentation can be located to indicate the classification was ever officially changed from a village to a fourth class city.

2. Expenditures (pages 8-10)

   The city does not have formal written bidding procedures. The city paid $2,355 to a business owned by the brother of a board member which represents a potential conflict of interest. The city has not established a separate fund or accounting for motor vehicle-related receipts to ensure these amounts are spent only on street-related purposes.

3. Budgets and Financial Reporting (pages 10-11)

   The city does not prepare or adopt annual budgets, semi-annual financial statements have not been published, and some annual financial reports have not been filed with the State Auditor's office as required by state law.

4. Property Tax Procedures (pages 11-12)

   No independent verification of the tax books is performed. The City Collector does not prepare annual reports of tax collections and delinquent taxes. The City Collector does not charge the correct penalty on delinquent taxes.

5. Ordinances, Board Minutes, and Records (pages 12-14)

   The city's ordinances are not complete and up-to-date, and ordinances have not been established in all instances where needed. The board minutes are not signed by the Mayor or a designated member of the board to attest to the accuracy. The tentative agendas posted for each board meeting do not disclose specific information to be discussed. The city's ordinances regarding public access to city records is not adequate.

6. Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 14-15)

   A separate individual has not been appointed to serve as City Treasurer and there is no independent review or supervision of the work performed by the City Clerk. Receipt slips are not issued for monies received. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed until the deposit is prepared. City officials are not bonded.

7. Street Maintenance Plan (pages 15-16)

   An annual maintenance plan for city streets has not been prepared.

CITY OF BROWNINGTON, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

1. City Classification

In 1885 Brownington was incorporated as a village; however, the governing body of Brownington has been operating as a fourth class city for many years. Brownington elects a Mayor and a Board of Aldermen similar to a fourth class city, and levies and collects taxes consistent with the laws governing a fourth class city. In addition, numerous ordinances and official records refer to Brownington as a city.

While Section 72.040, RSMo 1994, allows voters within the Village to elect by majority vote to become a fourth class city, there is no documentation to indicate that the classification of Brownington was ever officially changed from a village to a fourth class city.

To alleviate citizen concern on this issue, and ensure that the city is operating within the appropriate section of the statutes, the Board of Aldermen should review this situation with an attorney. If the classification has not legally been changed to a fourth class city, the board should consider securing a vote to approve the change to a fourth class city.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen consult legal counsel to determine the city of Brownington's classification.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The city will consult with legal counsel.

2. Expenditures

A. The city does not have a formal bidding policy. As a result, the decision of whether to solicit bids for a particular purchase is made on an item-by-item basis. During the past several years, bids were either not solicited or bid documentation was not retained in some instances. Examples include $1,624 for gravel and $1,231 for hauling gravel.

Formal bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of city resources and help ensure the city receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding also helps ensure all parties are given an opportunity to participate in the city's business.

Bids can be handled by telephone quotation, by written quotation, by sealed bid, or by advertised sealed bid. Various approaches are appropriate, based on dollar amount and type of purchase. Whichever approach is used, complete documentation should be maintained of all bids received and reasons noted why the bid was selected.

B. A company owned by the brother of a board member was paid $2,355 in October 1997, for siding for the city's community building. The minutes of the board meeting where this purchase was discussed do not include details of the vote by specific board members, and give no indication that the brother abstained from voting on this purchase. While city officials indicate that the city paid a wholesale price for the siding, there is no indication that bids were obtained from any other source.

Discussions and decisions concerning transactions where a potential conflict of interest exists should be completely documented so that the public has assurance that no city official or agent has profited improperly. In addition the Board of Aldermen should consider establishing a policy which addresses these types of situations and provides a code of conduct for city officials.

C. The city receives state motor vehicle-related revenues and deposits them into the General Fund. Article IV, Section 30 of the Missouri Constitution, requires that motor vehicle-related revenues apportioned by the state of Missouri be expended for street-related purposes including policing, signing, lighting, and cleaning of roads and streets. The city has not established a separate fund or separate accounting for those revenues and expenditures and does not monitor the use of these funds to ensure compliance with the Missouri Constitution.

During the year ended June 30, 1999 the city deposited $3,078 in state motor vehicle related-revenues into the General Fund, and spent $6,075 for street repair. However, during the four years ended June 30, 1999, state motor vehicle-related revenues totaled $12,189 compared to total street-related expenditures of $11,468.

To ensure compliance with the Missouri Constitution, the city should maintain a separate fund or separate accounting of motor vehicle-related receipts and ensure these receipts are used only for the purposes allowed by the constitution. The unspent balance of street revenues should be accounted for separately along with future receipts.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Establish formal bidding policies and procedures.

B. Avoid apparent conflicts of interest. Also, in the future, if a relative of a board member is considered to provide services for the city, that member should abstain from voting on the purchase and that action should be adequately documented in the board minutes.

C. Establish a separate fund or accounting of state motor vehicle-related revenues to ensure funds are spent in accordance with the Missouri Constitution.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Board concurs and will look into establishing a bidding policy.

B. In the future, the city will ensure that similar situations are documented in the board minutes.

C. We will implement this recommendation.

3. Budgets and Financial Reporting

A. The city does not prepare and adopt annual budgets. Section 67.010, RSMo 1994, requires the preparation of an annual budget which shall present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year.

A complete and well-planned budget, in addition to meeting statutory requirements, can serve as a useful management tool by establishing specific cost and revenue expectations for each area of city operations. A budget can also provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs by periodically comparing budgeted amounts to actual expenditures. A complete budget should include separate revenue and expenditure estimations by fund, and include the beginning available resources and reasonable estimates of ending available resources. The budget should also include a budget message and comparisons of actual or estimated revenues and expenditures for the two preceding fiscal years.

B. The city has not published semi-annual financial statements as required by state law. Section 79.160, RSMo 1994, requires the board of aldermen to prepare and publish semi-annual financial statements. These financial statements are to include a statement of receipts and expenditures and indebtedness of the city for the preceding six month period. In addition, Section 79.165, RSMo 1994, states the city cannot legally disburse funds until the financial statement is published.

C. Annual financial reports have not consistently been filed with the State Auditor's office. Section 105.145, RSMo 1994, requires political subdivisions to file an annual report of the financial transactions of the political subdivision with the State Auditor's office.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Prepare annual budgets in accordance with state law, and make periodic comparisons between budgeted and actual revenues and expenditures.

B. Publish semi-annual financial statements as required by state law.

C. Submit annual reports of financial transactions to the State Auditor's office as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. As soon as we obtain some example budget forms, we will begin work on preparing city budgets.

B&C. We plan to implement these recommendations.

4. Property Tax Procedures

A. The City Collector manually prepares the tax books from assessment data received from the county. No independent verification of the tax book information or totals is performed by the City Clerk.

Section 94.290, RSMo 1994, requires the city clerk to make the tax books and charge the city collector with the full amount of taxes levied. Without this proper segregation of duties between the City Clerk and City Collector, the internal control over this process is weakened. Verification of tax book information and totals is necessary to ensure the amount of taxes charged to the City Collector is complete and accurate.

B. The City Collector does not prepare annual reports of tax collections and delinquent taxes. Sections 79.310 and 94.320, RSMo 1994, require the City Collector to make annual reports of tax collections and delinquent taxes.

Detailed annual reports which comply with state law and are classified by type of tax would help provide assurance taxes have been properly collected, written off, or determined to be delinquent. Such a report would summarize all taxes charged to the City Collector, monthly collections, delinquent credits, abatements, and additions. Without such a report, examined by the Board of Aldermen, any errors or irregularities that might occur are likely to go undetected.

C. The City Collector does not charge the correct penalty on delinquent taxes. The City Collector currently charges no penalty for taxes paid within one year of being due, and 18 percent for each full year the taxes are delinquent after the first year. Section 140.100.1, RSMo 1994, currently provides a penalty of two percent per month up to a maximum of 18 percent per year for each delinquent tax bill.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Require the City Clerk to extend the current tax books and charge the City Collector with the amount of taxes, or at a minimum, document procedures performed to verify the accuracy of the tax book totals.

B. Require the City Collector to prepare detailed annual reports as required by state law which summarize property tax activity and which can be used to facilitate the reconciliation of taxes charged, taxes collected, and delinquent taxes.

C. Ensure the penalty for the collection of delinquent property taxes is charged in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. In the future, the accuracy of the tax book totals will be verified.

B. We intend to implement this recommendation.

C. This has already been implemented.

5. Ordinances, Board Minutes, and Records

A. Our review of the city ordinances disclosed the following concerns:

1. The city's ordinance book is not complete. Several ordinance numbers are not included in the book, two ordinances have the same number, and there is no index of all ordinances passed by the city.

2. The city has not adopted a formal description of the duties of city officials or fixed the compensation of the City Collector by ordinance. Also, the city has not adopted an ordinance establishing the term of office for the City Clerk. Section 79.270 and 79.290, RSMo 1994, require the compensation and duties of city officials to be set by ordinance. Section 79.320, RSMo 1994, requires the term of office of the City Clerk be fixed by ordinance.

3. The city has not prepared ordinances to document the approved tax levy for each year. Section 94.210, RSMo 1994, states the board of aldermen shall fix the annual rate of tax levy by ordinance for each tax year.

Since ordinances represent legislation which has been passed by the Board of Aldermen to govern the city and its residents, it is important that the ordinances be maintained in a complete, well organized, and up-to-date manner. Such items as duties and compensation of city officials and the annual tax levy should be set forth in the ordinances to give the taxpayers information on how the city is to be governed.

B. The board minutes are prepared and signed by the City Clerk, but the minutes are not signed by the Mayor. The board minutes should be signed by the Mayor to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board's meetings.

C. A tentative agenda is prepared and posted for each board meeting; however, the agenda is usually in a standard form and does not disclose specific information to be discussed for the upcoming meeting.

To adequately inform the residents of the business to be discussed during the board meeting and to ensure compliance with the Sunshine Law, the tentative agenda should summarize the topics to be discussed during the meeting.

D. The city has an ordinance regarding public access to city records, but the policy does not provide citizens with a name and address where requests should be sent. In addition, the city has not appointed a custodian to be responsible for city records. The city does not have a city hall and city records are maintained at the personal residences of various city officials.

Section 610.023, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998 indicates that each public governmental body is to appoint a custodian who is to be responsible for the maintenance of that body's records and establishes guidelines for making city records available to the public. To ensure compliance with state law, the city's policy should indicate the location of city records, the persons responsible for maintaining each record, and detailed instructions for citizens to request access to public records and how the city will handle these requests.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Ensure a complete and up-to-date set of ordinances is maintained. This would include passing new ordinances where appropriate and required.

B. Ensure board minutes are signed by the Mayor to attest to their completeness and accuracy.

C. Require the tentative agenda to summarize the topics to be discussed during the board meeting.

D. Establish written policies and procedures regarding the location of and public access to city records as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will start by preparing an index and work on updating existing ordinances and pass new ordinances as required.

B&C. These recommendations have already been implemented.

D. We will expand our current ordinance to address these issues.

6. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The City Clerk also serves as the City Treasurer, and with the exception of the functions related to the collection of property taxes, this individual is responsible for most of the record keeping duties of the city. These duties include receiving and depositing monies, preparing invoices for payment, preparing and co-signing checks, performing bank reconciliations, and preparing monthly financial reports. Neither the board nor other personnel independent of the cash custody and record keeping functions provide adequate supervision or an independent review of the work performed by the City Clerk.

Attorney General's Opinion No. 24, 1955 to Dodds, concluded that in a fourth-class city the holding of the positions of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Collector, or any two of these three offices, by the same person at the same time would be incompatible. This situation does not allow the segregation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions. The current procedures jeopardize the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating duties to the extent possible. If proper segregation of duties is not feasible, the Board of Aldermen should, at a minimum, require someone having no access to cash and no record keeping responsibilities receive and review the bank statements and bank reconciliations.

B. Receipt slips are not issued for all monies received. To help ensure receipts are properly recorded and deposited, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received. The receipt slips should indicate the method of payment (ie. cash, checks, or money orders) and the composition should be reconciled to the bank deposits on a periodic basis.

C. Checks and money orders received are not restrictively endorsed until the deposit is prepared. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. The City Clerk, the Mayor, and two of the Aldermen are authorized to sign checks; however, none of these officials are bonded. In addition, the City Collector is responsible for collecting all city taxes and is not bonded. Failure to bond all persons with access to assets exposes the city to risk of loss.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Provide for an adequate segregation of duties or the performance of independent reconciliations and reviews of the accounting records.

B. Require prenumbered receipt slips to be issued for all monies received. In addition, the method of payment should be recorded on the receipt slips and the composition of receipts should be reconciled to deposits on a periodic basis.

C. Ensure checks and money orders are restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. Obtain bond coverage for all persons with access to city assets.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. This recommendation has been implemented. All board members and the mayor currently review bank statements and financial reports.

B&C. We will implement these recommendations.

D. We will look into obtaining bond coverage.

7. Street Maintenance Plan

An annual maintenance plan for city streets has not been prepared. A formal maintenance plan should be prepared in conjunction with the annual fiscal budget and include a description of the streets to be worked on, the type of work to be performed, an estimate of the quantity and cost of materials needed, the dates such work could begin, the amount of labor required to perform the work, and other relevant information. The plan should be included in the budget message and be approved by the board. In addition, a public hearing should be held to obtain input from the city residents.

A formal maintenance plan would serve as a useful management tool and provide greater input into the overall budgeting process. Such a plan provides a means to continually and more effectively monitor and evaluate the progress made in the repair and maintenance of streets throughout the year.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen prepare a formal maintenance plan for city streets at the beginning of the fiscal year and periodically update the plan throughout the year. In addition, the board should review the progress made in the repair and maintenance of streets to make appropriate decisions on future projects.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We do not feel a formal plan will improve our situation. If a road needs gravel, we will gravel it. If a road needs grading, we have it graded.

This report is intended for the information of the city's management and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

Report No. 99-81
September 22, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Pemiscot, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Pemiscot County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials.

< The County had not prepared or obtained budgets for several county funds, and approved disbursements in excess of budgeted amounts for several other county funds.

The audit made recommendations and suggestions to improve the county's financial statement procedures, expenditure procedures and practices, as well as the monitoring of collateral securities pledged by those banks which hold county monies in various accounts. Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve the accounting controls and procedures for the County Clerk, County Collector, and Recorder of Deeds.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Pemiscot County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Pemiscot County.

As more fully described in Note 1 to the financial statements, the county's financial statements do not include statements of receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash - budget and actual for various funds totaling $585,277 and $312,031 in receipts, and $610,164 and $246,761 in disbursements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. Statements of receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash - budget and actual are required by the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, except for the omission of the information discussed in the preceding paragraph, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Pemiscot County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 22, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Pemiscot County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Pemiscot County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 22, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which are described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding numbers 98-1 and 98-2. We also noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the county's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements. Reportable conditions are described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding numbers 98-1 and 98-2.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we consider the reportable conditions described above, finding numbers 98-1 and 98-2 to be material weaknesses. We also noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Pemiscot County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board of Trustees, or the Senate Bill 40 Board of Trustees. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
General Revenue Fund	1998 and 1997
Bootheel Drug Task Force Fund	1998 and 1997
Landfill Fund	1998
Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund	1998

Special Road and Bridge Fund	1997
Drug Abuse Resistance Education Fund	1997
Criminal Investigation Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Firing Range Fund	1998 and 1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998 and 1997
CDBG E-911 Telephone System Fund	1998 and 1997
CDBG Port Authority Road 95-ED-32 Fund	1998 and 1997
CDBG Port Authority Road 97-ED-11 Fund	1998
CDBG Water Improvement Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Assessment Fund

The State Tax Commission did not approve the reassessment plan submitted by the county for the two years ended December 31, 1997. The county filed a lawsuit against the State Tax Commission regarding this matter in Assessor for Pemiscot County, et al., Petitioners v. State Tax Commissioner of Missouri, et al., Respondents, Case No. CV396-131CC Division I.

For the two years ended December 31, 1997, the county filed quarterly reports with the State Tax Commission for reimbursement of 50 percent of expenses made by the Assessment Fund. Since the State Tax Commission did not approve the reassessment plan, the county did not receive any reimbursement from the state for expenses of the Assessment Fund for the two years ended December 31, 1997. However, this suit was settled in April, 1999 and the county received from the State Tax Commission approximately $93,000, representing 75 percent of the total reimbursement amount owed to the county from the State Tax Commission.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

PEMISCOT COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Pemiscot County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Food Distribution Program (CFDA number 10.550) represent the dollar value assigned to commodities based on prices provided by the state Department of Social Services.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Pemiscot County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Pemiscot County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Pemiscot County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Pemiscot County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Pemiscot County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Senate Bill 40 Board Fund	180,386	83,595

Seized Money Fund	N/A	16,180
CDBG Water Improvement Fund	N/A	58,195
Total	$ 610,164	246,761

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires the preparation of annual budgets for all funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year. Expenditures from funds not budgeted as a percentage of all expenditures amounted to approximately 10 percent and 5 percent for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively.

By preparing or obtaining budgets for all county funds and activities, the County Commission is able to more efficiently evaluate all county financial resources.

According to Section 50.530, RSMo 1994, the County Clerk is the budget officer. The County Clerk needs to implement procedures to ensure all funds are budgeted. These procedures need to include requesting and obtaining budgets for funds controlled by other county officials.

This condition was noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Clerk implement procedures to ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds, including those funds controlled by other county officials.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

These funds are not under the direct control of the County Clerk. The County Clerk will request in writing from the various officials and boards the budgets be prepared and presented to the County Commission. CDBG funds are earmarked funds for specific purposes and they were considered budgeted when they were approved.

98-2. Overspending Budgets

Disbursements were made in excess of the approved budgets in the following funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998, as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,
Fund	1998	1997
General Revenue	$ 64,207	139,472
Special Road and Bridge	N/A	12,393
Drug Abuse Resistance Education	N/A	784
Bootheel Drug Task Force	6,867	4,085
Landfill	332	N/A
Criminal Investigations	N/A	35,455
Law Enforcement Sales Tax	20,817	N/A
Recorder's User Fees	5,024	N/A

It was ruled in State ex. rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo. 1122, 273 SW 2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Supp. 1997, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

This condition was noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission ensure the county does not authorize disbursements in excess of budgeted expenditures. If valid reasons necessitate excess expenditures, the original budget should be formally amended.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission will endeavor to keep expenditures within the budget and amend budgets when necessary.

Section III - Federal Award Findings and Questioned Costs

This section includes no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS FOR AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Pemiscot County, Missouri, on the applicable findings in our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996.

1. Budgets

   A. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the year ended December 31, 1996, 1995, and 1994.

   B. Disbursements exceeded the approved budget for several funds.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. Ensure financial information for all county funds is included in the annual budgets.

   B. Refrain from incurring disbursements in excess of budgeted amounts. If additional funds are received which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted, the budget should be amended by following the procedures required by state law.

   Status:

   A. Not implemented. See Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs No. 98-1.

   B. Not implemented. See Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs No. 98-2.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

PEMISCOT COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

PEMISCOT COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pemiscot County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 22, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We also have audited the compliance of Pemiscot County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 22, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Pemiscot County Port Authority Board and Pemiscot Memorial Health Systems Board are audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related funds are not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed those audit reports and the substantiating working papers.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Pemiscot County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Financial Statements

The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required. Section 50.800, RSMo 1994, provides that the financial statements show receipts, or revenues, disbursements, or expenditures and beginning and ending balances for all county funds. For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

This condition was noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual financial statements.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission will make an effort to ensure all funds are reported in the annual financial statements.

2. Collateral Securities

The amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary banks at January 19, 1999, was insufficient by approximately $1,900,000 to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer and County Collector. It appears this situation occurred because bank balances were not monitored by the county officials.

Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, provides that the value of the securities pledged should at all times be not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). Inadequate collateral securities leave county funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of a bank failure.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission implement procedures to ensure collateral securities pledged by the depositary banks are sufficient to protect monies at all times.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission will discuss this with the County Treasurer and County Collector and try to ensure that collateral is sufficient.

3.	County Expenditure Procedures and Practices

A. In November, 1998, the County Commission sold property for $38,000 without advertising the sale. This property had been purchased by the county in January, 1997 for $38,000 to be used as a site for overflow parking for the new criminal justice center. After the purchase, the county used its own labor and equipment to demolish a small building on the site. The property was sold when the County Commission decided overflow parking would not be needed. To ensure the best price is received, the County Commission should advertise items it sells.

B. During the two years ended December 31, 1998, the County Commission authorized payments totaling $3,000 from the General Revenue Fund for the county employees' annual Christmas party.

Although the County Commission indicated they believe such expenditures benefited employee morale, they still do not appear to be a proper use of county funds. The County Commission should ensure county funds are spent only on items which are necessary and beneficial to county residents.

C. The Unclaimed Fees Fund contains $2,851 of unclaimed bonds. These monies were turned over to the County Treasurer from the Associate Circuit Division.

Section 447.595, RSMo 1994, requires the court to return bonds, less any court costs, to individuals upon termination of the related court proceeding. Any bonds remaining unclaimed for one year after disposition of the case should be turned over to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

D. The County Clerk indicated time sheets are to be prepared by employees and submitted to the employee's supervisor. The supervisors are also responsible for maintaining leave records. However, we noted that only the Sheriff's office and road and bridge employees prepare adequate time and leave records. As a result, the County Commission does not have documentation of work performed to support payroll expenditures and cannot ensure that employees vacation and sick leave balances are accurate and that all employees are treated equitably.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) requires employers to keep accurate records of actual time worked by employees, including compensatory time earned, taken, or paid. The time records should be prepared by the employee, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed with the County Clerk. The County Clerk should then maintain centralized leave records for all county employees.

Conditions B, C, and D, were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Advertise future land sales to ensure the best price is received.

B. Ensure all county expenditures are reasonable and necessary and a prudent use of public funds.

C. Require the County Treasurer to remit the $2,851 to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

D. Require all county employees to complete time sheets which reflect actual time worked. The time sheets should be prepared by employees, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed with the County Clerk. The County Clerk should then establish and maintain centralized leave records for all county employees.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission will advertise future land sales. At the time, the Commission had an opportunity to recover the county's cost in the property and was not aware of any other potential buyers.

B. The County Commission believes this is good for employee morale and, as a result, does benefit the county. However, the County Commission will discuss this issue further.

C. The County Commission will ask the County Treasurer to do this.

D. This has been implemented.

4. County Clerk's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The County Clerk does not maintain an account book with the County Collector. An account book would summarize all taxes charged to the County Collector, monthly collections, delinquent credits, abatements and additions, and protested amounts. An account book, prepared by the County Clerk from aggregate abstracts, court orders, monthly statements of collections, and the tax books, would enable the County Clerk to ensure the amount of taxes charged and credited by the County Collector each year is complete and accurate and can be used by the County Commission to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

B. Our review of the general fixed asset records indicated the records were incomplete. The County Clerk indicated he had requested inventory listings from each county office but compliance with his request had been limited.

The County Clerk does not record additions of fixed assets as they occur and did not perform physical inventories of fixed assets during the two years ended December 31, 1998.

Section 51.155, RSMo 1994, requires the County Clerk to keep a continuous inventory record of each item costing $250 or more, and perform an annual physical inventory of fixed assets.

Adequate general fixed asset records and procedures are necessary to meet statutory requirements, secure better internal controls over county property, and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage of county property.

These conditions were noted in our two prior reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Clerk:

A. Establish and maintain an account book of the County Collector's transactions, and the County Commission make use of this account book to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

B. Maintain complete and accurate general fixed asset records and perform and document annual inventories of fixed assets.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Clerk responded that all the necessary information is in the computer system and he will work with the programmer to develop monthly reports, which will serve the purpose of an account book.

B. House Bill No. 402 passed in 1999 which transferred this responsibility from the County Clerk to the County Commission. The County Commission requested an inventory from all county officials; however, not all have complied with the request. The County Commission will try its best to implement the recommendations.

5. County Collector's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The County Collector's office processes receipts of approximately $7.1 million annually. Our review noted the following concerns:

A. Duties are not adequately segregated. One person is primarily responsible for receiving, recording, preparing the deposits, and preparing bank reconciliations. Although the Collector stated he periodically reviews the work of this person, the review process is not documented.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Proper segregation of duties helps provide this assurance. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, the County Collector should periodically review the accounting records and bank reconciliations and document the results of his review.

B. Monies received are not deposited intact. Personal checks are cashed for county employees from the daily receipts. To ensure receipts are accounted for properly and deposited intact, personal checks should not be cashed from official tax receipts.

C. The County Collector accepts cash, checks and money orders for the payment of property taxes. The tax receipts marked paid by the County Collector do not always indicate the method of payment. In addition, the County Collector maintains a cash log detailing cash received and a check log detailing checks received. However, we noted that these logs were incomplete. As a result, the County Collector cannot and does not reconcile the composition of tax receipts to the composition of bank deposits.

To properly reconcile receipts to deposits and ensure all monies are being deposited intact, the method of payment should be indicated on all tax receipts or the cash/check logs, and the composition of receipts should be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Collector:

A. Segregate the record-keeping duties, or at a minimum perform and document a periodic review of the bank reconciliations and accounting records.

B. Deposit all monies received intact daily and discontinue cashing checks for employees.

C. Indicate the method of payment on all tax receipts or cash/check logs and reconcile the composition of receipts to the composition of bank deposits.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. There are three people in our office. All three receive and record tax payments, therefore, segregation of those duties is successfully achieved. We now have one person who prepares deposits, but a different person who counts the funds for actual deposit. Bank reconciliations are reviewed by the Collector and will be documented in the future. I believe that we have an extremely accountable safeguard system for all transactions.

B. Monies received are deposited intact for each day's business. If a check is cashed it is documented on the cash log. We balance every day and have an extremely reliable system for accounting for all funds received.

C. Tax statements in 99 percent of the cases indicate the method of payment. Also, a cash log and a check log are kept to ensure a trail in case of error. We do reconcile the composition of tax receipts to the composition of bank deposits. If a check is cashed it is documented in order to leave an easily identifiable trail.

We are very confident in our accounting system. All records were efficiently produced and are at all times readily available. I am confident that our system for tracking the collection and disbursement of funds is as efficient as any in the state.

6. Recorder of Deed's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Recorder of Deed's office processes receipts of approximately $115,000 annually. Our review noted the following concerns:

A. Receipts are not deposited intact or on a timely basis. Deposits are made approximately twice a month. In addition, we noted checks from employees were cashed from official receipts. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, all receipts should be deposited intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. The fee books and other financial records do not contain sufficient documentation to agree individual recordings to related deposits. The method of payment is not documented in the fee book and sufficient detail is not transferred to accounts receivable records for identification purposes. To ensure receipts are deposited intact, the fee books and other financial records should contain sufficient details regarding fees received and the method of payment. In addition, the composition (cash, checks, and money orders) of receipts noted in the fee book should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

These conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Recorder of Deeds:

A. Deposit all monies received intact daily or when cash on hand exceeds $100 and discontinue cashing checks for employees.

B. Record fees in the fee book in sufficient detail to agree individual recordings to the related deposits. This would include documenting the method of payment in the fee book and transferring sufficient details to the accounts receivable records for identification purposes. In addition, the composition of receipts noted in the fee book should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Most of the fees collected in the Recorder's office are paid by check. The office only has $50 for the cash drawer. In order to have change for cash paying customers, I will request $50 from the County Commission. I think this will be enough cash to have change for my customers.

As for cashing checks for my employees, I have already stopped.

B. I will start putting check or cash on the documents and/or the fee book, and make a daily deposit.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

PEMISCOT COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Pemiscot County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996 and our Special Review of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, Associate Division II for the period July 6, 1994 through December 31, 1996. Finding numbers 1.A. and 1.B. are omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Budgets and Financial Statements

   C. The annual published financial statements did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required.

   D. Expenditures exceeded available resources in three funds resulting in negative cash balances.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   C. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual financial statements.

   D. Together with the County Clerk and County Treasurer ensure each county fund has adequate resources available prior to authorizing expenditures.

   Status:

   C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

   D. Not implemented. Expenditures exceeded available resources in one fund in 1997 and three funds in 1998. The Assessment Fund was exceeded because of a pending lawsuit against the State Tax Commission, which was settled in April 1999, and because adequate funds had not been transferred from the county's General Revenue Fund to cover the county's share of assessment costs. Although not repeated in the current report, the County Commission, together with the County Clerk and County Treasurer should still ensure each county fund has adequate resources available prior to authorizing expenditures.

2. County Expenditure Procedures and Practices

A. The county did not have a written agreement with the Southeast Missouri (SEMO) Regional Crime Laboratory, and did not receive or maintain any documentation of actual services rendered by the crime lab on behalf of the county.

B. The County Commission authorized payments totaling $3,100 from the General Revenue Fund for the county employees' annual Christmas party.

C. The Unclaimed Fees Fund contained $2,851 of unclaimed bonds.

D. Records were not maintained of annual leave, sick leave, and compensatory time earned, taken, and accumulated for some employees.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Enter into a detailed contract with SEMO Regional Crime Laboratory which specifies the services to be rendered and the manner and amount of the compensation. Further, the county should maintain detailed documentation of the services provided to ensure payments made are reasonable.

B. Ensure all county expenditures are reasonable and necessary and a prudent use of public funds.

C. Require the County Treasurer to remit the $2,851 to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

D. Require records to be maintained of vacation, sick leave, and overtime earned, used, and accumulated.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. While the county currently maintains documentation of the services provided, no contract exists with the SEMO Regional Crime Laboratory. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B,C, &D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

3. Officials' Salaries

A. The salary commission granted retroactive salary increases to some county officials.

B. The former County Coroner was overpaid $917 due to a calculation error when determining back salary.

C. The Public Administrator was overpaid $500 for the year ended December 31, 1996, because he computed his fee by including the purchase of CD as an expenditure.

Recommendation:

A. The County Commission review this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney.

B. The County Commission pursue reimbursement of $917 from the former County Coroner.

C. The Probate Division Judge require the Public Administrator to reimburse the applicable estate $500. In addition, the Probate Division Judge and the Public Administrator should ensure purchases of certificates of deposits are not included as an expenditure of the estate in the calculation of the Public Administrator fee.

Status:

Implemented.

4. County Clerk's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The County Clerk did not maintain an account book with the County Collector.

B. The County Clerk did not record any additions or dispositions in the general fixed asset records, and did not perform any annual inventories of fixed assets during the three years ended December 31, 1996.

C. The County Collector added property taxes to the tax books without obtaining a court order.

Recommendation:

A. The County Clerk establish and maintain an account book of the County Collector's transactions and the County Commission make use of this account book to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

B. The County Clerk record additions and dispositions in the general fixed asset records as the transactions occur and perform and document annual inventories of fixed assets as required by state law.

C. The County Commission approve and authorize all property tax additions.

Status:

A&B. Not implemented See MAR No. 4.

C. Implemented.

5. Assessor's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Prenumbered receipt slips were not issued for monies received.

B. A cash control ledger was not maintained.

C. Our review noted payments to the Assessor's office of $191 that were not remitted to the County Treasurer.

Recommendation:

A. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

B. Maintain a cash control ledger to account for all monies received.

C. Remit all receipts to the county treasury, including the $191 that cannot be accounted for. In addition, the County Commission should review this situation and decide if further investigation is warranted to determine the extent of monies not accounted for.

Status:

A&B. These recommendations currently do not apply. As of January, 1998, the Assessor's office ceased collecting monies for selling copies of maps and assessment information to the public. Customers currently make payments directly to the County Treasurer.

C. Implemented. The $191 was paid by the Assessor but no further investigation was pursued.

6. Circuit Clerk's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. At December 31, 1996, the fee and child support accounts had checks totaling $189 and $4,812, respectively which had been outstanding for more than a year.

B. The Circuit Clerk had several old unclaimed bonds totaling $3,371 dating back to before 1983. In addition, the Circuit Clerk was holding other bonds for cases over one year old.

Recommendation:

A. Attempt to locate the payees of the old outstanding checks and reissue checks if possible. Any remaining unclaimed amounts should be disbursed in accordance with state law.

B. Follow up on old bonds to determine the proper disposition. Any bonds remaining unclaimed for one year after final disposition of the case should be turned over to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

Status:

Implemented.

7. County Collector's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing collections, and reconciling the bank accounts were not adequately segregated.

B. Receipts were not deposited intact or on a timely basis.

C. The tax receipts marked paid by the County Collector did not consistently indicate the method of payment and the composition of tax receipts and the cash/check logs were not reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

Recommendation:

A. Segregate the record-keeping duties, or at a minimum perform and document a periodic review of the bank reconciliations and accounting records.

B. Deposit all monies received intact daily or when cash on hand exceeds $100 and discontinue cashing checks for employees.

C. Indicate the method of payment on all tax receipts or cash/check logs and reconcile the composition of receipts to the composition of bank deposits.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

8. Recorder of Deed's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Receipts were not deposited intact or on a timely basis.

B. The fee books and other financial records did not contain sufficient documentation to agree individual recordings to related deposits.

Recommendation:

A. Deposit all monies received intact daily or when cash on hand exceeds $100, make refunds by check, and discontinue cashing checks for employees.

B. Record fees in the fee book in sufficient detail to agree individual recordings to the related deposits. This would include documenting the method of payment in the fee book and transferring sufficient details to the accounts receivable records for identification purposes. In addition, the composition of receipts noted in the fee book should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR No. 6.

9. Sheriff's Records and Procedures

A. Except for bonds, receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

B. An inventory listing of seized property was not maintained for the three years ended December 31, 1996. In addition, a periodic inventory of the evidence room was not performed for comparison with the inventory listing of seized property.

C. The mileage claims filed by the Sheriff's office for delivering the "Summons for Jury" for the Circuit Division did not appear to be actual mileage. In addition, former Sheriff Davis was reimbursed for 1,091 miles that were not driven resulting in an overpayment of $273.

Recommendation:

A. The Sheriff deposit all monies received daily or when cash on hand exceeds $100.

B. The Sheriff ensure an accurate and up-to-date inventory record is maintained of all seized and confiscated property. In addition, a periodic inventory should be performed and compared to the inventory listing and any differences investigated.

C. The County Commission ensure mileage claims are complete and accurate and in accordance with state law prior to payment. In addition, the Commission should seek reimbursement of $273 from former Sheriff Davis.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Receipts of the Sheriff's criminal account are now deposited daily; however, receipts of the civil account are only deposited weekly. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Implemented.

C. Partially implemented. During 1997, the county purchased its own fleet of vehicles for the Sheriff's department and no longer pays mileage claims. Although the County Commission sought reimbursement of $273 from former Sheriff Davis, the amount remains unpaid. Although not repeated in the current report, the County Commission should still seek reimbursement of $273 from former Sheriff Davis.

10. Health Center Accounting Controls and Procedures

Disbursements were in excess of approved budgeted expenditures. Amended budgets did not follow the same procedure as for the annual budget and were not filed with the State Auditor's office.

Recommendation:

The Health Center Board of Trustees refrain from incurring disbursements in excess of budgeted amounts. If additional funds are received which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted, the budget should be amended by following the procedures required by state law, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office.

Status:

Implemented.

11. Pemiscot County Deputies' Association

Accountable fees were deposited in the Pemiscot County Deputies' Association bank account.

Recommendation:

The County Commission review the circumstances surrounding the receipt and depositing of accountable monies into bank accounts outside the county treasury and consult with the Prosecuting Attorney.

Status:

Implemented. While no follow-up action was taken on the prior concerns, the County Commission and the current Sheriff who took office in January 1997, did not re-establish the Pemiscot County Deputies' Association.

The Associate Division II Judge work with the various law enforcement authorities regarding any criminal prosecution and to obtain restitution of the misappropriated funds.

Status:

Implemented. In January 1998, the defendant was placed on two years supervised probation and paid restitution of $950.

2. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The composition of receipt slips was not reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

D. Procedures for collecting amounts remaining due on criminal cases were not consistently applied.

E. Monthly open-items listings were not reconciled to the cash balance and the cash balance at December 31, 1996 exceeded the identified open items by $7,434.

Recommendation:

The Associate Division II Judge:

A. Ensure the composition of receipt slips is reconciled to the composition of bank deposits and any discrepancies are investigated.

B. Discontinue the practice of making cash refunds. If the court determines it is necessary to make a cash refund, adequate supporting documentation should be maintained of the cash refund.

C. Document his authorization to reduce or suspend any fines and costs.

D. Ensure procedures for pursuing the collection of accrued costs are consistently applied.

E. Ensure open-items listings are reconciled to cash balances on a monthly basis. The unidentified cash balance should be investigated, and any monies remaining unidentified should be disbursed in accordance with state law.

A,B, C&D. Implemented.

E. Partially implemented. Open-items listings are currently reconciled to cash balances; however, the cash balance at December 31, 1998 exceeded the identified open items by $5,091. Although not repeated in the current report, the Associate Division II Judge should still investigate the unidentified cash balance, and any monies remaining unidentified should be disbursed in accordance with state law.

PEMISCOT COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1851, the county of Pemiscot was named after Pemiscot, its principal bayou. Pemiscot County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the 34th Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Caruthersville, Missouri.

Pemiscot County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. AUDIT REPORT

SCHUYLER COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-80
September 17, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

September 1999

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Schuyler, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Schuyler County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

< The county is annually required to reduce its property tax levy by 50% of the sales tax collected. As of December 31, 1998, the county had not reduced property tax revenues by $66,469 as the result of excess amounts collected in prior years. To account for prior years' excess property tax revenues collected, the County Commission should reduce the general revenue tax levy in 1999 by 38 cents. The 1999 budget reflects only an estimated 21 cent general revenue property tax reduction.

The audit recommended improvements in bidding procedures, invoice processing, and county employee leave records. Also included in the audit are recommendations regarding the Schuyler County Health Center's land purchase procedures and lack of budgeting for the building project.

In addition, because of concerns over the building project recently reported to the State Auditor, additional audit procedures relating to the building project will be performed.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Schuyler County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Schuyler County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997 in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Schuyler County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 5, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Schuyler County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Schuyler County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 5, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed an instance of noncompliance that is required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Cost as finding number 98-1. We also noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Schuyler County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

SCHUYLER COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, Health Center Board of Trustees, or the Senior Citizens Service Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Senior Citizens Fund	1997
Drug and Crime Control Fund	1997
Sheriff Civil Service Fund	1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1997
COPS Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The financial statements do not include the cash balances of the County Collector, who collects and distributes property taxes as an agent for various local governments. However, for the purpose of these risk disclosures, the County Collector's cash balances are included since collateral securities to cover amounts not covered by federal depositary insurance are pledged to the county rather than to specific county officials.

Of the county’s bank balance at December 31, 1998, $813,156 was covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, and $37,565 was uninsured and uncollateralized.

Of the county’s bank balance at December 31, 1997, $820,061 was covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, and $10,949 was uninsured and uncollateralized.

The health center's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the health center's name.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Property Tax

Through December 31, 1998, Schuyler County had collected $66,469 in excess property taxes. Section 67.505, RSMo, requires the county to reduce property taxes for a percentage of sales tax collected. Schuyler County voters enacted a 1/2 cent sales tax with a provision to reduce property taxes by 50 percent of sales taxes collected. Tax levies were not reduced sufficiently for actual sales taxes received.

4. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $70,593 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $32,341. As of December 31, 1998, $13,974 remains to be paid.

SCHUYLER COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Schuyler County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $7,320 and $3,522 to a subrecipient under Emergency Shelter Grants Program (CFDA number 14.231) during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Schuyler County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Schuyler County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Schuyler County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Schuyler County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Schuyler County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section II - Financial Statement Findings

This section includes the audit finding that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

98-1.	County Sales Tax

In 1987, voters authorized a ½ cent county sales tax with a ballot restriction under the provisions of Section 67.505 RSMo 1994, that provided the county would annually reduce its property tax levy by 50 percent of the total amount of sales tax collected. As noted in our prior three reports, the county has not reduced its property tax sufficiently, according to the terms of the ballot.

Following are the calculations of the property tax roll back and sales tax collections for the two years ended December 31, 1998, and excess property taxes of prior years:

		Year Ended December 31,
		1998		1997
Actual sales tax revenue	$	101,869		110,673
Required percentage of reduction	X	50	%	50	%
Required property tax revenue reduction		50,935		55,337
Assessed valuation		31,366,528		30,993,858
General Revenue Fund tax levy reduction (per $100 assessed valuation)	X	0.20		0.19
Actual property tax revenue reduction		62,733		58,888
Excess property tax revenues collected		(11,798)		(3,551)
Excess property tax revenues collection from prior years		78,267		81,818
Excess through December 31,	$	66,469		78,267

The roll back was insufficient to offset prior years' excess property tax revenue collections. Additional reductions will need to be made in future years to offset the balance of prior years' excess property tax revenue collections. Based on estimated assessed valuation and estimated sales tax revenue as reflected on the 1999 budget, and to account for prior years' excess property tax revenues collected, the County Commission should reduce the general revenue tax levy in 1999 by 38 cents. The 1999 budget reflects only an estimated 21 cent general revenue property tax reduction.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission ensure appropriate adjustments are made to the levy to reflect excess property taxes collected in prior years.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

We have reduced the excess property taxes collected by over $15,000 during the audit period and will continue to try to reduce the remaining excess balance in the future, depending on the county's current financial condition.

Section III - Federal Award Findings and Questioned Costs

This section includes no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Schuyler County, Missouri, on the applicable findings in our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1998.

1. County Sales Tax

The county did not sufficiently reduce its general property tax levy to fully comply with the County Sales Tax Act. As of December 31, 1996, property tax revenues collected were $81,818 in excess of allowable amounts.

Recommendation:

The County Commission ensure appropriate adjustments are made to the levy to reflect excess property taxes collected in prior years.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

SCHUYLER COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

SCHUYLER COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Schuyler County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 5, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Schuyler County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 5, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Schuyler County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards

1. County Expenditures

A. Bids were not always solicited by the county nor was bid documentation always retained for various purchases. The county indicated they often solicited bids by phone or items were sometimes purchased from sole source suppliers. Examples of the items purchased without documentation of bids and/or advertisement included road and bridge insurance coverage for over $7,600, courthouse doors for over $5,800, and law enforcement radios and antennas for over $5,000.

Section 50.660, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998, requires the county to solicit bids for purchases greater than $4,500 from any one person, firm, or corporation during any period of ninety days. In addition, Sections 67.150 and 376.696, RSMo 1994, discuss competitive bidding for insurance.

Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of county resources and help assure the county that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidder. Competitive bidding ensures all parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in county business. To show full compliance with state law, documentation of bids should include, at a minimum, a listing of vendors from whom bids were requested, a copy of the request for proposal, a newspaper publication notice when applicable, a copy of all bids received, a summary of the basis and justification for awarding the bid, documentation of all discussions with vendors, and bid specifications designed to encourage competitive bidding.

B. Indication of receipt of goods and services was not documented on invoices by the employee receiving the goods and services. We noted instances in which invoices for gravel, fuel and oil, law enforcement equipment, and supplies did not indicate goods had been received. To ensure payments are made only for goods and services actually received, the receipt of goods or services should be noted on the invoices before payment is approved.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for all items in accordance with Section 50.660, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998. Documentation of bids solicited and justification of bid awards should be retained by the County Clerk. If it is not practical to obtain bids in a specific instance, or if sole source procurement is necessary, the circumstances should be thoroughly documented.

B. Require acknowledgment of the receipt of goods and services prior to the approval of an invoice for payment.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A& B. We will try to comply with these recommendations.

2.	Health Center

A. Based upon discussions with the former Administrator and the Health Center Board of Trustees, the need for a new office building has been under consideration for some time. A new building was needed because of safety concerns, poor foundation and roof, lack of compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, limited parking, and carbon monoxide problems.

Several possible approaches were considered and the board ultimately decided to purchase a building site. The former Health Center Administrator viewed three building sites for the board's consideration, however, two of the sites were sold before the board could make a decision on which one to purchase. In July 1998, after considering the remaining site, the board decided to buy it at the asking price of $7,500. None of the information on the two alternate sites was documented in the board minutes or other records.

The Assessor's office had this property appraised at $2,534, but an independent appraisal was not obtained prior to purchasing the property to ensure the price was reasonable. Independent appraisals as well as documentation of the selection process and price negotiations are particularly necessary when amounts paid exceed the Assessor's appraised value to ensure the purchase price of the property is reasonable.

B. Actual Health Center Fund expenditures exceeded budgeted amounts during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997 by approximately $65,700 and $47,800, respectively. The Health Center Fund overspending was primarily a result of unbudgeted construction costs for a new office building in 1998 and increases in employee salary expenditures in 1998 and 1997.

It was ruled in State ex rel Strong v. Cribb 364 Mo. 1122, 273 SW 2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials.

If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing an amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

C. Our review of the Health Center's general fixed asset records and procedures indicated that annual inventories of general fixed assets are not performed, building and land values are not included on the inventory listing, additions and deletions of general fixed assets are not recorded in the property records as they occur, and the administrator does not reconcile the general fixed asset records to asset purchases and deletions.

Adequate general fixed asset records and procedures are necessary to meet statutory requirements, secure better internal control over county property, and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage.

D. Subsequent to the completion of our audit fieldwork several additional concerns regarding the Health Center's building project have been brought to our attention. We have received reports of public concerns and questions that have been directed to the Schuyler County Commission and the members of the Health Center Board.

Because of these concerns, we plan to perform additional audit procedures relating to the building project. The results of such work will be made available to the county. As a result, we have no additional recommendation at this time.

WE RECOMMEND the Health Center Board of Directors:

A. Ensure justification of the selection process is thoroughly documented and an independent appraisal is obtained for future land purchases.

B. Not authorize expenditures in excess of budgeted expenditures. Extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and, if necessary, the budget properly amended following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office.

C. Perform and document annual inventories of general fixed assets, maintain accurate general fixed asset records on a current basis, and periodically reconcile these records to general fixed asset additions and deletions.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Schuyler County Health Department:

A. Will ensure justification of the selection process is thoroughly documented and an independent appraisal is obtained for future land purchases. We plan to have an independent appraisal completed on the new building in the near future.

B. Will not authorize expenditures in excess of budgeted expenditures. In case of extenuating circumstances this will be fully documented and, if necessary, the budget will be properly amended following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office.

C. Will perform and document annual inventories of general fixed assets. In addition, we will maintain accurate general fixed asset records on a current basis and periodically reconcile these records to general fixed asset additions and deletions.

We have always added new inventory items to the inventory list but due to the fact that nothing was ever deleted when broken or outdated, the inventory left a false impression of assets. We are in the process of accounting for current inventory items and documenting the items that we have disposed of over the years. While our inventory is still not complete, we are well on the way to having an accurate inventory and will subsequently do an annual inventory of all asset items and documentation will be accurate from now on.

We understand that we have made mistakes and plan to correct them accordingly.

3. Employee Leave Records and Procedures

Records of annual leave, sick leave, and compensatory time balances are not centrally maintained. The County Clerk indicated leave records are to be maintained by each individual office, however, our review noted the County Clerk, Collector, and Assessor offices are not maintaining leave records to adequately account for employees' accumulated leave balances.

Without accurate and centralized leave record keeping, the County Commission cannot ensure that employees' annual leave, sick leave, and compensatory time balances are accurate. Centralized leave records also aid in determining final compensation for employees leaving county employment. In addition, such records would better document compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk maintain centralized leave records for all county employees.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission and County Clerk responded that they believe current procedures are adequate for this county at this time.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Schuyler County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

SCHUYLER COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Schuyler County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996. Finding number 1 is omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

2. Documentation of Reimbursable Expenses

A. The Circuit Court Judge charged his monthly expenses to the counties of the 1st Judicial Circuit, Schuyler, Clark, and Scotland counties; however, not all expense claims were evidenced by supporting documentation or contracts.

B. The former Prosecuting Attorney submitted expense claims to Schuyler County which were not evidenced by supporting documentation or contracts.

C. The Sheriff submitted an expense claim for hotel expenses incurred for training purposes which was not evidenced by supporting documentation.

Recommendation:

The County Commission require adequate supporting documentation prior to approving expenditures for payment. All county contracts should be in writing and rental agreements should be supported by documentation of how rental amounts were determined. In addition, unsupported payments should be included on W-2 forms.

Status:

Partially implemented. The Prosecuting Attorney and Sheriff submit supporting documentation with all expense claims; however, the Circuit Court Judge does not. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

3. Sheriff's Federal Financial Assistance

A. The Sheriff maintained a bank account, designated as the Drug and Crime Control Fund, outside the county treasury.

B. Federal funds were used to purchase equipment items not allowed by grant regulations.

C. The Sheriff’s Office did not maintain copies of invoices or other documentation for some purchases made from grant funds.

D. The Sheriff's Office did not file annual grant certifications required by the Equitable Sharing of Seized and Forfeited Property program.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Turn remaining Drug and Crime Control Fund monies over to the County Treasurer to be placed in a special fund established by the County Commission. Expenditures requested by the Sheriff from this fund should be made by duly authorized warrants.

B. Consult with the grantor agency to resolve the questioned costs. In addition, the Sheriff should ensure all future purchases are allowable under the program restrictions.

C. Consult with the grantor agency to resolve the questioned costs. In addition, the Sheriff should ensure proper documentation of grant expenditures is retained.

D. Consult with the grantor agency to resolve this issue. In addition, certifications should be prepared in the future, in accordance with grant requirements.

Status:

A. The Sheriff turned the Drug and Crime Control Fund over to the County Treasurer on February 17, 1998.

B&C. The Sheriff consulted with the Missouri Sheriff's Association and obtained approval of the questioned costs. Procedures have been revised so that all purchases are preapproved and the grantor agency makes direct payment to vendors. The Sheriff did not receive domestic Cannabis Eradication/Suppression program funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998. However, the Sheriff indicated that he will retain proper documentation for any future expenditures of Domestic Cannabis Eradication/Suppression program funds.

D. The Sheriff sent a report to the U.S. Department of Justice documenting fund balances, sharings received, interest accrued, and total spent for the Equitable Sharing of Seized and Forfeited Property program.

Statistical Information

SCHUYLER COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1845 the county of Schuyler was named after General Phillip Schuyler of the Revolution. Schuyler County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the 1st Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Lancaster.

Schuyler County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. AUDIT REPORT

CRAWFORD COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-79
September 17, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

September 1999

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Crawford, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Crawford County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

The audit includes some matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Crawford County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Crawford County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Crawford County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 13, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Crawford County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 13, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Crawford County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the E911 Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Records Preservation Fund	1997
Law Enforcement Equipment Fund	1997
Sheriff's Special Fund	1997
Special Law Enforcement Fund	1997
E911 Board Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Children's Trust Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998
Records Preservation Fund	1998
County Use Tax Fund	1998
Special Law Enforcement Fund	1998
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Circuit Clerk Interest Fund, Associate Interest Fund, or Law Library Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997 and the E911 Board's deposits at December 31, 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

Of the E911 Board's bank balance at December 31, 1998, $100,000 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $55,806 was uninsured and uncollateralized.
To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $250,391 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $126,971. As of December 31, 1998, $12,869 remains to be paid.

4. E911 Fund and E911 Board Fund

On July 1, 1997, the county formed the E911 Board. Prior to July 1, 1997, the county accounted for E911 operations in the E911 Fund. Effective July 1, 1997, the E911 Board Fund was created and operations are now accounted for in that fund. Included in the 1997 financial statements is $16,536 which was paid from the E911 Fund to the E911 Board Fund to close out the E911 Fund.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are an integral part of this schedule.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

CRAWFORD COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Crawford County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Crawford County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Crawford County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Crawford County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Crawford County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Crawford County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

CRAWFORD COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Crawford County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 13, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Crawford County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 13, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents a matter other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. This matter resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Crawford County but does not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider this matter and take appropriate corrective action.

Budgetary Practices

Formal budgets were not prepared and filed with the State Auditor's Office for various county funds for the years ended December 31, 1998 or 1997. Warrants were issued in excess of approved budgeted expenditures for various county funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Crawford County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Randolph, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Randolph County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

The audit includes some matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Randolph County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Randolph County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Randolph County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 27, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Randolph County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 27, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Randolph County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998
Parenting Class Fund	1998
Sheriff Fund	1997
Local Emergency Planning Commission Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1997
Cemetery Trust Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1997
Juvenile Officer Tutoring Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998
Recorder's User Fee Fund	1998
Domestic Abuse Fund	1998
Sheriff Fund	1998
Cemetery Trust Fund	1998
Assessment Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

A deficit budget balance is presented for the General Revenue Fund for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

However, the budgets of that fund also included other resources available to finance current or future year disbursements. Generally, other available net resources represented current year property taxes not received before December 31. Such resources were sufficient to offset the deficit budget balances presented.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Cemetery Trust Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Juvenile Officer Tutoring Fund	1998 and 1997
Prosecuting Attorney Delinquent Tax Fund	1998 and 1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998
Parenting Class Fund	1998

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

Cash includes both deposits and investments. In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of deposits and investments. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions. Investments are securities and other assets acquired primarily for the purpose of obtaining income or profit.

Deposits

The financial statements do not include the cash balances of the County Collector, who collects and distributes property taxes as an agent for various local governments. However, for the purpose of these risk disclosures, the County Collector's cash balances are included since collateral securities to cover amounts not covered by federal depositary insurance are pledged to the county rather than to specific county officials.

At December 31, 1998 and 1997, the reported amount of the county's deposits were $5,519,008 and $4,453,908, respectively, and the bank balances were $5,643,888 and $4,565,236, respectively. Of the county's bank balances at December 31, 1998 and 1997, $1,311,108 and $1,373,017, respectively, were covered by federal depositary insurance and $4,332,780 and $3,192,219, respectively, were covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by the safekeeping department an affiliate of the same bank holding company.

The Health Center Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the Health Center Board's custodial bank in the Health Center Board's name.

Investments

The only investment of the various funds at December 31, 1998 and 1997, was a repurchase agreement with reported amounts of $1,400,000 and $1,500,000, respectively, which approximated fair value.

These investments represent uninsured and unregistered investments for which the securities were held by the safekeeping department of an affiliate of the same bank holding company in the county's name.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44

(Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $175,743 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $94,783. As of December 31, 1998, $35,545 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

RANDOLPH COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Randolph County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the National Criminal History Improvement Program (CFDA number 16.554) and the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $78,064 and $70,202 to a subrecipient under the State and Community Highway Safety Program (CFDA number 20.600) during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

FEDERAL AWARDS -
SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Randolph County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Randolph County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Randolph County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Randolph County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Randolph County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

RANDOLPH COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Randolph County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 27, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Randolph County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 27, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audits of the special-purpose financial statements of Randolph County and of its compliance with the types of compliance requirements applicable to each of its major federal programs but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting or compliance that are required for audits performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. Financial Condition

   The General Revenue Fund has experienced a declining cash balance over the past several years. The cash balance has decreased from $28,223 at January 1, 1997 to $(88,344) at December 31, 1998. In addition, the 1999 budget anticipated disbursements to exceed receipts by $236,323.

2. Budgetary and Financial Reporting Practices

   Disbursements were made in excess of approved budgets during the audit period for various county funds. The annual published financial statements did not include some county funds as required by law.

3. County Disbursements and Contracts

   The supporting documentation for some disbursements authorized by the Sheriff and Prosecuting Attorney was not forwarded to the county with the related requests for payment. Several instances were noted where evidence of the receipt of goods or services was not documented on the supporting invoice for other county purchases. The county does not have a signed written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney for rent of an office outside the courthouse that is also used for private practice. While it appears a written contract was drafted, it has never been signed.

In addition, the county does not prepare an IRS Form 1099-MISC information return for the Prosecuting Attorney for payments of office space rentals.

4. Monitoring of Subrecipients

The county forwards county funds equal to one-twelfth of the State and Community Highway Safety Program federal grant award to Northern Missouri Safe Communities (NMSC) each month. The County Commission does not adequately monitor the amount of the monthly unexpended cash balance on hand at NMSC. Based on unspent county money returned to the county in October 1998, totaling $18,029, it appears that excessive cash balances had been advanced to NMSC.

5. Schedule of Federal Awards

The Schedule of Federal Awards prepared by the County Clerk contained various errors and omissions.

6. Computer Controls

Passwords used by employees of the Assessor, County Clerk, and Collector are not changed on a periodic basis. In addition, the county does not have a formal contingency plan in the event of a disaster.

7. General Fixed Assets

Various fixed asset purchases were not recorded in the fixed asset listing. Annual inventories of county property are not performed and reconciled to the fixed asset listing. Vehicle logs are not maintained for Road and Bridge vehicles. County vehicle usage is not reconciled to fuel purchased.

8. Health Center Policies and Procedures

Annual leave accrued by one employee was not done in accordance with Health Center policy. The Health Center does not have a formal contingency plan in the event of a disaster and computer backup disks are not stored off-site. The Health Center fixed asset listing does not always include the purchase price, purchase date, and disposition of items, and fixed asset purchases are not reconciled to the fixed asset listing. The Schedule of Federal Awards prepared by the Health Center and submitted to the county contained various errors and omissions.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Randolph County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: This report contains information about the ninety-three (93) Missouri counties which do not have a county auditor. Using the most recent audit reports, county budgets, and additional outside information, this report has been compiled to show various comparative financial information.

- Counties typically receive and spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. For 1998, the median (the middle amount in a series of amounts) county receipts for the General Revenue fund were approximately $1,154,000 while the median disbursements were approximately $1,191,000. The median receipts and disbursements for the Special Road and Bridge Fund were both approximately $1,093,000.

- The report shows sales tax as the main source of receipts for most counties, especially the General Revenue Fund, while intergovernmental revenues, such as federal and state aid, are the main source of receipts for the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

- Information regarding typical audit findings is included in the annual report. Many of the more frequent findings noted have remained similar over the past several years though improvement has been noted for some areas, including counties' banking practices and compliance with sales tax rollback requirements. However, other concerns with counties' budgetary and financial reporting procedures and fee officials' accounting controls and record keeping procedures continue to be reported in county audit reports.

- The annual report also contains other comparative financial information, including data on the Assessment Fund, information on the other major sales tax funds, assessed valuations and tax levies of the counties.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

Honorable Mel Carnahan, Governor
and
Members of the General Assembly
and
County Commissions

The Missouri State Auditor's office, as required by Section 29.230, RSMo 1994, performs audits on all counties throughout the state which have not elected a county auditor. An audit report containing financial statements, footnotes, an opinion as to the fairness of the presentation of the financial information, and information regarding recommended improvements in internal controls, statutory compliance, and management practices is issued for each county audit.

This report is titled "Missouri 3rd Class Counties" because the ninety-three counties for which information is presented are counties of the third class.

Using the most recent audit reports, county budgets, and additional outside information, this report has been compiled to show financial information for the ninety-three counties, some by comparative percentages. Because this report is based upon a combination of audited and unaudited information, no opinion can be expressed as to the accuracy of the unaudited figures. Actual information shown on county budgets is sometimes inaccurate or incomplete, so some adjustments have been made to information shown on the budgets for better comparability with audited years information (See Note 2). However, it is difficult for counties to completely assess their status in relation to other counties without knowing more about the operations of the various counties.

The following charts categorize the counties based on receipts and disbursements for the three years ended December 31, 1998.

For 1998 the median (the middle amount in a series of amounts) county receipts and disbursements were approximately $1,154,000 and $1,191,000, respectively, for the General Revenue Fund, and $1,093,000 and $1,093,000, respectively, for the Special Road and Bridge fund.

A more detailed review of the counties' receipts and disbursements data for the three years presented indicated the following regarding the number of counties where receipts exceeded disbursements.

	Receipts Exceeded Disbursements
	0 Years	1 Year	2 Years	3 Years
General Revenue Fund	8	40	28	17
Special Road and Bridge Fund	4	34	33	22

During 1998 receipts exceeded disbursements in 52 and 57 counties for the General Revenue Fund and Special Road and Bridge Fund, respectively. A further review of individual county amounts indicates fewer counties are consistently maintaining receipts at a greater level than disbursements. It appears changes between years are due largely to normal growth or decline of receipts and disbursements, although the fluctuation for some counties was due to significant, but temporary, increases in receipts and/or disbursements resulting from such events as capital improvement projects.

Actions to increase receipts or to control disbursements are ongoing and important. The average cash balance to disbursement ratios shown on Schedules 2-A and 2-B indicate that both the General Revenue Fund ratio and the Special Road and Bridge ratio have experienced little change. The following charts categorize the counties based on the cash balance to disbursements ratios during the last three years.

Schedules 2-A and 2-B indicate the 1998 average cash balance to disbursement ratio was .28 and .37 for the General Revenue Fund and Special Road and Bridge Fund, respectively. These average ratios indicate cash available at year-end would fund county operations for approximately three to four months. The charts above show that the majority of counties have a cash balance to disbursements ratio of .30 or less. A declining ratio may be indicative of a poor or worsening financial condition, while a growing ratio might represent a county's effort to accumulate and reserve monies for a significant future purpose or an improved financial condition. While the cash balance to disbursements ratio can assist in analyzing financial condition, such factors as types of receipts, cash flow, receivables, debt, and discretionary versus mandated disbursements also have a significant effect on the financial well-being of a county. Additionally, the availability of other major funds as shown on Schedule 6 and discussed in Note 1, or an unusually large spending level in one year can distort the financial condition analysis.

The percentage composition of receipts shows that sales taxes represent the main source of receipts for most counties, especially for the General Revenue Fund (See Schedule 3-A). Only four counties (Bates, Polk, Reynolds, and Ripley) do not have sales tax monies going into their General Revenue Fund. From 1980, when county sales taxes were initiated, sales tax collections have increased from 4 percent to 38 percent of total receipts of the General Revenue Fund. By contrast, property taxes have decreased from 41 percent to 15 percent of total receipts. Sales tax receipts are used by many counties to assist in meeting the day-to-day operating and law enforcement costs incurred. Without sales taxes, capital improvement projects would have to be canceled, deferred, or funded through other county funds and the services currently provided by the counties may have had to be reduced. The percentage composition of receipts shows that intergovernmental revenues represent the main source of receipts for most counties' Special Road and Bridge Fund (See Schedule 3-B). Among other monies included in this category are state distributions of CART monies, federal bridge project and disaster monies, and other government distributions. Schedules 3-A, 3-B, and 4 show that the "Other" receipts and disbursements categories are becoming more significant in some counties. When appropriate, counties need to classify receipts and disbursements in more specific and appropriate categories.

Schedule 4 shows the various disbursement functions for the General Revenue Fund over the three years. There was very little fluctuation in the "average" disbursement amounts as a percentage of the total. However, for counties having a law enforcement sales tax, disbursements for the operation of the sheriff's office and jail may be included in the Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund rather than from the General Revenue Fund. The 1998 average percentages of total disbursements for the sheriff and jail were 17 and 7 percent, respectively. However, these average percentages are 21 and 10 percent when considering those counties with sheriff and jail expenditures from the General Revenue Fund only. In addition, expenditures from the prosecuting attorney, juvenile officer, and coroner may also be paid from the Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund. Many counties also have Capital Improvement Sales Tax Funds and/or Road and Bridge Sales Tax Funds. The availability and use of these monies may impact the disbursements of the General Revenue Fund and Special Road and Bridge Fund, and how these funds are utilized. The majority of the counties do not have health and welfare disbursements from the General Revenue Fund. Those with significant disbursements in this category probably do not have a county health center board.

Assessment Fund expenditures are presented on Schedule 5 for the three years ended December 31, 1998. The funding for the Assessment Fund was established by Section 137.750, RSMo 1994. A separate fund is maintained for the receipts received and restricted for this purpose including required contributions from the county's General Revenue Fund. As indicated on Schedule 5, the disbursements fluctuate greatly between counties depending largely upon the size of the Assessor's office. In addition, periodic equipment purchases can result in temporary, but significant, increases in disbursements. While 1998 disbursements per parcel averaged $12, the disbursements per parcel for ninety percent of the counties ranged from $9 to $18. Disbursements from the Assessment Fund have steadily increased over the last three years.

Schedule 6 presents receipts, disbursements and cash balance information for other major funds established by the various counties. These funds represent additional sales taxes approved by voters and earmarked for a specific purpose, including capital improvements, law enforcement, and road and bridge work. Of the 93 third class counties, 47 have established one or more of these sales tax funds. A comparison of the 1998 and 1997 data indicates that the overall level of activity of receipts and disbursements have decreased while the cash balance in these types of funds has increased.

Schedule 7 presents the assessed valuation and tax levies for 1998 and 1997. New Madrid County which has had an assessed valuation exceeding $300,000,000 for five years became second class in January 1999. A further review of the assessed valuations indicates that within a few years several other counties will also be changing classification from third, to first or second class based on their assessed valuations.

Schedule 8 presents typical audit findings from the most recent State Auditor's office audits of the 93 counties. For the most part, the more frequent problems noted have remained similar over the past several years. In recent years, improvement has been noted for some areas, including counties' banking practices and compliance with sales tax rollback requirements. However, numerous concerns with counties' budgetary and financial reporting procedures and fee officials' accounting controls and record keeping procedures continue to be reported in our county audit reports. In addition, more concerns regarding counties' bidding procedures and handling of federal financial assistance program monies have been noted in recent years.

Maximizing receipts, minimizing disbursements, and improving the overall efficiency of government are crucial to the financial condition of all counties in the future. Counties must review all sources of receipts to ensure maximum return and timely receipt, and effectively control disbursements. Large disbursements should be bid to ensure the best product or service is purchased at the lowest cost. Discretionary disbursements should be carefully reviewed and alternatives evaluated. Counties must also strive to improve their overall financial reporting of activity to ensure the total financial condition can be evaluated.

While this report reflects financial information through 1998, various issues will significantly affect county operations during 1999 and subsequent years. Future efforts require county officials to work with the legislature to ensure proposed new legislation will not place undue hardships on the county's financial resources and that changes to promote efficiency are forthcoming.

This is the twentieth year the State Auditor's office has issued an aggregate report on Missouri 3rd class counties. We have made changes to reflect information of interest to the readers, but are continually looking for new ideas to better communicate the information to those interested. We again solicit suggestions which may be beneficial to those involved in county government and other readers of this report.

Schedule 8
MISSOURI 3RD CLASS COUNTIES
TYPICAL AUDIT FINDINGS

From the most recent audits of the 93 counties the State Auditor's office audits, the following is a list of the more frequent problems noted. Some of the areas listed are not applicable to all counties and various parts of the findings may not have been present in all examples noted.

1. Associate Division Court and Probate Court's Accounting Controls

   Twenty-seven counties had weaknesses in the controls and records. Bank deposits were not made on a timely basis, bank reconciliations were not prepared, or cash balances were not reconciled to a listing of liabilities to prove the accuracy of the records.

2. Bidding Procedures

   Forty-five counties did not bid some purchases in accordance with Missouri law or did not adequately document their actions in obtaining bids.

3. Budgetary Practices and Financial Statements

   Seventy-eight counties had problems with the budget documents. Budgets were not obtained and/or prepared for some funds, actual disbursements exceeded budgeted amounts, many budgets were inaccurate or incomplete, and in some cases the counties did not reasonably estimate receipts and disbursements. In addition, county published financial statements frequently did not include information for some county funds.

4. Circuit Clerk's Accounting Controls

   Forty counties had weaknesses in the controls and records. Bank deposits were not made on a timely basis, bank reconciliations were not prepared, or cash balances were not reconciled to a listing of liabilities to prove the accuracy of the records.

5. Computer System Controls

   Twenty-nine counties had computer system controls that were in need of improvement. Most of these were instances in which computer access controls were inadequate. Several instances were also noted in which computer software and back-up disks were not stored at an off-site location and the counties lacked formal contingency plans.

6. County Collector's and Ex Officio County Collector's Procedures

   Thirty-nine counties had weaknesses in the collector's procedures. All required information was not included on the annual settlements, bank records were not reconciled to monthly statements of collections, or daily receipt ledgers were not kept accurately. In fourteen instances, the county collector or ex-officio collector commission withholdings were not properly calculated.

7. County Expenditures

Fifty-two counties did not always have documentation for payments, or receipt of goods was not always noted on invoices. Some counties also made payments to civic or not-for-profit organizations without formal contracts or clear documented authority or public purpose. Written agreements were not prepared for forty-six counties that provided and/or received goods or services. Eleven instances were noted in which the county either gave employees Christmas gifts or paid employee bonuses.

8. County Property Records

Forty-two counties either did not keep a complete inventory of county real and personal property or did not update existing records on a current basis.

9. Federal Financial Assistance

Forty-eight counties had concerns related to their federal financial assistance programs. Problems included the failure to meet federal reporting requirements or prepare complete and accurate reports, poor cash management procedures, improper use of federal funds, inadequate supporting documentation for expenditures, and inadequate monitoring of funds passed onto subrecipients. Many counties had expenditures made with federal financial assistance monies questioned because of noncompliance with federal requirements.

10. Health Center Controls and Procedures

Forty-eight counties had problems with their health centers. Some allowed actual disbursements to exceed budgeted amounts. Personnel and payroll procedures were in need of improvement. General fixed asset records were sometimes inaccurate or incomplete and not maintained on a current basis. Receipt slips were not issued for some monies received, some invoices were not canceled after being paid, and the acknowledgment of receipt of goods was not always indicated on the invoice.

11. Personnel Records

Thirty-six counties either had inadequate written personnel policies or did not maintain adequate records to support overtime payments and/or compensatory time balances. Many did not monitor annual and sick leave earned and taken. Written authorization for changes made in payroll records was not always maintained.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedules are an integral part of this statement.

12. Prosecuting Attorney Accounting Controls

Fifty-four counties had problems with the prosecuting attorney's office. Either a cash control ledger was not maintained, bank deposits were not made on a timely basis, or monthly bank reconciliations were not prepared. Receipt slips were not always issued for some monies received. Additionally, cash balances were not reconciled to a listing of liabilities to prove the accuracy of the records.

13. Recorder of Deeds' and Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds' Controls and Procedures

Twenty-seven counties had weaknesses in controls and records. Cash receipts were not deposited daily or reconciled to the fee book, documents were sometimes recorded for businesses prior to receipt of payment, and accounts receivable were not adequately documented.

14. Senate Bill 40 Boards (SB40)

Twenty-five counties had problems with county SB40 boards. Many did not maintain adequate written contracts with not-for-profit corporations from which services were obtained. Some did not prepare and/or submit budgets.

15. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

Sixty-two counties had weaknesses in the controls and records. Bank deposits were not made on a timely basis, bank reconciliations were not prepared, or cash balances were not reconciled to a listing of liabilities to prove the accuracy of the records. Eight instances were noted in which documentation of mileage claims was not always present or mileage procedures were not always in accordance with Missouri law. Twelve county reports indicated that the controls over seized property could be improved. In numerous counties, the Sheriff was retaining custody of the county funds without statutory authority.

16. Statutory Salaries and Bond Coverage

Twenty-eight counties paid county officials salaries different than their statutory allowances, did not obtain bond coverage or did not have adequate coverage as required by state statutes.

17. Tax Book Controls and Procedures

Twenty-eight counties had tax book controls that were in need of improvement. The County Clerk did not always prepare the current or back tax books for real estate and personal property taxes or verify the tax book totals. Controls over property tax additions and abatements were not adequate. In some cases the County Clerk did not maintain an account book with the County Collector.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedules are an integral part of this statement.

NOTES TO SCHEDULES

NOTES TO THE SCHEDULES

1. Significant Information

Information included in these schedules was compiled from the Missouri State Auditor's most recent audit report of each county; from county budgets for those years currently unaudited; and from other state agency generated reports.

In analyzing these schedules, some disparity will exist due to the use of audited and unaudited information on the same schedules (See Note 2). Counties prepare the budget reports on a cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed by warrant or in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred. Additionally, the structure and organization of the counties causes some differences. Twenty-three of the ninety-three counties have a township form of government. These counties are as follows:

Barton	Henry
Bates	Linn
Caldwell	Livingston
Carroll	Mercer
Chariton	Nodaway
Dade	Putnam
Daviess	Stoddard
DeKalb	Sullivan
Dunklin	Texas
Gentry	Vernon
Grundy	Wright
Harrison

Other differences which may result in comparison problems include:

A. Special road districts existing in some counties and not in others;

B. State or federal grants may be received by some counties and not by others;

C. Counties may have enacted a sales tax at different times;

D. Counties may have enacted a capital improvement sales tax or a law enforcement sales tax or have had the capital improvement sales tax expire at different times. Some counties establish new funds to account for these monies while other counties placed the monies into the General Revenue or Special Road and Bridge Funds. Therefore, these monies may be shown as an Other Major Fund on Schedule 6.

E. Some counties may not have a separate tax levy or board for Health Center operations and therefore they account for it as a part of the General Revenue Fund;

F. Some counties have a branch or additional offices for various officials and some offices are combined under one official;

G. Some monies available for general purposes may be kept in separate funds; and

H. Some counties may set up a separate fund for special elections and others account for them through the General Revenue Fund.

These differences, along with classification differences and transfers between funds, may alter the final percentages.

Schedules 1-A, 2-A, 3-A, and 4 present financial data of the counties' General Revenue Fund while Schedules 1-B, 2-B, and 3-B present financial data of the counties' Special Road and Bridge Fund.

Schedule 5 presents disbursements of the Assessment Fund and the number of parcels in each county. The differences in the amounts spent for the operation of the Assessor's office were related to the size of mapping and other contracts, the purchasing of computer equipment, the number of additional personnel hired, and the varying assessment make up of each county. The parcel counts, which represent the number of real estate parcels in each county, were obtained from the state tax commission's most recent data through 1998.

Schedule 6 presents receipts, disbursements and cash balances for additional significant funds of the counties for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The funds presented are not intended to represent all county funds. Rather, these funds consist of additional sales taxes approved by voters which are not placed in the county's General Revenue or Special Road and Bridge Fund (See Note 3). Approximately 31 law enforcement sales tax funds, 27 capital improvement sales tax funds, and 13 road and bridge sales tax funds were noted. Some counties have more than one of these additional funds, in which case, the amounts have been added together for presentation purposes. The amounts presented were taken from the county budgets unless an audit report had been issued for the year ended December 31, 1997, in which case, audited amounts were presented. Receipts for the sales tax funds totaled approximately $52,900,000, comprised of approximately $20,600,000, $10,800,000, and $21,500,000 in the capital improvement sales tax funds, road and bridge sales tax funds, and law enforcement sales tax funds, respectively. In the prior report, we also showed 911 emergency funds and an other funds category. Beginning with this year's report, only sales tax fund types are being presented. As a result of these changes, some disparity will exist between this and Missouri 3rd Class Counties reports issued in 1998 and prior.

Schedule 7, which shows the assessed valuation and tax levies (in cents per $100 assessed valuation) for 1998 and 1997, was obtained from the Missouri State Tax Commission, the county budgets, and the State Auditor’s 1998 Tax Certification Report. All counties have a general revenue levy unless it has been reduced voluntarily or as required for sales tax collections. Some counties have special road districts which receive some part of the special road and bridge tax monies, and all non-township counties have a special road and bridge levy unless it is entirely composed of special road districts or if the county voluntarily reduces the rate or is required to for sales tax collections.

In 1998, 74 counties had health center levies, 17 had hospital levies, 61 had Senate Bill 40 levies, 14 had senior services levies, and 6 had Johnson Grass levies. Surtax rates, also levied by the counties, have remained the same over the years and have not been presented in this report. The following counties have levies which are not common to all counties and have been placed in the "other" column:

County	Tax		Levy 1998	Levy 1997
Gasconade	Mental Health		10	10
Macon	Parks & Recreation	3	3
New Madrid	Debt Service		0	1
Newton	Mental Health		7	7
Newton	County Fair		1	1
Perry	Mental Health		9	9
Ray	Mental Health		10	9
Ste. Genevieve	Mental Health		10	10
Wayne	Debt Service		3	3

Schedule 8 reflects various audit findings which have appeared in a significant number of the most recent county audit reports. These typical findings whose titles are general may encompass several smaller categories.

2. County Budgets

The 1999 county budgets contain historical financial information for 1998 and were used in compiling this report for all counties in 1998. Also, budget reports were used to obtain 1997 information for some counties. To provide comparability for the General Revenue Fund and the Special Road and Bridge Fund, more than one fund may have had to be combined for presentation in some counties.

Because audited figures and unaudited figures are presented in this report, the amounts and percentages shown on the schedules may vary somewhat. The following could be major causes for such variances:

A. Differences in classifying receipts and disbursements exist between budget documents prepared by county officials and audit reports issued by the State Auditor's office. Differences in budget classifications may also exist from one budget year to the next.

B. Other differences may include the handling of investment activity, tax anticipation notes, common road districts, loans, sales tax, and CART receipts and transfers. When audited, these items are properly adjusted and reported.

The explanations above could cause deviations in receipts and disbursements. Also, the receipts and disbursements and cash balances may not agree to those presented on the various budgets because of adjustments made to correct errors and reconciliation problems noted. In addition, during the compilation of the budget information, emergency fund disbursements from the General Funds were added to the "Other" disbursement category for purposes of Schedule 4. For Schedule 3 transfers into the General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds were included in the "Other" receipts category.

In analyzing these schedules, it is important to remember that audited and unaudited information has been used. When actual audit reports for those years shown as unaudited are completed, some differences may result.

3. Sales Tax

Section 67.505, RSMo 1994, allows any county governing body, after a majority vote of its qualified voters, to impose a county sales tax, in conjunction with a property tax reduction for each year in which the sales tax is imposed, for the benefit of the county. More than eighty 3rd class counties have enacted a sales tax pursuant to Section 67.505. RSMo 1994.

In addition, any county may impose an additional sales tax pursuant to Sections 67.547 and 67.582, RSMo 1994, after obtaining a majority approval of the qualified voters. These additional sales taxes do not require a reduction of property tax revenues.

Some counties enacting an alternative sales tax for capital improvements or an additional sales tax for law enforcement purposes pursuant to Sections 67.700 and 67.582, RSMo 1994, respectively, put the proceeds into a regular county fund. Other counties established a separate fund to account for the receipts and disbursements.

The average percentage of sales tax receipts to total receipts as presented on Schedule 3-A and 3-B is the average of all counties. The percentage would change if the average was computed taking into account only those counties which have implemented any of the above sales taxes. The following chart shows these percentages:

	Sales Tax as Percentage of Total Receipts
Fund	1998	1997	1996
General Revenue Fund	40	42	43
Special Road and Bridge Fund	22	25	27

AUDIT REPORT

CITY OF CALLAO, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-76
September 16, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to the request of petitioners from the City of Callao, Missouri.

The City of Callao operates a combined waterworks and sewerage system, and accepts cash, checks, and money orders for payment of water and sewer services. The City Collector is responsible for billing, receiving, recording, and depositing the monies collected. A review of receipt and deposit records indicated that at least $5,561 of receipts from July 1997 through December 1998 were not deposited.

In addition, we were unable to determine the total amount of monies collected and undeposited for some time periods because certain records were missing including monthly reports of customers billed, deposit reports, billing stubs, meter readings, and back up information from the computer. As a result, additional monies could be missing.

The differences went undetected throughout this time period due to numerous internal control weaknesses, little or no independent review, and a lack of adequate record keeping.

The city's $1.85 property tax rate for 1998 exceeded the maximum authorized by state statutes. State law provides that a city's tax levy shall not exceed one dollar for general municipal purposes except by a two-thirds vote, and only for 30 cents for a period of four years at a time. There is no documentation the additional levy (above one dollar) has ever been approved by a vote of the people.

In addition, the Board of Aldermen does not hold public hearings on proposed tax rates or prepare ordinances establishing annual tax rates. State law requires each governing body to hold at least one public hearing prior to approval of proposed tax rates so that citizens may be heard.

The city does not investigate large water losses reported on the City Collector's monthly report. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the City Collector reported a total of 1,102,470 gallons of water loss. The loss ranged from 7 to 22 percent per month. In addition, the city does not reconcile the number of gallons purchased to the number of gallons billed from their supplier.

There is no oversight or adequate segregation of duties related to the city's utility system. The City Collector performs all functions related to generating monthly utility bills, receipting and recording utility payments, making credit adjustments, depositing money received, monitoring accounts for delinquencies, and initiating service shutoff orders.

The city's budgets for 1998 and 1999 were not complete and were prepared for only the Sewer Fund. Budgets were not prepared for the General Fund, the General Obligation Fund, the Debt Service Fund, the Repair and Replacement Fund, or the Water Deposit Fund.

The city has not obtained annual audits. The city's bond covenants and state law require annual audits of the combined waterworks and sewerage system.

In 1998 the city deposited $36,159 in water user fees into the general fund. The bond restrictions required those revenues be deposited into a separate fund. Currently, the city deposits only the revenues from the sewer system into this fund.

The city has not filed an annual report of financial activity with the State Auditor's office since 1989. State law requires the city to file a financial report with the State Auditor's office annually.

Callao, Missouri 63534

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the city of Callao, Missouri. Our audit of the city included, but was not limited to, the year ended June 30, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, ordinances, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, city policies and ordinances, and various city financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on the selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

CITY OF CALLAO, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Missing Funds (pages 10-11)

   At least $5,561 in water and sewer payments and $220 in dog license collections were not deposited to city accounts.

2. Water and Sewer System Procedures (pages 11-14)

   The city does not investigate large water losses reported on the City Collector's monthly report. There is no oversight or adequate segregation of duties related to the city's utility system. The City Collector does not reconcile the meter deposit listing to the balance in the account. The method and date of payment are not noted on the billing stubs. Various utility records were missing, including monthly reports of customers billed, deposit reports, billing stubs, meter readings, and back up disks for the utility system. The City Collector does not clearly document reconciling items on deposit reports. Deposits are not made on a timely basis. The City Collector's monthly report submitted to the Board of Aldermen was sometimes inaccurate.

3. City Ordinances (pages 14-15)

   City ordinances need to be better organized and updated. One ordinance passed by the Board of Aldermen did not receive the required number of votes.

4. Budgets, Financial Reporting and Auditing (pages 16-17)

   The city's budget for the sewer fund was not in compliance with state law and the city did not budget other city funds. Prior to January 1999, the city did not publish semi-annual financial statements as required by state law. The city has not filed an annual report of financial activity with the State Auditor's office as required. The city has not obtained annual audits of the combined waterworks and sewerage system.

5. Board Meetings, Minutes, and Policies (pages 17-20)

   Board minutes are not signed by the City Clerk or Mayor. The Board of Aldermen does not hold public hearings on the proposed tax rates or prepare ordinances establishing the annual tax rates. In addition, there is no documentation the city's tax levy, which exceeds the maximum established by state law, has ever been approved by a vote of the people. The minutes did not indicate the reasons for closing the November 2, 1998 meeting. In addition, some topics discussed in this closed meeting did not meet the criteria outlined by state law. The city has not formally established a policy regarding access to city records. Board minutes did not include sufficient detail of matters discussed and actions taken. The city has not formally established a policy regarding when comments from the public will be allowed at board meetings.

6. Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 20-24)

The Board of Aldermen does not adequately document its approval of disbursements. The city has not established a separate fund or accounting of some restricted revenues. Neither the board nor other personnel independent of the cash custody and the record-keeping functions provide adequate supervision or review of the work performed by the City Clerk/Treasurer. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. The city does not require the dog catcher to submit documentation from the city of Macon that the dogs were delivered prior to payment. Receipt records for licenses are not adequate. The City Collector, Mayor, and Mayor Pro-Tem are not bonded.

7. General Fixed Asset Records and Procedures (pages 24-25)

The city has not established formal policies and procedures for general fixed assets. The city does not tag or otherwise identify the general fixed assets as property of the city. The Board of Aldermen did not publicize or solicit bids for the proposed sale of city property. Daily usage logs are not maintained for the city vehicle.

1. Missing Funds

A. The city of Callao operates a combined waterworks and sewerage system, and accepts cash, checks, and money orders for payment for water and sewer services. The City Collector is responsible for billing, receiving, recording, and depositing the monies collected. A review of receipt and deposit records indicated that at least $5,561 of receipts was not deposited.

Receipt records indicated $68,267 was received during the period of July 1997 through December 1998. However, corresponding deposit records indicate only $62,706 was deposited, for a difference of $5,561. The prior City Collector could provide no explanation.

Cash deposited averaged only four percent of total deposits from July 1997 to September 1998. However, in October 1998 after the city was notified of our upcoming audit, cash increased to ten percent of the total deposits. In addition, after September 1998, total deposits increased $320 per month from an average of $4,643 per month to $4,963 per month.

In addition, we were unable to determine the total amount of monies collected and undeposited for some time periods because certain records were missing including monthly reports of customers billed, deposit reports, billing stubs, meter readings, and back up information from the computer. We, therefore, did not include these billings or deposits in our totals noted above. As a result, additional monies could be missing.

B. The City Collector accepts cash, checks, and money orders for dog licenses. She assigns a number for each license issued. During the period January 1, 1998 through June 30, 1998, the prior City Collector issued 87 dog licenses at $5 each for a total of $435; however, only $215 was deposited for dog licenses.

The differences went undetected throughout this time period due to numerous internal control weaknesses, little or no independent review, and a lack of adequate record keeping. See related Management Advisory Report (MAR) No. 2 for additional information concerning water and sewer receipts and No. 6F for additional information concerning license receipts. The City Collector who had primary responsibility for collecting and recording the receipts resigned her position on February 8, 1999.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen review the situation and take necessary legal actions to recover any misappropriated monies, and work with law enforcement officials regarding any criminal prosecution.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Mayor will contact the City Attorney and determine a course of action based on his advice.

2. Water and Sewer System Procedures

The city operates a combined waterworks and sewerage system that provides service to approximately 170 customers. The city purchases water from Macon County Public Water District Number Three in Macon, Missouri and sells it to city residents. Meters are read by a city employee by the twenty-fifth day of each month, customers are billed on the first day of the subsequent month, and payments are due by the twentieth day of the month. Also included in the billings are charges for sewer service. Our review of the city's billing and collection records and procedures revealed the following concerns:

A. The city does not investigate large water losses reported on the City Collector's monthly report. The City Collector prepares monthly reports of the total number of gallons billed to customers, the total number of gallons purchased, and the total gallons lost; however, no one reviews this report for large water losses. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the City Collector reported a total of 1,102,470 gallons of water loss. The loss ranged from 7 to 22 percent per month. In addition, the city does not reconcile the number of gallons purchased to the number of gallons billed from their supplier.

   To help detect significant water loss on a timely basis and to help ensure all water usage is properly billed, the city should investigate significant differences between the number of gallons purchased and the number of gallons billed to customers and the number of gallons billed from the city's supplier. The Public Service Commission generally recommends investigation if water usage not billed exceeds 15 percent.

B. There is no oversight or adequate segregation of duties related to the city's utility system. The City Collector performs all functions related to generating monthly utility bills, receipting and recording utility payments, making credit adjustments, depositing money received, monitoring accounts for delinquencies, and initiating service shutoff orders.

   To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of receipting and depositing monies from that of preparing bills, recording payments, and following up on delinquent accounts. If a proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be an independent review of the reconciliations between utility billings to payments recorded and payments deposited, and an independent review and approval of credit adjustments and delinquent account follow-up.

C. The city collects refundable water meter deposits of $100 ($50 prior to May 1996), which are deposited into the water deposit account. The City Collector maintains a list of meter deposits collected and posts to this list when meter deposits are refunded or applied to final bills. The City Collector does not reconcile the meter deposit listing to the balance in the account. In addition, the City Collector indicated she sometimes holds a customer's meter deposit in the account after their service has been discontinued because the deposit is not adequate to cover their final bill.

The meter deposit listing should be reconciled to the balance in the bank account monthly to ensure records are in balance and all meter deposits are accounted for properly. The city should review the meter deposit listing to determine the actual liability for current water system customers and keep the listing properly updated by applying any deposits to outstanding bills when customers discontinue service.

D. The city receives cash and checks for the payment of utility bills. The billing stubs which accompany the payment serve as the city's record of the receipt; however, the method (cash, check, money order, etc.) and date of payment are not noted on the billing stubs.

To ensure the proper handling and safeguarding of city monies, the method and date of payment should be indicated on the billing stubs and the composition of receipts reconciled to bank deposits.

E. Various utility records were missing, including monthly reports of customers billed, deposit reports, billing stubs, meter readings, and back up disks for the utility system. Retention of city records is essential to establishing accountability for city financial activity and in demonstrating compliance with state law. Effective control of records requires all documents and records be safeguarded against loss due to fire or theft, be accessible to the appropriate city officials/employees, and upon reasonable request, be accessible to the public.

F. The City Collector does not clearly document reconciling items on deposit reports. The City Collector records all payments to the city's computerized utility system and generates a deposit report which lists each payment recorded since the last deposit. These reports do not always agree to amounts deposited. In addition, the City Collector often marks though some of the payments listed without clearly documenting why these adjustments are necessary. The City Collector indicated she does not know how to make adjustments to the computer so to correct any problems she records a payment for the amount due.

To ensure all credit adjustments are valid and proper, someone independent of the receipting and recording functions should review all credit adjustments and proper supporting documentation should be maintained of such adjustments.

G. Deposits are not made on a timely basis. During the year ended June 30, 1998, utility deposits were generally made three times a month, with deposits averaging approximately $1,400.

To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made on a daily basis or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

H. The City Collector's monthly report submitted to the Board of Aldermen was sometimes inaccurate. During our review of these reports, we noted the following concerns:

* Some monthly reports reviewed were not mathematically correct.

* The monthly reports include several receipt items in more than one sub-total, thus the sub-totals of monies received appear to total more than the amount deposited.

* Meter deposits were reflected on the monthly reports in different months than deposited.

No one at the city reconciles the City Collector's monthly reports to the amounts deposited. Accurate financial information is necessary to properly inform the city's residents and the Board of Aldermen of the utility amounts collected and deposited.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Ensure the gallons billed to customers are reconciled to the gallons purchased, and require significant differences between the gallons billed to customers, the gallons purchased, and the gallons billed by the supplier be investigated.

B. Segregate the duties of receipting and depositing monies from that of preparing bills, recording payments, and following up on delinquent accounts. If a proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be an independent review of the reconciliations between utility billings to payments deposited and payments recorded, and an independent review of and approval for credit adjustments and delinquent account follow-up.

C. Require the City Collector to reconcile the meter deposit listing to the balance in this account each month. In addition, the City Collector should determine the amount of refundable meter deposits held for current customers and properly dispose of any meter deposits held for customers no longer receiving service.

D. Require the City Collector to record the method and date of payment on corresponding billing stubs received and reconcile the composition of receipts to bank deposits.

E. Ensure all records of the city are properly retained and available for review.

F. Ensure someone independent of the utility system reviews and approves all credit adjustments and ensure adequate documentation is retained of such adjustments.

G. Ensure deposits are made on a daily basis or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

H. Ensure the City Collector's monthly reports accurately reflect utility amounts collected and deposited.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. This recommendation had been partially implemented. The city had started reviewing large water losses and will develop a procedure to begin reconciling the gallons purchased to the number of gallons billed from the supplier.

B. The Mayor or a member of the finance committee will begin performing an independent review of the collector's records on a monthly basis.

C. This reconciliation has been done recently and the city will continue doing it on a regular basis. The city will transfer deposits held for customers no longer in service from the meter deposit account to the regular account.

D. The City Collector will begin recording this information on the billing stubs.

E. This recommendation has already been implemented. All city business in now conducted at city hall and not in officials' homes.

F. The Mayor will begin doing this as part of the procedures for part B above.

G&H. These recommendations have already been implemented.

3. City Ordinances

A. Improvement is needed in the organization of the city's ordinances. Several ordinances were missing from the official ordinance books and the following ordinances appear to be outdated:

1) City ordinance 306.95, dated May 8, 1995, established the annual salary of the City Clerk/Treasurer and the City Collector at $1,380 each. The City Clerk/Treasurer and the City Collector were each paid $3,000 for the year ended June 30, 1999. City personnel indicated the salary increases were approved by the board; however, the ordinance had not been updated.

2) City ordinance 324.98, dated March 16, 1998, indicated there would be no compensation for the position of City Marshall. City personnel indicated this was because the Marshall also served on the Board of Aldermen. In May 1998, the Board of Aldermen voted to pay the City Marshall $8 per hour since he no longer served on the board; however, the ordinance has not been updated.

3) City ordinance 300.95, dated March 20, 1995, indicated the City Attorney was to be paid $50 per hour. At least one invoice noted $40 per case and another one noted $60 per hour was charged. In addition, the Board of Aldermen voted to hire a new City Attorney in January 1999 at $90 per hour; however, the ordinance has not been updated.

Since the ordinances represent the legislation passed by the Board of Aldermen to govern the city and its residents, it is important that the city's ordinances be maintained in a complete, well-organized, and up-to-date manner. An index of all ordinances passed and repealed by the city could help keep track of additions and changes made to the city ordinances. Section 79.290, RSMo, requires the board of aldermen to fix the salaries of all city employees by ordinance.

B. Ordinance 326.98, which establishes authorization to access the city's bank records and deposit box, was passed by the Board of Aldermen without the proper number of votes. This ordinance passed with a vote of two yes and two abstentions. Section 79.130, RSMo 1994, requires ordinances to be approved by a majority of all the members of the board of aldermen. Thus, passage of an ordinance requires three favorable votes of the board, or in the case of a tie, the mayor can cast the third positive vote.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Update the city's ordinances including compensation of city officials and ensure a complete set of ordinances is maintained.

B. Ensure the required number of positive votes is received for the passage of ordinances.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The city is currently reviewing the possibility of codifying the city ordinances.

B. The city will implement this recommendation.

4. Budgets, Financial Reporting and Auditing

A. The city's budgets for the years ended June 30, 1999 and 1998 were not complete and were prepared for only the Sewer Fund. Budgets were not prepared for the General Fund, the General Obligation Fund, the Debt Service Fund, the Repair and Replacement Fund, or the Water Deposit Fund.

In addition, the Sewer Fund budget did not include a budget message, the actual and estimated cash and resources available at the beginning and end of the year, respectively, or actual disbursements for the previous two fiscal years. The city presented actual disbursements for only the prior fiscal year.

Sections 67.010 to 67.080, RSMo 1994, set specific guidelines for the annual operating budget. A complete and well-planned budget, in addition to meeting statutory requirements, can serve as a useful management tool by establishing specific cost expectations for each area. A budget could also provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs by periodically comparing budgeted amounts to actual expenditures. A complete budget should include the beginning available resources and reasonable estimates of the ending available resources. The budget should also include a budget message and comparisons of actual revenues and expenditures for the two preceding fiscal years.

B. Prior to 1999, the city did not publish semi-annual financial statements as required by law. In addition, while the city published a semi-annual financial statement in January 1999, the published financial statement did not include detailed information but only presented total revenues, expenses, and beginning and ending balances for each fund. In addition, the published financial statement did not report any indebtedness, even though the city had $135,000 in general obligation bonds outstanding at December 31, 1998.

Section 79.160, RSMo 1994, requires the Board of Aldermen to prepare and publish, semi-annually, a full and detailed account of the receipts, expenditures, and indebtedness of the city. The publication of such financial statements is intended to provide information to citizens regarding the financial activity and condition of the city.

C. The city has not filed an annual report of financial activity with the State Auditor's office since 1989. Section 105.145, RSMo 1994, requires the city to file a financial report with the State Auditor's office annually.

D. The city has not obtained annual audits. The city's bond covenants require annual audits of the combined waterworks and sewerage system. In addition, Section 250.150, RSMo 1994, requires the city to obtain annual audits of the combined waterworks and sewerage system, and the cost of the audit is to be paid from the revenues received from the system. During the year ended June 30, 1995, the city entered into federal and state grant agreements for a combined waterworks and sewerage project. The grant agreements required the city to obtain an audit of these funds. Because no audit was obtained, the agencies involved indicated the city is not currently qualified to receive any additional grant monies from these agencies.

In addition to being required by the bond covenants and state law, annual audits of city funds would help ensure city financial transactions have been properly recorded. An audit of combined waterworks and the sewerage project would enable the city to qualify for additional grants in the future.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Prepare annual budgets, for all funds and include all information required by state law.

B. Ensure complete financial statements are published semi-annually and include detail as required by state law.

C. File annual financial reports with the State Auditor's office as required by state law.

D. Obtain annual audits of city funds.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The city prepared budgets for all city funds for the year ending June 30, 2000.

B. The city did publish detailed financial statements for the six months ended June 30, 1999, and will include outstanding debt in the future.

C. A financial report will be filed for the year ended June 30, 1999.

D. An audit will be obtained.

5. Board Meetings, Minutes, and Policies

A. Board meeting minutes are prepared by the City Clerk; however, they are not signed by the City Clerk or Mayor. The minutes should be prepared and signed by the City Clerk and approved by the board and signed by the Mayor immediately upon approval to provide an attestation that the minutes are a correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board meetings.

B. The city's $1.85 property tax rate for 1998 exceeded the maximum authorized by state statutes. Section 94.250, RSMo 1994, provides that a city's tax levy shall not exceed one dollar for general municipal purposes except by a two-thirds vote, and only for 30 cents for a period of four years at a time. There is no documentation the additional levy (above one dollar) has ever been approved by a vote of the people. The property tax rate has been in excess of $1.00 for several years. The additional levy resulted in excess property taxes of approximately $6,000 being levied in 1998. The city should review this situation with legal counsel and set the tax rate in compliance with state law. Voter approval is required for any tax rate above one dollar.

In addition, the Board of Aldermen does not hold a public hearing on the proposed tax rates or prepare ordinances establishing the annual tax rates. Section 67.110, RSMo 1994, requires each governing body to hold at least one public hearing prior to approval of the proposed tax rates at which citizens may be heard. Section 94.190.3 RSMo 1994, requires that tax rates be established by ordinance.

C. The minutes did not indicate the reasons for closing the November 2, 1998, meeting and the related vote for closing the meeting. Section 610.022, RSMo, requires that before the meeting may be closed, the question of holding the closed meeting shall be voted on at open session. The vote and the specific reason listed in Chapter 610 for holding the closed meeting should be entered into the minutes.

In addition, some topics discussed in this closed meeting do not appear to meet the criteria outlined in Section 610.021, RSMo. This section allows topics such as litigation; leasing, purchase or sale of real estate; and hiring, firing, disciplining or promoting an employee to be discussed during a closed meeting. However, the board passed ordinances combining the positions of clerk and treasurer and establishing access to city records. The board should restrict the discussion in closed sessions to the specific topics listed in Chapter 610 of the state statutes.

D. The city has not formally established a policy regarding access to city records. The city also has not formally established the rates to be charged for copies of city records. Section 610.023, RSMo, indicates that each public governmental body is to appoint a custodian to be responsible for the maintenance of that body's records and establishes guidelines for making city records available to the public. To ensure compliance with state law, the city should adopt formal policies regarding the location of city records, the persons responsible for maintaining each record, and procedures for citizens to request access to public records and how the city will handle these requests. Section 610.026, RSMo, allows the city to set reasonable fees for providing access to or furnishing copies of public records, not to exceed the actual cost of document search and duplication.

E. Board minutes did not always include sufficient detail of matters discussed and actions taken. During our review of board minutes we noted the following concerns:

1) November 1996, the Board of Aldermen voted on the appointment of a City Clerk/Treasurer. The board minutes indicate that Miona Denny (daughter of Alderman Miles) was appointed as the City Clerk/Treasurer with 3 aye votes and no nay votes. These minutes indicate Alderman Lawrence Taylor, Alderman Evelyn Miles, Alderman William Mott, and Mayor Jerry Brown were present at this meeting; thus it would appear Alderman Miles voted to appoint her daughter as City Clerk/Treasurer. However, the board members indicated these minutes are incorrect. They indicated Alderman Hazel Mott was also present at this meeting and Alderman Evelyn Miles abstained from voting on this appointment.

   In May 1998, the Board of Alderman voted to increase the salary of the City Clerk/Treasurer. The board minutes simply indicate this motion passed. The minutes do not record the vote taken or note any abstentions.

2) Board minutes did not include documentation of the reappointment each year of the appointed officials. City ordinance establishes a one year term of office for the appointed officials; however, many of the officials served for several years.

3) The minutes did not contain some information required by statute. There were several instances where the minutes indicated a motion had passed, but did not indicate the number of votes for and against.

Section 610.020, RSMo, states that the minutes shall include the date, time, place, members present, members absent, and a record of votes taken. Complete and accurate minutes provide an official record of board actions and decisions. In addition, discussions and decisions concerning appointments where nepotism or a potential conflict of interest exits should be clearly documented so that the public has assurance that no city official agent has acted improperly. Board members should abstain from voting when a relative's employment or appointment is involved, and their abstention should be clearly documented in the minutes.

F. The city has not formally established a policy regarding the procedures for public comment at board meetings. It appears such a policy may be necessary, because during the last several months, the Board of Aldermen has been unable to conduct city business due the inability to control public comments at the meetings. Currently, the citizens are allowed to comment on city business throughout the board meeting, without time limit.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Require the City Clerk and Mayor to sign the board minutes to attest to the accuracy and completeness.

B. Comply with state statutes when setting future tax levies, hold public hearings on proposed property tax rates and establish the tax rates by ordinance, as required by state law.

C. Conduct all closed meetings and record all public votes in compliance with statutory provisions and ensure documentation (meeting minutes) is adequate to demonstrate compliance with state laws.

D. Develop a written policy regarding procedures to obtain access to, or copies of, public city records.

E. Ensure minutes are complete and include all information required by statute. Such documentation is particularly important when an issue includes the appointment of relatives of certain board members.

F. Consider establishing a written policy regarding public comment procedures at board meetings.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Mayor and the City Clerk will sign the minutes.

B. The city will review this with its city attorney. The city has set up a special meeting to establish the tax rate for 1999, and did pass an ordinance to establish the 1998 tax rate at the March 1999 meeting.

C&E. The city has already implemented these recommendations.

D. The Mayor will establish a policy appointing a record custodian and develop a written procedure to be posted for the public on access to public records including the costs to be charged for copies.

F. The city has established a formal policy to allow for public comment at the board meetings.

6. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Although there is an occasional reference to a specific invoice being approved for payment, the board minutes usually only make a general reference that invoices are approved for payment. Invoices for bills are retained in the monthly files, but these invoices are not signed or initialed by the board members, and a listing of all disbursements approved for payment by the board is not prepared to accompany the minutes.

To adequately document the board's review and approval of all disbursements, a complete and detailed listing of bills should be prepared, signed or initialed by the board members to denote their approval, and retained with the official minutes. In addition, supporting documentation should be reviewed by the Board of Aldermen before payment is made to ensure all disbursements represent valid operating costs of the city.

B. The city has not established a separate fund or accounting of some restricted revenues.

1. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the city received $12,945 in motor vehicle-related revenues from the state. The city deposits these revenues into the general fund and a separate accounting for the revenues and related expenditures has not been established.

   Article IV, Section 30 of the Missouri Constitution, requires that motor vehicle-related revenues apportioned by the state of Missouri be expended for street-related purposes. To ensure compliance with the Missouri Constitution the city should establish a separate accounting of restricted revenues and ensure these revenues are used only for appropriate purposes.

2. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the city deposited $36,159 in water user fees into the general fund. The bond covenants require the revenues from the combined waterworks and sewerage system be deposited into a separate revenue fund. Currently, the city deposits only the revenues from the sewer system into this fund.

   To comply with the bond covenants and to assist the city in establishing reasonable and sufficient water rates, the city should establish a separate accounting of the waterworks and sewerage system and ensure these revenues are used only for associated costs.

   In addition, the bond covenants require the establishment of a Combined Waterworks and Sewerage System Surplus Account and an Operation and Maintenance Account. These accounts have not been established by the city.

As a result of the above two items, the city does not know how much of the $55,792 balance in its general fund, as of June 30, 1998, was generated from the city's street or water operations.

C. With the exception of the city's utility records, the City Clerk/Treasurer is responsible for essentially all record keeping duties of the city. These duties include receiving and depositing monies, preparing invoices for payment, signing checks, performing bank reconciliations, and preparing financial reports.

Neither the board nor other personnel independent of the cash custody and the record-keeping functions provide adequate supervision or review of the work performed by the City Clerk/Treasurer.

Attorney General's Opinion No. 24, 1955 to Dodds, concluded that in a fourth-class city the holding of the positions of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Collector, or any two of these three offices, by the same person at the same time would be incompatible. Holding two of these offices does not allow the separation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions. The current procedures jeopardize the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating duties to the extent possible. In addition, the board should require someone independent of the cash custody and record keeping functions to perform periodic reconciliations of receipts to deposits and checks issued to disbursement records, and review bank statements and bank reconciliations.

D. Checks and money orders received are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

E. The city pays a dog catcher $10 for each dog delivered to the city of Macon for impoundment. The dog catcher notifies the City Clerk/Treasurer of the number of dogs delivered to receive payment. The city does not require him to submit documentation from the city of Macon that the dogs were delivered. The city of Macon subsequently bills the city for each dog impounded. During the year ended June 30, 1998, it appears the dog catcher claimed 17 dogs for payment; however, the city of Macon billed the city for only 13 impoundments. The city of Macon sends a copy of a signed receipt for the dogs delivered with their invoice. City personnel should require a copy of this receipt be submitted by the dog catcher for payment.

F. Licenses issued by the city are not prenumbered by the printer. In addition, the City Collector does not issue receipt slips or record individual receipts for licenses on a receipt ledger. The City Collector consecutively hand-numbers the pet licenses by writing the dog tag number on each license form; however, numbers are not assigned to merchant licenses. The City Collector does not maintain any type of record of individual merchants licenses issued.

To properly account for all receipts, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued or receipts should be recorded on a ledger immediately upon receipt. The method of payment received (cash, check, or money order) should be noted on the receipt slips or ledger. To ensure all receipts are deposited, the City Collector should reconcile receipt slips or ledger amounts, including the composition of receipts, to amounts deposited. To provide additional assurance all monies are properly collected, recorded, and deposited, licenses and permits should be prenumbered and the numerical sequence should be accounted for properly. The related receipt slips and monies recorded and deposited should be reconciled to the documents issued.

G. The City Collector collects money, but is not bonded. In addition, the Mayor and Mayor pro-tem are authorized to sign checks but are not bonded. Failure to properly bond city officials exposes the city to an unnecessary risk of loss.

The city should base its bond coverage on the money an official has access to at any one time, the cost of increased bond coverage, and the level of risk the Board of Aldermen is willing to assume.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Ensure the approval of all disbursements is adequately documented by including a listing of all approved disbursements in the board minutes.

B. Establish funds as required and separately account for restricted revenues to ensure monies are spent in accordance with applicable laws and regulations. In addition, the board needs to determine the amounts of its current cash balance which should be reserved for street and water operations, respectively.

C. Consider appointing separate individuals to the positions of City Clerk and City Treasurer and provide for adequate segregation of duties. If this is not possible, an independent review of the related records and activity should be performed periodically.

D. Ensure checks and money orders are restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

E. Require signed receipt slips from the city of Macon before paying the dog catcher for impoundments.

F. Ensure the City Collector issues prenumbered receipt slips or maintains a receipt ledger and reconciles amounts received to amounts deposited. In addition, the Board of Aldermen should require all licenses to be prenumbered and the numerical sequence accounted for properly.

G. Consider obtaining bond coverage for all city officials with access to city funds.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The board now signs a list of the bills approved for payment.

B. The city will review setting up a separate accounting for these monies.

C. Each board member is given copies of the bank reconciliation each month. The city will develop additional review procedures.

D. The city has already implemented this recommendation.

E. The city no longer has dog catchers.

F. The recommendation will be implemented.

G. The current collector is bonded. The city will look into additional bond coverage.

7. General Fixed Asset Records and Procedures

A. The city has not established formal policies and procedures for general fixed assets, including procedures for the annual physical inventory of the city's general fixed assets. In addition, the city does not maintain property records to account for general fixed assets owned by the city.

Adequate general fixed asset records are necessary to provide better controls over city property and provide a basis for proper financial reporting. Formal policies and procedures for the annual physical inventory are necessary to ensure all personnel understand the duties assigned to them.

B. The city does not tag or otherwise identify the general fixed assets as property of the city. Properly tagged items help assure the city that all fixed assets are included on the fixed asset records, and are identified as belonging to the city of Callao.

C. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the Board of Aldermen voted twice to sell various pieces of city equipment to an interested buyer without publicizing or soliciting bids. Although the Board of Aldermen indicated that in both of these instances the sales were not completed, the board should publicize or solicit bids to ensure the best price is obtained for property sold. Documentation of bids received should be maintained.

D. The city has one car which is driven by the City Marshall. Daily usage logs are not maintained for this vehicle.

Logs should be maintained indicating the purpose and destination of each trip, the beginning and ending odometer readings, and the operation and maintenance costs. The log should be reviewed by the Board of Aldermen to help ensure there is no inappropriate personal use of the city's vehicle, verify the propriety of fuel and/or repair billings, and identify the need to replace the vehicle due to excessive maintenance costs.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Develop formal policies and procedures regarding general fixed asset records including an annual physical inventory of general fixed assets. In addition, general fixed asset records should be established.

B. Properly tag, number, or otherwise identify all city property.

C. Solicit bids for all city equipment sold.

D. Require daily usage logs be maintained for the city vehicle and perform a periodic review of the logs.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. General fixed asset procedures will be developed.

B. All property items will be tagged.

C. Bids are now being obtained for the sale of city equipment.

D. The Mayor will discuss this with the City Marshall.

This report was intended for the information of the city's management and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Nodaway, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Nodaway County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

< The county does not maintain centralized records of leave and compensatory time. Inconsistent application of personnel policies and instances of noncompliance with personnel policies were noted.

< The Public Administrator determines fees from estates each year using two methods - an hourly rate for most cases and a percentage of total estate assets method for larger estates. The Associate Circuit Judge does not determine the fee method or percentages used, but does approve the fees taken. The Public Administrator generally used the method which resulted in higher fees. Additionally, for the larger estates the percentages applied varied among estates and between years for the same estate. The audit suggested fee guidelines be established to ensure fees are charged in an equitable manner.

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve the accounting controls and procedures for the Associate Division, Sheriff, Assessor, County Clerk, and Senate Bill 40 Board. The audit also suggested improvements be made in the county's financial statement reporting and general fixed asset records and procedures.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Nodaway County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Nodaway County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Nodaway County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 21, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Nodaway County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Nodaway County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 21, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Nodaway County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, or the Senate Bill 40 Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Adult Abuse Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The financial statements do not include the cash balances of the Ex Officio County Collector, who collects and distributes property taxes as an agent for various local governments. However, for the purpose of these risk disclosures, the Ex Officio County Collector's cash balances are included since collateral securities to cover amounts not covered by federal depositary insurance are pledged to the county rather than to specific county officials.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1998, $1,590,563 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $2,542,130 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by the safekeeping department of an affiliate of the same bank holding company.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1997, $1,486,346 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $2,177,424 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by the safekeeping department of an affiliate of the same bank holding company.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The Health Center Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the Board's custodial bank in the Board's name.

The Senate Bill 40 Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $252,360 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $120,964. As of December 31, 1998, $45,364 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

NODAWAY COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Nodaway County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $5,911 and $5,911 to a subrecipient under Emergency Community Services for the Homeless (CFDA number 93.569) during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Nodaway County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Nodaway County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Nodaway County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Nodaway County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Nodaway County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

4. Federal Financial Assistance

Federal Grantor:	Federal Emergency Management Agency
Pass-Through Grantor:	Department of Public Safety
Federal CFDA Number:	83.516
Program Title:	Disaster Assistance
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Numbers:	FEMA-995-DR-MO and FEMA-1054-DR-MO
Award Years:	1996, 1995, and 1994
Questioned Costs:	Unknown

During the three years ended December 31, 1996, the county received approximately $2.7 million in federal funds from a disaster assistance grant passed through the state Department of Public Safety. The majority of these funds was received prior to when the related costs were incurred and the monies were invested by the county. Interest earnings totaling approximately $57,500 were retained by the county.

Recommendation:

The County Commission establish procedures to identify interest earned on the advance of federal monies received and contact the appropriate grantor agencies to resolve the questioned costs.

Status:

We contacted the Department of Public Safety (DPS) which indicated we were required to remit any interest earned on advances to the federal agency. We complied by remitting

$54,000 to the applicable federal agency. In addition, the DPS indicated that any future interest earned on advances by Nodaway County was to be remitted to the federal agency "promptly, but at least quarterly."

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Current Findings

NODAWAY COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Nodaway County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 21, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Nodaway County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 21, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Nodaway County Public Housing Authority Board is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed that audit report and the substantiating working papers for the year ended December 31, 1997.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials and the county boards referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audits of the special-purpose financial statements of Nodaway County and of its compliance with the types of compliance requirements applicable to its major federal program but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting or compliance that are required for audits performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations.

1. Published Financial Statements

The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds and did not include all required information for other county funds. In addition, no information was included regarding the Senate Bill 40 Board Fund. Section 50.800, RSMo 1994, provides that the financial statements are required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for all county funds.

For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

This condition was noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will make an attempt to obtain the necessary information concerning these funds for inclusion in the annual published financial statements.

2. Personnel Policies and Procedures

A. The county personnel manual currently provides that full-time employees, except in the Sheriff's Department, work 35 hours per week and compensatory time cannot be earned unless actual hours worked exceed 40 hours. It is not clear whether employees are currently entitled to compensatory time for working their lunch hours or other additional hours between 35 and 40 hours per week. Clear, written policies detailing the employee's work week and the requirements for earning compensatory time are necessary to ensure employees are properly compensated and treated fairly.

B. Each official is responsible for maintaining leave and compensatory time records for their employees. The County Clerk does not maintain records of vacation leave, sick leave, and compensatory time earned or subsequently taken by county employees. Based on records provided by various officeholders, we noted one employee who appears to have used sick leave in excess of hours accrued during the year ended December 31, 1997. In addition, we noted an employee with a balance of 24 days of vacation time available at December 31, 1998, which exceeds the 20 day maximum accrual as stated in the personnel policy.

   Without centralized records, the County Commission cannot ensure that employees' vacation leave, sick leave, and compensatory time balances are accurate and excessive leave time is not used. Centralized leave records also aid in determining final compensation for employees leaving county employment. In addition, such records will better document compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act.

C. Personnel files do not always include current signed authorizations for payroll deductions. Internal Revenue Service regulations require that employees requesting advance earned income credit (EIC) payments complete a W-5 form annually or whenever their status changes. We noted one employee receiving advance EIC payments had not completed a W-5 form since 1995. In addition, we noted employee credit union payroll deductions were not supported by signed employee authorizations. Without such information in the files, there is less assurance that payroll deductions and payments to employees are properly authorized.

D. The county's personnel policy requires employee time sheets be reviewed and approved by each employee's supervisor. During a review of time sheets, we noted instances where time sheets were not signed by the appropriate supervisor. Proper controls over payroll require time sheets be signed by supervisors indicating their approval and to provide evidence that the appropriate salary is paid each month.

E. We noted inconsistencies in holiday pay for part-time employees. The personnel policy states that part-time employees receive holiday pay in proportion to the hours per week normally worked; however, we noted some part-time employees receive a full day of holiday pay while other employees receive only a proportionate amount of holiday pay. Adherence to the county’s established policy is necessary to ensure proper compensation and equitable treatment among employees.

The County Commission needs to re-evaluate certain aspects of its personnel policies to ensure clarity. In addition, if inconsistent application of policies or instances of noncompliance with established policies are identified, timely action should be taken to determine the cause and rectify the problems. Improved oversight of the payroll process is necessary and could be better accomplished, at least in part, by requiring the County Clerk to maintain centralized records of leave and compensatory time.

Conditions similar to A and B were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Develop written policies that provide clear guidance as to when compensatory time can be earned.

B. Require the County Clerk maintain centralized records of vacation leave, sick leave and compensatory time earned, taken, and paid for all county employees.

C. Maintain complete personnel files for each county employee, including current authorizations for payroll deductions and payments.

D. Ensure employee time sheets are signed by applicable supervisors indicating their approval.

E. Ensure part-time employees are compensated for holiday pay in accordance with county policy.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will address this issue in the next calendar year.

B. We will attempt to centralize records for leave with the cooperation of all officeholders.

C&D. These recommendations have been implemented.

E. We will monitor the situation and with the cooperation of all officeholders, ensure county policy is followed.

3. General Fixed Asset Records and Procedures

The County Clerk maintains a computerized listing of general fixed assets held by county officials. Our review of these records and related procedures indicate improvements are needed to ensure the general fixed asset records are complete.

Additions and dispositions of fixed assets are generally recorded annually when the physical inventory is performed. Although the County Clerk conducts an annual inventory of general fixed assets, inventory procedures consist of providing various offices with the previous year's general fixed asset list and relying on those offices to provide applicable additions and deletions information. The County Clerk does not reconcile general fixed asset purchases to additions to the general fixed asset inventory in order to verify changes to the records. In addition, formal disposition approval and documentation procedures are not in place.

These problems have resulted in general fixed asset records which are not complete and accurate. We noted approximately $224,400 in equipment purchased, land acquired, and capital improvements made during the audit period that were not recorded on the fixed asset listing. Among the equipment purchased and not recorded on the fixed asset listing was a vehicle (federal surplus property) purchased from the State Agency for Surplus Property. We also noted several instances where information such as model, serial number, date of purchase, and/or cost were not recorded on the listing.

Recording additions as they occur would allow for a more complete and up-to-date records and would allow the physical inventory to be used as a check against the fixed asset records. Written authorization for the disposal of property is necessary to lessen the possibility of misuse and to provide adequate support for changes to the general fixed asset records. Adequate general fixed asset records and procedures are necessary to meet statutory requirements, secure better internal control over county assets, and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk establish procedures to ensure fixed asset purchases and dispositions are properly recorded on the general fixed asset records as they occur, periodically reconcile asset purchases to the fixed asset records additions, work with the County Commission to establish a formal method of disposing of general fixed assets, and ensure the fixed asset records provide a detailed description of each item.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will attempt to maintain fixed asset records on a more current basis and establish procedures to properly handle additions and dispositions.

4. Public Administrator Controls and Procedures

The Public Administrator acts as the court appointed personal representative for wards of the Associate Circuit Division (Probate Court) and is responsible for receiving, disbursing, and accounting for the assets of those individuals. During the two years ended December 31, 1998, the Public Administrator had responsibilities for approximately thirty wards. Of these wards four had assets exceeding approximately $50,000 (larger estates); whereas, the assets of other wards ranged from approximately $650 to $30,000 (smaller estates).

A. The Public Administrator maintains records of tasks performed and the related hours worked, mileage driven, and other costs incurred (i.e., telephone calls) for each of her wards. As compensation for these services the Public Administrator receives fees paid from each ward's estate.

   The Public Administrator receives fees from estates each year upon approval of the Associate Circuit Judge. The Public Administrator charges $20 per hour on most cases; however, larger estates were charged a fee based on a percentage, ranging from 2 to 4 percent, applied to the value of the estate assets. For 1998 and 1997 fees, we compared fees actually taken for larger estates on the percentage basis to the estimated fee amount using the hourly rate method (calculated by extending hours worked according to the Public Administrator's records by the $20 per hour rate). This comparison showed that fees were significantly more using the percentage rather than hourly basis. For example, fees actually taken on a percentage basis from one of the larger estates totaled approximately $12,260 during the two years ended December 31, 1998, whereas fees calculated on an hourly basis would have been approximately $4,095. For the other larger estates there were also significant differences between percentage basis fees and hourly basis fees. A review of fees charged to smaller estates revealed that in most cases the fees charged would have been significantly lower had a percentage basis rather than an hourly basis been utilized. For the larger estates we also noted the percentages applied varied among estates and between years for the same estate.

The Associate Circuit Judge does not determine the fee method or percentages to be used, but does approve fees taken by the Public Administrator.

To ensure all estates are treated equitably the Public Administrator should work with the Associate Circuit Judge to develop a fee policy. If the current practice is continued, criteria should be established for determining which method (percentage or hourly) should be used as a basis for fees when cases are assigned to the Public Administrator and the policy should address the allowable rate per hour and percentages considered appropriate.

B. During our review of one estate's annual settlements for the periods ending April 3, 1997 and 1998, we noted the value of assets reported on the annual settlement prepared by the estate's attorney was approximately $50,000 less than the value of the assets reported on the Public Administrator's annual report and request for compensation. It appears the value of the estate's assets indicated on the annual settlement has not been updated since the case was opened in 1995.

Settlements filed by the Public Administrator should provide complete and accurate reports of the applicable estate’s assets.

C. The Public Administrator maintains an office, case files, and records in her home which is located approximately ten miles northwest of Maryville. Mileage, travel time, and toll calls incurred in performing various tasks (such as visits, banking, and shopping) are charged to wards living in Maryville. The County Commission has made office space available to the Public Administrator in the Courthouse Annex for three days per week; however, this space is also used two days each week by other offices. The Public Administrator believes this office space does not provide the privacy or security necessary for case records.

The County Commission should work with the Public Administrator to evaluate added costs assessed to wards as a result of the current working arrangement and continue to pursue the possibility of providing the Public Administrator with a permanent and secure office location in the courthouse or annex.

WE RECOMMEND:

A. The Public Administrator and Associate Circuit Judge establish fee guidelines that will ensure all estates are charged fees in an equitable manner.

B. The Public Administrator ensure accurate values of estate assets are presented on annual settlements.

C. The County Commission work with the Public Administrator to evaluate the costs to wards associated with the current working arrangement and the potential benefits of providing suitable office space.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Public Administrator provided the following responses:

A. I will present a percentage chart to the Associate Judge and will try to come up with something fair and suitable.

B. This recommendation has been implemented.

C. I have been trying for over six years to accomplish this.

The Associate Circuit Judge provided the following response:

A. I plan to issue a Probate advisory relating to compensation of guardians, conservators, and attorneys. Although some revision may be necessary, it will be fairly close to the following:

Section 475.265, RSMo, provides that guardians and conservators shall be allowed compensation "as the court shall deem just and reasonable." The same section also authorizes "reasonable attorney fees if the employment of an attorney. . . is necessary." What is just and reasonable under the circumstances will vary widely from case to case. However, this court will give the following information for some guidance.

1. Attorneys

A. Compensation will be allowed on a timely basis at the attorney's hourly charge, but not to exceed $150 per hour.

B. Applications should be documented itemizing the dates, nature of the service and time incurred. If the guardian/conservator joins in the application, the application will ordinarily be granted without a hearing.

C. In lieu of submitting an itemized application for services in commencing an uncontested guardianship/conservatorship, including preparing the application, hearing and inventory a flat fee of $350 will ordinarily be allowed.

2. Guardians

Guardians will ordinarily be compensated on a per hour basis. An hourly charge not exceeding $20 will ordinarily be considered as reasonable. Services rendered by the guardians should not duplicate those provided by institutions when the ward is in an institution, nor should charge be made for those services typically rendered by family members if the ward is a member of the guardian's family.

3. Conservators

A. Conservators may be compensated on an hourly basis the same as guardians.
B. As an alternative to compensation on an hourly basis the conservator may apply for compensation based on the size of the estate. Annual compensation for the conservator may be calculated by applying the statutory schedule for personal representatives (Section 473.153, RSMo) to the income for the year or to expenditures for the year, whichever is greater.

The County Commission provided the following response:

C. We will consider this recommendation; however, we believe the working space currently provided is suitable and could be utilized to reduce these added costs.

5. Associate Division's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Associate Division processes receipts for civil cases, criminal cases, traffic tickets, and bonds. We noted the following concerns regarding Associate Division operations:

A. Disbursements to the state, county, and other applicable parties for fees collected are untimely. For the two years ended December 31, 1998, we noted time lags between the month the fees were received and the date they were distributed frequently exceeded one month. In late 1998 and early 1999 the time lags increased and some monies had not been disbursed for two to four months after the month of receipt.

County officials have indicated that the time lag problem has increased even more during 1999.

State law requires that all fees collected by the Associate Clerk for court cases be distributed monthly to the state and county treasurer.

B. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and formal bank reconciliations are not prepared on a timely basis for the Associate Division bank account.

To ensure proper accountability over open cases and ensure monies held in trust by the court are sufficient to meet liabilities, monthly listings of open items should be prepared by the court and reconciled to the reconciled cash balance. In addition, failure to prepare formal bank reconciliations on a timely basis increases the risk that errors or irregularities will not be detected. Any discrepancies found should be investigated and resolved on a timely basis.

WE RECOMMEND the Associate Division:

A. Distribute fees on a monthly basis.

B. Prepare a listing of open items and bank reconciliation on a monthly basis, and ensure the total open items reconciles to the cash balance.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Associate Circuit Judge provided the following response:

Regarding the above matter, the Associate Division of the Nodaway County Circuit Court shares your concerns. Employees of the office have been informed that the situation is not tolerable. The clerk who previously had accounting responsibilities for the office (reconciling the bank account and open items, making monthly reports, and the monthly disbursements) retired in late 1996, resulting in a reassignment of those responsibilities.

A number of factors, including inexperience and unfamiliarity with accounting procedures, increasing case load, the press of other office matters, and difficulty with reconciling open items, have contributed to the present state of delinquent reporting and disbursement. Last week (August 18, 1999) the February 1999 report was completed and money disbursed. I am informed that we are close to completing the March report and disbursement.

This is to advise that the following remedies are being utilized:

1. Accounting personnel at the Office of State Courts Administrator (OSCA) have been contacted and help requested. An accounting representative from OSCA is to be on-site the week of September 13, 1999, to:

A. Help us complete delinquent reports so as to bring us current in reporting and disbursement.
B. Help us move to an automated system (Excel) to track and account for open items each month.
C. Help personnel to understand and use appropriate accounting principles.

2. The Associate Division of this Court did, on August 11, 1999, sign a one year agreement, effective October 1, 1999, to utilize the Fine Collection Center program. This started as a pilot program in Boone and Callaway counties on July 1, 1999. This office processes between 3,600 - 4,000 traffic tickets per year. Accounting wise, this accounts for about 300 receipts each month. Preliminary statistics show that about 70 percent of the tickets written are being processed through the Fine Collection Center, rather than the local court offices. If these figures hold true for Nodaway County, it will obviously reduce our accounting workload. Of course, payment to the Fine Collection Center will be disbursed back to the county as required by law. We are hopeful this will somewhat ease the accounting burden.

6. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Sheriff's Department maintains a bank account for both general receipts and for board of prisoner receipts. Our review noted the following concerns:

A. Receipts pertaining to both the general and board of prisoners accounts were not deposited on a timely basis. Bank deposits are made approximately three to four times a month into both bank accounts. We reviewed deposits for one month each year during the audit period for each account and noted that deposits averaged approximately $2,600 and $1,000 for the general account and the board of prisoner account, respectively.

   To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

   A similar condition was noted in the prior report.

B. Accounting duties are not adequately segregated. Currently, the responsibilities of collecting, recording, and depositing receipts, performing month-end reconciliations, and preparing and signing checks are assigned to one employee. There is no documented independent review of the accounting records and reconciliations.

   To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. If proper segregation cannot be achieved, due to limited staff available, the Sheriff should at least compare bank deposits with recorded receipts. Proper supervision by the Sheriff and documented reviews help ensure that financial records are properly maintained and help detect errors on a timely basis.

WE RECOMMEND the Sheriff:

A. Require monies be deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. Adequately segregate the record keeping duties or perform and document periodic reviews of the accounting records.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will attempt to follow this recommendation. If significant monies are collected, a deposit will be made. Small amounts of money may be held over if time will not permit a deposit to be made. In any case, if monies are kept on hand they will be adequately secured and locked in a vault.

B. Accounting records will be reviewed and I will initial the records to document my review.

7. Assessor's Controls and Procedures

The Assessor's office collects monies for maps and photocopies. Our review of the Assessor's controls and procedures revealed the following concerns:

A. The Assessor does not transmit receipts to the County Treasurer intact. Some cash receipts are retained for use as a change fund and as petty cash for expenditures of the office; however, the change/petty cash fund is not maintained at a constant amount and no documentation of expenditures is retained. Transmitting receipts to the County Treasurer intact is necessary to ensure proper recording and accountability of receipts. If a change/petty cash fund is determined to be necessary, it should be maintained at a constant amount. In addition, a log of petty cash transactions including receipts for expenditures should be maintained.

B. Checks and money orders received are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. We noted endorsements were applied at the time receipts were turned over to the County Treasurer. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

C. The Assessor does not file monthly reports of fees with the County Commission. Section 50.370, RSMo 1994, requires county officials to prepare and file with the County Commission monthly reports of fees collected.

WE RECOMMEND the Assessor:

A. Transmit all monies received to the County Treasurer intact. The composition of checks and cash received should be reconciled to the composition of amounts turned over to the County Treasurer. In addition, if a change/petty cash fund is needed it should be maintained at a constant amount and documentation to support expenditures retained.

B. Restrictively endorse all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

C. File monthly reports of fees in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will attempt to comply with all the recommendations noted above.

8. County Clerk's Controls and Procedures

The County Clerk's office collects monies for clerk fees, plat books, notary fees, liquor licenses, auctioneer licenses, voter registration lists, and maps. Our review of the County Clerk's controls and procedures revealed the following concerns:

A. Prenumbered receipt slips are not issued for some monies received in the County Clerk's office. To account for monies received, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received. Issuing prenumbered receipt slips is necessary to ensure proper recording of receipts.

B. The County Clerk files monthly reports of fees with the County Commission; however only notary fees and clerk fees received from the Ex-Officio Collector are listed on these reports. Other monies received by the County Clerk are not included on the monthly reports. To give an accurate representation of fees collected by the County Clerk's office, all fees should be included on the monthly report of fees collected.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk:

A. Issue receipt slips for all monies received.

B. Include all monies received on the monthly reports of fees collected.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. If monies are received in my office and the County Treasurer is available these monies will be immediately turned over to that office and a receipt slip obtained. If the County Treasurer is not available a receipt slip will be issued by my office.

B. All monies receipted by my office will be included on the monthly report.

9. Senate Bill 40 Board

The Senate Bill (SB) 40 Board receives approximately $90,000 in property taxes annually. Most expenditures made by the SB 40 Board are to a local sheltered workshop. Our review of the SB 40 Board's financial reporting procedures noted the following concerns:

A. Actual expenditures exceeded budgeted amounts for the for the year ended December 31, 1998 by $5,853. It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong V. Cribb 364 Mo. 1122, 273 SW2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

B. The SB 40 Board's budgets are not complete. The budgets do not include a comparative statement of actual receipts and disbursements for the two previously completed fiscal years, and the beginning and ending cash balance information provided was inaccurate or not provided. In addition, the SB 40 Board did not perform a reconciliation of prior year's beginning cash, receipts, and disbursements to the ending cash balance.

   Amounts for the two previous years provide comparative information to help evaluate the reasonableness of the budget estimates for the upcoming year and the preparation of the cash reconciliation would help ensure the accuracy of cash balance information presented. In addition, Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires the preparation of annual budgets for all funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year.

WE RECOMMEND the Senate Bill 40 Board:

A. Ensure the annual budget includes reasonable estimates of expenditures and keep expenditures within budgetary limits. Extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and budgets properly revised.

B. Ensure budgets are complete and accurate.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Senate Bill 40 Board President provided the following responses:

A. We are currently monitoring the budget more closely and will amend the budget if necessary.

B. This recommendation will be implemented.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Nodaway County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

NODAWAY COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Nodaway County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. Finding number 4 is omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. County Expenditures and Contracts

   A. Bids were not always solicited or advertised by the county nor was bid documentation always retained for various purchases.

   B. The road and bridge supervisor used a county truck for commuting to and from work. The county did not report the commuting mileage on the employee's W-2.

   C. The county disbursed approximately $30,000 to various not-for-profit organizations. There was not adequate documentation to support the particular goods or services provided to the county or to clearly show that public funds were expended for public purposes within the scope of its authority.

   D. The county did not always update or renew contracts on a timely basis.

   E. The county did not receive approximately $2,900 in juvenile officers' salary reimbursement from Worth County for the month of December 1996.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. Solicit bids for purchases in accordance with state law and retain documentation of these bids and justification for bid awards. If bids cannot be obtained or sole source procurement is necessary, the County Clerk should retain documentation of these circumstances.

   B. Comply with IRS guidelines for reporting fringe benefits relating to county-provided vehicles.

   C. Refrain from making contributions of public funds. If the County Commission desires to purchase specific goods or services, it should ensure such monies are spent for county-provided services and enter into written contracts which specifically state services to be provided to the county and provide a means of monitoring the expenditures.

D. Maintain current, written contracts with all entities with which the county does business.

E. Review and follow up on juvenile salary reimbursements. In addition, request the December 1996 salary reimbursement from Worth County.

Status

A, C, & E. Implemented.

B. Partially implemented. The road and bridge supervisor did submit a report of personal miles driven in the county vehicle; however, this fringe benefit was not reported by the county on his W-2. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

D. Partially implemented. The county farm lease arrangement was rebid in 1999 and a current, written contract was obtained. A current contract has not been obtained with the Nodaway County Economic Development Council (NCEDC); however, the NCEDC submits annual proposals to the county documenting its funding request. The County Commission approves these requests during the budget preparation process, and monitors the NCEDC's use of these funds to ensure compliance with the approved proposal. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

2. Budgetary and Reporting Practices

A. Actual expenditures exceeded approved budgeted expenditures for some funds.

B. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds. Additionally, budgets were prepared for some funds, but were not filed with the State Auditor's office.

C. Actual beginning and ending cash balances were not always accurately reflected on county budgets and the cash reconciliation portion of the budget was not completed for various funds.

D. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures.

B. Ensure budgets are obtained or prepared for all county funds and filed with the State Auditor's office.

C. Prepare more complete and accurate budgets.

D. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

Status

A&B. Partially implemented. Although some funds were overspent, not budgeted, or not filed with the State Auditor's office, we noted improvements in these areas. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendations remain as stated above.

C. Implemented.

D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

3. Personnel Policies and Procedures

A. The county had not established a formal written leave policy for all county employees.

B. County employees were required to prepare and submit time sheets to the County Clerk; however, the County Clerk's office did not maintain records of vacation leave, sick leave, and compensatory time earned or subsequently taken.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Establish a formal comprehensive written policy regarding vacation, sick leave, and compensatory time for all employees.

B. Require the County Clerk maintain centralized records of vacation leave, sick leave and compensatory time earned, taken, and paid for all county employees.

Status

A. Partially implemented. The county has revised the personnel manual to include a leave policy; however, the policy still does not address all issues related to compensatory time. See MAR No. 2.

B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

5. Cemetery Funds

A. Annual reports were not filed with the County Commission by some cemetery boards. In addition, annual reports were not filed by the County Commission with the Circuit Court showing in detail the manner in which said trust funds had been managed.

B. A record of receipts and disbursements of each trust fund and a detailed account of the management of the same were not maintained by the County Clerk.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Require each cemetery board to file an annual report with the Commission. In addition, the County Commission should file an annual report with the Circuit Court detailing the management of each nonexpendable cemetery trust fund.

B. Require the County Clerk to maintain a record of the receipts and disbursements of cemetery funds.

Status

A&B. Not implemented. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendations remain as stated above.

6. Recorder of Deeds' Procedures

Receipts were not deposited intact. Cash refunds were made without adequate documentation.

Recommendation:

The Recorder of Deeds deposit all monies intact. In addition, all refunds should be made by check or documentation should be maintained to properly support all noncheck disbursements.

Status

Partially implemented. While the Recorder of Deeds has begun documenting most cash refunds, we noted some instances where cash refunds were not documented. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

7. Sheriff's Procedures

A. Monthly statements for prisoner board bills prepared by the Sheriff's office stated payments were to be made to the Nodaway County Sheriff, who then remitted the applicable monies monthly to the county.

B. Receipts pertaining to both the general and board of prisoners accounts were not deposited on a timely basis.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Ensure billing statements stipulate that payments be made directly to the County Treasurer. The Sheriff should compare copies of the County Treasurer's receipts to the board billings on a regular basis.

B. Require monies be deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

Status

A. Not implemented. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 6.

8. Health Center

A. The Board of Trustees approved expenditures totaling $46,551 in excess of budgeted amounts for the year ended December 31, 1996.

B. Vacation and sick leave records were not always accurate. Errors in recording leave and computing leave balances resulted in an apparent $211 overpayment to a former employee.

C. The board obtained an 800 telephone number. A board member was a representative for one of the companies contacted. Board minutes indicated the service was bid; however, the minutes provide no details on the bids or this board member's involvement.

Recommendation:

The Health Center Board of Trustees:

A. Not authorize expenditures in excess of budgeted expenditures.

B. Ensure accurate vacation and sick leave records are maintained and periodically reviewed for accuracy. Consider contacting the former employee regarding the overpayment of the $211.

C. Examine transactions closely to identify and avoid apparent and actual conflicts of interest. Board members who have a conflict of interest should fully disclose their interests and abstain from voting on matters which involve them personally. Such matters and transactions should be completely documented so that the public has assurance that no board member has profited improperly. In addition, the health center should consider establishing a formal conflict of interest and financial disclosure policy.

Status

A&C. Implemented.

B. Partially implemented. Improvements in the records were noted; however, no effort was made to recoup the $211 overpayment.

9. Associate Circuit and Probate Divisions' Accounting Controls

The duties of receiving, recording, and distributing receipts were not adequately segregated.

Recommendation:

The Associate Division Judge ensure the duties of receiving, recording, and distributing receipts are adequately segregated. If duties cannot be adequately segregated, a supervisory review of the work performed should be performed and documented on a timely basis.

Status

Partially implemented. While the Associate Division Judge is doing some supervisory reviews of the court clerk's work, we still noted concerns with some procedures. See MAR No. 5.

10. Senate Bill 40 Board

A. Formal budgets were not prepared by the SB 40 Board and filed with the State Auditor's office for the years ended December 31, 1996, 1995, and 1994.

B. The contract between the sheltered workshop and the SB 40 Board did not address additional payments for equipment nor does it include written criteria to enable the board to evaluate whether the additional services received were commensurate to the extra payments made. The SB 40 Board did not require the sheltered workshop to formally bid or retain bid documentation for these large purchases.

C. Various financial records for the SB 40 Board could not be found.

Recommendation:

The Senate Bill 40 Board:

A. Ensure budgets are prepared for the Senate Bill 40 Fund and filed with the State Auditor's office as required by state law.

B. Require the sheltered workshop to solicit formal bids for all large purchases funded by the SB 40 Board and revise its current contract to account for additional payments for equipment.

C. Retain records in a secure location in accordance with state law.

Status

A. Partially implemented. Budgets were prepared by the SB 40 Board; however, they were not filed with the State Auditor's office. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Implemented.

C. Partially implemented. All records were retained except for one book of unused checks that could not be located. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

NODAWAY COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1845, the county of Nodaway was named after the Nodaway River. Nodaway County is a township-organized, third-class county and is part of the Fourth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Maryville.

Nodaway County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Nodaway County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

FACT SHEET

The National State Auditor's Association is currently conducting a joint audit of home health care related issues. The Missouri State Auditor's Office is participating in this joint audit. The following findings were noted during our review of home health care issues at the Department of Health and expenditures for home health care services from the Medicaid Program administered by the Department of Social Services, Division of Medical Services.

The State Auditor recommended improvements be made to the Department of Health's home health agency inspection process. The state's Department of Health is responsible for licensing and inspecting all home health agencies. If deficiencies are noted during the inspections, follow-up procedures are performed to ensure that deficiencies are corrected. The auditor noted instances where deficiencies noted during a state inspection were supposedly corrected during the follow-up visit but some of the same deficiencies were again cited within four to ten months after the follow-up visit was performed.

The State Auditor's review also found that department records did not adequately document the procedures performed to determine that the deficiency was actually corrected. Instances were noted where the department concluded deficiencies had been corrected even though additional exceptions were noted during the follow-up visit. It appears the department's criteria for determining if a deficiency is corrected is flawed.

The State Auditor's review noted individual plans of care were not always signed by the physician, were signed by the physician but not within the time frames required by federal and state regulations, or were not dated by the physician. In addition, verbal orders from the physician were not always properly documented by the attending nurse or therapist. This documentation is necessary to ensure compliance with state and federal regulations and to ensure necessary and appropriate care is being provided. In a test of claims, the auditor noted approximately $66,000 in claims paid when the documentation was deficient.

Home health services provide medical treatment or supervision to individuals with acute illness, or an exacerbation of a chronic or long term illness, which can be therapeutically managed at home. These services include nursing services, home health aid services, physical therapy, occupational therapy, or speech pathology services provided by a home health agency based on a physician's written plan of care.

Home health agencies are licensed with and inspected by the state's Department of Health. The state pays for services to eligible recipients through the state's Medicaid Program. The Department of Social Services, Division of Medical Services, is responsible for ensuring claims are properly paid under this program. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the state processed home health care claims which totaled approximately $8.5 million.

Division of Medical Services
Jefferson City, MO 65102

We have conducted a special review of home health care expenditures of the Medicaid Program administered by the Department of Social Services, Division of Medical Services, and the Department of Health. The objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine whether the services billed for clients by the providers are properly authorized, approved, allowable, and provided.

2. Determine whether providers are meeting state licensure/certification requirements and if those requirements are sufficient.

3. Determine the adequacy of the complaints/monitoring process for service providers.

4. Determine whether procedures are in place to ensure that quality care is provided to clients.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we interviewed applicable personnel and inspected relevant records and reports of the Department of Health (DOH) and the Department of Social Services - Division of Medical Services (DMS), and various home health care agencies providing such services.

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

As part of our review, we considered the DOH's and DMS's management controls to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to management controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed the control risk. In order to assess control risk, we performed tests of controls to obtain evidence regarding the effectiveness of the design and operation of certain policies and procedures.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Background Information is presented for information purposes. This information was obtained from the Department of Health and the Department of Social Services, Division of Medical Services, and was not subject to the procedures applied in the review of home health care expenditures.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our review of home health care expenditures.

SPECIAL REVIEW OF HOME HEALTH CARE EXPENDITURES

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Home health services provide medical treatment or supervision to individuals with an acute illness, or an exacerbation of a chronic or long term illness, which can be therapeutically managed at home. These services include nursing services, home health aide services, physical therapy, occupational therapy, or speech pathology services provided by a home health agency on the physician's orders as part of a written plan of care that the physician reviews at least every 60 days. To participate in the state's Medicaid Program, the home health agency must be currently licensed with the Department of Health, be Medicare certified, and have a current Missouri Medicaid provider agreement with the Department of Social Services, Division of Medical Services (DMS). As of June 1998, approximately 280 home health agencies were licensed to provide services to Medicaid eligible recipients.

The Department of Health (DOH) is responsible for ensuring that home health agencies are properly licensed in accordance with federal and state guidelines. Sections 197.440 through 197.445, RSMo 1994, require all home health agencies to be licensed and registered with the department as evidenced by a survey inspection by the department. Survey inspections for agencies in operation for less than 36 consecutive months are required to be inspected at least every 12 months. Agencies that have been in operation for over 36 consecutive months have inspections performed only every 36 months if these agencies meet certain criteria which exempts them from annual inspections.

The DMS is responsible for ensuring all claims for home health care services are reimbursed in accordance with federal and state requirements.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1998, the DMS processed 40,959 home health care claims which totaled approximately $8.5 million. In total for the Medicaid Program in fiscal year 1998, approximately 22.7 million claims were paid with expenditures of the program totaling approximately $2.5 billion.

The National State Auditor's Association is currently conducting a joint audit of home health care related issues. The Missouri State Auditor’s office is participating in this joint audit, and, as a result, conducted a special review of the state's home health care expenditures. The findings, comments, and recommendations resulting from this review are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

SPECIAL REVIEW OF THE HOME HEALTH CARE EXPENDITURES
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Authorizations for Plans of Care (POC) (pages 7-9)

   Individual POCs were not always signed by the physician, were signed by the physician after the certification period started, or were not dated by the physician. In addition, verbal orders from the physician were not always properly documented by the attending nurse or therapist. We noted approximately $66,000 in claims paid when the POC was not properly authorized.

2. Survey Inspection Procedures (pages 9-11)

   The DOH's inspection procedures for ensuring deficiencies are corrected appear inadequate. We noted instances in which deficiencies that supposedly were corrected during a follow up visit were cited again within four to ten months after the follow up was performed. In addition, the survey report did not adequately document the procedures performed to determine that the deficiency was corrected.

SPECIAL REVIEW OF THE HOME HEALTH CARE PROGRAM

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

1. Authorizations for Plans of Care (POC)

The Department of Social Services, Division of Medical Services (DMS) is responsible for ensuring that Medicaid payments to home health agencies (HHAs) are for authorized services provided to Medicaid recipients. The controls over claims processing of home health claims include the following:

- The Missouri Medicaid Information System (MMIS) uses edits to check claim payments to determine if they are for services rendered to eligible recipients by authorized providers and that these claims do not duplicate previous payments to the HHA.

- Home health claims go through an edit that requires review by medical personnel to ensure that a plan of care is on file.

We selected 42 recipients who received frequent home health care services from 5 HHAs. For these 42 recipients we reviewed supporting documentation for nursing, therapy, and home health aide services provided during the period July 1, 1997 through February 28, 1999. This documentation included 324 individual POCs and visit notes which helped support the services claimed.

The Missouri Medicaid Provider Manual requires the POC to indicate the type of services to be provided, be signed and dated by the physician, be reviewed and re-established by the physician at least every 60 days, and the certification period cannot exceed 2 calendar months or 62 days. In addition, there must be a verbal order prior to delivery of the services when services are provided from the beginning of the certification period and before the physician signs the plan of care. The verbal order must be documented, dated, and signed by the nurse or therapist. The physician must sign and date the POC no earlier than ten days before the beginning of the certification period. If the physician omits the date, the home health agency (provider) must enter the date the plan of care was received back from the physician.

During our review of the 324 plans of care for the 42 recipients with claims totaling $250,578, we noted the following problems:

1. Care was provided before the POC was signed and no verbal order was documented for these services. In total, 4 POCs were signed by the physician after the certification period ended. Three POCs were not dated by the attending nurse and 1 POC was dated by the attending nurse after the certification period started.

2. Five of the 324 POCs were signed by the physician more than ten days before the beginning of the certification period.

3. Sixty-three of the POCs were not dated by the physician. Of the 63, 1 was not dated by the HHA. Also, 1 POC was dated by the HHA after the certification period had ended.

4. Seven of the 324 POCs were signed by the attending nurse (indicating a verbal order was given by the physician), however, these POCs were dated two to six months before the certification period started.

5. In 4 instances, changes to treatment on the care plan were not signed by the physician. Instead, an "on file" comment was used in place of the physician's signature.

Documentation of the physicians order for home health services, and appropriate specification of the certification period, is necessary to ensure compliance with the Medicaid Provider Manual and related state and federal regulations, and to ensure necessary and appropriate care is being provided. In total, we noted approximately $66,000 in claims paid when the POC was not properly authorized or dated.

WE RECOMMEND the DMS establish procedures to ensure payments are made for only those home health services supported by a properly authorized care plan. Procedures may include educating home health agencies about the care plan requirements such as physicians signature and date, attending nurses signature and date when a verbal order is given, a certification period for no longer than 62 days, and signature and date on all verbal orders making a change to the original care plan. In addition, the DMS should review the POCs to ensure the required signatures and dates are included before claims are paid.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

1. We agree these POCs are out of compliance with Medicaid Home Health Program policy.

We also agree the services provided prior to the date the verbal order was obtained are out of compliance with Medicaid Home Health Program policy. It should be noted, however, that Missouri Medicaid requires the Home Health Agency (HHA) document physician verbal orders in the medical record, not necessarily on the HCFA 485. The Department of Health, Bureau of Home Health and Hospice Licensure and Certification, reviews the medical record for documentation of verbal orders when conducting surveys for licensure and certification. Thus, documentation of verbal order is not reviewed during claims processing.

The auditor did advise there was no other verbal order documentation found in the medical record.

2. We agree these POCs are out of compliance with Medicaid Home Health Program Policy.

3. We disagree with this finding. Medicaid Home Health Program policy allows the date the HHA received the signed plan of care to be used when the physician omits the signature date. Of the 63 plans of care referenced, 56 were in compliance with this policy, 2 were not in compliance (reference below) with this policy, 4 were not available to review, and 1 had no claims in our system with the certification period listed.

   We agree the POC which was not dated by the HHA was out of compliance with Home Health Program policy.

   We also agree the POC which was dated by the HHA after the certification period ended was out of compliance with Medicaid Home Health Program policy.

4. We agree these POCs are out of compliance with Medicaid Home Health Program Policy. It should be noted, 5 of the POCs that were reviewed were all from the same HHA. The nurse's signature date is computer generated and is the same date as the "Start Of Care" date shown in field 2 of the HCFA 485. It is apparent this may be a problem with this specific HHA. The HHA will be contacted and given instructions regarding program policy.

5. We agree with this finding. These POCs are out of compliance with Medicaid Home Health Program Policy.

To address the above findings, providers will be educated through a Missouri Medicaid Provider Bulletin regarding Medicaid's requirements for the plan of care, specifically addressing the physician signature and date, documentation of verbal orders, certification period requirements, and interim orders. In addition, Missouri Medicaid's claims processing agent, GTE Data Services, will be provided with copies of the POCs they reviewed which were not in compliance with Medicaid Home Health Program policies to be used in educating their staff.

2. Survey Inspection Procedures

The Department of Health (DOH) is responsible for performing the initial and follow up survey inspections of all home health agencies for certification into the Medicare Program and is responsible for ensuring all home health agencies are properly licensed for operation within the state. After the DOH identifies state and federal deficiencies during its survey inspection, the home health agencies are allowed to respond with a plan of correction for the deficiencies. After the DOH approves the plan of correction, the HHA is re-certified and licensed. Another visit is scheduled with the home health agency to ensure compliance with the plan of correction. During our review of the DOH's survey inspection follow-up procedures, we noted the following concerns:

A. The DOH needs to improve procedures to ensure deficiencies are corrected. We reviewed 30 home health agencies and noted 7 HHAs had a total of 12 deficiencies that supposedly were corrected during the follow-up visit, but were cited again during a subsequent annual survey. Some deficiencies were cited again within four to ten months after the follow up visit. DOH has the authority to terminate a HHA for deficiencies that endanger the lives of the clients. However, according to DOH, it currently does not have the authority to impose fines or other sanctions. Other sanctions could include decertifying an HHA from participation in the Medicaid Program, or prohibiting an HHA from accepting new clients until the deficiency is corrected. The DOH should seek legislation for the authority to impose stronger actions against HHAs that are cited for repeat deficiencies.

B. 1) During the follow up visit to the home health agency, the DOH reviews a significantly smaller number of clinical records. The DOH indicates that a significantly smaller number of records is often reviewed, because Medicare regulations allow the DOH to only review services provided since the survey and only records related to the deficiency cited.

If the majority of the records reviewed in the follow up visit are in compliance with federal and state regulations or established standards, the DOH concludes the deficiency has been corrected. For example, in one survey inspection we reviewed, the DOH found 11 exceptions (for the standard which requires drugs and treatments be administered by the HHA staff only as ordered by the physician) out of 25 records reviewed during an annual survey. During the follow-up survey four months later, the DOH reviewed five clinical records and found one still contained the deficiency. The DOH concluded the deficiency was corrected. In another survey, the DOH found 15 exceptions (for the standard which requires care to follow a written plan of care established and periodically reviewed by a doctor of medicine, osteopathy, or pediatric medicine) out of 25 reviewed during an annual survey. During the follow-up survey four months later, the DOH reviewed five clinical records and found two still contained the deficiency. However, the DOH again concluded the deficiency had been corrected.

Based on the results of these surveys and the number of times the HHAs are cited for the same deficiencies in subsequent survey inspections, the DOH should establish procedures to ensure a more representative sample of records are reviewed during the follow-up visit. In addition, the DOH should re-evaluate the criteria used to determine when a HHA is in compliance with the established standards and regulations.

2) We also noted the survey report or other documents did not adequately document procedures performed to support DOH's conclusion that deficiencies were corrected. Although the reports would indicate the number of records reviewed and restate the deficiency, there was no documentation to indicate which records were reviewed, which had problems noted, or how the conclusion was reached.

Without adequate documentation, there is no assurance that DOH adequately reviewed the records for compliance with state and federal regulations or established standards.

WE RECOMMEND the Department of Health:

A. Seek legislation for the authority to impose stronger actions against HHAs that are cited for repeat deficiencies.

B.1. Establish procedures to ensure a more representative sample of records are reviewed during the follow-up visit. In addition, the DOH should re-evaluate the criteria used to determine when a HHA is in compliance with the established standards and regulations.

2. Establish procedures to adequately document procedures performed to support DOH's survey inspections and conclusions.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The recommendation to seek legislation for the authority to impose stronger actions against HHAs that are cited for repeat deficiencies will be referred to Department management for discussion/decision. The recommendation will also be placed on the agenda for discussion with the Home Health Advisory Council at their next meeting.

B. The procedure for conducting state licensure follow-up surveys, and for supporting documentation of conclusions made for follow-up survey activity, will be reviewed and revised to ensure adequate records are reviewed for compliance in the deficient area.

This report is intended for the information of the department's and the division's management and other applicable state government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

STONE COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-73
September 7, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Stone, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Stone County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

- The county received fees from the various neighborhood improvement districts as reimbursement of administrative costs incurred by the county. However, the county did not adequately document the amount of actual or estimated costs incurred. In addition, the county withholds one percent from the special assessments paid by the property owners within the neighborhood improvement districts and deposits these withholdings into the Assessment Fund. The audit questioned the statutory authority for these withholdings.

- The county's budgets and published financial statements did not include several funds, including the Neighborhood Improvement Districts Fund. In addition, actual expenditures exceeded budgeted amounts in several funds.

- The Prosecuting Attorney's office did not resolve a cash shortage of $233 noted in the prior audit. In addition, the prosecuting attorney needs to improve its procedures regarding recording and depositing of receipts, bank reconciliations, liability listings, segregation of duties, and transmittal of fees to the county. Many of these concerns had been noted in the prior audit.

Also included in the audit are recommendations regarding road and bridge concerns, officials' salaries and personnel records, and general fixed asset records. The audit also suggested improvements in controls and procedures of the County Collector, County Assessor, Public Administrator, Health Center Board, and Emergency 911 Board.

Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Stone County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Stone County.

As more fully described in Note 1 to the financial statements, the county's financial statements do not include statements of receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash - budget and actual for various funds totaling $5,305,071 and $9,366,302 in receipts, and $5,942,907 and $6,339,210 in disbursements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. Statements of receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash - budget and actual are required by the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, except for the omission of the information discussed in the preceding paragraph, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Stone County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 7, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Stone County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Stone County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 7, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed an instance of noncompliance that is required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1. We also noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted a certain matter involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be a reportable condition. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the county's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements. The reportable condition is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings as finding number 98-1.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we consider the reportable condition described above, finding number 98-1, to be a material weakness. We also noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Stone County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, Senior Citizens Service Board, or the Emergency 911 Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
DARE Fund	1997
Emergency 911 Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Enforcement Civil Fees Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Probate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Neighborhood Improvement Districts Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
General Revenue Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Enforcement Fund	1997
Recorder User Fee Fund	1998
Children's Trust/Abuse Victims Fund	1998
DARE Fund	1998
Emergency 911 Fund	1998
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998
Law Library Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Health Center Fund, Senior Citizens Service Fund, Circuit Clerk Interest Fund, Law Library Fund, Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund, Probate Division Interest Fund, and Neighborhood Improvement Districts Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions. The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The deposits of the Health Center Board, Senior Citizens Service Board, and the Emergency 911 Board at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the custodial banks in the name of the respective board.

3. Subsequent Event

In November 1998, the voters of Stone County approved to increase from 1/8 cent to 1/4 cent the sales tax for establishing, maintaining, and operating an enhanced emergency 911 telephone service. The tax increase is effective April 1, 1999.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

STONE COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Stone County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Equitable Sharing of Seized and Forfeited Property Program (CFDA number 16.unkown) and the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided federal awards to subrecipients as follows:

Federal CFDA Number	Program Title	Amount Provided Year Ended December 31, 1998	1997
14.231	Emergency Shelter Grants Program	$ 12,000	10,000
20.205	Off-System Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program	57,744	0

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Stone County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Stone County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Stone County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Stone County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Stone County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section II - Financial Statement Findings

This section includes the audit findings that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

98-1.	Omission of Budgetary Information

The county does not have adequate procedures to ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds, and as a result, budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the two years ended December 31, 1998. The lack of budgetary information for these funds, especially the Neighborhood Improvement Districts Fund, is a significant omission from the county's financial statements. Receipts which were not budgeted totaled $5.3 million and $9.4 million in 1998 and 1997, respectively. Disbursements which were not budgeted totaled $5.9 million and $6.3 million for 1998 and 1997, respectively.

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires preparation of annual budgets for all funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuring year. By preparing or obtaining budgets for all county funds, the County Commission and other county officials and boards would be able to more effectively evaluate all county financial resources.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission and other applicable officials and boards ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

Ever sensitive to public perceptions, the County Commission is loathe to include these funds in its budget and financial statement, since it will appear to the public that the county's budget is some $5 million or $6 million greater than it truly is. The County Commission is confident that the public's interests are protected by the safeguards embodied in the joint development agreements and the methods of accounting thereunder. The County Commission agrees that the public should be able to inspect the budget and finances of each Neighborhood Improvement District (NID).

As a compromise, the County Commission suggests that it require each entity handling NID funds to annually provide a budget and financial statement for each NID and file such documents with the County Clerk's office for official and public inspection. Bond Counsel will be instructed to notify each entity handling NID funds of this requirement.

Section III - Federal Award Findings and Questioned Costs

This section includes no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

3. Budgets and Published Financial Statements

The County Commission:

A. Ensure budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds as required by state law.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

STONE COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

2. Federal Financial Assistance

Federal Grantor:	Federal Emergency Management Agency
Pass-Through Grantor:	State Department of Public Safety
Federal CFDA Number:	83.516
Program Title:	Disaster Assistance
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number:	Not applicable
Award Year:	1995 and 1994
Questioned Costs:	$43,058

A.1. Daily activity reports or other documentation were not maintained of the costs incurred for wages, equipment, and materials for repairs on bridges damaged by the 1993 flood. The federal share of these expenditures totaled $37,314.

2. Bids or proposals were not obtained for contract labor services for one project from the 1995 flood, and information was not obtained from the contractor to document that prevailing wage rates were paid to all laborers employed by the contractor. The federal share of these expenditures totaled $5,744.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Consult with the grantor agency to resolve the questioned costs. In the future, the County Commission should maintain adequate supporting documentation, solicit bids, and ensure all contract laborers are paid prevailing wage rates on federally funded construction projects.

Status:

A. The grantor agency reviewed, approved and agreed with the audit findings; however, the agency expressed the opinion that public funds had been appropriately expended on the county's projects and closed its file.

If additional assistance is received by the county from the grantor agency, the County Commission will ensure that similar problems do not occur. The County now has a computer system to assist in keeping records that will comply with the auditor's recommendation.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

STONE COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Stone County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 7, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We also have audited the compliance of Stone County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 7, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Stone County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Neighborhood Improvement Districts

The Stone County Commission established three Neighborhood Improvement Districts (NIDs): Stonebridge, Edgewater and Black Oak. The NIDs were established to develop roads and construct water and sewage systems in the districts. A special obligation, special assessment bond series in the amount of $3,775,000 was issued by the County Commission in July 1997 to retire a temporary construction note for the Stonebridge Neighborhood Improvement District. Special obligation temporary notes for $1,685,000 and $6,190,000 were issued by the County Commission during 1997 and 1998 to fund construction of the Black Oak Mountain Resort and Edgewater Village Neighborhood Improvement Districts, respectively.

The primary source of monies for bond repayment is the collection of special assessments on properties within the districts. Two payment options were developed by the county; allowing property owners to either pay the assessment in one lump sum or allocate the special assessment and related interest costs over a twenty-year payment schedule.

A. During 1997, the county began collecting the special assessments for the Stonebridge NID. The County Commission authorized the County Collector to withhold one percent assessment fund monies from the special assessment collections. As a result, during the two years ended December 31, 1998, the County Collector withheld $5,402 from the special assessment collections for distribution to the Assessment Fund.

   We could find no express statutory authority for these withholdings. While costs actually incurred by the county can be charged in the proportionate assessments on property benefited, the county provided no documentation of out-of-pocket costs actually incurred from the Assessment Fund related to the projects. Moreover, it does not appear reasonable to continue to charge undocumented "assessment" costs annually over the life of the financing for assessments that are required to be fixed after construction is complete.

B. The county received administrative fees totaling $17,000 and $12,500 in 1998 and 1997, respectively from the Edgewater and Black Oak NIDs. The administrative costs represent seven-tenths of one percent of actual construction and estimated bond costs; and are not based on actual administrative costs incurred by the county. Although costs for work done or services performed by the county in the administration and supervision of the improvement are allowed by Section 67.453, RSMo 1994, these costs should be based on actual work performed and should be documented.

The county does not have any written documentation to support administrative cost expenditures. The County Commission should review the administrative costs and collect additional amounts from the landowners or refund any excess amounts received, as applicable.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Review the issue of withholding assessment funding from special assessment collections and consider discontinuing any future assessment withholdings and refunding those amounts already withheld. If actual incremental assessment costs were incurred related to applicable NID projects, it may be appropriate to include those costs in the special assessments apportioned to the landowners.

B. Document the administrative costs incurred by the county and charged to the NIDs. Any additional unreimbursed costs should be collected from the landowners. Any excess amounts collected should be refunded to landowners who have already paid their assessments, and assessments to landowners paying over the twenty-year period should be adjusted to reflect actual costs.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission believes Section 137.720, RSMo, (percentage of ad valorem property tax collection to be deducted for deposit in county assessment fund) governs:

> "A percentage of all ad valorem property tax collections allocable to each taxing authority within the county and the county shall be deducted from the collections of taxes each year and shall be deposited into the assessment fund of the county as required under section 137.750. The percentage shall be ... one percent for counties of the third and fourth class."

Special assessments are ad valorem levies either of the county or by a taxing authority within the county. The County Commission believes that the Collector of Revenue is authorized, even mandated, to withhold the one percent assessment fund monies on these assessments.

The County Counselor spoke with the Bond Counsel and the Bond Counsel indicated he concurred with this response.

In addition, the County Commission fears that, if the Collector of Revenue fails to collect the one percent that the commission believes is mandated by Section 137.720, RSMo, the collector may be derelict in her duties and/or liable on her official bond.

B. The County Commission believes that the administrative work performed by the county for the NIDs, and the employees, equipment and supplies provided by the county to the NIDs, should not be borne by the taxpayers from the county general revenue fund. Upon inquiry, the County Commission was advised by Bond Counsel that it was entitled to an administrative fee from each NID.

Considering that the NID administrative duties will continue for up to twenty-years for each NID, the County Commission followed the suggestion of Bond Counsel and estimated that seventh-tenths of one percent of actual construction and estimated bond costs was a reasonable amount and would compensate the county for its administrative duties.

The County Commission believes that it has complied with the requirements of Section 67.453, RSMo. That statute does not require that the costs and actual work performed be tracked, recorded, reported, and allocated, as follows:

> "'Cost', all costs incurred in connection with an improvement, including, but not limited to, costs incurred for the preparation of preliminary reports, the preparation of plans and specifications, the preparation and publication of notices of hearings, resolutions, ordinances and other proceedings, fees and expenses of consultants, interest accrued on borrowed money during the period of construction, underwriting costs and other costs incurred in connection with the issuance of bonds or notes, establishment of reasonably required reserve funds for bonds or notes, the cost of land, materials, labor and other lawful expenses incurred in planning, acquiring and doing any improvement, reasonable construction contingencies, and work done or services performed by the city or county in the administration and supervision of the improvement..."

Having the ability to track, record, report, and allocate the actual costs and actual work performed would be ideal. However, the County Commission believes that the cost of instituting and maintaining such an accounting system would be an inefficient and improvident use of county resources, since little efficiency would be gained in the county's day-to-day operations. The County Commission believes it would be imprudent to institute such a system for this purpose.

AUDITOR'S COMMENT

A. In Zahner v. City of Perryville, 813 S.W.2d 855, 859 (Mo. banc 1991), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that special assessments are not taxes. Therefore, it appears there is no authority for the county to make assessment fund withholdings from the special assessments.

B. State law does allow the county to recoup administrative costs related to the NIDs. However, basing the recoupment solely on a percentage of actual construction and estimated bond costs provides the county no assurance that the amounts received from the NIDs approximate the actual administrative costs incurred by the county.

2. Road and Bridge Concerns

A. The county maintains fuel tanks in several locations throughout the county for use in road and bridge and law enforcement vehicles. Both road and bridge employees and sheriff's deputies maintain fuel usage logs to account for fuel used; however, the county does not reconcile fuel usage to fuel purchased. Such reconciliations are necessary to enable the County Commission to fully account for all fuel expenditures and identify significant loss or theft of fuel.

A similar condition was noted in our prior report.

B. Road and bridge foremen, grader operators and administrative clerks are allowed to use county vehicles to commute between home and work. The County Commission indicated these employees are on call 24 hours a day for emergency situations; however, the county does not keep records of mileage incurred on the county vehicles for commuting purposes.

Internal Revenue Service (IRS) reporting guidelines indicate personal commuting mileage is a reportable fringe benefit. Furthermore, IRS guidelines require the full value of the provided vehicle to be reported if the employer does not require the submission of detailed logs which distinguish between business and personal usage. Because procedures have not been established to ensure the IRS regulations are followed, the county may be subject to penalties and/or fines for failure to report all taxable benefits.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Reconcile fuel purchases to fuel usage and investigate any differences.

B. Comply with IRS guidelines for reporting fringe benefits related to commuting in county-owned vehicles. In addition, the county should establish a written policy for road and bridge employees regarding the appropriate use of county vehicles for commuting purposes and ensure records are kept which distinguish commuting and business mileage.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Highway Commission will implement a policy and assign the duties to a county employee to reconcile fuel usage and investigate any differences.

B. The County Highway Commission will implement a policy requiring employees to maintain a daily log book to record any personal commuting or use of vehicles.

3. Officials' Salaries and Personnel Records

A. The County Coroner was paid a salary of $6,500 for each of the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The County Coroner did not file a training certificate for 1997 with the county nor did he provide exemptions from the training as allowed by state law. Section 58.095, RSMo 1994, states that $500 of the coroner's annual salary is payable only if he has completed at least twenty hours of qualifying classroom training. The additional compensation of $500 received during 1997 appears to be in excess of statutory allowances and should be refunded to the county.

B. Our review of the Stone County Salary Commission minutes and officials' salaries noted the following concerns:

1) Minutes of the November 17, 1995, salary commission meeting indicate approval of the Sheriff's and County Assessor's salaries for their terms beginning in 1997, but the minutes do not address whether the County Coroner's salary was approved or even considered. In addition, the minutes indicate the need for a legal opinion and another meeting to set the salary of the Public Administrator for her term beginning in 1997. A legal opinion was obtained from the Prosecuting Attorney which addressed the maximum compensation which could be paid to the Public Administrator; however, no subsequent salary commission meeting was held and there is no official salary commission approval for the Public Administrator's salary. The Public Administrator has received an annual salary of $14,000 from the county, and during 1998, she received $40,756 in fees. Section 473.739, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, allows the Public Administrator to receive $4,000 in salary from the county if her fees do not exceed $25,000, and allows the salary commission to authorize additional compensation of up to $10,000 if her fees do not exceed $45,000. Because the Public Administrator received fees more than $25,000 in 1998, it is questionable that she should have been paid $4,000 of her $14,000 county salary.

Future salary commission minutes should include documentation of the amounts to be paid to each official and how the amounts were calculated.

2) The salary commission minutes of December 11, 1997, include a motion and a vote to approve a $1,000 increase in the Sheriff's salary to reflect 100 percent of the statutory salary based on the county's current (1997) assessed valuation. The Sheriff was the only elected official to receive a raise in 1998, although the county's 1997 assessed valuation would have raised the statutory salary of other officials. It appears questionable that the salary commission has statutory authority to increase the salary of just one official.

The County Commission should review these matters with the Prosecuting Attorney to ensure the proper amounts were paid to the various officials.

C. Although hourly-paid employees prepare time sheets, time sheets or other records of actual time worked are not maintained by salaried employees. As a result, the County Commission has no documentation to support these payroll expenditures. In addition, time sheets prepared by some hourly-paid employees do not include documentation of supervisory approval.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) requires employers to keep accurate records of actual time worked by employees, including compensatory time earned, taken, or paid. The time sheets should be prepared by the employee, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed in a central location with the county's payroll records.

D. Several hourly-paid employees had negative sick leave or compensatory leave balances during the two years ending December 31, 1998. In addition, some employees' vacation leave, sick leave, and compensatory leave records had not been updated for more than a year.

To ensure employees receive leave benefits only as allowed by the county's policy, employees should not be allowed to carry negative leave balances, and leave records should be updated monthly.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Require the County Coroner to provide certification that he completed applicable classroom training in 1997 or an exemption from training. If training certification or an exemption cannot be provided, the County Commission should pursue reimbursement of $500 from the County Coroner. In addition, the County Commission and County Clerk should require the County Coroner to provide certification of applicable classroom training before the $500 training allowance is paid.

B. Review these matters with the Prosecuting Attorney to ensure the proper amounts were paid to each official. In addition, the County Commission should ensure future salary commission minutes document the approval of salary increases for each official.

C. Require all county employees to prepare time sheets which reflect actual time worked and leave taken. These time sheets should be prepared and signed by the employee, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed with the County Clerk.

D. Discontinue the practice of allowing negative leave balances. Records of vacation, sick leave, and overtime earned, used, and accumulated should be updated monthly.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission will advise the County Coroner that he must either provide a certificate for training or a written document authorizing the county to withhold $500 from his annual salary. If the County Coroner does not comply, the matter will be referred to the Prosecuting Attorney for his action.

B. The County Commission will have the County Counselor consult with the Prosecuting Attorney concerning elected officials' salaries, to ensure that the proper amounts were paid, and will be paid, to each according to statute and the Salary Commission's determinations.

C. The County Commission requires each hourly employee to document time worked either by a time clock system or a time accounting system. Salary employees are not required to do so.

The County Commission agrees that it should monitor the work performance of all salaried employees to ensure that such employees are satisfactorily in attendance or at work, adequately performing their tasks, and that the county is receiving the best value for its expenditures.

Consideration of the auditor's suggestion requires that the County Commission balance the need to obtain the most accurate accounting information against the county's exposure to claims for overtime and claims that employees deemed "salaried" might be able to claim hourly compensation years after work was performed.

Both the County Counselor and the county's special counsel concerning the federal Fair Labor Standards Act have verbally advised against requiring salaried employees to maintain time records.

After carefully considering both options, the County Commission has decided to follow the advice of its legal counsel.

D. The County Commission directed the County Clerk, and the County Clerk has instructed her staff to never allow negative leave balances.

4. Budgets and Published Financial Statements

A. Disbursements were made in excess of the approved budgets in the following funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998, as follows:

Fund	1998	1997
General Revenue	$386,084	$47,374
Law Enforcement Training	933	594
Law Enforcement	N/A	17,761
Recorder User Fee	5,117	N/A
Children's Trust/Abuse Victims	25	N/A
DARE	2,641	N/A
Emergency 911	28,290	N/A
Circuit Clerk Interest	233	N/A

Law Library	1,840	N/A

While the county has procedures in place to periodically compare budgeted and actual expenditures, it appears the county did not adequately use such procedures to monitor expenditures or document reasons for the excess expenditures. It was also ruled in State ex. rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo. 1122, 273 SW 2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office.

B. The county's annual published financial statements did not include the financial activity of some county funds. Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, require county financial statements be prepared and published in a local newspaper and must show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each county fund.

A similar condition was also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission and other applicable officials and boards:

A. Keep expenditures within the budgetary limits. If valid reasons necessitate excess expenditures, the original budget should be formally amended.

B. Ensure financial information for all county funds is reported in the annual published financial statements in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission agrees that the budget should be adhered to, and budget statutes should be followed. The County Commission and the County Clerk will use their best efforts to ensure that the budget is amended in accordance with the governing statutes.

B. The County Commission and the County Clerk will use their best efforts to ensure that all budgetary funds under control of the commission will be published according to law, either in the county's official annual financial statement, or independently by the appropriate overseeing board or entity.

5. General Fixed Asset Records

Our review of the County Clerk's general fixed asset records and procedures noted the following concerns:

A. Additions and dispositions of fixed assets are not recorded in the property records as they occur. For example, transactions occurring in 1997 were not recorded until 1999. In addition, the County Clerk does not reconcile fixed asset purchases to additions to the property records. Only 4 of the 10 equipment purchases noted during our review of expenditures had been recorded in the property records.

B. Section 51.155, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998 requires that physical inventories of all county owned personal property be conducted annually. Although the county indicated that a physical inventory had been conducted in 1998, no documentation of the inventory could be provided and there was no explanations why the additions noted above were not identified.

C. Property records do not always include information applicable to the item. Information such as make/model and serial numbers are not recorded for some assets.

D. Property records are not maintained in a manner which identifies yearly additions, deletions, and year-end balances.

Adequate general fixed asset records are necessary to safeguard assets, provide a basis for proper insurance coverage, and meet statutory requirements.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior two reports.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk:

A. Maintain the property records on a current basis to reflect all additions and dispositions of general fixed assets as they occur. In addition, general fixed asset purchases should be reconciled periodically to additions to the property records.

B. Perform and document annual physical inventories of all county owned personal property as required by state law.

C. Record all applicable information in the property records.

D. Maintain property records in a manner that beginning balances, additions and deletions can be reconciled to year-end balances.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

It is impossible to keep track of all the purchases from non-budgetary funds. It has been difficult to perform annual inventories because of lack of cooperation from some officials. We have done the best we could do with the personnel available.

6. County Collector's Records and Procedures

The County Collector's office processed property taxes totaling in excess of $11 million during each of the years ended February 28, 1999 and 1998.

A. The former County Collector's annual settlements contained errors in amounts reported which caused differences between total tax collections and distributions. For the years ended February 28, 1999 and 1998, Assessment Fund withholdings ($213,933) were included in distributions twice, protested taxes ($45,665), duplicate tax receipts ($2,358), and merchant license fees ($45,975) were omitted from distribution amounts, and tax sale surplus proceeds ($14,428) were not included in collection or distribution amounts.

The former County Collector generated an account book at each year end; however, errors and omissions on the account book have resulted in incorrect information on the annual settlements. In addition, the County Clerk receives monthly settlements and a copy of the account book; however, the County Clerk and County Commission do not review the account book to help verify the accuracy of the annual settlements.

Section 139.160, RSMo 1994, states that ". . . the collector shall . . . settle his accounts of all monies received by him on account of taxes and other sources of revenue . . ." By incorrectly reporting collections and distributions, the former County Collector has not provided the County Commission with an accurate and complete settlement.

B. As noted in our prior report, the former County Collector allowed his employees and other courthouse employees to cash personal checks from tax receipts. To ensure all receipts are accounted for and deposited intact, personal checks should not be cashed with official tax receipts.

C. As noted in our prior report, the former County Collector did not correctly compute commissions and fees withheld from property taxes for the Blue Eye School District for the year ended February 28, 1997. As a result, approximately $1,670 was over withheld from the school district and deposited into the General Revenue Fund ($1,000) and Assessment Fund ($670). While the former County Collector and County Commission responded in our prior report that they agreed to refund these amounts to the school district, no refunds have been made.

WE RECOMMEND the County Collector:

A. Maintain an accurate account book and file complete and accurate annual settlements. In addition, the County Clerk and County Commission should compare the amounts on the annual settlements to the County Clerk's account book to ensure the annual settlements are accurate.

B. Discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from tax receipts.

C. And the County Commission authorize the payment of $1,000 from the General Revenue Fund and $670 from the Assessment Fund to the Blue Eye School District.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The current County Collector will ensure this is done in the future.

B. The current County Collector will look into alternative ways to allow employees to cash personal checks.

C. The former County Collector agrees to discuss this with the County Commission.

7. Prosecuting Attorney's Records and Procedures

The Prosecuting Attorney's office annually collects approximately $61,000 in court ordered restitution, $88,000 in restitution on bad checks, and $17,000 in delinquent tax payments for the state. Some of the monies are received in the form of money orders and cashier's checks made payable directly to the victims or state. Three bank accounts are maintained for the deposit of cash and money orders and cashier's checks made payable to the Prosecuting Attorney's office.

A. A cash payment totaling $175 was received for bad check restitution in March 1998 but not recorded or deposited. Although the money was not deposited, a check was written to the victim for $150 in March 1998, resulting in a shortage in the bank account. Upon our review of the bad check restitution account in February 1999, the bad check clerk identified the $175 cash receipt in the case file, deposited the cash, and distributed the $25 fee to the County Treasurer. In addition, the prior audit report identified a shortage in the bad check restitution account of $233 that has not been recovered or resolved.

Weaknesses in internal controls as noted below appear to have allowed these discrepancies to occur and not be detected in a timely manner. The Prosecuting Attorney should investigate these discrepancies and take action to ensure the $233 shortage identified during the prior audit is resolved.

B. The following were noted regarding receipts:

1) Receipts slips are not issued immediately for some monies received, and monies are not always deposited timely. A cash count performed December 30, 1998, identified two money orders totaling $170 for restitution which had not been recorded. These money orders were not recorded and deposited until January 7, 1999.

To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, receipt slips should be issued for all monies immediately upon receipt and deposits should be made daily or receipt accumulate to $100.

2) The method of payment received (cash, check, money order, etc.) is not always recorded on bad check restitution receipt slips, and receipt slips issued are not reconciled to bank deposits. To ensure all receipts are deposited intact, the method of payment received should be recorded on all receipt slips, and the composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

C. Bank reconciliations have not been performed on the delinquent sales tax account since September 1998. In addition, bank reconciliations were attempted but not completed or agreed to the book balance for the bad check restitution account for April through December, 1998 and February, 1999.

At December 31, 1998, 37 checks written on the bad check account and 31 checks written on the restitution account, totaling $735 and $843, respectively, have been outstanding for over one year. These old outstanding checks create additional and unnecessary record-keeping responsibilities. Procedures should be adopted to routinely follow up on old outstanding checks. Various statutory provisions, including Sections 447.500 through 447.595, RSMo, provide for the disposition of unclaimed monies.

The preparation of monthly bank reconciliations is necessary to ensure the bank accounts are in agreement with the accounting records and to detect errors on a timely basis.

D. Open-items listings (liabilities) are not prepared and liabilities are not reconciled to the balances in the bank accounts. It appears that proper identification and reconciliation of liabilities would have detected on a more timely basis the discrepancies noted in Part A. above.

Only by preparing open-items listings on a monthly basis and comparing it to the reconciled bank balances can the Prosecuting Attorney be assured that the records are in balance and that sufficient cash is available to cover liabilities.

E. Accounting duties are not adequately segregated. One clerk performs all the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, disbursing, and reconciling for the court-ordered restitution account, another clerk performs all the duties for the bad check restitution account, and a third clerk performs all the duties for the delinquent tax accounts. The clerks indicated that a review is performed by another employee, but this review is not documented.

Proper segregation of duties helps to ensure that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing receipts from recording and reconciling receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, a periodic supervisory review of the records should be performed and documented.

F. Bad check fees collected by the Prosecuting Attorney's office are not turned over to the County Treasurer on a timely basis. For example, the May, June, and July 1998 fees were not turned over to the County Treasurer until September 1998.

Section 50.360, RSMo 1994, requires all fees be turned over to the County Treasurer at least monthly. This section further requires that an itemized list of fees collected should be filed with the County Commission monthly.

Conditions similar to parts A-C. and E. were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Investigate the $233 of undeposited receipts and take appropriate action to ensure the shortage in the account is corrected.

B.1. Issue receipt slips immediately upon receipt for all monies received and deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

2. Indicate method of payment received on all receipt slips and reconcile the composition of receipt slips issued to the composition of bank deposits.

C. Ensure bank reconciliations are prepared on a monthly basis and follow-up on all old outstanding checks.

D. Prepare monthly open-items listings and reconcile to the cash balances.

E. Adequately segregate accounting duties to the extent possible or ensure periodic supervisory reviews are performed and documented.

F. Turn over all fees to the County Treasurer on a monthly basis as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We have made arrangements with the Stone County Commission to resolve the $233 check.

B.1. It is now our policy to issue receipt slips at the time all payments are received and to make deposits daily if receipts total $100 or more.

2. Method of payment is being recorded on all receipt slips.

C. All bank reconciliations have been completed and, in accordance with statutory provisions, unclaimed monies are being turned over to the County Treasurer.

D. We are attempting to prepare open-item listings for the various accounts.

E. Periodic supervisory reviews are being put into place whereby the monthly reconciliations are reviewed by other individuals in the prosecutor's office.

F. All fees are being turned over to the County Treasurer on a timely basis.

8. County Assessor's Records and Procedures

The County Assessor collects approximately $10,000 annually from the sale of county maps.

A. Receipt slips are not issued for some monies received. In addition, the original copies of voided receipt slips are not always retained. To ensure receipts are accounted for properly, official prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received and all copies of voided receipt slips should be retained.

B. Some cash receipts are not transmitted to the County Treasurer. According to the County Assessor's personnel, some cash receipts are used as petty cash for expenditures of the office; however, no documentation of petty cash expenditures is retained.

Issuing receipt slips for all monies received and transmitting all receipts to the County Treasurer intact is necessary to ensure proper recording and accountability of receipts. If a petty cash fund is determined to be necessary, it should be kept on an imprest basis and all reimbursements should be supported by vendor invoices or other documentation.

C. The County Assessor allows his employees to cash personal checks from receipts. To ensure all receipts are accounted for and transmitted to the County Treasurer intact, personal checks should not be cashed with official receipts.

D. The County Assessor does not file monthly reports of all fees collected. Section 50.370, RSMo 1994, requires county officials to prepare and file with the County Commission monthly reports of fees collected.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Assessor:

A. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and retain all copies of voided receipt slips.

B. Transmit all receipts to the County Treasurer intact. If a petty cash fund is determined to be necessary, it should be kept on an imprest basis and all reimbursements should be supported by vendor invoices or other documentation.

C. Discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from official receipts.

D. Prepare monthly reports of fees as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Receipt slips are now issued for all receipts and all voided receipt slips are now retained.

B&C. These have been implemented. The county employees have established their own fund from candy sale proceeds to cash personal checks.

D. Monthly reports are now prepared and filed with the County Commission.

9. Public Administrator's Settlements

The Public Administrator is the court-appointed guardian and conservator for wards of the Probate Division. While the Associate Circuit Judge requires annual reports of bank balances and other asset balances for each ward, the Public Administrator has not filed annual settlements for several estates on a timely basis. For 11 cases, annual settlements have not been filed for two years. In addition, a settlement has not been filed for another estate since January 9, 1995.

Section 473.540, RSMo 1994, requires settlements to be filed annually. Timely settlements are necessary for the court to properly oversee the administration of these cases and lessens the possibility that errors or misuse of funds will go undetected.

WE RECOMMEND the Public Administrator file annual settlements on a timely basis as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

I agree and will attempt to make improvements in this area. However, it is very difficult due to the size of my caseload and lack of available staff and time to complete and file all settlements and reports in a timely manner.

10. Health Center

A. During our review of the health center's personnel records, we noted the following concerns:

1) Employees keep track of their own leave balances and record leave activity on their time sheets; however, the health center's master leave records have not been updated since 1997. In addition, leave records indicate four employees were allowed to accumulate vacation leave beyond the maximum allowed by the health center's personnel policy. To ensure that leave balances are accurate and employees are treated equitable, leave time earned and taken should be recorded on a timely basis and the health center should follow the personnel policy regarding the maximum accumulation of vacation leave.

2) The health center has a policy that prohibits employees from being compensated for accrued compensatory time upon termination of employment. Any compensatory time accrued will be lost upon termination. This policy may not comply with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). In addition, one employee had an accumulated compensatory time balance of 381 hours at December 31, 1998. The FLSA provides that covered employees may accumulate up to 240 hours of compensatory time and amounts greater than that are to be compensated in pay.

   The health center should take steps to address the excess compensatory time balances and establish compensatory time procedures to ensure compliance with the FLSA.

3) Health center employees are required to complete time sheets; however, supervisory approval is not documented on the time sheets. Employee time sheets should include documentation of supervisory approval to ensure all salary payments are based upon hours actually worked.

B. The health center's general fixed asset records need improvement as follows:

1) The property records do not include the health center's land, building, and building improvements.

2) Additions of fixed assets are not always recorded as they occur. Our review noted at least three items purchased during the audit period had not been recorded on the records. In addition, the health center does not reconcile fixed asset purchases to additions to the property records to ensure all applicable items are added to the property records.

3) Property records are not maintained in a manner which identifies yearly additions, deletions, and year-end balances.

Adequate general fixed asset records are necessary to safeguard the assets and provide a basis for proper insurance coverage.

Conditions similar to Parts A.1. and B. were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Health Center Board of Trustees:

A.1. Ensure the master leave records are updated monthly and discontinue the practice of allowing employees to accrue leave beyond the maximum levels established by the personnel policy.

2. Take steps to address the excess compensatory leave balances and establish policies to ensure compliance with FLSA.

3. Require documentation of supervisory approval on all time sheets.

B.1. Include the cost of land, buildings, and building improvements on the property records.

2. Record all additions of fixed assets as they occur and ensure general fixed asset purchases are reconciled periodically to additions to the property records.

3. Maintain property records in a manner that beginning balances, additions, and deletions can be reconciled to year-end balances.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Health Center Administrator provided the following responses:

A.1. We are currently updating our master leave records and plan to discuss our leave policy with the board.

2. We will review the current policy with the board.

3. I will start initialing all time sheets to indicate my approval.

B. These recommendations have already been implemented.

11. Emergency 911

A. The Emergency 911 Board purchased a new vehicle in August 1997, which the 911 Administrator uses to commute between home and work. The board indicated the administrator is on call 24 hours a day for emergency situations; however, no vehicle usage records are kept and there are no records which distinguish commuting mileage from business-related mileage. From August 1997 to June 1999, approximately 44,000 miles were incurred on the vehicle.

Internal Revenue Service (IRS) reporting guidelines indicate personal commuting mileage is a reportable fringe benefit. Furthermore, IRS guidelines require the full value of the provided vehicle to be reported if the employer does not require the submission of detailed logs that distinguish between business and personal usage. Because procedures have not been established to ensure the IRS regulations are followed, the board may be subject to penalties and/or fines for failure to report all taxable benefits.

B. Time sheets are not prepared to document actual hours worked. Time sheets or time records are necessary to document payroll expenditures and to ensure compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).

C. Some checks were not issued in numerical sequence. In addition, voided checks were not retained. To ensure all checks are accounted for, checks should be issued in numerical sequence. If a check is voided, this should be indicated and the check should be mutilated and retained.

D. The Emergency 911 Board's general fixed asset records did not reflect the cost of the items. In addition, the vehicle used by the 911 Administrator was not included in the records. Adequate general fixed asset records are necessary to safeguard the assets and provide a basis for proper insurance coverage.

WE RECOMMEND the Emergency 911 Board:

A. Comply with IRS guidelines for reporting fringe benefits related to commuting in the official vehicle. In addition, the board should establish a written policy for the 911 Administrator regarding the appropriate use of the vehicle for commuting purposes and ensure records are kept which distinguish commuting and business mileage.

B. Require all employees to prepare monthly time sheets.

C. Issue checks in numerical order and retain voided checks.

D. Record the cost of all general fixed assets and ensure all items are included on the records.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Director of County 911 Emergency Services provided the following response:

A. We will start maintaining a vehicle mileage log, and any personal miles will be documented on the log and reported as fringe benefits.

B. We have started preparing time sheets.

C. This has been implemented.

D. We have now included the cost of all the items and the vehicle on our inventory list.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Stone County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

STONE COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Stone County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. Finding numbers 2.A., and 3.A., are omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. County Expenditures

   A. The county paid $134,375 to the local chamber of commerce for marketing campaigns to promote tourism. These payments were not supported by written contracts or documentation of the chamber's actual expenditures.

   B. The county paid $8,329 from the Children's Trust/Abuse Victims Fund to a local domestic violence shelter without obtaining service contracts or documentation of the use of funds.

   C. The county did not obtain bids or ensure all efforts to obtain bids were adequately documented for purchases totaling approximately $369,500.

   D. Fuel usage was not reconciled to the fuel purchases.

   E. The county entered into a written agreement with an attorney to provide legal services to the county without evaluating the cost effectiveness of employing a salaried attorney to perform regular on-going duties handled by the outside attorney.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. Obtain periodic information from the chamber of commerce regarding increases in tourists directly related to the county's marketing campaigns to help determine the propriety of county funds spent on these marketing campaigns. If the county determines these services are desirable and beneficial, the County Commission should obtain written contracts for all payments made to the chamber which provide the county a means of monitoring the use of the county's funds.

   B. Enter into a written contract with the domestic violence shelter regarding the services provided by the shelter.

   C. Solicit bids for all purchases in accordance with state law and maintain documentation of bids. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the official commission minutes should reflect the necessitating circumstances.

   D. Reconcile fuel purchases to fuel usage and investigate any differences.

E. Analyze whether employing a salaried attorney would be cost beneficial to the county.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

C. Partially implemented. Our review noted four purchases during the current audit period totaling $31,715 which were not bid. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

A. The county did not have an adequate password system or procedures to restrict access to the computer system used by the County Clerk and the County Treasurer.
B. Computer usage logs are not generated and reviewed for the computer system.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Implement a password system which restricts employee access. Passwords should be kept confidential and should be changed periodically.

B. Require computer usage be reviewed to ensure access has been restricted to appropriate job assignments.

Status:

A. Implemented.

C. The County Collector allowed his employees and other courthouse employees to cash personal checks from tax receipts.

D. There appeared to be no statutory authority for the County Collector to collect a $15 fee for non-sufficient funds checks.

E. The County Collector did not correctly compute commissions and fees withheld from property taxes for the Blue Eye School District. An incorrect ratio was used when computing commissions and fees for the effect of Proposition C, and as a result, $1,670 was over withheld from the school district.

Recommendation:

The County Collector:

A. Indicate the method of payment received on each tax statement issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

B. Record and deposit all receipts immediately upon receipt.

C. Discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from tax receipts.

D. Discontinue collecting the $15 nonsufficient funds check fee.

E. And the County Commission authorize the payment of $1,000 from the General Revenue Fund and $670 from the Assessment Fund to the Blue Eye School District. In addition, the County Collector should ensure future Proposition C commissions are computed correctly.

The County Assessor:

A.1. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and retain all copies of voided receipt slips.

2. Issue receipt slips only when monies are received and discontinue using receipt slips as billing statements.

13. Senior Citizens Service Board

A. A member of the Senior Citizens Service Board (SCSB) was appointed treasurer and served as custodian of the Senior Citizens Service Fund. There was no statutory authority which allowed the board to maintain custody of this fund.

B. Budgets prepared by the SCSB did not adequately reflect the board's anticipated financial condition for the three years ended December 31, 1996. Appropriations were budgeted to use all available resources.

Recommendation:

The Senior Citizens Service Board:

A. Turn over custody of the Senior Citizens Service Fund to the County Treasurer.

B. Estimate expenditures as closely as possible to the anticipated actual amounts to more accurately reflect the board's financial condition.

Status:

A. Not implemented. The SCSB and the County Commission believe the funds should remain in the custody of the SCSB Treasurer. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Partially implemented. The board no longer budgets to use all available resources; however, budgeted expenditures were still not reasonable for the current audit period. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

STONE COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1851, the county of Stone was named after William Stone, a pioneer judge of Taney County. Stone County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Thirty-Ninth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Galena.

Stone County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative dutie in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. AUDIT REPORT

HARRISON COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-72
September 3, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Harrison, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Harrison County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

- During 1997 and 1998, Prosecuting Attorney and Sheriff's fees totaling $105,940 were collected and deposited to the General Revenue Fund. The audit questioned whether these amounts should have been paid to the schools as fines, given applicable court procedures and that the respective sections of law had been repealed effective July of 1997. The Court responded that this has now been addressed according to statutes and the County Commission responded that they would work with the schools to resolve this.

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve bidding and budgetary procedures. The audit also suggested improvements to accounting controls of the Circuit Clerk, Sheriff and Public Administrator.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Harrison County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Harrison County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Harrison County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 30, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Harrison County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Harrison County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 30, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Harrison County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Local Emergency Planning Committee Fund	1997
Disaster Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk's Interest Fund	1997
Associate Circuit Interest Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
General Revenue Fund	1998
Domestic Violence Fund	1997
Crestview Nursing Home Fund	1997
Bond #2 Fund	1998
Health Center Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

Although Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, requires a balanced budget, a deficit balance was budgeted in the 911 Fund for the year ended December 31, 1997.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Health Center Fund	1998
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk's Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Interest Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by commercial insurance provided through a surety bond or by collateral securities held by an agent of the county in the county's name.

The Health Center Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by an agent of the Health Center Board.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $131,547 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $54,922. As of December 31, 1998, $26,002 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

HARRISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Harrison County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Harrison County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Harrison County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Harrison County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Harrison County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Harrison County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

HARRISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Harrison County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 30, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Harrison County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 30, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Harrison County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for audits performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Budgets and Published Financial Statements

A. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires preparation of annual budgets for all county funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year. By preparing budgets or obtaining budgets for all county funds, the County Commission would be able to more effectively evaluate all county resources.

B. For the year ended December 31, 1997, budgeted expenditures in the 911 Fund exceeded budgeted revenues plus beginning balances resulting in a budgeted deficit of $32,601.

Article VI, Section 26(a) of the Missouri Constitution prohibits deficit budgeting and Section 50.740, RSMo 1994 requires a balanced budget.

C. Warrants were issued in excess of approved budgeted expenditures in the following funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998:

	Year Ended December 31,
Fund	1998	1997
General Revenue	$ 7,463	N/A
Domestic Violence	N/A	270
Crestview NH	N/A	22,485
Bond #2	18,094	N/A
Health Center	N/A	74,559

It was ruled in State Ex. Rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo.1122, 273 SW2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials.

If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's Office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend the budget.

D. The approved budget documents did not adequately project the anticipated disbursements of the Special Road and Bridge Fund for the two years ended December 31, 1998, as follows:

Year Ended	Disbursements
December 31	Budget	Actual
1998	$ 2,483,801	1,170,358
1997	2,346,943	1,339,831

The County Commission indicated that they have tried to budget to allow for unanticipated emergencies.

Overestimating disbursements results in an unreasonable anticipated ending cash balance and the loss of the use of the budget as a management planning tool and as a control over disbursements.

For the budget documents to be of maximum assistance to the County Commission and to adequately inform county residents of the county's operations and current financial position, the budgets should accurately reflect resources on hand, reasonable estimates of receipts and disbursements, and the anticipated ending cash balances.

E. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required. Section 50.800, RSMo 1994, provides that the financial statements are required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for all county funds. For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

Conditions A, C, D, and E were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Ensure budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds.

B. Refrain from approving budgeted expenditures in excess of available monies.

C. And the Health Center Board not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures.

D. Estimate disbursements more reasonably.

E. And the Health Center Board ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission responded that:

A-E. These will be done.
The Health Center responded that:

C. We concur. Budgets will be amended as required.

E. There was a financial statement printed; however, it was not the correct form. We will ensure the financial statement is correctly published in the future.

2. Expenditures

During our review of expenditures the following concerns were noted:

A. Some bids were not advertised by the county. Examples of the items purchased without advertisement are as follows:

Item	Amount
Bridge steel	$12,928
Crawler dozer	38,000
Bridge repairs	7,297
Bridge pilings	12,446
Used truck and trailer	8,750

Section 50.660, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires advertisement of bids for all purchases of $4,500 or more.

Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of county resources and help assure the county that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidder. In addition, competitive bidding ensures all parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in county business. Documentation of bids should always be retained as evidence that the county's established purchasing procedures as well as statutory requirements are followed.

B. The County Commission approved some payments to vendors, including payments for gravel delivered to townships, without requiring acknowledgment of receipt of goods or services. As a result, the county does not always have adequate assurance it is paying for actual goods and services received.

To ensure the validity and propriety of expenditures, adequate supporting documentation, including acknowledgment that the specific goods and/or services were in fact received, should be maintained for all payments to vendors.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission :

A. Ensure that bids are advertised in accordance with statutes.

B. Require acknowledgment of receipt of goods and/or services prior to payment.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission responded that:

A. Bids will be advertised when necessary.

B. This has been implemented.

3. Property Tax Books and Controls

Our review of the county's property tax system noted the following concerns:

A. The County Clerk does not maintain an account book with the Ex Officio County Collector (EOC).

An account book would summarize all taxes charged to the EOC, monthly collections, delinquent credits, abatements and additions, and protested amounts and would enable the County Clerk and the County Commission to ensure the amount of taxes charged and credited to the EOC each year is complete and accurate.

B. Court orders for additions and abatements are prepared by the County Clerk and approved by the County Commission once a year.

The timely approval of additions and abatements provides greater assurance that all adjustments to the tax books are proper.

Condition A was noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND:

A. The County Clerk establish and maintain an account book of the EOC's transactions and use the account book to verify the EOC's annual settlements.

B. The County Commission review and approve all additions and abatements on a more timely basis.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. I will maintain a tax book with the EOC.

B. This will be done.

4. Circuit Clerk and Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds Accounting Procedures

The associate and probate divisions were consolidated with the circuit division on August 1, 1997. During our review of the Circuit Clerk and Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds' accounting procedures the following concerns were noted:

A. Numerous sets of manual receipt slips were in use simultaneously. We noted the following concerns during our review of these receipts:

1) The manual receipts issued for traffic monies received were not prenumbered. To adequately account for all monies received, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received.

2) The manual receipts issued for installment payments were not always issued in order. To adequately account for all receipts, procedures should be established to ensure receipt slips are issued in order and to account for the numerical sequence of all receipt slips.

3) Mode of payment is not always indicated on receipt slips issued and procedures were not established to reconcile amounts received to deposits. As a result of these deficiencies, $440 received on June 24, 1998, was not deposited or posted to case files until September 9, 1998, when it was discovered in the vault. To ensure all collections are properly deposited into the bank account, the mode of payment should be recorded on all receipt slips, and the composition of the receipt slips should be reconciled to the composition of the bank deposits.

B. Accounting duties are not adequately segregated. One clerk is primarily responsible for preparing checks and deposit slips, preparing bank reconciliations, and maintaining the accounting records.

Proper segregation of duties helps ensure that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing receipts from recording and reconciling receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, periodic supervisory reviews of the records should be performed and documented.

C. Fees were not always charged in accordance with statute. During the two years ended December 31, 1998, unauthorized Prosecuting Attorney and Sheriff's fees totaling $105,940 were collected and deposited in the General Revenue Fund.

Through September 1998, a Prosecuting Attorney fee of twenty-five percent of the bond amount and a Sheriff's fee of $8 were deducted from all bonds posted at the weigh station. According to the court, these fees were based upon Sections 56.310 and 57.300, RSMo 1994. The circuit deemed these bonds as forfeited unless the defendant appeared in court. However, when the defendant posted the bond, he was required to sign a form which stated that the bond would be disbursed as if the person had been found guilty of the charge unless the defendant appeared in court. This appears to be an application of the bond instead of a forfeiture. These Prosecuting Attorney and Sheriff fees, along with court costs, were deducted from the posted bond and any remaining funds were treated as fines. While these fees were deducted before the fine amounts were calculated, there is no apparent statutory authority allowing this and it appears the circuit court should have paid these monies to schools as fines. Additionally these sections of law were repealed effective July 1, 1997.

D. The Circuit Clerk has not determined the interest earned on the child support account attributable to the state IV-D Program since the account became interest-bearing. Through December 31, 1998, the total amount of interest earned on the child support account, was $2,373.

Section 13 CSR 30-3.010 (5)(f) of the Code of State Regulations requires that when a child support account earns interest, the portion attributable to state IV-D child support monies is to be remitted monthly to the state. To comply with the state requirements, the Circuit Clerk should determine and disburse the portion of IV-D interest to the state on a monthly basis.

E. Various financial records could not be located. The Circuit Clerk and Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds could not locate bank statements and canceled checks for various months, as well as duplicate copies of invoices, and one case file. Proper record retention is necessary to ensure the validity of transactions and provide an audit trail.

F. During our review of expenditures from the Circuit Clerk's Interest Fund we noted some expenditures were not advertised for bid in accordance with state laws. Examples of expenditures which were not advertised for bid were the purchase of computer equipment for $5,938 and remodeling expenses in the amount of $10,305.

Section 50.660, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires the advertisement for bids for all purchases of $4,500 or more from any one person, firm, or corporation during any period of ninety days.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk and Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds:

A.1. Ensure that prenumbered receipt slips are issued for all monies received.

2. Issue receipt slips in numerical order and ensure that procedures are established to account for the numerical sequence of all receipt slips.

3. Ensure that the mode of payment is recorded on all receipt slips and that the composition of the receipt slips is reconciled to the composition of the bank deposits. Procedures should also be established to ensure that all receipts are promptly posted to a corresponding case file.

B. Segregate accounting duties to the extent possible or ensure periodic supervisory reviews are performed and documented.

C. Review this situation with the Circuit Judge and ensure that any fees collected in error are correctly disbursed.

D. Determine and disburse the portion of IV-D interest due to the state on a monthly basis.

E. Exercise greater care in the retention of records.

F. Advertise bids in accordance with state statutes.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A.1.
&2. This has been implemented.

3. This procedure has been implemented.

B. This is being implemented with cross training and periodic supervisory reviews.

C. This matter has been addressed according to Statutes.

D. This has been implemented.

E. Steps have been taken to ensure safekeeping of all records.

F. Bids will be advertised according to statutes.

The County Commission responded:

C. This appears to have been a gross oversight on somebody's part. We will work with the schools to resolve this.

5. Sheriff's Records and Procedures

A. During our review of seized property, we noted the following concerns:

1) The Sheriff's Office maintains a listing of seized property within each case file; however, a complete centralized listing of all seized property in the custody of the Sheriff's department is not maintained.

A centralized detailed listing of all seized property in the custody of the Sheriff should be maintained. The listing should include applicable information such as case name and number, persons involved, the date the property was seized, a description of the property, current location of the property, the date the property was released or disposed of, and the method of disposal, if applicable.

2) The Sheriff stores several old guns that do not have any tags identifying the case number or the original owner. According to the Sheriff, these guns were not tagged when he came into office January 1, 1997. The owners of the untagged property cannot be identified nor can the seized property be identified to a specific case.

Section 542.301(5), RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, states seized property may be ordered sold or destroyed by a judge if not claimed within one year from the date of seizure. Proper disposal of such items would eliminate the significant risks of unauthorized access, use, or theft, and the related potential liability of the county for such possible improper access or use.

B. The Sheriff's department houses prisoners for other counties and cities in the county jail and bills and collects amounts for these services from the various entities. Our review of these services indicated the following areas where improvements are needed:

1) The Sheriff does not maintain a log of amounts billed to or collected from the various entities. In addition an independent reconciliation of the Sheriff's billing records and payments received by the County Treasurer is not performed.

The Sheriff should maintain a log of amounts billed to and collected from the various entities. Also, an independent reconciliation of the Sheriff's billing records and payments received by the County Treasurer should be performed.

2) No written agreements exist with these various entities for these services. Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, states all contracts entered into by the county shall be in writing and shall be signed by each of the parties or their agents.

Conditions A.1. and B. were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Sheriff:

A.1. Maintain a centralized detail listing of all seized property received including information such as a description, persons involved, current location, case number, and disposition of such property. Additionally, all items should be tagged with a description, case name, and an inventory control number.

2. Make timely and appropriate dispositions of seized property.

B.1. Maintain a log of amounts billed to the various entities for board of prisoners. In addition, an independent reconciliation of the Sheriff's billing records and the payments received by the County Treasurer should be performed.

2. Obtain written agreements for boarding prisoners from the various entities.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A.1. This is currently being done.

2. We will obtain a court order and dispose of these items.

B. This has been implemented.

6. Public Administrator

The Public Administrator acts as the court appointed personal representative for approximately 39 wards of the Probate Court. Our review of the Public Administrator's records revealed the following concerns:

A. The Public Administrator pays attorneys from the funds of the various estates to provide various services, including the filing of all of her annual settlements. We noted several attorneys did not file invoices to support their requests for fees. As a result, we were unable to determine whether such payments were reasonable or necessary.

Section 473.543, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires the public administrator to have supporting documentation for all disbursements. Invoices should be submitted that describe the services provided, the date they were performed, and the number of hours worked. Without such documentation, it is difficult to assess the reasonableness of costs charged to and paid by clients of the Public Administrator.

B. Real estate owned by the various estate/wards was not accounted for on the settlements. For settlements to accurately present the activity and status of a particular case, all assets should be properly reflected on the settlements.

C. Some annual settlements were not filed timely. We noted three settlements due April 1995, December 1996, and February 1997, where not filed until July 1997, December 1997, and May 1998, respectively. Section 473.540, RSMo 1994, requires settlements to be filed annually.

Failure to file settlements on a timely basis increases the risk that errors or misuse of funds could go undetected.

Conditions A, B, and C were noted in our prior audit report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Public Administrator:

A. Obtain supporting documentation for all disbursements made on behalf of the estates.

B. List any real estate as assets on the settlements.

C. File annual settlements on a timely basis.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. This will be done.

B&C. These have been implemented.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Harrison County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

The County Clerk did not maintain an account book with the Ex Officio County Collector (EOC) in accordance with state law.

Recommendation:

The County Clerk establish and maintain an account book of the EOC's transactions and the County Commission make use of the account book to verify the EOC's annual settlements.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

5. Special Poor Fund

The Special Poor Fund had a large cash balance and no documentation was available to show that the county had made the necessary efforts to effectively distribute these monies to the poor and needy of the county.

Recommendation:

The County Commission make a greater effort to disburse the accumulated monies in the Special Poor Fund in accordance with the stated wishes of the donating trust fund.

Status:

Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

6. Telephone Commissions

The former Sheriff indicated that telephone commissions had been used to purchase personal items for the prisoners and office equipment for the jail; however, no documentation was retained to support these disbursements. The County Commission indicated that they had reviewed the equipment at the jail and were sure it was not purchased with county funds.

Recommendation:

The County Commission require the former Sheriff to provide documentation of how the monies were spent.

Status:

Partially implemented. STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

HARRISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1845, the county of Harrison was named after Albert G. Harrison, a member of the U.S. Congress. Harrison County is a township-organized, third-class county and is part of the 3rd Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Bethany.

Harrison County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. In addition, the county pays a proportionate share of the salaries of other circuit court-appointed employees. Harrison County's share of the 3rd Judicial Circuit's expenses is 30.46 percent.

At December 31, 1998, the county had bonds payable of $2,664,832 consisting of general obligation bonds dated August 1, 1989, and revenue bonds dated June 25, 1990 and September 15, 1996.

The 1989 bonds were issued in the original amount of $1,000,000. Bonds mature annually on August 1. Interest is due seimannually on February 1 and August 1. These bonds were issued to pay the county's share of the cost of constructing the Harrison County Lake. The project is a joint effort of the county, the City of Bethany, the West Fork of Big Creek Watershed Subdistrict, and the U.S. Department of Soil Conservation Service.

Project benefits include flood control, water supply, and recreation. Each participant is responsible for certain project costs and continuing operations of the project. The county's share of the total project costs is about 41 percent. In addition, the county will be responsible for the continuing maintenance of portions of the completed project.

The county's bond costs are financed by a 1/4 of 1 cent sales tax approved by county voters April 5, 1988.

The 1990 revenue bond was issued in the original amount of $1,100,000. Both principal and interest are due annually in installments of $82,060 on January 1. The 1990 bond was issued to refinance a $1,100,000 community facilities loan from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, U.S.D.A. Rural Development. The loan was for making repairs to the existing county-owned Crestview Home Facilities, constructing and furnishing a related residential care facility, and improving the driveway and parking lot. Revenue bond finance costs are to be paid from the facility's operating revenues by the Crestveiw Home Inc. (CHI). The CHI, a not-for-profit corportation, leases the facility from the county.

The 1996 revenue bond was issued in the orginal amount of $975,000. Principal is due October 1. Interest is due semiannually on April and October 1. The 1996 bond was issued for the purpose of extending, improving, furnishing, and equipping the existing county-owned Crestview Home facilities. Revenue bond finance costs are to be paid from the facilities's operating revenues by the CHI.

In the event of default by the CHI, the county would become responsible for assuring that the operation of the county-owned facilities produce gross revenue sufficient to pay the cost of the operation and maintenance of the facilities, to pay the principal and interest on both bonds as and when the same become due, and to fund required reserves.

The county has made the required deposits to the Bond Reserve Funds and the Replacement and Extension Fund.

The annual requirements to amortize all debt outstanding at December 31, 1998 are as follows:

AUDIT REPORT

SULLIVAN COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-71
September 2, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Sullivan, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Sullivan County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

- The audit questioned the financial condition of the Sullivan County Memorial Hospital and the county's handling of tax anticipation notes obtained at the request of the Hospital Board. A related problem of the hospital not meeting its financial obligations to the Internal Revenue Service for employee payroll withholdings and required employer payroll matching contributions was also noted.

The audit recommended improvements in personnel policies and procedures, computer controls and better documentation of actions by the Sullivan County Salary Commission. It further suggested improvements be made by the Sullivan County 911 Board. Also included in the audit are recommendations regarding the Sheriff's accounting controls and procedures and various segments of the consolidated Sullivan County Circuit Court.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Sullivan County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Sullivan County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Sullivan County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 4, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Sullivan County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Sullivan County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Sullivan County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, or the 911 Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Community Development Block Grant Fund	1998 and 1997

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Circuit Clerk's Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Community Development Block Grant Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

Cash includes both deposits and investments. In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of deposits and investments. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions. Investments are securities and other assets acquired primarily for the purpose of obtaining income or profit.

Deposits

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance, by commercial insurance provided through a surety bond, or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The Health Center's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.
The 911 Board's deposits at December 31, 1998, and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or collateral securities held by the board's custodial bank in the board's name.

Investments

The only investment of the various funds at December 31, 1998 and 1997, was owned by the Health Center and was comprised of a repurchase agreement in a reported amount of $29,000 and $55,050, respectively, (which approximated fair value).

This investment was held by the Health Center's custodial bank in the Health Center's name.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $69,146 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $39,640. As of December 31, 1998, $14,864 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

SULLIVAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Sullivan County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
>
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Because Sullivan County expended no noncash awards for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, the schedule includes expenditures of cash awards only.

C. Basis of Accounting

The schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Sullivan County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Sullivan County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Sullivan County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Sullivan County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Sullivan County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

SULLIVAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Sullivan County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Sullivan County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Sullivan County Memorial Hospital Board is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed the independent auditor's report for the two years ended June 30, 1997 and the substantiating working papers. The independent auditor's report for the year ended June 30, 1998 has not been released.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials and the county boards referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Sullivan County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Personnel Policies and Procedures

During our review of the county's personnel policies and procedures, we noted the following concerns:

A. Salaried employees in the Sheriff's Department are not required to submit time sheets.

Documentation of actual time worked and of leave and compensatory time earned, taken, and accumulated balances is necessary to ensure employees are properly compensated and treated equitably, and the county is in compliance with county policies and the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). In addition, time sheets are necessary to protect against any unwarranted claims that might occur. The time records should be prepared by the employee, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed in a central location with the county's payroll records.

B. The county's written personnel policy needs to be updated to properly reflect required work time policies. Our review of employee time sheets showed that the hours worked by various employees varied significantly. In addition, time sheets showed some employees had worked in excess of 40 hours but received no difference in pay for the extra hours.

Further, the county's written personnel policy does not include detailed policies regarding holidays, vacation, sick leave, time and leave reporting, payment of overtime or granting and use of compensatory time, compensation for unused leave upon termination, or additional compensation if an employee declines health insurance.

C. In February 1999, the county hired several dispatchers and began providing services for emergency dispatching (911). A review of the dispatchers' February time sheets showed that regardless of the number of days worked dispatchers were paid a full month's salary. Hours worked during February ranged from 89 to 129 hours. Additionally, some dispatchers' time sheets indicated the employee worked more than forty hours in one week, but did not receive compensation at one and one half times the normal rate as required by the FLSA.

The county's written policy should be expanded to address situations in which overtime may be necessary, document how overtime or compensatory time will be awarded, and ensure compliance with the FLSA. The county should consider consulting with the Department of Labor to determine which employees are exempt from overtime requirements, and incorporate any exemptions noted into the official overtime policy. The official policy should then be applied equally to all employees.

Complete and detailed written policies are necessary to provide guidance to county employees, provide a basis for proper compensation, ensure equitable treatment among employees, and avoid misunderstandings.

Conditions similar to A and B were noted in the prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Require all county employees to complete time sheets which reflect actual time worked. The records should be prepared by employees, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed in a central location with the county's payroll records.

B&C. Revise and expand the county's written personnel policies regarding holidays, vacation, sick leave, time reporting, and payment of overtime for all employees to address all relevant issues and ensure that all policies and procedures are applied equitably and in compliance with the FLSA. In addition, the county should ensure it has appropriately paid overtime at the employee's time and one half rate when required under the FLSA.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We have implemented this recommendation.

B&C. We will revise and expand our written personnel policy manual by using the generic personnel policy available from the Missouri Association of Counties as a guide. We will also pay overtime when required by the FLSA.

2. Tax Anticipation Note

For the last several years the county has been issuing a tax anticipation note at the request of the Sullivan County Memorial Hospital Board. Issuance of tax anticipation notes is authorized under Sections 50.070 through 50.140, RSMo 1994. During our review of these transactions, we noted the following concerns:

A. The tax anticipation notes issued by the county did not comply with several requirements of Sections 50.070 thru 50.140, RSMo 1994. In addition, some county officials did not perform certain tasks required by those statutes. The county did not ensure the tax anticipation notes were prepared, signed, sealed, bid, advertised, and registered in accordance with statutory provisions. In the future, the county should comply with all statutory provisions regarding the issuance of tax anticipation notes.

B. The tax anticipation note issued in February 1999 for $185,000 was disbursed to the Sullivan County Memorial Hospital. Section 50.090, RSMo 1994, states the note ". . . when issued shall be in proportion to the total estimated revenue as follows: Not to exceed ten percent in any one month in any year . . ." The total anticipated tax revenue was estimated to be $240,000 for the 1999 tax year. Through February, the maximum allowable issuance was $48,000. As a result, the issuance apparently exceeded the statutory amount by $137,000. See MAR No. 8 for additional findings regarding the hospital.

By not handling the tax anticipation notes in compliance with statutory provisions the county may be exposed to additional liability if the note is not paid by the hospital.

The county should ensure tax anticipation notes are prepared, signed, sealed, bid, advertised, registered, and issued in accordance with statutory provisions.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission ensure tax anticipation notes are prepared, signed, sealed, bid, advertised, registered, and issued in accordance with statutory provisions.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

Any future tax anticipation notes will be issued in accordance with the statutes. Distributions of the tax anticipation funds will also be made in accordance with the statutes and limited to no more than 10% per month.

3. Officials' Salaries

The Sullivan County Salary Commission has the statutory authority to set salaries of the county's elected officials. County officials' salaries are based upon the county's assessed valuation, population, training attendance, or a combination of these factors.

At both the 1995 and 1997 meetings, the Salary Commission authorized salaries of elected officeholders to be raised during the term of office for changes in the county's assessed valuation. A review of the various statutes regarding officials' salaries indicates that increases due to changes in the assessed valuation factor should be based upon the assessed valuation in the year next preceding the computation. Instead, the Salary Commission used the current year's assessed valuation rather than the preceding year's assessed valuation to determine the maximum allowable salaries. In addition, salary changes due to increases in the assessed valuation appear to be effective on the official's year of incumbency (the beginning of the next term).

The Salary Commission had no documentation to show why it used the current assessed valuation factors or the basis it used to make the increases at a time other than the year of incumbency. No written legal opinion was obtained to support the appropriateness of the timing or the amount of the increases.

To provide written documentation of the amounts approved to be paid to the various officials and the legal basis of the decisions made, records of each meeting should include the basis upon which any decisions were made and a copy of each legal opinion. Such documentation would help to ensure that any questions which may arise later concerning the approved salaries can be readily resolved.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission consult with the Prosecuting Attorney regarding correcting the erroneous salary payments. In addition, the Salary Commission minutes should include the basis upon which any decisions are made and meeting records should always document the calculations and legal opinions for actions taken.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will consult with the Prosecuting Attorney and in the future request him to issue a written opinion on the decisions of the salary commission.

4.	Computer Controls

Access to the computer programs such as the property tax, payroll, and disbursement system are not adequately restricted. Personnel in the County Ex Officio Collector's, the County Clerk's, and County Assessor's offices use their office ID codes and passwords to access the systems. However the IDs and passwords are not changed periodically to ensure that they remain confidential. Thus the IDs and passwords do not effectively limit access to the various programs and data files to only those individuals who need access to perform job responsibilities. The lack of an effective system of user passwords and IDs may allow unauthorized changes to be made to tax books, payroll records, or disbursement systems. For example, changes could be made to assessed valuation amounts, employee pay rates, or payable amounts.

While these county systems provide listings of record changes and transactions to allow monitoring of changes made, an effective access control system using both user IDs and confidential passwords would provide increased accountability and improved access control.

To establish individual responsibility as well as help preserve the integrity of computer programs and data files, access to computerized records should be limited to those persons who need to use the information. A system of unique IDs and passwords should be used to properly restrict access. These IDs and passwords should be known only to the employee to which it is assigned and should be changed periodically.

This condition was noted in the prior audit report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission consider establishing improved procedures to restrict access to computer files, through the use of unique IDs and passwords, to only those individuals who need to use the information.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will require the system users to change passwords regularly. In addition, we are in the process of acquiring a new financial software system that will require the system users to change passwords regularly.

5. Consolidated Circuit Court Accounting Controls and Procedures

In April 1997, the offices of the Sullivan County Circuit Clerk and Ex-Officio Recorder of Deeds, the Associate Division, the Probate Division, and the Municipal Division were combined to form the Consolidated Circuit Court of Sullivan County (CCCSC). The court is now composed of the following segments: Circuit Civil, Circuit Criminal, Circuit Child Support, Traffic and Municipal, Probate, and Ex-Officio Recorder. Under the written consolidation agreement, the Circuit Clerk agreed to accept responsibility over all cases, case records, monies, accounting records, papers, and property of the CCCSC and was granted authority over all administrative functions. Starting in May 1998, the Circuit Clerk personally assumed primary responsibility for the handling of child support receipts and payments.

The Circuit Clerk does not appear to have fully complied with his responsibilities under the consolidation agreement and stated that he was not aware that he had any responsibility over the Traffic and Municipal or Probate segments. We noted many significant weaknesses in the internal controls within the various court segments and significant delays in the preparation of deposits, monthly reports, and month end disbursements in several court areas. Some of these problems appeared to be caused at least in part by an uneven allocation of the office workload.

A. A lack of adequate segregation of duties existed in the various individual segments of the consolidated court and resulted in a need for increased supervisory review of the work of each separate deputy clerk. Within each segment, a single deputy clerk was generally responsible for all receipting, deposit preparation, recording all financial transactions, preparation of disbursements checks, monthly reports, and bank reconciliations. The Circuit Clerk did not review work performed in the Traffic, Municipal, or Probate segments and while he indicated some review of the records for the Circuit Civil and Criminal, and Ex-Officio Recorder segments was performed, he did not document any of those reviews.

Because of the significant volume of transactions and monies handled and the lack of segregation of duties of the various deputy clerks, it is important that the Circuit Clerk perform and document periodic reviews of the accounting records, monthly reports, and bank reconciliations for all segments of the consolidated court.

B. The Circuit Clerk failed to make monthly distributions of interest earned on the child support bank account from May 1998 through December 1998. Section 13 CSR 30-3.010 (5) (f) of the Code of State Regulations requires that when a child support account earns interest, the portion attributable to the state IV-D child support monies is to be remitted monthly to the state. The Circuit Clerk stated that he had not been trained how to allocate and record the interest disbursements on the new MACCS child support automated system. The accumulated interest was distributed in January 1999 after the Circuit Clerk contacted the MACCS help line. The Circuit Clerk should ensure interest is distributed as required.

A similar condition was noted in the prior audit report.

C. Within the Circuit Civil segment, monies were not deposited timely, open item listings were not prepared during the audit period, an old bank account was not closed, long term outstanding checks were not resolved timely, ledgers or other records of accumulated interest were not maintained, accrued case costs were not monitored, and old cases were not followed up on a timely basis. The deputy circuit civil clerk resigned her job in November 1998. Similar problems had been noted in our last two audit reports.

A new deputy clerk was appointed in November 1998 and with the assistance of a part time clerk began a review of the case and accounting records. During that process, $1,268 in the bank account was identified as interest, balances totaling $5,031 related to various cases with no activity were identified and were to be returned to appropriate parties. In addition, accrued case costs totaling over $8,000 were determined to be uncollectible and were waived by order of the Judge and various improvements were being developed.

The Circuit Clerk should continue to ensure the case records, accounting records, and monthly reports including open items listings and receivables listings are prepared and maintained on a timely basis.

D. Within the Circuit Criminal segment, we noted on February 4, 1999, the deputy clerk was holding five checks, totaling over $17,000. These checks had not been receipted nor deposited. Two of the checks had been held for nearly two months and the other three had been held at least two weeks.

The Circuit Clerk should ensure all monies received are immediately recorded on the one-write receipting system and deposited timely and intact.

E. Within the Traffic and Municipal segments, we noted the following concerns:

1) The Circuit Clerk had not closed an old bank account, did not require a summary open items (liability) listing to be prepared and fully reconciled to the accounting records, and did not timely resolve unidentified monies.

Even after a replacement bank account had been opened, the old account continued to remain open over three years later and contained over $1,800 in unidentified monies and monies related to long term outstanding checks that should have been identified and properly paid out. In addition, the newer account contains $1,690 in unidentified monies.

The deputy clerk did not prepare a summary open items listing and did not include interest or the balance of the old bank account discussed above as reconciling items. The deputy clerk stated a significant portion of the unidentified monies relate to activity before the current computer system was activated in 1993, nearly five years ago.

As of March 1999, the Judge prepared orders to distribute the unidentified monies. A complete open items listing should be prepared and fully reconciled to the book and bank balances each month to promptly identify any errors in receipting, disbursing, or recording that require investigation and correction.

The Circuit Clerk should ensure old bank accounts are closed timely, open items listings are properly prepared and reconciled, and any monies remaining unidentified be investigated and distributed timely.

2) The November and December 1997 disbursements to the Department of Revenue (DOR) were not submitted in three separate checks as required and it took the deputy clerk three months to reissue the payments correctly and eight months to fully correct the accounting records. During those eight months, the checks were inappropriately carried on the bank reconciliation as outstanding checks. The Circuit Clerk should ensure disbursements are made as required, bank reconciliations are properly prepared, and errors in the accounting records are corrected promptly.

3) In December 1998, the part time clerk incorrectly disbursed $500 to the Prosecuting Attorney. The error was identified by the Prosecuting Attorney who returned the check to the court for correction. As of March 1, 1999, the deputy clerk had not corrected the accounting records of the court nor had she paid a corrected amount to the prosecutor. In addition, the clerk was unable to locate the check returned by the prosecutor. As is evidenced by the lost check, delays cause costly additional errors. The Circuit Clerk should ensure errors in disbursements are corrected promptly.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk take a much more proactive approach in looking for and resolving problems as they occur since delays in addressing and correcting problems often create additional and costly problems and increase the difficulty with which problems are resolved. In addition, we recommend the Circuit Clerk:

A. Perform periodic documented reviews, and ensure timely and accurate preparation of the case and accounting records, monthly reports of distributions, open items listings, and bank reconciliations for all areas of the court.

B. Disburse the child support, IV-D interest to the state on a timely basis.

C. Ensure the Circuit Civil court case records, accounting records, and monthly reports including open items listings and receivables listings are prepared and maintained on a timely basis.

D. Ensure all Circuit Civil court monies received are immediately recorded and deposited timely and intact.

E.1. Ensure, within the Traffic and Municipal area of the court, old bank accounts are closed timely, open items listings are prepared and fully reconciled, and any unidentified monies are investigated and distributed timely.

2. Ensure distributions paid to the DOR are made as required, bank reconciliations are properly prepared, and errors in the accounting records are corrected promptly.

3. Ensure errors in disbursements are corrected promptly.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A,C,
D&E. These recommendations have been implemented.

B. This recommendation will be implemented.

The Associate Circuit Judge provided the following comments: Although no written response is required from me regarding your audit report on the Circuit Clerk's Consolidated Court for the 1997 and 1998 years, I wanted to take the opportunity to provide my thoughts. First of all, just starting my office on January 1, 1999, I was pleased to have the services of your staff available to me during my first two months to assist in the transition. Their advice was especially useful considering the fact that the two civil clerks had just recently started in their positions and the criminal clerk handling the circuit level cases only had a few months experience handling those cases.

Due to your auditors' efforts combined with countless hours by the civil clerks, over $8,000 in uncollectible court costs dating back to the mid 1970's was identified and waived. We have now implemented a better system of checks and balances to keep tabs on court costs after the case has been disposed of and are issuing contempt citations and warrants for those willfully refusing to pay costs.

The five checks totaling over $17,000 were reimbursements to the county from the state for costs of housing prisoners. As mentioned earlier, the clerk now handling this task is new to the task and was simply awaiting instructions on how to deposit and disburse the monies. Thanks to the help of your field auditors she now is aware of the proper procedures and has obtained many more thousands of dollars in reimbursements which had not been applied for previously.

I am sure that many of the other problems noted in your audit are simply growing pains being experienced as a result of the consolidation of the associate and circuit clerks offices and the Circuit Clerk is continuing to make improvements in this transition.

6. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

During our review of the Sheriff's accounting records and procedures, we noted the following concerns:

A. The duties of receipting, recording, depositing, disbursing, and preparation of monthly reports and bank reconciliations are performed primarily by one deputy. The Sheriff does not perform supervisory reviews of the deputy's work. Given the lack of segregation of duties, the Sheriff should perform and document periodic review of the deputy's work including the accounting records, monthly reports, and bank reconciliations.

B. Deposits are not always made daily or when amounts on hand exceed $100 and receipts are not always deposited intact. For instance, we noted $20 for gun permits had been received on November 4, 1998 but not deposited until November 17, 1998 while a deposit had been made on November 9, 1998. Deposits should be made daily or when receipts on hand exceed $100 to ensure assets are adequately safeguarded and to reduce the potential for loss, theft, or misuse of funds.

C. We noted the entries of unpaid fees in the receivables records do not indicate which agency is to collect the fee for the Sheriff. Most of the fees are due from the Sullivan County Consolidated Circuit Court. However, some fees are also due from other courts and Sheriffs in the region and from out of state. Without a listing of sources and amounts due from the various parties, the Sheriff has less assurance that all fees will be collected. The Sheriff should maintain a complete receivables listing, periodically review the list, and follow up on past due amounts.

WE RECOMMEND the Sheriff:

A. Perform and document periodic reviews of the deputy's work including the accounting records, monthly reports, and bank reconciliations.

B. Ensure deposits are made daily or when receipts on hand exceed $100. In addition, the Sheriff should ensure receipts are deposited intact.

C. The Sheriff should maintain a complete fees receivables listing, periodically review the list and follow up on past due amounts.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. I will periodically review accounting records, monthly reports and bank reconciliations.

B. I will ensure deposits are made daily or when receipts exceed $100 and will ensure receipts are deposited intact.

C. I will maintain records of fees receivable, periodically review the list, and follow up on past due amounts.

7. Sullivan County 911 Board

In August 1996 under Section 190.335, RSMo 1994, the voters of Sullivan County passed a one-half cent local sales tax for the purpose of providing central dispatching of fire protection, emergency ambulance service, including emergency telephone services, and other emergency services. The Sullivan County Commission appointed members to the Sullivan County 911 Board, and the county acted as fiscal agent for the 911 Board from January 1997 until December 1998. Total expenditures by the county from the 911 Board Fund during the audit period exceeded $150,000. During our review of the 911 Board, we noted the following concerns:

A. Section 190.335, requires the appointed board to serve only until the successor board is elected at the next general election. However, the 911 Board failed to call for the election of the successor board at the general election in November 1998. The 911 Board stated they were not made aware of the election requirement. Because the election was not held, all significant planning and operational decisions have been made by an appointed rather than an elected board. The 911 Board should call for the election of the successor board at the next general election.

B. The 911 Board has not entered into written contracts with the county or the fire and ambulance districts and cities which will receive 911 services. In January 1999, the 911 Board and county entered into an oral agreement under which the county would provide employees and administrative services to operate the 911 Dispatch Center. A written agreement is being negotiated. The estimated average annual cost over the next nine years to the 911 Board exceeds $225,000.

Section 432.070, RSMo 1994 requires all contracts shall be in writing and shall be signed by each of the parties or their agents. Written contracts are necessary to define responsibilities and the duties of the contracting parties. Written agreements should clearly specify the services to be rendered and the manner and amount of compensation. Such written agreements lessen the opportunity for misunderstanding between the parties involved.

C. Under Section 190.335 (7), RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998, the 911 Board is to determine each year no later than September 1, the tax rate for the subsequent year and publish the rate in the minutes. The 911 Board failed to formally establish the tax rate or publish the rate in the minutes as required. The 911 Board should comply with the statutory requirements.

WE RECOMMEND the Sullivan County 911 board and Sullivan County Commission:

A. Call for the election of 911 board officials at the next general election.

B. Enter into written contracts with the county, ambulance and fire districts and cities which will receive 911 services.

C. Establish and publish the tax rate in the minutes as required.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission responded that they will call for the election of the 911 board officials.

The Chairman of the 911 Board responded:

A. We plan to call for the election of the 911 Board at the next general election.

B. We plan to enter into a written contract with all parties including the fire and police departments.

C. We will comply with this recommendation.

8. Hospital Financial Condition and Procedures

The Sullivan County Memorial Hospital is audited annually by an independent certified public accounting (CPA) firm. In its report for the two years ended June 30, 1997, the CPA firm indicated, "factors raise substantial doubt about Sullivan County Memorial Hospital's ability to continue as a going concern." Over recent years the hospital has defaulted on two bond issues and continues to experience significant problems generating revenues adequate to maintain current operations. Because the CPA firm had not yet issued its final report covering the most recent fiscal year ended June 30, 1998, we performed some limited work in review of hospital finances. Our limited review of hospital records and procedures revealed the following significant concerns:

A. The audited deficit fund balance at June 30, 1997 was ($226,000) and the annual net loss was $111,893. A draft audit report prepared by the independent CPA firm and provided to the hospital indicated the preliminary deficit fund balance at June 30, 1998 was ($522,000) and the annual net loss was $296,383. The unaudited and unadjusted financial records indicate an estimated deficit fund balance at December 31, 1998 of ($648,000) and an estimated year to date net loss of $125,000.

According to a hospital official, as of June 30, 1999, the independent auditor has not released the hospital's audit report. With the hospital's financial condition and significant accounts payable it is important to have audited financial statements.

Based upon the preceding information, it is evident the hospital's financial condition is continuing to experience significant decline. The hospital should continue to seek additional revenue sources and continue efforts to significantly reduce operating costs.

B. We noted that hospital management had failed for several months in 1997 and 1998 to submit to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) the monies withheld from employee paychecks for income tax and Social Security or to make the required employer matching contribution for Social Security. As of December 31, 1998, the unpaid liability was approximately $250,000 excluding any interest or penalties. The hospital has been attempting to negotiate a settlement of this debt with the IRS. It was noted that a payment of $185,000 was made to the IRS in February of 1999. The Board of Trustees should continue efforts to fully resolve this matter, closely monitor monthly financial reports, and ensure such problems do not occur in the future.

WE RECOMMEND the Sullivan County Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees:

A. Continue to seek additional revenue sources and continue to reduce operating costs.

B. Continue efforts to fully resolve the liability to the IRS, closely monitor monthly financial reports, and ensure such problems do not occur in the future.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Chairman of the Board of Trustees and the hospital Administrator responded:

A. We are working in several ways to enhance our revenue flows, including the following:

During June 1999 we started a fund raising project with a goal of collecting a total of $400,000. This project is seeking donations from local businesses and individuals, and pledges totaling $105,000 have been received as of August 1, 1999.

We will be seeking passage of a ½ cent county sales tax for the benefit of the hospital in the November 1999 election.

We are in preliminary discussions with larger area hospitals to determine their interest regarding possible affiliation.

We have added a pediatric clinic to our operation and are seeking additional physicians and clinics to affiliate with our hospital which would increase revenues from our diagnostic services.

We are developing preliminary plans for leasing space within our facility for a federally qualified health care clinic which would potentially lower the number of uninsured patients seen in our emergency department.

To further reduce operating costs for drugs and medical supplies, we have joined a larger buying group.

B. The board is reviewing financial reports monthly and is specifically reviewing the balances in the payroll withholding accounts.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Sullivan County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

SULLIVAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Sullivan County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996. Finding number 4 is omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Questionable Payments to an Employee

   A. A county employee was paid $600 per month for rental of equipment owned by the employee, held in the employee's personal possession, and not directly available to the county. The rental arrangement did not appear to serve any legitimate county purpose or provide anything of value to the county. The rental payments were reported on an IRS 1099-MISC form instead of being included on the employee's W-2 as part of his earnings. In addition, the county did not solicit bids for the equipment rental and had no written contract with the employee. In January 1997, the county discontinued the rental payments and increased the employee's salary an equivalent amount.

   B. The employee submitted an inappropriate claim for mileage reimbursement. The county did not review the claim for reasonableness.

   C. The employee received additional compensation for performing additional duties but the rate of pay was not established prior to the work being performed.

   This employee was paid approximately $23,600 and $21,078 from the county during 1996 and 1995, respectively. However, time records showed this employee worked only approximately 86 hours per month.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. Review this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney to see if any restitution should be received from the employee. If no restitution is considered necessary, the county should issue corrected W-2 earnings forms, complying with all related FICA withholding and employer matching requirements. In the future, contracts should be entered only if they are within the scope of authority of the county and provide reasonable value to the county. Every contract should be made in writing and should be signed or executed by the authorized parties. In addition, the county should comply with all bid requirements, particularly in situations that present a conflict of interest. A written job description should be provided for such position and specific work responsibilities should be determined. The compensation established for this position should be reviewed and set at an appropriate amount that reflects the actual value to the county for services actually provided.

B. Ensure that all mileage claims are adequately documented and proper and reasonable prior to approving payment. In addition, the commission should implement additional controls to prevent employee abuse of mileage reimbursements.

C. Review and determine a proper basis for granting additional compensation to the employee, and if necessary, recover any overpayment.

Status:

A, B, & C. Partially implemented. The employee resigned December 30, 1997, shortly after the release of our audit report. No further action was taken by the county. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendations remain as stated above.

2. Open Meetings Compliance and County Bridge Program Priorities

The minutes of the County Commission meetings did not always provide sufficient details of the reasons for action taken and adequate advance notice of meetings and pending issues was not made to the public.

Recommendation:

The County Commission ensure that all significant discussion and actions taken, such as prioritizing county bridge replacement, are discussed and adequately documented in compliance with statutory open meetings requirements. The commission should also ensure agendas of the commission are published or posted in accordance with state law.

Status:

Implemented.

3. County Expenditures and Budgets

A. Bids were not always solicited or advertised by the county nor was bid documentation always retained for various purchases and services.

B. The county did not always issue Forms 1099-MISC as required.

C. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the years ended December 31, 1996 and 1995.

D. Contributions were made to various public service organizations without written contracts specifying the services to be provided or documenting the benefits to the county.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for all items in accordance with Section 50.660, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1996. Documentation of bids solicited and justification for bid awards should be retained by the County Clerk. If it is not practical to obtain bids in a specific instance, or if sole source procurement is necessary, the circumstances should be thoroughly documented.

B. Issue IRS Forms 1099-MISC as required by the Internal Revenue Code.

C. Ensure that budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds in accordance with state law.

D. Refrain from making contributions of public funds unless it is done pursuant to a written contract which specifically states what services are to be provided to the county.

Status:

A. Implemented.

B. Partially implemented. One instance was noted when the county failed to issue a 1099-MISC. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Partially implemented. Budgets were prepared for all funds directly controlled by the County Commission. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

D. Partially implemented. The county has set up contracts covering most organizations but continued to provide funding to the local rural fire department without a written contract. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

5. Personnel Policies and Procedures

A. The County Clerk did not maintain detailed records of vacation or sick leave earned, taken, or accumulated. In addition, the salaried employees in the Sheriff's Department were not required to submit time sheets.

B. The county's overtime policy lacked adequate detail. Payments of overtime and granting of compensatory time were not consistent to all employees. The county's leave policy did not address compensation for accumulated leave upon termination. The county's personnel policy did not address additional compensation for employees declining county paid health insurance.

C. The county did not require documentation of the hours worked by the Deputy County Clerk during her preparation of the county's published financial statements.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Require all county employees to complete time sheets which reflect actual time worked and leave taken. The records should be prepared by employees, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed in a central location with the county's payroll records. In addition, a running balance of leave accumulated and taken for each employee should be maintained by the County Clerk.

B. Revise and expand the county's written personnel policies regarding overtime, leave, and insurance policies to address all relevant issues and ensure that all policies and procedures are applied equitably and in compliance with the FLSA.

C. Require the Deputy County Clerk to include hours worked on the financial statements on her monthly time sheet and compute any overtime compensation based on the total hours worked, in compliance with the FLSA.

Status:

A&B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

C. Implemented.

6. Associate Court Accounting Controls and Procedures

A.1. For the Associate Division, receipts were not deposited on a timely basis and checks were not always restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. For the Probate Division, deposits were typically made once or twice per month.

2. For the Associate Division, there were instances noted in which fine monies were not recorded immediately upon receipt.

B. Open items listings (liabilities) were not prepared during the audit period.

C. Accounting duties were not adequately segregated for the Associate or Probate Divisions.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit Judge:

A.1. Require receipts be deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. In addition, all checks should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

2. Ensure that all monies are promptly receipted and recorded.

B. Require the preparation of a periodic listing of total liabilities and ensure that it is reconciled to the cash balance. In addition, the Associate Circuit Judge should investigate the unidentified monies. Any monies remaining unidentified should be handled in accordance with statutory provisions.

C. Ensure duties are adequately segregated or perform and document periodic reviews of the accounting records maintained and reconciliations prepared.

Status:

A, B, & C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

7. Circuit Clerk's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Accounting duties were not adequately segregated.

B. The Circuit Clerk had not prepared bank reconciliations for various accounts.

C. An open items (liabilities) listing had not been prepared for the General and Interest account since December 1995. At our request, the Circuit Clerk had prepared an open items list that included approximately fifty cases over five years old for which the full balance due had not been collected. The Circuit Clerk had not reviewed or determined the proper disposition of the older inactive cases. In addition, the reconciled bank balance for the Child Support account differed with the related open items balance throughout the audit period.

D. The Circuit Clerk had discontinued use of but did not properly close out an old checking account.

E. The Circuit Clerk had not disbursed interest earned on the portion attributable to state IV-D child support monies since May 1993.

F. Procedures for collecting amounts due on criminal cases were not adequate.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk:

A. Ensure duties are adequately segregated or perform and document periodic reviews of the accounting records maintained and reconciliations prepared.

B. Ensure complete and accurate bank reconciliations are prepared monthly and reconciled to accounting records for all bank accounts.

C. Prepare a complete listing of open items for each account on a monthly basis and reconcile the listing to the cash balance. Any discrepancies should be investigated and resolved. In addition, along with the Circuit Judge, review the older cases and determine the appropriate disposition of inactive cases.

D. Identify the monies in the old checking account and disburse them accordingly so the account may be closed. In addition, old outstanding checks should be reissued for payees who can easily be located. If the payees cannot be located or ownership cannot be determined, amounts should be paid out in accordance with applicable state laws governing unclaimed fees and unclaimed property.

E. Disburse the IV-D interest to the state on a timely basis.

F. Establish procedures for the collection of court costs from defendants on probation. Procedures should include generating periodic reports of cases with balances due and sending billing statements as necessary. A report of cases with delinquent payments and/or significant balances due should be submitted to the Circuit Judge for his review.

Status:

A, B, C&D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

E. Partially implemented. The Circuit Clerk distributed the IV-D interest balance to the state and made regular interest distributions from December 1997 through May 1998. See MAR No. 5.

F. Partially implemented. The Circuit Clerk has started maintaining a listing of cases with amounts due when the defendant has been placed on probation. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

8. Ex Officio County Collector's and Township Collector's Commissions

A. Distributions of the Ex Officio County Collector's commissions and the 1% withholdings for the Assessment Fund were not correct.

B. Commissions for one township collector were incorrectly computed causing distributions to be incorrect.

Recommendation:

A. The EOC review commissions and distributions to ensure the proper amounts were retained and distributed. In addition, current distributions should be reduced to correct for the amounts owed to the General Revenue and Assessment Funds.

B. The County Clerk ensure township collector's commissions are calculated properly. In addition, the county should obtain reimbursement of the $4,305 commission overpayment from the township collector and distribute this amount to the appropriate county funds and political subdivisions.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

9. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. A complete cash control was not maintained. The Sheriff's cash receipts journal accounting record used was not adequate to properly account for all monies handled.

B. Not all monies received were deposited intact or on a timely basis.

C. Prenumbered bond forms were not used.

D.1. Seized property records were not maintained, physical inventories were not conducted, and some seized property items were not tagged.

2. The seized property room contained several old guns that had been held for up to fifteen years. The Sheriff had not taken steps to dispose of the older seized property.

E. The prisoner log records did not identify if the prisoner was held in the Sullivan County jail or some other location, did not indicate the time of the day the prisoner was released, and did not include the number of meals provided daily. Invoices received for providing the meals to the prisoners were not compared to daily prisoner population records for reasonableness. Bids for the provision of prisoner meals were not solicited for 1995 or 1996.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Maintain a complete cash control showing all monies received, disbursements, and cash balances. In addition, ensure that receipts are entered in the cash control in the order they are received.

B. Deposit monies received intact daily or upon the accumulation of $100.

C. Issue prenumbered bond forms and account for the numerical sequence.

D.1. Maintain an inventory record of all seized property received including information such as a description, persons involved, current location, case number, and disposition of such property. Additionally, all items should be tagged with a description, case name, and an inventory control number.

2. Make timely and appropriate dispositions of seized property.

E. Ensure the prisoner log records are accurate and consistently maintained by all personnel and compare prisoner meal records with the vendor's invoice and investigate and reconcile any differences. In addition, the Sheriff and County Commission may want to consider whether the county might have other, less costly alternatives for providing prisoner meals.

Status:

A&B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 6.

C. Implemented.

D.1 Implemented. The Sheriff completed updating the seized property records based upon a physical inventory in March 1999.

D.2. Not implemented. The Sheriff stated he had consulted with the Prosecuting Attorney to determine how to dispose of the seized property but no decision was reached. He stated he would again consult with the Prosecuting Attorney. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

E. Implemented. There was a noted improvement in the prisoner log records and prisoner meals are closely monitored by the person assigned. The Sheriff has been unable to locate a more economical means of providing meals at this time but has continued to seek bids for the service.

10. Prosecuting Attorney's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A system to account for all bad checks received by the Prosecuting Attorney's office as well as the subsequent disposition of these bad checks had not been established.

Recommendation:

The Prosecuting Attorney implement procedures to adequately account for all bad check complaints received, as well as the ultimate disposition of each complaint through the use of sequential numbers assigned to each complaint form and a log to account for the numerical sequence and disposition of each complaint.

Status:

Implemented. The Prosecuting Attorney purchased and implemented the use of a computerized software tracking system for all bad check complaints received after July 1998.

11. Public Administrator's Salary

The County paid the Public Administrator's 1997 salary of $7,000, of which $2,000 was contingent on completion of training, at a rate of $1,000 per month for the first seven months of the year.

Recommendation:

The County Commission and the County Clerk make the salary payments to the Public Administrator only after the compensation has actually been earned.

Status:

Implemented.

12. Health Center

A. The Health Center's cash balance was approximately $368,000 and $306,000 at December 31, 1996, and 1995, respectively. The Health Center did not have any specific short term plan that required the maintenance of such large cash balances.

B. The Health Center contributed monies to public service agencies without written contracts specifying services to be provided or documenting the benefits to the Health Center.

C. Bid documentation was not always retained and reflected in the board meeting minutes. Reasons for cost differences between the original bid amount and the final cost were not always documented. No reasons were documented for having selected the high bidders for some projects.

D. Monies received were not always deposited on a timely basis. Receipts and disbursements were not posted to the accounting records in a timely manner.

E. The Health Center did not require adequate collateral securities to be pledged by the depositary banks.

F. General Fixed asset records had not been updated for purchases or dispositions of property items since March 1995. Not all general fixed asset items had been properly tagged, assigned an inventory control number, or otherwise identified as health center property. Annual physical inventories of all personal property owned by the health center had not been performed.

G. The health center's compensatory time policy required compensatory time to be awarded to covered employees at one and one-half times the normal pay rate for any time worked before 8:30 A.M. or after 4:30 P.M. regardless of the number of hours worked during that week.

Recommendation:

The Health Center board:

A. Review the Health Center's cash balance and consider reducing the tax levy accordingly, or document the intended use of the funds in the annual budget documents.

B. Refrain from making contributions of public funds unless it is done pursuant to written contracts which specifically state what services are to be provided to the health center.

C. Ensure documentation of bids solicited and a justification for bid awards are retained, including changes in the award amounts.

D.1. Deposit all monies daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

2. Post all receipts and disbursements to the accounting records on a timely basis.

E. Ensure the Health Center's depositary institutions pledge collateral securities for all amounts which exceed FDIC coverage.

F.1. Update fixed asset records, and record subsequent fixed asset additions or deletions in a timely manner.

2. All items should be tagged as Health Center property and issued an inventory control number.

3. Perform annual physical inventories of Health Center property in accordance with Section 51.155, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1996. Records should be maintained to document this review.

G. Review the current compensatory time policy and consider whether it should be revised to help control payroll costs.

Status:

A. Implemented. The Health Center board discussed this matter, but did not reduce the tax levy. The 1998 and 1999 budget documents indicated the board expected substantial reductions in the available cash balance at each year end.

B, C, D, E, F.1, & F.2. Implemented.

F.3. Partially implemented. Employees indicated an annual physical inventory was performed however documentation was not retained. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

G. Partially implemented. The board minutes indicated this issue was discussed but the policy was not changed. The administrator stated in March 1999 that this policy was again under review. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

13 General Fixed Asset Records and Procedures

A. An annual inventory of all general fixed assets and quarterly inspections of all lands and buildings had not been conducted as required by Section 51.155, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1996.

B. The County Clerk did not maintain property records in a manner that balances could be reconciled from period to period. That is, records were not such that the beginning balance, plus additions, less dispositions, equals the ending balance.

C.1. Procedures had not been established to ensure that IRS regulations regarding the use of county vehicles by county employees to commute to and from work were followed.

2. Adequate fuel usage records for county owned vehicles were not maintained by the Road and Bridge department.

Recommendation:

A. The County Clerk perform and document inventories and inspections of county-owned property as required by state law.

B. The County Clerk ensure reconciliations are performed between prior year general fixed asset records and current year general fixed asset records which document total additions, deletions, and balances.

C.1. The County Commission require detail logs of vehicle usage and comply with IRS guidelines for reporting fringe benefits related to county-owned vehicles.

2. The County Commission ensure fuel usage logs are maintained for all county vehicles and equipment and ensure fuel used is reconciled to fuel purchases and fuel efficiency. In addition, the county should maintain vehicle and equipment maintenance logs and review these records periodically for reasonableness.

Status:

A. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Partially implemented. The general fixed asset records, based upon inventories performed by other county officials and the Road and Bridge supervisor, were updated in March 1999. The County Clerk stated the recommended reconciliation is now possible and will be performed in the future. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Partially implemented. Vehicle usage, fuel, and maintenance logs are maintained for county vehicles. Road and bridge employees are no longer allowed to use vehicles for personal commuting. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

14. Computer Controls

A. Access to the computer programs such as the property tax, payroll, and disbursement systems was not adequately restricted. User ID's and passwords were not changed periodically to ensure that they remained confidential.

B. Backup disks of information for the county's computer systems, which were kept to provide a means of recreating destroyed master disks, were not stored at an off-site location.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Consider establishing improved procedures to restrict access to computer files, through the use of unique ID's and passwords, to only those individuals who need to use the information.

B. Ensure that backup disks from the county's computer systems are prepared and stored in a secure, off-site location.

Status:

A. Not implemented. See MAR No. 4.

B. Implemented.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

SULLIVAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1845, the county of Sullivan was named after John J. Sullivan, a General in the Revolutionary War. Sullivan County is a township-organized, third-class county and is part of the 9th Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Milan.

Sullivan County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Sullivan County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

AUDIT REPORT

SCOTLAND COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-70
September 1, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Scotland, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Scotland County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds. The audit includes some matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Scotland County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Scotland County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Scotland County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 29, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Scotland County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 29, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Scotland County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Scotland County Health Center Board of Trustees. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Cemetery Trust Fund	1998 and 1997
D.A.R.E. Fund	1998 and 1997
Cash Crop Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the Assessment Fund and Joint Dispatcher Fund in 1997. Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Local Emergency Planning Commission - Community Development Block Grant - Federal Emergency Management Agency Fund	1998 and 1997
K-9 Fund	1998 and 1997
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
D.A.R.E. Fund	1998 and 1997
Cash Crop Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

Deposits

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.
The Health Center Board of Trustee's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997 were entirely covered by federal depository insurance or by collateral securities held by the health center's custodial bank in the health center's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end for the county and the health center.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $74,174 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $39,223. As of December 31, 1998, $14,672 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

SCOTLAND COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Scotland County, Missouri, except for the programs accounted for in the Public Housing Agency Fund. Federal awards for that fund are being audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors for its years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
>
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Scotland County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Scotland County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Scotland County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Scotland County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Scotland County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

SCOTLAND COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

2. Former Sheriff's Missing Records and Property

Federal Grantor:	U.S. Department of Justice
Pass-Through Grantor:	Missouri Sheriff's Association
Federal CFDA Number:	16.unknown
Program Title:	Domestic Cannabis Eradication/Suppression Program
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number:	N/A
Award Year:	1996, 1995, and 1994
Questioned Costs:	$10,395

A. Approximately $550 in federal funds provided could not be accounted for because of incomplete or missing records.

B.1. Invoices and other documentation for expenditures totaling approximately $7,090, were not retained by the Sheriff's Department.

2. Because some invoices could not be located, it was not determinable whether some of the equipment items were purchased or rented. At least $2,755 in supplies and equipment purchased for the Sheriff's Department could not be located, or accounted for.

C. In addition to operating the local Domestic Cannabis Eradication/Suppression Program, the former Sheriff’s office instead of the County Treasurer performed the duties of receiving, disbursing, and accounting for the grant monies.

Recommendation:

The County Commission resolve the questioned costs with the grantor agency. In addition, the commission should:

A&
B.2. Consult with the Prosecuting Attorney and the current Sheriff to determine the county's options in relation to any possible investigation of the unaccounted for cash and equipment.

B.1. Provide any needed support to the current Sheriff to ensure complete documentation is provided and maintained for all future transactions related to the program.

C. Work with the current Sheriff to ensure that all future program monies received by the county are deposited with the County Treasurer, and all related expenditures are processed through the county's regular disbursement operation.

Status:

We have not resolved all questioned costs with the grantor agency and are continuing to attempt to contact the appropriate grantor authorities.

A-C. Implemented. A special prosecutor was appointed to work with the Missouri State Highway Patrol to investigate the missing equipment. During October 1998, several equipment items and $1,222 were obtained from the former sheriff.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

SCOTLAND COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Scotland County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 29, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Scotland County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 29, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings. These matters resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Scotland County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. County Expenditures

   We noted five instances of items purchased by the county totaling over $26,700 where bids were not solicited or advertised by the county or bid documentation was not retained. Examples included a used truck, a truck bed, and liability insurance.

2. Capital Improvement and Law Enforcement Sales Tax

   The county did not deposit revenues from the capital improvement sales tax or the law enforcement sales tax into separate funds to properly account for the use of these monies.

3. Property Tax System Control Weaknesses

   The County Clerk did not prepare the current or back tax books for real estate and personal property taxes or verify the tax book totals, and did not maintain an account book with the County Collector to help verify the accuracy of the Collector's annual settlements. The County Collector made changes to the property tax records for additions and abatements occurring throughout the year but there was no independent or subsequent review of the actual changes made to the property tax records or to amounts reflected on the Collector's annual settlement to ensure they were correct.

4. Computer Controls

Backup disks of information for the county's computer systems, which are kept to provide a means of recreating destroyed master disks, were not stored at an off-site location.

5. Personnel Policies and Procedures

Centralized leave records were not maintained for county employees. The county does not have a detailed written personnel policies and procedures manual to address issues such as how compensatory time or overtime is earned, the personal use of county equipment, or whether employees are to be compensated for unused leave upon termination.

6. Potential Conflict of Interest

One County Commissioner works as a part-time dispatcher for the Sheriff's department in addition to serving as County Commissioner. This situation may present a conflict of interest under state law.

7. Documentation of Reimbursable Expenses

The county made monthly payments of $340 and $150 to the Prosecuting Attorney and the Circuit Court Judge, respectively, as an allowance for their office expenses. Insufficient supporting documentation was maintained to support the amounts paid.

8. Prisoner Board Billings

The county had no formal follow-up procedures for collecting unpaid board bills. As a result, several board bills were left unpaid causing lost revenue for the county. In addition the county failed to obtain written agreements for boarding prisoners from various other political subdivisions.

9. General Fixed Asset Procedures and Controls

The County Clerk did not maintain adequate records of general fixed assets. The listing of fixed assets has not been updated since 1993, periodic inventory counts are not conducted, and fixed assets are not numbered, tagged, or otherwise identified. Four fixed assets with a combined total purchase cost of $158,372 were noted as not being added to the fixed asset listing.

10. Published Financial Statements

The published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of various county funds, including the health center, as required by state law.

11. Health Center Controls and Procedures

After April 1998, the Health Center did not perform or document bank reconciliations for their bank accounts.

The amount of collateral securities pledged by the health center's depository banks at January 13, 1999 and January 29, 1998, was insufficient by approximately $10,500 and $29,800 respectively, to cover deposits of the health center.

Health Center expenditures did not always indicate receipt of goods or services, and paid invoices were not always marked as paid or canceled to prevent duplicate payment.

The Health Center operated a Car Seat Program and a Loan Equipment Program during the audit period. The Health Center's budget document did not reflect the financial transactions of these programs.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Scotland County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

MADISON COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-69
August 31, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Madison, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Madison County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

- As similarly noted in the prior audit report, the financial condition of the county's General Revenue Fund remains weak. In addition to the declining cash balances, the county General Revenue Fund had liabilities of more than $172,000 at December 31, 1998.

- Although noted in several prior audits, the Collector is still not performing statutory duties which would aid the county's financial condition. The County Collector has not made an attempt to properly withhold commissions which has resulted in lost revenue to the county.

- Actual receipt and disbursement amounts were not correctly reported on the county budgets and published financial statements. In addition, formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds and actual disbursements exceeded budget amounts in several funds.

- Similar concerns from the prior audit were again noted in the County Collector's procedures including inadequate reconciliations, the failure to properly compare collections to deposits, poor handling of partial payments, and incomplete annual settlements.

- The Madison County Council Developmentally Disabled (MCCDD) incorrectly billed various agencies for services performed. The audit also noted concerns with MCCDD including lack of summary records for leave, bonuses paid to employees, inadequate bidding procedures, and incomplete fixed asset records.

(over)

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve the county's bidding procedures, written agreements, property tax system, personnel procedures and records and vehicle records and to better monitor collateral securities pledged by county banks. Additional recommendations were made to improve the records and procedures of the Prosecuting Attorney and the Assessor, as $408 was unaccounted for in the Assessor's office.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Madison County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Madison County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Madison County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 18, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Madison County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Madison County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 18, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Madison County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board or the Madison County Council for Developmentally Disabled Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998
Forfeiture Fund	1998
CDBG Water District Grant Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
General Revenue Fund	1998 and 1997
Special Road and Bridge Fund	1998 and 1997
911 Fund	1998 and 1997
Capital Improvement Fund	1998 and 1997
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Assessment Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund	1997
Domestic Violence Fund	1997
Special Law Enforcement Fund	1997
Recorder's User Fees Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Madison County Council for Developmentally Disabled Fund	1998 and 1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has (has not) adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not a year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $78,535 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $41,417. As of December 31, 1998, $15,533 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

MADISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Madison County, Missouri, except for the programs accounted for in the Madison County Memorial Hospital Fund. Federal awards for that fund have been audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors for its years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
>
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $267,844 to a subrecipient under Community Development Block Grants/State's Program (CFDA number 14.228) during the year ended December 31, 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Madison County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Madison County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Madison County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Madison County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Madison County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

MADISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Madison County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 18, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Madison County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 18, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Madison County Memorial Hospital Board is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed the audit reports and the substantiating working papers for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials and the county board referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Madison County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for audits performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Financial Condition

As similarly noted in the prior audit report, the financial condition of the county's General Revenue Fund remains weak. The following shows receipts, disbursements, and ending cash balances for the two years ended December 31, 1998:

Cash Balance, January 1, 1997	$ 27,257
Receipts	993,378
Disbursements	1,000,821
Cash Balance, December 31, 1997	19,814
Receipts	1,118,475
Disbursements	1,121,796
Cash Balance, December 31, 1998	$ 16,493

The 1999 budget anticipates disbursements to exceed receipts by $16,195, resulting in a $298 budgeted cash balance at December 31, 1999.

In addition, the county General Revenue Fund had the following liabilities at December 31, 1998:

Tax Anticipation Notes payable	$ 76,656
Loan from the Special Road and Bridge Fund	72,000
Use tax liability	15,533
Department of Natural Resources Energy Loan	7,871
Total Liabilities	$ 172,060

As a result of the declining cash balances, the county General Revenue fund borrowed $150,000 in tax anticipation notes during the two years ended December 31, 1998. The county has not had the funds to pay back the majority of the tax anticipation notes in one year, rather, the tax anticipation notes have been renewed annually. Section 50.070, RSMo 1994, provides that tax anticipation notes are to be payable in one year or less from the date of issuance out of current county revenues to be derived from taxes or other revenues of the county of the year in which said notes are issued. The county has paid more than $9,900 in interest during the two years ended December 31, 1998.

In 1998, the Special Road and Bridge Fund borrowed $25,000 to purchase equipment. Such borrowing may not have been necessary if the Special Road and Bridge Fund had not loaned money to the General Revenue Fund.

The County Commission should review disbursements and reduce discretionary amounts as much as possible. In addition, the County Commission should review budgetary and accounting controls and attempt to maximize all revenues. Factors contributing to the weak financial condition are:

A. The county issued warrants in excess of its budgeted disbursements for the General Revenue Fund in 1998 and 1997, as noted in MAR No.2. In addition, the county disbursements exceeded receipts in 1998 and 1997 and the 1999 budget anticipates disbursements to exceed receipts.

B. As discussed in MAR No.6., the County Collector has not properly withheld more than $25,000 from school tax collections, requiring larger subsidies from the General Revenue Fund to the Assessment Fund. Additionally, commissions from tax collections were not properly withheld totaling more than $32,800 which are due to the General Revenue Fund.

C. The County Commission did not always solicit bids for major purchases, as noted in MAR No.3. Considering the financial condition of the General Revenue Fund, all county officials should be using extreme diligence when directing the use of county resources.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission take the necessary steps to improve the financial condition of the General Revenue Fund.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated they have tried to pass a use tax, but it failed. Because they have now recovered all excess property taxes due to the sales tax roll back in prior years, they were able to have a larger general levy. They have also considered a law enforcement sales tax. They will try to improve the financial condition of the county.

2. Budgets and Financial Statements

A. Actual disbursements exceeded budgeted amounts in various funds as follows:

Fund		Year Ended December 31, 1998	1997
General Revenue	$	139,097	48,198
Special Road and Bridge		94,768	50,726
Assessment		N/A	6,906
Prosecuting Attorney Training		N/A	733
Domestic Violence		N/A	3,889
911		15,250	1,309
Capital Improvement		22,383	42,778
Special Law Enforcement		N/A	9,508
Recorder's User Fees		N/A	6,725
Health Center		4,070	18,743
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check		N/A	58

There was no documentation that the county periodically compared disbursements to budgeted amounts. The Health Center actually filed an amended budget in December 1998; however, disbursements still exceeded the budgeted amounts.

It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong V. Cribb, 364 Mo. 1122,273 SW2d 246(1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess disbursements, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budgets.

B. During our review of the county budget documents, we noted the following errors and misclassifications:

1) Actual receipts and disbursements were not correctly reported on the county budgets and published financial statements. Errors included incorrect amounts being reported, mathematical errors, and inconsistent and erroneous classifications of receipts. The County Clerk reconciles total receipts and disbursements to the County Treasurer's records on a monthly basis. However, it appears that when she posts actual amounts to the budget, she simply records the amounts in error and does not attempt to reconcile total actual amounts as reported on the budget to the treasurer's records. The County Clerk had no support or explanation as to the source of her reported amounts. Adjustments have been made to the audited financial statements to correct misclassifications and erroneous amounts.

2) Cash reconciliations were not always completed for various funds. Had the cash reconciliations been properly performed, several errors could have been detected.

The county's budgets should include accurate financial information and classifications of receipts and disbursements to ensure the county's financial information is properly presented and to increase the effectiveness of the budgets as management tools.

C. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the two years ended December 31, 1998. Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires preparation of annual budgets for all funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year. By preparing or obtaining budgets for all county funds and activities, the County Commission is able to more efficiently evaluate all county financial resources.

D. The county did not budget emergency expenditures for the two years ended December 31, 1998. Section 50.540 requires at least 3 percent of anticipated General Revenue Fund revenues be budgeted for emergency situations.

E. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required. Section 50.800, RSMo 1994, provides that the financial statements show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures and beginning and ending balances for all county funds. For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

Conditions similar to A, B, C, and E were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. And the Health Center Board not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted disbursements. If valid reasons necessitate excess disbursements, the original budget should be formally amended and filed with the State Auditor's office.

B. And the County Clerk ensure all significant receipts and disbursements are accurately and consistently reported in the county budget documents and published financial statements. In addition, the County Clerk should properly prepare the cash reconciliation portion of the budget document.

C. Ensure budgets are prepared for all funds.

D. Ensure emergency funds are budgeted with the General Revenue Fund.

E. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated:

A. They will amend the budgets in the future when necessary.

B. Along with the County Clerk, that they will try to improve the reporting process and will perform cash reconciliations for each fund. They believe they have improved in this area.

C. They will file budgets for each fund. The budgets that were missing were for smaller funds.

D. They will do this next year.

E. They have improved on this and will include all funds in the future.

The Health Center Administrator indicated:

A. They will not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted disbursements. The original budget will be formally amended and filed with the State Auditor's office on a quarterly basis.

3. Written Agreements and Disbursements

A. Payments for services were made or services were performed without current written agreements as follows:

1) The county boards prisoners for the city of Fredericktown and other counties. The county charges $17 per day for each prisoner housed in the county jail for the city and $35 per day for various counties. The county does not have written agreements with the city or counties detailing the services to be provided or the daily charges.

2) The county provides dispatching services for the city of Fredericktown. The existing contract is from 1989 and has not been updated to reflect the changes in rates charged.

3) The Prosecuting Attorney does not have an office in the courthouse. Instead, he maintains an office outside the courthouse, which is used for both county business and his private practice. The county does not have a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney outlining what costs will be paid and what office personnel and equipment will be provided by the county and what will be provided by the private practice. There is no documentation to support the current verbal agreements or to ensure county resources are not being used to subsidize the private practice.

Currently, the county pays $200 for rent, $150 for copies, and actual phone charges monthly. There are no invoices submitted to support the amounts paid for rent or copies. In addition, phone bills are not submitted to the county to support actual phone charges. For the two years ended December 31, 1998, a total of $11,231 was paid to the Prosecuting Attorney. In addition, the county does not prepare an IRS Form 1099-MISC information return for these amounts.

Since county resources should be used only for county business, the county should enter into a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney outlining what the arrangements are, what rent will be provided by the county and what will be provided by the private practice. The basis for the arrangements should be documented and retained.

To ensure the Prosecuting Attorney is not personally benefiting from this arrangement, it is important to document the adequacy of the financial arrangement and the basis for allocation of resources between county and private use. There needs to be a clear distinction made between county and private practice resources and work effort to avoid the appearance of impropriety and alleviate questions regarding possible inappropriate use of public resources.

Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, states all contracts entered into by the county shall be in writing and signed by each of the parties. Disbursements under contractual agreements should be monitored to ensure the reasonableness and propriety of expenditures, and compliance with contractual terms.

B. Bids were not always solicited or advertised by the county nor was the selection process always documented for various purchases made by the county during the two years ended December 31, 1998. The County Commission minutes did not always document information considered when awarding bids to a vendor other than the lowest bidder, reasons why a purchase was considered sole source, information solicited by phone, and information obtained when deciding if the purchase price for a used item was reasonable. Examples of items purchased for which adequate bid documentation could not be located are as follows:

Item	Cost For Two Years
Black top	$ 87,346
Gravel	73,993
Fuel	59,271
Prisoner meals	37,667
Services for hauling gravel	23,566
Sheriff vehicles	17,500

Section 50.660, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires advertisement of bids for all purchases of $4,500 or more.

Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of county resources and help assure the county that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidder. In addition, competitive bidding ensures all parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in county business. Documentation of bids should always be retained as evidence the county's established purchasing procedures as well as statutory requirements are followed.

C. The County Commission approved some payments to vendors without requiring acknowledgment of receipt of goods or services. The exceptions included gravel, cold mix, parts, supplies, prisoner meals, and other items. Additionally, instances were found where individual receipts accompanying the monthly invoice for fuel did not identity the vehicle for which fuel was purchased. To ensure that payments are valid and for goods or services actually received, evidence of receipt of goods or services should be noted and fuel receipts should indicate the vehicle fueled.

Conditions similar to B and C were noted in our prior two reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Enter into written contracts that specifically state the services to be provided to the county. Any disbursements made should be monitored for compliance with the terms of the contract. In addition, documentation should be retained of the allocation of resources between the county and the Prosecuting Attorney's private practice to ensure there is a clear distinction between them. IRS Forms 1099-MISC should be prepared when required.

B. Solicit bids for purchases in accordance with state law and retain documentation of these bids and justification for bid awards. If bids cannot be obtained or sole source procurement is necessary, the County Clerk should retain documentation of these circumstances.

C. Ensure all invoices contain an indication of receipt of goods, or services and fuel receipts indicate which vehicle is fueled.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated:

A. The county will enter into contracts for all services.

B. They will better document in the minutes justifications for not bidding certain items.

C. They will try to improve on this.

The Prosecuting Attorney indicated:

A. He will enter into a written agreement with the county and document how the rent charges are determined.

4. Personnel and Payroll Policies and Procedures

A. In addition to her regular county salary, the Prosecuting Attorney's secretary received $22,152 for the two years ended December 31, 1998 for time spent on child support enforcement activities and for services in processing bad checks. These additional payments were not included in the county payroll records and were not reported on the employee's W-2 form. Additionally, while the secretary prepared a time sheet to support her monthly salary paid from the county General Revenue Fund, there was no documentation to support this additional compensation for child support enforcement and bad check processing activities.

To ensure compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and ensure the propriety of payments made, time worked should be properly recorded on the monthly time sheets and paid through the regular county payroll process. In addition, the Internal Revenue Code requires employers to report all wages on W-2 forms.

B. During our review of the Sheriff's deputies' salaries, we noted the following concerns:

1) Sheriff deputies work additional hours over their regular duty hours in association with National Park Patrol (Coop), Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), and Operation Cash Crop program grants. The deputies record these hours and submit them for reimbursement from the grants; however, actual hours worked are normally more than hours reimbursed. Only the hours reimbursed are reported to the county and included in the county payroll. The hours not paid by the grants are not reported and the deputies do not receive payment for these hours.

2) The county is not properly compensating Sheriff deputies for overtime hours. They are paid at the straight time pay rate for the extra hours worked instead of at the premium rate as required under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA). The Presiding Commissioner indicated that the deputies do not receive overtime anymore, rather, the two parties came to an agreement to receive paid holidays and straight time for overtime hours. The FLSA requires overtime compensation if hours worked in a twenty-eight day period exceed 171 for law enforcement personnel.

3) Section 57.290, RSMo 1994 provides the Sheriff shall be allowed various fees for transporting convicted offenders to a designated center. In addition to $8 and $6 per diems, the transporter and each guard receive fees of 25 cents per mile for going to and returning from the center. These fees are paid by the state and remitted to the County Treasurer. The county then pays the deputies serving as guards the per diem and mileage fee received from the state in addition to their regular compensation.

   The county considers the employees to be off-duty when transporting prisoners and these fees were not subjected to payroll withholdings and were not reported on the respective W-2 forms. In addition, the hours spent in transporting prisoners are not included on time sheets. Our review indicated $12,929 was paid to deputies for guard fees during the two years ending December 31, 1998. Without time sheets, it is not possible to determine if the $12,929 was more or less than what should have been paid to the deputies.

   Any full-time county employee serving as a guard should be compensated under normal county payroll procedures, calculating hours worked and any overtime incurred. In addition, all compensation should be reported on the employees' W-2 forms.

The FLSA requires employers to keep accurate records of actual time worked by employees including compensatory time earned, taken, or paid. It also requires that all covered employees working overtime are entitled to time and one-half in wages or in compensatory time.

C. Records are not maintained of annual leave, sick leave, and compensatory time earned, taken, and accumulated for some employees. The County Clerk indicated these records are to be maintained by each individual office but our review noted that some offices, including the County Clerk, Collector, Treasurer, and Assessor, are not maintaining these records. Accurate records of leave and compensatory time are necessary to ensure compliance with the FLSA and to ensure employees are properly compensated for accumulated leave.

D. Several county employees from various offices with access to money are not covered by an employee bond. Properly bonding all persons with access to monies would better protect the official and county from risk of loss.

Conditions similar to B.1., C, and D were noted in our two prior reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A.1. And the Prosecuting Attorney ensure all salary payments are subject to payroll withholdings and reported on W-2 forms.

2. And the Prosecuting Attorney ensure additional compensation is supported by documentation of actual time worked.

B.1. Along with the County Clerk and Sheriff ensure all hours worked are properly reported to the county.

2. Review county payroll policies and ensure the county appropriately considers any policy changes needed along with FLSA requirements when handling employee payrolls. This policy review should include obtaining appropriate legal opinions and, if necessary, consultation with the U.S. Department of Labor.

3. And the Sheriff review this situation. Deputies who serve as guards should be paid their normal salary for the amount of time spent, and all payments should be included on W-2 forms.

C. Require records be maintained by the County Clerk's office of vacation, sick leave, and overtime earned, used, and accumulated.

D. Consider obtaining adequate bond coverage for all employees with access to monies.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated:

A. They have discussed this with the Prosecuting Attorney and will ask for documentation to support this time and include it in county payroll.

B. They will discuss this with the Sheriff and try to resolve these issues. They will ask the Sheriff to keep track of and use compensatory time.

C. They will implement this in the future.

D. They now have a bond that covers all employees.

The Prosecuting Attorney indicated:

A.1. He will request the county to pay the secretary through the payroll system for time spent on child support enforcement activities and services for processing bad checks.

2. He will try to implement this recommendation.

The Sheriff indicated:

B. He will discuss these items with the County Commission.

5. Collateral Securities

A. The amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary banks at January 21, 1999 and January 22, 1998 was insufficient by approximately $680,000 and $775,000, respectively, to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer, County Collector, Health Center Board, and Madison County Council for Developmentally Disabled Board. It appears this situation occurred because the bank balances were not adequately monitored by the county.

Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, provides that the value of the securities pledged should at all times by not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). Inadequate collateral securities leave county funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of a bank failure.

B. A review of the collateral securities pledged to secure county deposits at one of the county's depositary banks indicated that particular securities pledged were not in compliance with statutory requirements. Bonds of political subdivisions in other states were noted on the listing of collateral securities.

Section 30.270, RSMo 1994, allows for state bonds of any state, but not bonds of political subdivisions within other states to be pledged as collateral securities.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Ensure adequate collateral securities are pledged for all funds on deposit in excess of FDIC coverage.

B. Implement procedures to ensure that securities pledged are in compliance with Section 30.270, RSMo 1994.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A&B. The County Commission indicated they will discuss these recommendations with the bank.

6. Lost Revenue

Although noted in our prior five reports, the County Collector has not made an attempt to properly withhold commissions which has resulted in lost revenue to the county. As indicated in MAR 1, the county General Revenue Fund is in poor financial condition; however, the Collector is not performing his statutory duties which would aid the county's financial condition.

A. Our review of commissions withheld by the County Collector and paid to General Revenue during the two years ended February 28, 1999, disclosed various errors:

1) The County Collector does not withhold commissions in accordance with Section 50.338.2, RSMo 1994 (Proposition C). As a result of this situation, the County Collector under withheld a significant amount of commissions from the various school districts. Commissions not withheld from the various school districts' tax collections because of Proposition C for the months of December during the two year audit period totaled approximately $1,200. An additional $31,600 was also noted in the prior audit.

   Since the county receives all of the commissions retained from tax collections, the General Revenue Fund has lost significant revenue as a result of the County Collector not performing his statutory duties.

2) Section 52.250, RSMo 1994, allows a one-half of one percent commission on all current taxes collected, including current delinquent taxes, exclusive of all current railroad and utility taxes collected, as compensation for mailing the statements and receipts. Our review of the December 1997 and 1998 commissions withheld indicated that this commission is not being withheld properly. While the commission was withheld from the school portion of current taxes collected in December 1997, approximately $2,700 was not withheld from the rest of the current taxes collected. In December 1998 the mailing commission was not withheld from any of the current taxes collected which resulted in approximately $9,000 of lost revenue to the General Revenue Fund.

While the effect these procedures had on the amount of commissions withheld was not determined for the entire audit period, an improper amount of commissions was withheld from tax collections of the various taxing authorities and turned over to the General Revenue Fund.

B. Section 137.750, RSMo 1994, provides the basis for funding assessment maintenance costs. The state reimburses the county for expenses incurred subject to a minimum or maximum per parcel. Funding from the county comes from one percent of taxes collected by all taxing authorities within the county, and the general revenue of the county.

Section 50.338, RSMo 1994, provides that no fund shall lose revenue because of a reduction in school tax levies due to Proposition C. Estimated revenue not withheld from school tax collections due to Proposition C for the months of December during the two year ended December 31, 1998 totaled approximately $900. An additional $25,000 was also noted in our prior audit.

Since the under withholdings are based only on December school tax collections, these amounts represent conservative estimates of the amounts not withheld from the various school districts. The General Revenue Fund is required to fund assessment costs not funded by the state and other taxing authorities in the county. It appears that as a result of the collector not performing his statutory duties, the General Revenue Fund has funded a larger portion of assessment costs than was necessary.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Collector:

A. Recalculate commissions for the audit period and withhold from or make adjustments to the various political subdivisions' future distributions to correct for errors noted. In the future, the County Collector should calculate and withhold commissions in accordance with the statutes.

B. Adjust the amounts withheld from school tax collections to take into consideration the effects of Proposition C and withhold the appropriate portion for assessment purposes as provided by statute.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A&B. The County Collector indicated he will try to implement these recommendations.

The County Commission will talk to the schools about the monies due.

7. Property Tax System and Computer Controls

The county's assessment lists and tax books are maintained on a computerized property tax system. The County Assessor is responsible for entering the assessed valuation data. The County Collector enters the tax rates, which are obtained from the County Clerk, and extends and prints the tax books. During our review of controls related to the property tax system, we noted the following concerns:

A. The county does not have a formal contingency plan for the computer system. As a result, the county has not formally negotiated arrangements for backup facilities in the event of a disaster.

Development of contingency plans should include plans for a variety of situations, such as both short- and long-term plans for backup hardware, software, facilities, personnel, and power. Involvement of users in contingency planning is important since users will likely be responsible for maintaining at least a portion of the backup under various contingencies.

The major benefit of thorough contingency planning comes from the ability of the county to recover rapidly from disaster or extraordinary situations that might cause considerable loss or disruption to the county. Due to the county's degree of reliance on the data processing function, the need for contingency planning is evident.

B. The county does not have all program documentation prepared by the contract computer programmer. Program documentation is used to explain the coding of computer programs, so changes can be made when necessary. Failure to have arrangements specifying the rights to the program documentation leaves the county at risk should the county and the contractor terminate their working arrangement. The county should obtain a written agreement specifying the county's rights to the program documentation.

C. The County Clerk does not maintain a complete account book with the County Collector. The account book only includes information presented on the monthly settlements of the County Collector, but does not include tax book charges, delinquent credits, abatements and additions, and protested amounts. This account book is to be prepared by the County Clerk from aggregate abstracts, court orders, monthly statements of collections, and tax books. An accurate account book would enable the County Clerk to ensure that the amount of taxes charged and credited to the County Collector each year is complete and accurate.

Section 51.150(2), RSMo 1994, requires the County Clerk to maintain accounts with all persons chargeable with monies payable into the county treasury. A properly maintained account book can also be used by the County Commission to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

D. Controls over property tax additions need improvement. Tax book additions are initiated by the County Assessor who assigns an assessed value and enters it into the property tax computer system. The County Collector then prepares a tax statement of the taxes due and collects the tax. At the end of the year, the County Collector prints a report of all property tax additions and charges himself with these additions. The County Commission does not approve these additions.

State law provides for segregation of duties related to property tax charges and collections, and provides for the County Clerk to prepare the tax books and charge the County Collector with the taxes to be collected and provides for the County Commission to approve changes to the tax books. To ensure proper segregation of duties over tax book additions, the County Clerk should prepare all tax book additions and charge the County Collector these amounts. In addition, the County Commission should approve all tax book additions.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior two reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND:

A. The County Commission seek arrangements of alternate data processing equipment for use during emergency situations.

B. The County Commission obtain an agreement with the county's computer programmer which specifies the county's rights regarding program documentation.

C. The County Clerk maintain a complete account book with the County Collector. The County Commission should use the account book to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

D. The County Clerk prepare all additions to the tax books and charge the County Collector with the additions at the time the additions are prepared. All additions should be approved by the County Commission.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated:

A. They verbally have an agreement with St. Francois County. They will document this in writing.

B. The Collector will discuss this with the computer programmer.

D. They will approve the tax additions.

The County Clerk indicated:

C. She will try to keep this record.

8. County Collector's Accounting Controls and Procedures

During our review of controls surrounding the collection and recording of property taxes, we noted the following concerns:

A. The County Collector does not perform adequate reconciliations of his records. While the County Collector does attempt to identify liabilities at each month's end, the list he prepared as of December 31, 1998, was incorrect. In addition, the collector does not adequately investigate differences noted between the liabilities and the book balance. As of December 31, 1998, cash exceeded liabilities by $3,280 in the County Collector's regular account. During our review of the Collector's partial payment list, we noted a number of payments that were still being carried as a partial payment held in the account, but for which the payment had already been applied towards the full payment of the bill. Also, some partial payments held at December 31, 1998 consisted of payments in the account before January 1997, for which the Collector does not know which taxpayer the payments should apply to.

To ensure all monies are accounted for properly, complete and accurate lists of partial payments should be maintained. In addition, differences noted when performing monthly reconciliations should be promptly investigated and resolved. Various statutory provisions including Sections 50.470 through 50.490, RSMo 1994, and Sections 447.500 through 447.995, RSMo 1994, provide for the disposition of unclaimed and unidentified monies.

B. The County Collector does not compare the composition and amount of collections received to deposits made to the bank account. To ensure all monies collected are properly recorded and deposited, daily comparisons of collections and deposits should be performed. The Collector is unable to perform such comparisons due to the following concerns:

1) The County Collector does not deposit duplicate tax receipts, copies, and phone charges on a daily basis and some tax collection receipts in the form of cash are not deposited. In addition, the Collector will sometimes hold partial payments in his vault in the name of the taxpayer and not deposit them until paid in full. Overpayments are held in the vault to be applied to future taxes.

2) The County Collector has two change funds that are not maintained at a constant amount.

3) The County Collector occasionally cashes personal checks. As a result, the composition of receipts does not always agree to the composition of deposits.

4) The County Collector occasionally makes refunds for overpayments by cash or money order, and does not maintain adequate documentation to support these disbursements. Cash refunds should not be made and refunds by money order should have adequate supporting documentation.

To adequately safeguard against loss, theft, or misuse of funds, all receipts should be deposited intact daily and all disbursements should be made in the form of a check. Change funds should be maintained at a constant amount and reconciled to the deposit.

C. The County Collector does not adequately keep records of and follow up on overpayments and partial payments maintained in his vault.

As mentioned earlier, the County Collector sometimes does not deposit partial payments and overpayments received in the form of cash, but rather keeps the cash in his vault. We noted a number of payments held in the vault for which the applicable tax statement had been paid in full. We noted a number of other payments held in the vault for which there was an unpaid tax statement on file, but the tax statement did not indicate that a partial payment had been made. The date of payments held in the vault at December 3, 1998, ranged from 1984 (an overpayment of taxes) to November 1998. Individual amounts ranged from less than $1 to approximately $200.

If the collector is going to hold overpayments and partial payments, they should all be deposited into his official bank account and adequate records of the taxpayers and amounts should be maintained. The County Collector should periodically review the payments to either apply to taxes owed or refund to the taxpayer. As mentioned above, various statutory provisions provide for the disposition of unclaimed or unidentified monies.

D. Surtax collections are to be distributed to various political subdivisions based on percentages derived from a combination of the 1984 merchants' and manufacturers' taxes paid and the current assessed valuation for subclass 3 commercial property for each year compared to the 1985 valuation.

The 1997 and 1996 surtax collections were distributed by the County Collector using percentages calculated for distributing the 1985 collections. The County Collector does not recalculate the distribution percentages each year.

Section 139.600, RSMo 1994, outlines the procedures to be followed to calculate the percentages for the first and each succeeding year the surtax is imposed. Since significant changes have occurred in the subclass 3 commercial property assessed valuation amounts, political subdivisions have not received the proper allocation of surtax collections.

E. The County Collector's annual settlements did not include all activity of his office. The collections and related distributions for late assessment penalties, all collector's commissions, and duplicate tax receipts were not included on the annual settlement.

Section 139.600.3, RSMo 1994, states that "...the collector shall...settle his accounts of all monies received by him on account of taxes and other sources of revenue..." By not accurately reporting all sources of revenues, the County Collector's annual settlement is incomplete and the County Commission cannot properly examine or approve it.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior two reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Collector:

A. Perform complete monthly reconciliations of his records and attempt to identify and distribute the unidentified monies in his account.

B.1. Deposit all monies received, including partial payments. For any overpayments of current taxes, the excess should be refunded by check when received and not held for future use.

2. Maintain the change funds at constant amounts.

3. Discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks.

4. Discontinue the practice of making cash refunds for overpayments. In addition, the County Collector should maintain adequate supporting documentation for refunds made by money order indicating the purpose of the disbursement.

C. Maintain adequate records of and follow up on partial payments and overpayments. These records should include the name of the taxpayer making the payment, the date of the payment, the amount paid, which tax year the payment was made for, and the date the payment was applied.

D. Ensure future distributions of surtax collections take into consideration the current year's assessed valuation for subclass 3 commercial property of each political subdivision as required by state law.

E. File complete and accurate annual settlements.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Collector indicated:

A. The unidentified monies in the account are probably extra monies collected for bad checks, fees, or small overpayments that never were turned over to the county. He will attempt to implement this recommendation.

B,D, &E. He will try to implement these recommendations.

C. He is now depositing these and trying not to hold cash. He will try to disburse these monies and will try to keep records of these transactions.

9. Vehicle Records

The county has purchased several vehicles for the road and bridge department and pays for the maintenance, insurance, and fuel expenses for these vehicles. During our review of county-owned vehicles, we noted the following concerns:

A. The road and bridge department does not maintain vehicle logs which document how the vehicles are used. Without adequate vehicle logs, the county cannot effectively monitor that vehicles are used for official business only. These logs should identify the employee the vehicle is assigned to, the dates used, miles driven, destination, and purpose of the trips.

B. Fuel and oil usage is not reconciled to fuel and oil purchased. To reduce the risk of loss, misuse, or theft, fuel and oil usage should be reconciled to fuel and oil purchased, and significant differences should be investigated.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Require vehicle logs be maintained for all county vehicles. In addition, they should review these logs to monitor the usage of county owned vehicles.

B. Reconcile fuel and oil usage to fuel and oil purchased and investigate significant differences.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A&B. The County Commission indicated they will discuss these recommendations with the Road and Bridge Supervisor and try to develop these records.

10. Assessor's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The County Assessor's office collects money for maps, plat books, copies and postage. During our review of the Assessor's accounting controls and procedures, we noted the following areas of concern:

A. Receipts are not transmitted to the County Treasurer intact and the amount of monies transmitted does not always agree to the monies indicated as received per the Assessor's receipt slips. No reconciliation of receipt slips to the amount and composition of monies transmitted to the County Treasurer is performed. The Assessor is unable to perform such comparisons because receipt slips are not issued for all monies received, receipt slips do not always indicate the method of payment, receipt slips are written for amounts due and not actually collected until a later date, personal checks are cashed and the change fund is not maintained at a constant amount.

The Assessor's office prepares a report that documents the amount and composition of receipts turned over to the County Treasurer. This record agrees to the receipt slips received from the County Treasurer; however, it did not always agree to the total amount or composition of the Assessor's receipt slips. The following differences were noted between Assessor's receipt slips and amounts transmitted to the Treasurer for the two years ended December 31, 1998.

	Year ending December 31,
	1998			1997
	Cash	Check	Total	Cash	Check	Total
Recorded receipts	$ 1,352	998	2,350	1,060	957	2,017
Unrecorded receipts	0	543	543	0	168	168
Amounts turned over to County Treasurer	(1,054)	(1,541)	(2,595)	(950)	(1,125)	(2,075)
Unaccounted for receipts	$ 298	0	298	110	0	110

To adequately account for all monies receipted and transmitted, and to lessen the possibility of loss or misuse of funds, monies transmitted should be reconciled to the Assessor's office prenumbered receipt slips. All payments made to the Assessor's office are accountable fees and should be remitted to the county treasury.

B. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies are not adequately segregated. Currently, all employees of the Assessor's office perform these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are properly segregated. At a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts transmitted to the County Treasurer.

C. Checks are not restrictively endorsed until after they are turned over to the County Treasurer. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. The Assessor's office periodically bills companies for maps and copies. No reconciliation is performed between the amount billed and the amount collected. When a bill is prepared, a receipt slip is completed and marked "amount due". When the monies are received, the Assessor's office indicates on the original receipt slip when the amount was paid; however, we noted several receipt slips that did not indicate whether the amount had been paid.

E. Voided receipt slips are not retained. To account for the numerical sequence of all receipt slips, voided receipt slips should be retained.

F. The County Assessor's office does not maintain inventory records accounting for plat books or maps. To ensure all monies collected are accounted for adequately, the County Assessor should reconcile the number of plat books and maps on hand to the total number of plat books and maps sold or given away. Any differences should be investigated.

WE RECOMMEND the County Assessor:

A. Ensure all receipts are transmitted to the County Treasurer and reconcile the amount and composition of monies transmitted to receipt slips. The County Assessor should ensure that receipt slips are issued for all monies received, the method of payment is indicated on all receipt slips, receipt slips are issued only for monies actually received, the change fund is maintained at a constant amount, and personal checks are not cashed. In addition, the County Commission should review this situation and decide if further investigation is warranted to determine the extent of monies not accounted for.

B. Adequately segregate duties among available employees and/or establish a documented review of the accounting records by an independent person.

C. Restrictively endorse checks immediately upon receipt.

D. Reconcile amounts billed to amounts received and follow up on billings not paid. In addition, receipt slips should be written when monies are received instead of when billed.

E. Retain all voided receipt slips.

F. Maintain records of the number of plat books and maps sold, given away, or used by the county, and periodically reconcile the number of plat books and maps reported on the inventory to the number of plat books and maps on hand.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Assessor indicated:

A-F. She has implemented or will implement all of these recommendations.

The County Commission indicated:

A. They will review the situation. The County Clerk will take over the collection of this money.

11. Prosecuting Attorney's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Prosecuting Attorney's office collects bad check restitutions and fees. Our review of the Prosecuting Attorney's procedures revealed the following:

A. The Prosecuting Attorney's office collects fees for processing bad checks. In 1997, the Prosecuting Attorney discontinued turning bad check fees over to the County Treasurer and currently serves as custodian of the Bad Check Fees Fund, although there is no statutory authority to allow this. Section 570.120, RSMo 1994, requires the bad check fees to be maintained by the County Treasurer.

B. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies are not adequately segregated. Currently, the secretary performs all of these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are properly segregated. At a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

C. Bad check fees and restitutions are not deposited in a timely manner. Monies were deposited approximately ten times in 1998 and averaged approximately $2,500. In addition, money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100 and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. Monthly bank reconciliations are not performed and a running checkbook balance is not maintained. Accurate and complete bank reconciliations are necessary to ensure that all monies are properly deposited, accounting records are in agreement with the bank, and errors or discrepancies are detected on a timely basis. In addition, a running balance should be maintained in the checkbook to allow for proper reconciliations with the bank statements.

E. The Prosecuting Attorney does not file a monthly report of bad check fees collected. Section 50.370, RSMo 1994, requires county officials to prepare and file with the County Commission monthly reports of fees collected.

Conditions similar to C and D were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Turn over custody of the Bad Check Fees Fund to the County Treasurer, as required by state law.

B. Adequately segregate accounting duties to the extent possible or ensure periodic supervisory reviews are performed and documented.

C. Deposit monies daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100 and restrictively endorse money orders immediately upon receipt.

D. Maintain a checkbook balance and prepare complete and accurate bank reconciliations.

E. File monthly reports of fees with the County Commission as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Prosecuting Attorney indicated:

A&E. These recommendations have been implemented.

B. He agrees with this recommendation, however, he does not have the staff to do this.

C. He will try to make deposits at least weekly.

D. He has obtained a new computer program and this recommendation will be implemented.

12. Madison County Council For Developmentally Disabled Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. We noted the following concerns during our review of the Madison County Council for Developmentally Disabled (MCCDD) billings to other agencies:

1. The MCCDD receives reimbursements under the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) from the East Missouri Action Agency (EMAA). The EMAA reimburses the MCCDD for one-half the gross wages for JTPA participants. During our review, we noted reimbursement requests submitted to the EMAA that were incorrect. Time sheets filled out and signed by the MCCDD employee indicated she worked and was paid for less than forty hours per week; however, the MCCDD requested reimbursement as if the employee worked forty hours per week for the whole month.

The reimbursement requests for December 1997, April 1998, and May 1998 resulted in a total of $422 being paid to the MCCDD in excess of what the time sheets supported.

2. The MCCDD participates in the Missouri Elderly and Handicapped Transportation Assistance Program (MEHTAP) through the Missouri Highway and Transportation Department (MoDOT). MoDOT reimburses the MCCDD for actual eligible operating expenses incurred for the project upon receipt of itemized report forms. The amount requested for reimbursement is calculated by totaling all the MCCDD transportation expenses and deducting transportation funding received from other sources. During our review of the itemized report forms, we noted revenues were understated and expenditures were overstated in order to receive grant funds. For the months April 1998 and December 1997, it appears that actual transportation revenues exceeded transportation expenses and the MCCDD should not have received grant funds.

In addition, the Department of Mental Health (DMH), Office of Audit Services, conducted a billing review for the period July 1, 1997 to June 30, 1998 and noted $3,424 was overpaid from Medicaid. As similarly discussed in A.1., the DMH auditors reported a total of $1,110 was overpaid to the MCCDD from EMAA for the period July 1, 1997 to June 30, 1998. The DMH review also noted total overbillings of $764 to MoDOT for the MEHTAP program for the period July 1, 1997 to June 30, 1998, as similarly discussed in A.2.

Adequate supporting documentation should be maintained for all services provided and compared to billings for such services.

B. The MCCDD is not paying overtime at time-and-a-half in accordance with their employee manual, rather, overtime is paid at straight-time. The FLSA requires that all covered employees working overtime are entitled to time and one-half in wages or in compensatory time.

C. Summary records are not maintained of annual leave, sick leave, and compensatory time earned, taken, and accumulated. While the employee time sheets indicate if hours paid were compensatory, annual, or sick leave hours, a written leave record indicating the number of hours accrued, leave time taken, and the balance of leave hours remaining is not maintained. Accurate records of leave and compensatory time are necessary to ensure compliance with the FLSA and to ensure employees are properly compensated for their time.

D. The MCCDD paid Christmas bonuses of $100 each for supervisors and $50 each for other employees under the title "unscheduled hours" in December of 1998 and 1997. These amounts totaled $1,050 and $850 in 1998 and 1997, respectively. Similar bonuses were also paid in previous years. The bonuses given to employees appear to represent additional compensation for services previously rendered and, as such, are in violation of Article III, Section 39 of the Missouri Constitution and Attorney General's Opinion No. 72, 1955 to Pray, which states "...a government agency deriving its power and authority from the Constitution and laws of the state would be prohibited from granting extra compensation in the form of bonuses to public officers after the service has been rendered."

E. The MCCDD board did not solicit or advertise for bids for some purchases. Items for which bids were not advertised or obtained include a computer system ($9,382) and driveway construction ($13,548).

Section 50.660, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires advertisement of bids for all purchases of $4,500 or more.

Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of county resources and help assure the county that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidder. In addition, competitive bidding ensures all parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in county business. Documentation of bids should always be retained as evidence that the county's established purchasing procedures as well as statutory requirements are followed.

F. The MCCDD fixed asset records do not always include complete and accurate information. The historical cost, acquisition date, and property control number were not always identified. Additionally, fixed asset purchases are not always recorded as they occur, and the MCCDD does not reconcile general fixed asset purchases to additions to the property records. A summary schedule of changes in fixed assets should be prepared annually and reconciled to beginning and ending balances to ensure all assets are recorded.

Adequate general fixed asset records and procedures are necessary to secure better internal control over the MCCDD property and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage of property.

G. The MCCDD board does not properly include all cash on hand at January 1 on their annual budgets. The 1998 budget document included only the checking account and not any savings accounts. The board was unable to provide documentation on what the 1997 beginning cash balance per the budget represented.

The MCCDD budget should include accurate financial information to ensure it is properly presented and to increase the effectiveness of the budgets as management tools.

WE RECOMMEND the Madison County Council for Developmentally Disabled Board:

A. Develop and implement procedures to ensure services are adequately documented and billed correctly. In addition, the board should contact the applicable state agencies to resolve the over billings.

B. Pay overtime in accordance with the employee manual and FLSA requirements.

C. Require summary records be maintained of vacation, sick leave, and overtime earned, used, and accumulated.

D. Ensure disbursements are a necessary and prudent use of public funds.

E. Solicit bids for purchases in accordance with state law and retain documentation of these bids and justification for bid awards. If bids cannot be obtained or sole source procurement is necessary, the circumstances should be documented.

F. Maintain complete and accurate general fixed asset records in a manner that beginning balances, additions, and deletions can be reconciled to year-end balances. In addition, additions of fixed assets should be recorded as they occur and fixed asset purchases should be reconciled to additions to the property records.

G. Include all cash on hand at January 1 on their annual budget.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Upon becoming aware of this issue, the MCCDD has now reimbursed East Missouri Action Agency in full. The MCCDD has also previously agreed to reimburse Medicaid and other agencies for overpayment amounts. The Board of Directors will ensure that these payments are made. In addition, the administrative staff has actively implemented a procedure of retaining in MCCDD's files, a record of supporting documentation (i.e., timesheets, transportation records) with the billing statements sent to the agencies.

B. The Board of Directors will ensure that the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) requirements are complied with in terms of paying overtime in wages or compensatory time. To the extent any employees qualify under the FLSA as an employee providing "companionship services," overtime will not be paid. The administrative staff has received a book from the Department of Labor providing rules and regulations pertaining to companionship services and the payment of overtime. We will implement procedures consistent with the FLSA requirements. Employees, such as administrative staff, who do not provide "companion services" as defined by the FLSA, will receive overtime compensation based on one and a half times compensatory time.

C. We agree with this recommendation and have devised a form to utilize in tracking such time.

D. We agree with this recommendation and will take necessary steps to follow the recommendation. For example, the MCCDD now retains a detailed transaction report documenting the disbursement. The Board will continue to monitor future disbursements.

E. We agree with this recommendation and will ensure that records are maintained on bids provided for purchases of $4,500 or more.

F. We agree with this recommendation and have implemented procedures to improve our record-keeping in this regard. For example, we have compiled a detailed list of all fixed assets, which include a photograph of the asset, written description of the asset, and the serial number of the asset. A record is also kept of all new purchases of fixed assets. Copies of these records are retained both in the Board's safety deposit box and in the office.

G. We agree with this recommendation and will follow it.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Madison County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

MADISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1818, the county of Madison was named after President James Madison. Madison County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Twenty-fourth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Fredericktown.

Madison County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Madison County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

AUDIT REPORT

RALLS COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-68
August 31, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Ralls, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Ralls County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

< Ralls County's General Revenue Fund is experiencing a declining cash balance. The cash balance has basically decreased from $193,572 at January 1, 1997 to $4,229 at December 1998. The audit suggested the county review expenditures and reduce discretionary costs.

< As similarly noted in the prior two reports, the approved budget documents still do not adequately project the anticipated financial condition of the Special Road and Bridge Fund. The County Commission indicated that, to plan for unforeseen emergencies and to avoid overspending the approved budget, they budget to spend all beginning cash available plus all estimated receipts for the year. The audit indicated such a practice results in the loss of the budget as a management tool and control over disbursements. The audit also questioned the county's procedures for calculating administrative fees charged to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

< The county directly paid 911 Fund costs totaling $70,333, and authorized operating transfers of $6,052, from the Special Road and Bridge fund. The county indicated that 911 employees do some work for the Road and Bridge department but maintained no documentation supporting the amounts charged. As state law and the Missouri Constitution restrict the use of the Special Road and Bridge Fund, the audit recommended the county review such practices with legal counsel.

< The county's documentation of bidding procedures needs improvement. The county verbally had reasons for some actions but had not documented such things including why higher bids were sometimes accepted.

Also included in the audit are recommendations regarding expenditures of county funds, personnel policies, and general fixed asset procedures. The audit also suggested an adequate segregation of duties or independent oversight in the Circuit Clerks' Child Support Office, the Associate Circuit Clerk's Office, and the Sheriff's Office.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Ralls County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Ralls County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Ralls County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 8, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Ralls County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Ralls County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 8, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Ralls County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board of Trustees. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Prosecuting Attorney Administration Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Delinquent Tax Fund	1997
Domestic Violence Fund	1997
Drug Enforcement Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Special Fund	1997
Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Assessment Fund	1997
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998
Drug Enforcement Fund	1998
Recorder's User Fee Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

A deficit budget balance is presented for the General Revenue Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998. However, the budget of that fund also included other resources available to finance current or future year disbursements. Generally, other available net resources represented current year property taxes not received before December 31. Such resources were sufficient to offset the deficit budget balance presented.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, or by commercial insurance provided through a surety bond.

The Health Center Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depository insurance or by collateral securities held by the Board's custodial bank in the Board's name. However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $156,064 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $79,726. As of December 31, 1998, $29,902 remains to be paid.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are an integral part of this schedule.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

RALLS COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Ralls County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
>
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Property Program (CFDA number 12.unknown) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $100,731 and $188,770 to a subrecipient under the Byrne Formula Grant Program (CFDA number 16.579) during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Ralls County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Ralls County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Ralls County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. However, the results of our auditing procedures disclosed an instance of noncompliance with those requirements, which is required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1.

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Ralls County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

We noted a certain matter involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be a reportable condition. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over compliance that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the county's ability to administer a major federal program in accordance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. The reportable condition is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we do not believe that the reportable condition described above is a material weakness.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Ralls County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

98-1.	Federal Awards

Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Transportation
Pass-Through Grantor: State Highway and Transportation Commission
Federal CFDA Number: 20.205
Program Title: Off-System Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program
Pass-Through Entity: Not applicable
Identifying Number: BRO 087(12)
Award Year: 1998
Questioned Costs: Not applicable

During the two years ended December 31, 1998, the county received reimbursements from the Missouri Department of Transportation for bridge replacement and rehabilitation expenditures under the Highway Planning and Construction Program - Off System Projects. The county normally pays such expenditures as the liability is incurred and prior to the reimbursement. However, we noted one reimbursement totaling $44,578 which the county held 46 days before the related payment was made to the contractor.

Section 6.2.2 of the Cash Management Improvement Act Agreement between the State of Missouri and the Secretary of the Treasury, United States Department of the Treasury, states that federal funds shall be disbursed by the county within two days of receipt.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission establish procedures to minimize the time elapsed between the receipt of federal monies and disbursement of such funds.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

We agree. The exception noted was due to oversight when we misplaced an invoice for a while. Since it is already our policy to pay such costs before requesting reimbursement from federal monies, we do not believe any specific corrective action is needed. We will ensure federal monies are disbursed in a timely manner.

RALLS COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS FOR AN
AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

RALLS COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

4. Federal Financial Assistance

Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Justice
Pass-Through Grantor: Missouri Department of Public Safety
Federal CFDA Number: 16.579
Program Title: Byrne Formula Grant Program
Pass-Through Entity
Identifying Number: 96-NCD2-054, 95-NCD2-0060, and 95-NCD2-0051
Award Year: 1996 and 1995
Questioned Cost: $38,516

Ralls County was the grant recipient for a federal Drug Control and Systems Improvement Formula Grant, passed through the state Department of Public Safety (DPS). Ralls County in turn passed the funds on to the Northeast Missouri (NEMO) Drug Task Force. The County Commission approved reimbursement requests from the NEMO Drug Task Force, however, it did not receive or review documentation supporting Task Force expenditures. Also the County Commission did not ensure the NEMO Task Force obtained an audit. The DPS performed a review and questioned costs totaling $38,516.

Recommendation:

The County Commission adequately review supporting documentation for all expenditures prior to approving reimbursement requests and ensure subrecipients of federal financial assistance comply with federal regulations, including obtaining an annual audit when necessary. In addition, the County Commission should contact the Missouri Department of Public Safety to resolve this issue.

Status:

Partially implemented. We have resolved this issue with the Missouri Department of Public Safety who required NEMO to repay $14,000. Although we did not require an annual audit and supporting documentation for expenditures, effective July 1, 1998 Ralls County no longer serves as the pass-through entity for this program.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

RALLS COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ralls County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 8, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Ralls County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 8, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Ralls County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Financial Condition

Ralls County's General Revenue Fund is experiencing a declining cash balance. The following shows receipts, disbursements, and ending cash balances for the two years ended December 31, 1998:

Cash Balance, January 1, 1997	$ 115,169
Receipts	1,159,388
Disbursements	1,171,615
Cash Balance, December 31, 1997	102,942
Receipts	1,092,702
Disbursements	1,191,415
Cash Balance, December 31, 1998	$ 4,229

Due to a misallocation of 1996 sales tax monies into the Special Road and Bridge Fund rather than the General Revenue Fund, which was corrected in 1997, the 1997 receipts amount reflected above is inflated by $78,403. The beginning cash balance at January 1, 1997 is understated by the same amount. Therefore, the cash balance actually decreased from $193,572 at January 1, 1997 to $4,229 at December 31, 1998. In addition, the 1999 budget for the General Revenue Fund has budgeted receipts of $1,149,293, budgeted disbursements of $1,327,020, and budgeted ending cash balance of ($173,498) at December 31, 1999.

In addition to the projected negative cash balance at December 31, 1999, the General Revenue Fund owes approximately $52,667 to the Special Road and Bridge Fund due to administrative transfers which were in excess of the amounts authorized by law, as noted in MAR No. 4.

Contributing to the weak financial condition has been little growth in revenues coupled with increasing costs, most notably expenses for boarding of prisoners which have increased from approximately $36,000 in 1996 to approximately $102,000 in 1998. In addition, salaries of county officials are budgeted to increase approximately $66,000 in 1999.

The County Commission should review expenditures and reduce discretionary amounts as much as possible.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission take the necessary steps to improve the financial condition of General Revenue Fund.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We agree. We do continually monitor the financial condition of the county and have also begun meeting monthly with all the county officials to discuss the status of the budget. We may need to look into raising additional taxes, cutting services, or possibly both.

2. Budgetary Practices

Our review of the county budgets disclosed the following concerns:

A. As similarly noted in the prior two reports, the approved budget documents did not adequately project the anticipated financial condition of the Special Road and Bridge Fund for the two years ended December 31, 1998. The following are estimated cash balances as compared to actual cash balances at December 31, 1998 and 1997:

Year Ended	Cash Balance
December 31,	Budget	Actual
1998	$ 0	$348,207
1997	0	480,602

The County Commission indicated that, to plan for unforeseen emergencies and to avoid overspending the approved budget, they budget to spend all beginning cash available plus all estimated receipts for the year. The practice of overestimating expected disbursements to reflect an unreasonable cash balance results in the loss of the use of the budget as a management planning tool and as a control over disbursements. If there are valid reasons which necessitate unforeseen expenditures, budget amendments could be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office prior to incurring the expenditures.

For the budget documents to be of maximum assistance to the County Commission and to adequately inform county residents of the county's operations and current financial position, the budgets should accurately reflect resources on hand, reasonable estimates of receipts and disbursements, and the anticipated ending cash balances.

B. Disbursements exceeded budget amounts in various funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998, as follows:

Fund	Year Ended December 31, 1998	1997
Assessment	0	$ 559
Law Enforcement Training	$ 2,435	0
Drug Enforcement	99,085	0
Recorder's User Fees	1,476	0

The county failed to include activity related to a federal grant in its Drug Enforcement Fund budget for 1998.

It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo. 1122, 273 S.W.2d 246 (1954) that county officials are required to strictly comply with county budget laws. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess disbursements, amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Estimate receipts and disbursements as closely as possible to the anticipated actual amounts so that a reasonable estimate of the county's financial position is presented.

B. Not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures. Extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and, if necessary, the budgets properly amended and filed per state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A&B. We agree.

3. Controls Over County Expenditures

A. Bids were not always solicited nor was bid documentation always retained by the County Clerk for various purchases made by the county during the audit period. The County Clerk and County Commission indicated bids are sometimes solicited through telephone calls or other direct contacts with vendors; however, documentation of these contacts was not maintained or recorded in the County Commission minutes.

1) The following are examples of items purchased during the two years ended December 31, 1998, without bid documentation:

Item	Cost
Tractor	$48,250
Gravel	46,270
Asphalt	26,972
Road equipment	26,335
Boom-Mower	24,220
Dodge Pickup	17,273
Calcium	16,660
Fuel	6,768
Computers	5,008

The County Clerk indicated the tractor and the boom-mower were chosen because the county wanted to lease the equipment; the gravel is purchased from the nearest provider to the work sites and the asphalt and calcium are purchased from sole source providers. The County Clerk did not have reasons for lack of documentation of bids for the Dodge pickup, nor for fuel and computers beyond wanting to support local businesses. However, documentation for selection was not maintained.

2) The county commission minutes did not always document the evaluation of bid proposals and the basis and justification for awarding bids, including the reasons low bids were not accepted. The following are examples of items purchased where the low bid was not accepted and the evaluation of the bid was not documented:

Item	Cost
Road Grader	$84,153
Radio Equipment	52,332

While no information was documented regarding the evaluation of bid proposals or the basis and justification for awarding the contract to the vendor selected, the County Clerk indicated the road grader, purchased for $10,000 more than the low bid, was chosen based on brand preference. Also, the radio equipment purchased was $15,772 more than the low bid which the County Clerk indicated did not meet bid specifications.

Section 50.660, RSMo Cumm Supp 1998, increased the bid requirement to any purchase in the amount of $4,500 or more made from any one person, firm or corporation during any period of ninety days.

Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of county resources and help assure the county that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding ensures all parties are given equal opportunity to participate in county business.

To show full compliance with state law, documentation of bids should include, at a minimum, a listing of vendors from whom bids were requested, a copy of the request for proposal, a newspaper publication notice when applicable, a copy of all bids received, a summary of the basis and justification for awarding the bid, documentation of all discussions with vendors, and bid specifications designed to encourage competitive bidding.

B. The Prosecuting Attorney submits a letter to the County Clerk's office to obtain reimbursement for various expenses. However, adequate supporting documentation such as invoices, timesheets, or itemized expense reports was not always required to be submitted to the County Commission for various expenses such as mileage, equipment, office expenses, major case expenses, training expenses, and professional services. Without adequate supporting documentation, the County Commission cannot determine the validity and propriety of the expenditures. Excluding regular salary costs, expenses of the Prosecuting Attorney's office totaled $5,325 and $5,836 for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997 respectively from various funds. While the county did include the Prosecuting Attorney's unsupported expenses totaling $5,836 on a 1099 form for 1997, only professional services totaling $1,200 were included on the 1099 form for 1998.

C. The Ralls County Commission authorized operating transfers of $6,052 from the Special Road and Bridge Fund to the 911 Fund and proposed a transfer for 1999 of $50,000. In addition, the following 911 costs were paid directly from the Special Road and Bridge Fund during the audit period:

Item	Cost
Radio Equipment	$47,158
911 Coordinator's Salary for 1997	14,455
Mapping Services	6,410
Radio Tower License	2,310

State law and the Missouri Constitution restrict the use of the Special Road and Bridge Fund to road and bridge purposes. The county had no documentation supporting the use of Special Road and Bridge funds for this purpose. The County Commission indicated that the 911 employees do dispatching and mapping for the road and bridge department, as well as working on signs, however there was no documentation supporting the amount charged to Special Road and Bridge in relation to the work done.

D. The county employs Planning and Zoning legal counsel at a monthly salary of $1,087. These expenditures were not supported by time sheets or other records documenting work performed. Additionally, no agreement exists documenting the services to be performed and compensation paid. Without adequate supporting documentation and a formal agreement, the County Commission cannot determine the validity and propriety of the expenditures.

Similar conditions were noted in prior reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for all purchases in accordance with state law, and maintain documentation of bids solicited and justification for bids awarded. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the official minutes should reflect the necessitating circumstances.

B. Require adequate supporting documentation prior to approving expenditures for payment. In addition, all unsupported payments to the Prosecuting Attorney should be included on his W-2 or 1099 form.

C. Review this situation with the county's legal counsel to determine whether transferring Special Road and Bridge funds to the 911 is a proper road and bridge expense. If these expenditures are determined to not be appropriate, these monies should be paid back to the Special Road and Bridge Fund. In addition, charges from 911 to the Special Road and Bridge Fund for work performed should be supported by documentation indicating the number of hours worked or number of dispatch calls received, as well as a per unit amount charged for those services.

D. Obtain a formal agreement documenting the services to be provided by the Planning and Zoning legal counsel and require adequate supporting documentation of time worked and services performed prior to approving payment.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We agree and will also try to document these items in the minutes better.

B&C. We agree.

D. We agree and have already asked for this information.

4. Special Road and Bridge Fund Administrative Service Fee

Section 50.515, RSMo 1994, authorizes the County Commission to impose an administrative service fee on the Special Road and Bridge Fund. The purpose of this fee is to recoup actual expenditures made from the General Revenue Fund for road and bridge related administrative expenses. The fee is limited to a maximum of three percent of the budget of the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

Budgeted expenditures, upon which the county calculated the transfer amount, significantly exceeded actual expenditures of the Special Road and Bridge Fund during the year ended December 31, 1998. As a result, actual transfers were $9,723 in excess of 3 percent of actual expenditures for that year.

In addition, as noted in the prior report, $42,944 was due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund for prior accumulated excess administrative transfers. This amount was not repaid. At December 31, 1998, $52,667 in excess administrative transfers is due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission base administrative transfers on actual or reasonable budgeted expenditures of the Special Road and Bridge Fund. In addition, a transfer of $52,667 should be made from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We agree and will review this situation further regarding the accumulated excess transfers.

5. Personnel Policies and Procedures

A. Currently, county officials are properly bonded as required by statute; however, other county-paid employees who handle monies are not covered by any employee bond. Properly bonding all persons with access to monies would better protect the officials and county from risk of loss.

B. Although the County Commission has adopted a county wide leave policy for all county employees, many employees take leave at the discretion of each respective elected official. Centralized accumulated vacation leave, sick leave and compensatory time records are not maintained by the County Clerk. In addition, most of the elected officials or supervisors do not maintain records of vacation leave, sick leave, and compensatory time for their employees.

Without centralized leave records, the County Commission cannot ensure that employees' vacation leave, sick leave, and compensatory time balances are accurate and that all employees are treated equitably. Centralized leave records also aid in determining final compensation for employees leaving county employment and in documenting compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Obtain adequate bond coverage for all employees with access to monies.

B. Require the County Clerk to maintain centralized leave records for all county employees.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will take this recommendation under advisement.

B. We agree and will attempt to implement this recommendation.

6. County Clerk's Controls and Procedures

A. The County Clerk does not maintain adequate records of fixed assets. Records consist primarily of files of information on county cars and road and bridge equipment. A listing of all county-owned assets, including a description, the purchase price, date of acquisition, location, and identification number is not maintained. Section 51.155, RSMo Cum Supp. 1998, requires that fixed assets with an original value of $250 or more be recorded in the fixed asset records.

This condition was also noted in our prior report.

B. The county does not have formal procedures for disposing of county owned property. No written authorization for disposal is obtained from the County Commission. In addition, complete information is not recorded regarding the disposition of assets.

Written authorization for the disposal of property and documentation of the date and method of disposition are necessary to lessen the possibility of misuse and to provide adequate support for changes to the fixed asset records.

C. The County Clerk does not periodically reconcile equipment purchases with additions to the fixed asset records and annual inventories of fixed assets are not performed.

Section 50.155, RSMo 1998, Cum. Supp., requires the County Clerk to perform annual inventories of county property, buildings, and equipment. In addition, performing reconciliations of equipment purchased would help ensure all purchases have been properly added to the fixed asset records.

D. Property tags are not placed upon fixed asset items. Property control tags should be affixed to all fixed asset items to help improve accountability over these items and help ensure that assets are not lost or stolen.

Adequate fixed asset records and procedures are necessary to meet statutory requirements, secure better internal controls over county property, and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage of county property. Inventories of county property are necessary to ensure the fixed asset records are accurate, identify any unrecorded additions and deletions, detect theft of assets, and identify obsolete assets.

E. The County Clerk neither prepares nor verifies the tax books. Both the current and back tax books are generated from the computer by the County Collector. State law requires the county clerk to prepare the tax books, and charge the collector with those taxes. Failure of the County Clerk to verify tax books could result in errors or intentional misstatements going undetected.

This condition was also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk:

A. Maintain adequate fixed asset records with a detailed description of each item to include the purchase price, date of acquisition, location, and identification number.

B. And the County Commission establish a formal method of disposing of fixed assets. At a minimum, written authorization for all property dispositions should be obtained and the date and method of disposition should be recorded on the fixed asset records.

C. Perform an annual inventory of the county's fixed assets and periodically reconcile fixed asset purchases to additions on the fixed asset records.

D. Identify all fixed assets with a number, tag, or similar identifying device.

E. Verify the tax books generated by the County Collector's office.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-E. I agree.

7.	Segregation of Duties

During our review of accounting policies and procedures, we noted accounting duties in the following areas are not adequately segregated:

A. In the Circuit Clerk's office, for child support activities, one clerk receives monies, records cash receipts and disbursements, writes checks, prepares and makes deposits, receives bank statements, and performs bank reconciliations.

B. The Associate Circuit Clerk receives monies, records receipts and disbursements, prepares and makes deposits, and performs month-end reconciliations.

C. The Sheriff's bookkeeper receives monies, records receipts and disbursements, writes checks, prepares and makes deposits, receives bank statements, performs month-end reconciliations, and prepares monthly fee reports.

There is no documentation that the employees' supervisors or other personnel independent of these functions reconcile or review the work performed by these employees. To adequately safeguard assets, the cash custody and record keeping functions should be segregated where possible. If the functions cannot be segregated, timely supervisory review of work performed and investigation into unusual items and variances is necessary and should be documented.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk, Associate Division, and the Sheriff provide for adequate segregation of duties or the performance of independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Circuit Clerk responded: I agree and will document my review of the deputy clerk's work.

The Associate Judge responded: We have a bookkeeping system that works very well, and I trust my clerks to handle all monies paid through this court. I have access to all files and records, and the clerks know that at any time I can pull any file and review both record and bookkeeping entries. We will keep your recommendations in mind.

The Sheriff responded: I agree and have already started documenting my review of my bookkeeper's work.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Ralls County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

RALLS COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up action taken by Ralls County, Missouri, on findings made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. Finding number 4 is omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Budgetary Practices

   A. The approved budget documents did not adequately project the anticipated financial condition of the Special Road and Bridge Fund for the three years ended December 31, 1996, 1995, and 1994.

   B. The County Commission approved budgeted deficits of $25,252 and $66,558 for the General Revenue Fund for the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1994, respectively.

   C. Formal budgets were not prepared and filed with the State Auditor's office for a number of county funds for the years ended December 31, 1996, 1995 and 1994.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. Estimate receipts and disbursements as closely as possible to the anticipated actual amounts so that a reasonable estimate of the county's financial position is presented.

   B. Discontinue deficit budgeting.

   C. Ensure a budget is prepared or obtained for all county funds. The County Clerk should file all budgets with the State Auditor's office.

   Status:

   A. Not implemented. See MAR 2.A.

   B. Implemented. A deficit budget balance is presented for the General Revenue Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998. However, the budget for that fund included other resources available sufficient to offset the deficit budget balance presented.

C. Partially implemented. The number of unbudgeted funds decreased significantly from the prior audit. For year ending December 31, 1998 the only funds not budgeted were the Circuit Division Interest Fund and the Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund, both of which are held by other officials. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

2. Controls Over County Expenditures

A. Bids were not always solicited nor was bid documentation always retained by the County Clerk for various purchases made by the county during the audit period.

B. The County Assessor contracted for map maintenance services with a corporation whose president was the County Surveyor. The county did not follow bidding procedures to obtain this service.

C. Adequate supporting documentation was not always required for reimbursement claims submitted by the Prosecuting Attorney for various expenses.

D. The Sheriff and deputies were not required to submit invoices or an itemized expense report to support uniform allowances paid to them, nor were the uniform allowances reported on W-2 forms.

E. Numerous expenditures from the Law Enforcement Training (LET) Fund appeared inappropriate.

F. The Ralls County Commission authorized the 911 coordinator's salary to be paid in part from the 911 Fund and in part from the Special Road and Bridge Fund and retained no documentation supporting the use of Special Road and Bridge funds for that purpose.

G. Expenditures of $1,000 per month for Planning and Zoning legal counsel were not supported by time sheets or other records documenting work performed.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for purchases in accordance with state law and maintain documentation of all bids obtained. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the County Commission minutes should reflect the circumstances.

B. Bid professional services in the future. The County Commission should consult with the Prosecuting Attorney regarding any conflict of interest.

C. Require adequate supporting documentation prior to approving expenditures for payment. In addition, the unsupported payments to the Prosecuting Attorney should be included on his W-2 form.

D. Require employees to submit invoices or itemized expense reports for uniform allowances or report the payments as other income on the employees' W-2 forms.

E. Ensure all expenditures of the LET Fund meet the requirements of chapter 590, RSMo 1994. In addition, $13,882 should be transferred from the General Revenue Fund to the Law Enforcement Training Fund.

F. Review this situation with the county's legal counsel and ensure paying a portion of the 911 coordinator's salary from the Special Road and Bridge Fund is a proper road and bridge expense. The amount of time paid from each fund should be supported by time sheets which document the activities performed.

G. Obtain a formal agreement documenting the services to be provided by the Planning and Zoning legal counsel and require adequate supporting documentation of time worked and services performed prior to approving payment.

Status:

A. Not implemented. See MAR 3.A.

B. Not implemented. The County Commission did not consult with the Prosecuting Attorney on this issue. They are still under the same contract as noted in the prior audit for map maintenance service, however they indicated their intentions on bidding this service when the contract expires. Expenditures for this contract were $14,297 and $12,112 for 1998 and 1997, respectively. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Partially implemented. Although the county still did not obtain adequate supporting documentation for Prosecuting Attorney expenditures, the county issued a 1099 to the Prosecuting Attorney for some of the unsubstantiated expenditures. See MAR 3.B.

D. Implemented. These payments are now included as part of the gross wages on the employees' W-2 forms.

E. Partially implemented. Although we noted no questionable expenditures paid from the LET Fund during the audit period, the county did not transfer the $13,882 from the General Revenue Fund to the LET Fund. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

F. Not implemented. See MAR 3.C.

G. Not implemented. See MAR 3.D.

3. Special Road and Bridge Fund Administrative Service Fee

The administrative transfer was substantially more than three percent of reasonable budgeted expenditures during the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1994. At December 31, 1996, $42,944 was due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund for excess administrative fee transfers.

Recommendation:

The County Commission base administrative transfers on actual or reasonable budgeted expenditures of the Special Road and Bridge Fund. In addition, a transfer of $42,944 should be made from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR 4.

5. Collector's Proposition C Calculations

A. The Collector used an incorrect unadjusted tax levy when computing the 1995 Proposition C ratio for the Hannibal 60 School District, resulting in monies being improperly withheld from the school district, $938 and $642 were due from the General Revenue Fund and the Assessment Fund, respectively, to the school district.

B. The Collector incorrectly calculated the average school levy when computing commissions and Assessments Fund withholdings on state assessed railroad and utility taxes, resulting in $2,910 being improperly withheld from the taxes due to the school districts.

Recommendation:

The Collector ensure future Proposition C commissions are computed correctly. In addition, the Collector should:

A. Withhold commissions of $938 from the General Revenue Fund and $642 from the Assessment Fund to be distributed to the Hannibal 60 School District.

B. Withhold $2,910 from future commissions and Assessment Fund withholdings on state assessed railroad and utility taxes, and include that amount in taxes to be distributed to the school districts.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

6. Associate Circuit Division Procedures

Receipts were not deposited intact, nor on a timely basis.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit Division Judge ensure receipts are deposited intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

Status:

Not implemented. Receipts were deposited approximately two to three times a week. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

7. County Clerk's Controls and Procedures

A. The County Clerk neither prepared nor verified the tax books.

B. The County Clerk did not maintain adequate records of fixed assets and did not add assets purchased to the county's insurance policy on a timely basis.

C. The County Clerk was a license fee agent for the Missouri Department of Revenue and operated the fee office from his office in the courthouse. Through an oral agreement, the County Clerk paid the county monthly rent of $75 and also paid 40 percent of the salary of one of his deputies. No documentation existed to document the adequacy of the monthly rental amount or salary allocation of the deputy.

Recommendation:

The County Clerk:

A. Verify the tax books generated by the County Collector's office.

B. Maintain adequate records of fixed assets and ensure assets purchased are added to the county's insurance policy on a timely basis.

C. Prepare documentation of the adequacy of rental payments and salary allocations.

Status:

A. Not implemented. See MAR 6.E.

B. Not implemented. See MAR 6.A.

C. Not implemented. The County Clerk raised the monthly rental payments to $100 and the salary allocation of one of his deputies to 45%. However, no documentation was prepared to support the adequacy of the increased amounts. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

RALLS COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1820, the county of Ralls was named after Daniel Ralls, one of the first representatives to the state legislature. Ralls County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Tenth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is New London.

Ralls County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Ralls County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

AUDIT REPORT

CITY OF URICH, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-67
August 31, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to petitioners from the City of Urich, Missouri.

The city does not have formal written bidding policies and procedures and we noted some purchases, totaling approximately $20,000, for which no bid documentation was kept.

Some disbursements were not supported by paid receipts and/or complete invoices. In addition, the board did not document its review and approval of disbursements and the city did not enter into a written contract for legal services. A written contract signed by the parties involved, should specify the goods or services to be provided and the manner and amount of compensation to be paid.

The Board of Aldermen held several closed meetings during 1997 and 1998; however, minutes of these meetings were not kept. Board minutes did not always include a record of votes taken. In addition, the city did not fill a vacant Alderman's position in accordance with state law.

The city did not publish semi-annual financial statements, submit annual financial reports to the State Auditor's Office, or obtain timely audits of the water and sewer system.

The City Clerk also serves as Treasurer for the city, resulting in duties which are not adequately segregated.

The Urich police department does not maintain adequate records to account for all traffic tickets issued. As a result, the city cannot be assured that all tickets issued were properly submitted to the court for processing.

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the city of Urich, Missouri. Our audit of the city included, but was not limited to, the year ended September 30, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, ordinances, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

CITY OF URICH, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Expenditures (pages 9-10)

   The city does not have formal written bidding policies and procedures. Bids were not solicited or bid documentation retained for purchases totaling over $20,000. Adequate documentation was not maintained to support some disbursements, the city did not have formal written agreements for its legal services, and an appraisal was not obtained for a land purchase.

2. Board Meetings and Related Matters (pages 10-12)

   The board minutes were not signed by the Mayor and City Clerk, minutes were not prepared for closed meetings, and the minutes do not always include a record of votes taken. In addition, the minutes did not indicate changes made to the tentative agenda which had been posted. The city did not fill a vacant alderman's position in accordance with state law.

3. Financial Reporting (pages 12-13)

   The city does not publish semi-annual financial statements, submit annual financial reports to the State Auditor's Office, or obtain annual audits.

4. Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 13-14)

   The Village Clerk also serves as Treasurer for the city resulting in duties which are not adequately segregated. The water and sewer accounts receivable ledger is not balanced monthly.

5. Traffic Violations (page 14)

   Neither the police department nor the court maintains adequate records to account for all traffic tickets issued by the police department.

1. Expenditures

A. The city does not have formal written bidding policies and procedures. As a result, the decision of whether to solicit bids for a particular purchase is made on an item by item basis. Although the city did solicit bids for many significant purchases, we noted the following purchases for which no bid documentation was retained:

Truck	$13,000
Fire equipment (used)	1,770
Emergency equipment	3,778
Repair and paint ambulance	2,136

Formal bidding procedures for major purchases would provide a framework for economical management of city resources and help ensure the city receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding also helps ensure all parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in the city's business. Not only can bids be obtained by telephone quotation, but bids can also be obtained by written quotation, by sealed bid, or by advertised sealed bid. Various approaches are appropriate, based on the dollar amount and type of purchase. Whichever approach is used, complete documentation should be maintained of all bids received and the reasons for selecting the winning bid.

B. Supporting documentation was not maintained for purchases of fire prevention training ($400) and electronic police equipment ($550).

All disbursements should be supported by paid receipts and/or complete vendor provided invoices to ensure the obligation was actually incurred and the disbursement was an appropriate use of public funds.

C. Each month, the Board of Aldermen reviews a listing of unpaid bills. However, the board does not sign or initial this listing.

To adequately document the board's review and approval of disbursements, a complete and detailed listing of bills should be prepared, signed or initialed by the aldermen to denote their approval, and retained with the official minutes.

D. The city has not entered into written contracts for legal services. The city spent $1,035 and $3,688 for legal services during the years ended September 30, 1998, and 1997, respectively without a formal written contract.

Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, requires contracts of political subdivisions be in writing. The city should enter into written contracts for services rendered or obtained. A written contract, signed by the parties involved, should specify the goods or services to be provided and the manner and amount of compensation to be paid. Written contracts are necessary to ensure all parties are aware of their duties, rights, and responsibilities and to provide protection to all parties.

E. In March 1998 the city purchased a lot in town for $6,500. The city did not obtain an independent appraisal on the purchase of the property. As a result, there is less assurance the price paid for the property was reasonable or represented the fair value of the property.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Establish formal bidding policies with provisions for documentation of the justification for selecting and rejecting bids.

B&C. Ensure supporting documentation is maintained to support all city disbursements, including documentation that all disbursements have been approved by the board.

D. Enter into formal written contracts, in accordance with state law, which specify the goods or services to be provided and the amount of compensation. These contracts should adequately detail the rights and duties of all parties to the respective contracts and should be properly updated and/or extended when necessary.

E. Obtain an independent appraisal for any property being considered for purchase.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-D. We will implement these recommendations.

E. We will take this recommendation under advisement in the future.

2. Board Meetings and Related Matters

A. Board minutes are currently prepared and signed by the City Clerk; however, they are not signed by the Mayor. Prior to September 1998 the minutes were not signed by any city official. The board minutes should be signed by the city clerk and mayor to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board meetings.

B. The Board of Aldermen held several closed meetings during 1997 and 1998; however, minutes of these meetings were not retained.

Although minutes are not specifically required by law, minutes constitute the record of proceedings of the board. Failure to maintain minutes results in an inadequate record of city transactions, proceedings, and decisions. In addition, minutes help show that the closed discussions or business related to the specific reason announced for closing the meeting pursuant to the Sunshine Law, Chapter 610, RSMo 1994.

C. Board minutes do not always include a record of votes taken. In addition, the minutes of the May 1998 meeting indicate the Mayor distributed an agenda other than the tentative agenda which had been posted. However, the minutes did not document what had been changed from the posted agenda, or the reasons why the agenda needed to be changed.

Section 610.020, RSMo 1994, states that "the minutes shall include the date, time, place, members present, members absent, and a record of votes taken" and that tentative agendas be posted at least 24 hours in advance so that the public is apprised of that information. Complete and accurate minutes provide an official record of board actions and decisions.

D. The Mayor did not accept a motion to nominate a person to fill a vacant alderman's position. The Mayor indicated that he had researched the issue and obtained a legal opinion which indicated that only the mayor could nominate a successor when a board member resigns.

Section 79.280, RSMo 1994, states only that "if a vacancy occurs in any elective office, the Mayor shall cause a special meeting of the Board of Alderman to convene where a successor to the vacant office shall be selected."

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen and Mayor:

A. Ensure board minutes are signed by the City Clerk as preparer and the Mayor to attest to their completeness and accuracy.

B. Ensure minutes are taken of all closed meetings.

C. Ensure all significant discussions, actions taken, and information required by state law are included in the minutes. In addition, any changes to the tentative agenda, and the reason for such changes, should be documented in the minutes.

D. Ensure future vacancies of elected officials are filled in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A&B. We will implement these recommendations.

C. The board minutes do document votes taken after September 1998. We will continue to document this information.

D. We implemented this recommendation when we filled the vacancies in April 1999. In addition, we adopted an ordinance which is in compliance with state law.

3. Financial Reporting

A. The city has not published semi-annual financial statements as required by state law. Section 79.160, RSMo 1994, requires the Board of Aldermen to prepare and publish semi-annual financial statements. In addition, Section 79.165, RSMo 1994, states the city treasurer cannot legally disburse funds until the financial statement is published.

B. The city did not submit annual financial reports to the State Auditor's Office for fiscal years 1994, 1995, 1996, and 1997. Section 105.145, RSMo 1994, requires political subdivisions to file an annual report of the financial transactions of the political subdivision with the State Auditor's Office. The city did submit an annual financial report for fiscal year 1998.

C. The city has not ensured timely audits of its water and sewer system are performed. The last audit issued on the system covered the year ended September 30, 1995. Section 250.150, RSMo 1994, and the revenue bond covenant require the city to obtain annual audits of the water and sewer system, and the cost of the audits is to be paid from the revenues received from the system.

Besides being required by the bond covenant and state law, timely audits of the water and sewer system would better enable the city to:

1. Ascertain the stewardship of the public officials who handle and are responsible for the financial resources of the city.

2. Determine the propriety and accuracy of its financial transactions.

3. Ensure revenues of the sewer system are adequate to meet the expenses of providing this service.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Require semi-annual financial statements be prepared and published.

B. Submit annual reports of financial transactions to the State Auditor's Office as required by state law.

C. Ensure annual audits of the waterworks and sewer system are performed in a timely manner.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We did prepare and publish a semi-annual financial statement in April 1999.

B. We will continue to submit this annual report.

C. We will implement this recommendation.

4. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The Board of Aldermen has not appointed a separate individual to serve as City Treasurer. Presently, the City Clerk also serves as the City Treasurer. Her duties include receiving, recording, and depositing receipts, preparing checks, recording disbursements, and reconciling bank accounts. The board periodically reviews the work performed by the city clerk, however, this review is not documented.

Attorney General's Opinion No. 24, 1955 to Dodds, concluded that in a fourth class city the holding of the positions of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Collector, or any two of these three offices by the same person at the same time would be incompatible.

Holding both the City Treasurer and City Clerk offices does not allow the segregation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions. The current procedures jeopardize the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

B. The water and sewer accounts receivable ledger is not balanced monthly. Month-end water and sewer accounts receivable balances are not reconciled to the beginning accounts receivable balance, billings, collections and other adjustments for that month. A reconciliation of receivables with billings, collections and other adjustments should be performed or reviewed by someone independent of the water and sewer accounting system every month to ensure all amounts have been accounted for appropriately.

The lack of reconciliations represents a weakness in the internal controls of the water and sewer billing and collection system. Reconciliations are needed to help ensure the accuracy of the billing, collection and reconciliation processes.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Consider appointing separate individuals to the positions of City Clerk and City Treasurer. If this is not possible, at a minimum, procedures for an adequate, documented independent review of the record keeping functions should be established.

B. Ensure beginning and ending accounts receivable balances are reconciled on a monthly basis using the billing, collections and billing adjustments during that month. Any differences which cannot be accounted for should be immediately investigated.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will attempt to implement this recommendation.

B. We believe this information is available from the computer system and will be provided to the board in the future.

5. Traffic Violations

The City of Urich issues traffic tickets, and the court cases for the city are heard once a month at the Henry County Courthouse by the Associate Circuit Judge. The Henry County Associate Court receives the payment of fines and court costs and then remits the fines to the City of Urich.

The police department does not maintain adequate records to account for all traffic tickets issued by the police department. Although ticket books appear to be assigned in numerical order by the police department, the numerical sequence of tickets issued is not accounted for and compared to the listing of cases disposed of by the Associate Court.

Without a proper accounting of the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of traffic tickets, the police department cannot be assured that all tickets issued were properly submitted to the court for processing. A complete log listing each ticket number, the date issued, and violator's name would ensure all tickets issued were properly submitted to the court for processing, properly voided, or not prosecuted. In addition, this listing should be compared to the monthly listing of cases disposed of by the Associate Court to ensure all tickets have been accounted for properly.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will implement this recommendation.

This report is intended for the information of the city's management and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

TOWN OF HAYWARD, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-66
August 31, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to the request of petitioners from Hayward, Missouri.

The town did not have budgets for calendar years 1999, 1998, 1997 and 1996. State law requires an authorized budget be in place before public monies are spent. The Town of Hayward has not submitted annual financial reports to the State Auditor's office since 1991. In addition, semi-annual financial statements were not prepared and made public by either being published or posted as required by law.

Public hearings have not been held prior to establishing property tax rates. State law requires a public hearing be held prior to the board's approval of these rates. Also, the board did not establish annual tax rates by ordinance as required by state law.

The Town of Hayward does not prepare a delinquent tax list and turn it over to the County Collector as required by state law. Furthermore, property tax receipts are not deposited on a timely basis.

Ordinances which govern the town could not be located. Since the ordinances represent legislation which has been passed by the Board of Trustees to govern the town and its residents, it is important that the town's ordinances be maintained in a complete, well-organized, and up-to-date manner.

No notices are posted for meetings held during the year. State law requires notices (including tentative agendas) to be posted in a prominent place which is easily accessible to the public. These notices should be posted at least twenty-four hours in advance of the meeting. If enough notice cannot be given before a public meeting, the reason should be documented in the board's minutes.

The town has one person that serves as the Town Clerk, Town Collector and the Town Treasurer. We recommend, and the board agrees, these duties be split between more than one person.

The Board of Trustees failed to put one of its Trustee positions up for election in April 1999 as required by state law.

The town has not developed a long-range plan to maintain the town's paved roads in the future. The town has limited resources and should review future maintenance costs for any new improvements.

Portageville, Missouri 63873

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the town of Hayward, Missouri. Our audit of the town included, but was not limited to, the year ended December 31, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, ordinances, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, town policies and ordinances, and various town financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the town and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the town.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

TOWN OF HAYWARD, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Budgets, Minutes, Meetings, Ordinances, and Financial Reports (pages 8-9)

   The town did not have budgets for the years ended December 31, 1999, 1998, 1997, and 1996. The board does not sign the minutes to indicate approval and the minutes do not include a list of payment of bills. The town has not submitted annual financial reports to the State Auditor's office since 1991. The board could not locate the town ordinances. Semi-annual financial statements are not prepared and published or posted as required by law. The board does not post notices of board meetings.

2. Accounting Controls and Procedures (page 10)

   The Town Clerk serves as the Town Treasurer and Town Collector.

3. Property Tax Controls and Procedures (pages 10-12)

   The Board of Trustees did not hold public hearings before establishing the property tax rate and did not establish the tax rate by ordinance. The board does not prepare a delinquent tax list and turn it over to the County Collector as required by state law. Property tax receipts are not deposited on a timely basis. The tax bills paid do not indicate the method of payment.

4. Restricted Revenues (page 12)

   The town paid $375 for mowing the community center property from motor vehicle-related receipts.

5. Elections (page 13)

   The Board of Trustees did not reelect Trustee Studie's position in April 1999.

6. Maintenance of Paved Roads (pages 13-14)

   The Board of Trustees has not developed a long-range plan to maintain the paved roads in the future.

1. Budgets, Minutes, Meetings, Ordinances, and Financial Reports

A. The town did not have budgets for the calendar years 1999, 1998, 1997 and 1996. Section 67.080, RSMo 1994, provides that no expenditure of public monies shall be made unless it is authorized in the budget.

Sections 67.010 to 67.080, RSMo 1994, set specific guidelines for the format, approval, and amendments of the annual operating budget. A complete and well-planned budget, in addition to meeting statutory requirements, can serve as a useful management tool by establishing specific cost and revenue expectations for each area of the village operations and provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs and revenues. It will also assist in setting tax levies and informing the public about the town's operations and current finances. A complete budget should include separate receipt and disbursement estimations by fund, and include the beginning available resources and reasonable estimates of the ending available resources. The budget should also include a budget message and comparisons of actual receipts and disbursements for the two preceding years.

B. The board minutes are not signed by either the chairman, the clerk, nor any of the other board members. The minutes do not include a list of bills for the month or year. The minutes do not document approved motions for bills to be paid or minutes to be approved.

The official board minutes should be signed by the board members, or at least a designated member of the board, to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a complete and correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board's meetings. The board should also include a list of approved bills in the minutes to document its approval.

C. The town has not submitted annual financial reports to the State Auditor's office pursuant to Section 105.145, RSMo, since 1991. The town should ensure the annual report required by law is submitted to the State Auditor's office.

D. The town does not maintain records of adopted ordinances. The town could not locate the ordinances which govern the town.

State laws specify the manner and form in which ordinances are to be prepared and require the ordinances to be published. In addition, since the ordinances represent legislation which has been passed by the Board of Trustees to govern the town and its residents, it is important that the town's ordinances be maintained in a complete, well-organized, and up-to-date manner.

E. Semiannual financial statements are not prepared and published or posted as required by law. Section 80.210, RSMo 1994, provides that the board of trustees in March and September are to prepare and publish semiannual financial statements in a local newspaper or to post semiannual financial statements in six public places within the town.

F. No notices are posted for meetings held during the year. Section 610.020, RSMo, requires notices (including tentative agendas) to be posted in a prominent place which is easily accessible to the public, to be given at least twenty-four hours in advance, or if not feasible, reasons are to be documented in the board minutes.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Prepare complete and accurate annual budget documents that contain all information required by state law and/or necessary to provide a complete financial plan for the town.

B. Document its review and approval of the board minutes and bills to be paid by signing, or designating a board member to sign, the official copy of the minutes which includes the list of approved bills.

C. Ensure the annual financial report is filed with the State Auditor's office.

D. Take action to ensure a complete set of ordinances is located and maintained.

E. Ensure semiannual financial statements are published or posted in accordance with state law.

F. Ensure notices of the board meetings are posted in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will prepare an annual budget to provide a complete financial plan for the town.

B. We are doing this now. We will include a list of approved bills with the minutes.

C. If it is the law that we do this, then we will submit an annual financial report to the State Auditor's office.

D. The ordinances were in the community building, but they are missing from the office. We will pass new ordinances.

E. We agree. If we need to do a semi-annual report, then we will prepare one and post it as required.

F. We will post a notice on the community building about the monthly board meetings.

2. Accounting Controls and Procedures

The town has one person that serves as the Town Clerk, Town Collector and the Town Treasurer. The duties of this official include maintaining receipt and disbursement records, making bank deposits, preparing and mailing tax bills, collecting property taxes, preparing checks, receiving and reconciling bank statements, and preparing financial reports.

Neither the board nor other personnel independent of the cash custody and the record-keeping functions provide adequate supervision or review of the work performed by the Town Clerk.

Attorney General's Opinion No. 24, 1955 to Dodds, concluded that in a fourth-class city the holding of the positions of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Collector, or any two of these three offices, by the same person at the same time would be incompatible. The statues pertaining to villages are similar to those cited in this opinion and, thus, the opinion's conclusion appears to be applicable to villages.

Holding two of these offices does not allow the separation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions. The current procedures jeopardize the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. The board should implement procedures to ensure a proper segregation of duties including, but not limited to, requiring that receipts are reconciled to deposits and that bank statements are reviewed and/or reconciled by someone independent of the bookkeeping duties.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees provide for an adequate segregation of duties. If this is not possible, at a minimum, procedures for adequate independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records should be established.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We agree to separate the duties. We will have three separate officials.

3. Property Tax Controls and Procedures

A. Public hearings have not been held prior to establishing the property tax rates. Section 67.110, RSMo, states a public hearing is to be held on proposed rates of tax prior to the board's approval of the rates. Also, the board did not establish the annual tax rates by ordinance as required by Section 94.210, RSMo.

B. The town does not prepare a delinquent tax list and turn it over to the County Collector as required by state law. Section 80.480, RSMo 1994, requires the board of trustees to annually turn over to the county collector a delinquent tax list and certified copies of all tax bills included in the delinquent list. The County Collector is then responsible for collecting the amounts due, including any interest and penalty charges. Attorney General's Opinion No. 31, 1950 to Frank, concluded that the delinquent taxes of a village should be in the hands of the county collector by the first Monday in March of each year. Delinquent property taxes owed to the town as of December 31, 1998, totaled $488 for the previous tax year.

C. Property tax receipts are not deposited on a timely basis. The town clerk deposited $731 of 1998 property taxes on January 22, 1999. He had been collecting the property tax receipts since December 5, 1998. We also noted receipts collected on January 9, 1998 that were not deposited until April 6, 1998.

Although the town collector has indicated on the records that his property taxes totaling $50 were paid as of January 20, 1999, the money has not been deposited as of May 14, 1999. The collector indicated that he had paid by check, but since it was not deposited, the money remained in his personal account.

To adequately safeguard against loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. All monies should be deposited at least weekly.

D. The town receives cash and checks for the payment of property taxes. The tax bills which accompany the payment serve as the town’s record of receipt; however, the method of payment (cash, check, money order, etc.) is not noted on the tax bills.

To ensure proper handling and safeguarding of town monies, the method of and date of payments should be indicated on the tax bills and the composition of receipts reconciled to bank deposits.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Hold public hearings on proposed property tax rates and establish the annual levies by ordinance as required by state law.

B. Ensure a delinquent property tax list is turned over to the County Collector annually as required by state law.

C. Ensure deposits are made daily or when receipts exceed $100. All monies should be deposited at least weekly.

D. Require the Town Collector to record the method on the corresponding tax bills received and reconcile the composition of receipts to bank deposits.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The property tax was established when the town was incorporated and remains the same today. We will have a public hearing to set the tax rates and pass an ordinance each year.

B. We did not know that we could submit delinquent taxes to the county collector. In the future, we will do this.

C. We agree that deposits should be made when receipts exceed $100.

D. We agree tax bills received and bank deposits should be reconciled. The method of payment will be noted.

4. Restricted Revenues

During the year ended December 31, 1998, the town deposited $4,096 of state motor vehicle-related receipts into a separate fund for motor-vehicle receipts titled Revenue-Sharing Fund. The town paid $375 from this fund for mowing the community center grounds. Article IV, Section 30, of the Missouri Constitution, requires that motor vehicle-related receipts apportioned by the state of Missouri be used for street-related purposes, including policing, signing, lighting, and cleaning of roads and streets. The mowing of the community center grounds does not appear to be an appropriate use of this money.

To ensure compliance with the Missouri Constitution, the town should ensure receipts are only spent on purposes allowed by the constitution.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees ensure that disbursements of motor vehicle receipts are spent in compliance with the Missouri constitution. In addition, the Board of Trustees should transfer $375 from the General Fund to the account with motor vehicle revenues.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will pay the $375 back to the Motor Vehicle Fund as our funds allow us. We will discontinue paying the mowing from that fund.

5. Elections

In April 1997, former Trustee Studie was elected to serve a two year term on the town's board of trustees. In February 1999, Trustee Jones was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Trustee Studie after his departure from Hayward.

According to Section 80.230, RSMo 1994, if a vacancy occurs in a trustee position the remaining members of the board shall fill the vacancy. The successor appointed by the board must be elected in the next election.

Trustee Jones did not stand for re-election in the April 1999 election, as required by state law, but plans to serve until April 2001.

Trustee Jones may not be serving on the board legally. The board should reappoint her or appoint someone else to fill the position until the next election (April 2000).

The Board of Trustees should ensure that any future trustee positions are filled in accordance with state law.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees should reappoint the trustee currently serving or appoint someone else to fill the position until the next election. In the future, the Board of Trustees should ensure that trustee positions are filled in compliance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

It was an oversight on our part to not have Sheila Jones file for election. On July 5, 1999, we reappointed her to make it legal.

6. Maintenance of Paved Roads

The town received a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) to rehabilitate houses and provide adequate drainage in the town. The town utilized the drainage monies to provide better drainage and pave the town roads. The town roads were graveled previously and were maintained by the town with additional assistance from the county. The county provided the equipment to maintain the road and the town would purchase the gravel. When the town began planning the paving part of the grant project, the county indicated to the town that it would not be able to provide assistance maintaining paved roads, as they did not have the resources or equipment to maintain them. The town has not developed a long-range plan to maintain the paved roads in the future. The town has limited resources and should review future maintenance costs for any new improvements.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees should develop a long-range plan for maintaining the paved roads and ensure that any future improvements are made in connection with a plan for future maintenance costs.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We plan on using our motor vehicle monies for maintaining the paved roads. We will try to develop a long-range plan.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the town of Hayward and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Daviess, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Daviess County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

The audit includes some matters upon which the county should consider and take appropriate corrective action.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Daviess County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Daviess County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Daviess County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated May 13, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Daviess County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 13, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting, which we have reported to the management of the county in the accompanying Letter on Other Matters.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Daviess County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Central Dispatch for Emergency Services Board, the Health Center Board, or the Developmentally Disabled Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Sheriff Civil Fees Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Forfeitures Fund	1997
Sheriff Forfeitures Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Delinquent Tax Fund	1997
County Clerk Grant Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1997
Community Development Block Grant Fund	1998 and 1997
Developmentally Disabled Fund	1998
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1997
Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund	1997
Local Emergency Planning Committee - Flow Grant Fund	1997
Central Dispatch Emergency Services Fund	1998
Health Center Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Recorder's User Fees Fund	1997
Central Dispatch Emergency Services Fund	1998
Health Center Fund	1998
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Community Development Block Grant Fund	1998 and 1997

Developmentally Disabled Fund	1998
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The Health Center Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the Health Center Board's custodial bank in the name of the Health Center Board.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances for the Health Center Board existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $82,087 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $46,841. As of December 31, 1998, $20,925 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

DAVIESS COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Daviess County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
>
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Because Daviess County expended no noncash awards for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, the schedule includes expenditures of cash awards only.

C. Basis of Accounting

The schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

FEDERAL AWARDS -
SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Daviess County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Daviess County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Daviess County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Daviess County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Daviess County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

SECTION ON OTHER MATTERS

DAVIESS COUNTY, MISSOURI
LETTER ON OTHER MATTERS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Daviess County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 13, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Daviess County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated May 13, 1999.

We did not review the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. The operations of such officials will be reviewed and reported on during the state auditor's next scheduled audit of the county.

This Letter on Other Matters presents matters other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These matters resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Daviess County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards. Nevertheless, the county should consider these matters and take appropriate corrective action.

1. Budgetary Practices

   Actual expenditures exceeded budgeted amounts in the Central Dispatch Emergency Services Fund by $89,829 and in the Health Center Fund by $20,844 in the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively.

2. Personnel Policies and Procedures

   Time sheets are not prepared by the Sheriff's department employees.

   In 1998, the former Prosecuting Attorney paid $2,623 to a secretary in his office from the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund. There was no supporting documentation for this disbursement.

3. Central Dispatch for Emergency Services Board

   The chairman of the Central Dispatch for Emergency Services Board also works as a dispatcher in the Central Dispatch office for which she is compensated which may represent a conflict of interest.

This Letter on Other Matters is intended for the information of the management of Daviess County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this letter is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

Report No. 99-64
August 26, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

August 1999

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Grundy, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Grundy County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

< The Public Administrator has frequently been late in filing annual settlements and is not adequately monitoring the bank account balances of wards. Numerous concerns existed with the methods of providing allowance payments to wards and documentation pertaining to many disbursements was not adequate or was not retained. The Associate Circuit Judge has removed the Public Administrator as guardian and conservator for one ward and requested additional information regarding some disbursements for other wards. Additionally, reimbursements to the Public Administrator himself were not supported by adequate documentation.

< The county's overtime and compensatory time policies do not address current practices of the ambulance service, which are inconsistent with overtime determination methods utilized for other county employees. The county may be incurring more in overtime costs than is necessary.

< Due to the erroneous handling of some property tax transactions by the Trenton Township Collector and the Ex Officio County Collector, the county apparently failed to collect approximately $4,303 in back taxes.

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve the accounting controls and procedures for the Prosecuting Attorney, Assessor, Health Center Board, and the Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Board. The audit also suggested improvements be made in the county's budgetary and financial reporting procedures, property tax system controls, and other payroll and salary commission procedures and documentation.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Grundy County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the fourth paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Grundy County.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, requires disclosure of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. Grundy County has included such disclosures in Note 4. Because of the unprecedented nature of the year 2000 issue, its effects and the success of related remediation efforts will not be fully determinable until the year 2000 and thereafter. Accordingly, insufficient audit evidence exists to support the county's disclosures with respect to the year 2000 issue made in Note 4. Further, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding year 2000 disclosures, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 6, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Grundy County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Grundy County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 6, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. Except as discussed in that report, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Grundy County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, or the Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Child Care Fund	1998 and 1997
Private Tutoring Fund	1998 and 1997
Project Mentoring Fund	1998 and 1997
Drug Awareness and Resistance Education fund	1997
Local Emergency Planning Committee Fund	1997

Division of Youth Services Intensive Probation Fund	1998 and 1997
St. Lukes Grant Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund	1998

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1998
9-1-1 Fund	1998 and 1997
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Health Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The deposits of the Health Center Board at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

The deposits of the Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Board at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $147,299 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $82,026. As of December 31, 1998, $30,762 remains to be paid.

4. Year 2000 Issue

Grundy County has projected, planned for, and budgeted for changes in our computer system to ensure year 2000 compliance dating back to 1997. The hardware for the property assessment, tax collection, fund accounting, and payroll was replaced in 1998. The old system was in need of replacement regardless of year 2000 considerations. Two personal computers that are used as work stations which were not replaced have been tested and modified as necessary for year 2000 compliance. Our software vendor has provided written assurance that the software currently used has been revised or is scheduled to be revised to allow for all known Year 2000 issues. These revisions are covered by our software maintenance agreement at no additional charge.

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Grundy County, Missouri, except for the programs accounted for in the Grundy County Public Housing Agency Fund. Federal awards for that fund have been audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors for its years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
>
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) and U.S. Department of Defense Surplus Property (CFDA number 12.unknown) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided federal awards to subrecipients as follows:

Federal CFDA Number	Program Title	Amount Provided Year Ended December 31, 1998	1997
14.231	Emergency Shelter Grants Programs	5,000	5,000
93.569	Homeless Challenge Grant Program	12,766	12,766

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Grundy County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Grundy County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Grundy County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Grundy County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Grundy County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Current Findings

GRUNDY COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Grundy County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 6, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We also have audited the compliance of Grundy County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 6, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Grundy County Public Housing Agency is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed that audit report and the substantiating working papers for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Grundy County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Budgetary Practices and Published Financial Statements

A. Budgets were not prepared for some county funds for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. While some of these particular funds are not under the direct control of the County Commission, budgets for these funds are needed to comply with statutory provisions.

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires preparation of annual budgets for all county funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year. By preparing and obtaining budgets for all county funds and activities, the County Commission is able to more effectively evaluate all county financial resources.

B. Actual expenditures exceeded budgeted amounts for the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998, by $1,186, and the 9-1-1 Fund for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, by $4,969 and $32,176, respectively. Budget progress reports are generated periodically and provided to the various county officials. However, it appears the county's procedures and reports are not resulting in effective monitoring of some budgets.

It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong V. Cribb 364 Mo. 1122, 273 SW2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cumulative. Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

C. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required. Section 50.800, RSMo 1994, provides that financial statements are required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for all county funds. For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior audit report.
WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Prepare and/or obtain budgets for all county funds as required by state law.

B. Keep expenditures within the budgetary limits. If necessary, extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and budgets properly revised and filed with the State Auditor's office.

C. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the published financial statements.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will ask other officials for budgets for funds controlled by them and maintain documentation of these requests in our meeting minutes.

B. We will monitor the budgets more closely and attempt to comply with this recommendation.

C. We will request the necessary financial information from other departments and publish the information obtained.

2. Personnel Policies and Public Administrator's Compensation

A. The county's overtime and compensatory time policies do not address current practices of the ambulance service. While there is a policy that was adopted in 1992, the county indicated it is no longer in effect. However, no new written policies and procedures specific to the ambulance service have been established. Because the ambulance service practices differ from other county departments and ambulance service employees incur significant pager pay and overtime costs, it is imperative that written policies addressing work schedules, on-call time, and overtime and the related compensatory time or pay be in place.

Employees of the ambulance department alternate regular work weeks of 36 hours and 48 hours. The county normally pays the employees for eight hours of overtime at the time and one-half rate for the hours in excess of 40 hours during the 48-hour work week. The employees receive this overtime compensation even when absent due to illness or vacation during the 48-hour work week. The county's practice is inconsistent with overtime determination methods utilized for other county employees. As a result, the county is incurring more in overtime costs than may be necessary and is allowing inconsistent treatment of employees.

The written personnel policies of the county should address whether sick or vacation leave by ambulance employees is to be considered when determining overtime worked. Complete and detailed written policies are necessary to provide guidance to county employees and provide a basis for proper compensation. In addition, such policies should be uniformly applied to ensure each employee is treated equitably and that similar situations are handled consistently.

B. The Sheriff submits a monthly payroll sheet to the County Clerk showing each employee's monthly salary and any overtime to be paid. Payroll checks are prepared based upon this record. Detailed timesheets are subsequently prepared by Sheriff's department employees and submitted to the County Clerk. We noted some discrepancies between overtime hours reflected on the payroll sheet and the corresponding timesheet. Because the monthly payroll sheet and subsequent timesheets are not reviewed and compared, such discrepancies cannot be detected by the county and could not be explained by the Sheriff. The County Clerk and Sheriff need to implement a procedure to compare payroll sheet information to detailed timesheet information. Any discrepancies should be resolved and payroll adjusted as necessary.

C. The Grundy County Salary Commission has the statutory authority to set salaries of the county's elected officials. County officials' salaries are based upon the county's assessed valuation, population, training attendance, or a combination of these factors. During the 1995 and 1997 meetings, the salary commission set the salaries of the county officials at 100 percent of the maximum allowable compensation effective at the beginning of each official's next term.

Section 473.739, RSMo provides for public administrators to receive annual compensation of $4,000 if they do not receive at least $25,000 in fees. In addition, the salary commission has the authority to award up to $10,000 additional salary. At the November 1995 meeting the salary commission authorized an additional increase in annual compensation of $6,000 for the Public Administrator, bringing his total annual compensation (excluding fees) to $10,000. This salary took effect with the Public Administrator's term of office beginning in 1997. At the first November 1997 salary commission meeting questions came up regarding the Public Administrator's salary. The salary commission reconvened for a second November 1997 meeting and the meeting minutes indicated the Public Administrator's maximum salary was clarified to be $14,000. The Public Administrator's salary was revised. November and December 1997 payments were increased so that he received the $14,000 for 1997. No written legal opinion was obtained to support the appropriateness of the change in the Public Administrator's salary and the salary commission documentation regarding why this decision was made is inadequate.

The County Commission should review this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney and ensure all future salary commission decisions are thoroughly documented.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Establish a formal written policy regarding overtime of ambulance department employees.

B. Work with the County Clerk and Sheriff to implement procedures to compare various payroll records and ensure the accuracy of overtime payments.

C. Consult with the Prosecuting Attorney regarding the propriety of the Public Administrator's salary. Salary Commission minutes should clearly document all decisions made, include calculations of the salary amounts, and include written opinions from the Prosecuting Attorney as applicable.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission provided the following response:

We have already changed some procedures and a new formal policy will be developed to cover these issues.

B. The County Commission provided the following response:

This recommendation has been implemented.

The Sheriff provided the following response:

Employees have been reminded of the importance of preparing complete and accurate timesheets, and I hope this action will rectify the situation.

C. The County Commission provided the following response:

We discussed this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney at the time and obtained his advice, but did not receive a written opinion. We do not plan to pursue this particular issue further. Documentation of future Salary Commission meetings and decisions will be improved.

The Public Administrator provided the following response:

The Salary Commission voted to give 100 percent salaries in its first November 1997 meeting. This was interpreted by the Prosecuting Attorney to mean the Public Administrator's salary should be $14,000 at the subsequent Salary Commission meeting. Then, and only then, did the Salary Commission make the clarification decision.

3. Property Tax System and Computer Controls

The property tax computer system utilized by the county is linked to the County Clerk's office, the Ex Officio Collector's (EOC) office, and the Assessor's office.

A. Addition and abatement court orders are prepared by the County Clerk's office (based upon information from the Assessor) and approved by the County Commission. Change forms are prepared from the court order information and provided to the Ex Officio Collector's office. Changes to the computerized property tax system for additions and abatements are to be made by the County Clerk's office. In the event the County Clerk's office is unavailable to make these changes, the EOC makes the changes in the computer system. Her password does not restrict her ability to change data in the computer system. There is no independent and subsequent comparison of approved court-ordered additions and abatements to actual changes to the property tax data or to amounts reflected on the EOC's annual settlement. The EOC's ability to make these changes, together with the lack of review by the County Clerk and County Commission, significantly weakens controls over the collection of taxes.

   Section 137.260 RSMo 1994, requires that the tax book only be changed by the clerk of the county commission under order of the County Commission.

   One method to accomplish this independent and subsequent review would be to generate periodic reports of changes to property tax files, which include transactions such as court-ordered additions and abatements. These reports would provide documentation and allow independent review of changes made. Such changes could be reviewed for possible irregularities and trends and to verify the accuracy, validity, and completeness of any changes made to property tax accounts. The county's computer system has the capabilities to generate these change reports; however, such reports are not being generated and reviewed.

B. Passwords are used, but are not changed on a periodic basis to ensure confidentiality. As a result, there is less assurance that passwords effectively limit access to the property tax data files and programs to only those individuals who need access for completion of job responsibilities. Passwords should be unique, changed periodically to reduce the possibility of unauthorized users, and utilized to restrict individuals' access to only those data files and programs they need to accomplish their jobs.

Similar conditions were noted in our previous two reports.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Establish controls so that the EOC does not enter abatements or additions into the property tax system or ensure that independent, subsequent comparison of these changes to court orders is performed. Consideration should be given to generating periodic reports of changes to files and requiring independent reviews of the reports to be performed and documented.

B. Ensure that passwords are changed periodically.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. This recommendation will be implemented.

B. We believe current procedures are adequate to protect data files and programs. However, we will continue to monitor this area and, if it is determined that changes would be beneficial, then changes will be made.

4. Tax Increment Financing and Property Tax Collections

A. In 1997, the county entered into a Tax Increment Financing Agreement (TIF) with the city of Trenton. The Trenton Township Collector withholds collection and assessment fees from the payments in lieu of taxes (PILOT) related to the municipal tax increment financing project. There was no specific mention in the contract whether such assessment and collection fees could be retained. In addition, whether public officials may take commissions on PILOTs is not clearly addressed by state law. Commissions totaling approximately $490 were retained by the township collector for the two years ended February 28, 1999. Assessment fees totaling $311 were withheld and paid into the county Assessment Fund for the year ended February 28, 1999.

B. In December 1997, a local bank made a $4,303 payment to the Trenton Township Collector for taxes on real estate owned by the bank. This payment was erroneously applied to several other properties owned by one taxpayer, but not the bank or its mortgagors. The total current property tax liability of these properties was $2,265. After contacting the Ex Officio County Collector (EOC) and determining there were also delinquent taxes due on these properties, the Trenton Township Collector transmitted the remaining $2,038 to the EOC for application to those delinquencies. The EOC marked those properties paid without requiring tax statement copies or contacting the bank to clarify the situation. The properties to which the tax payments were erroneously applied sold in April 1998. In July 1998 the EOC sent a delinquent tax notice to the local bank regarding the original $4,303 tax statement liability since this property showed as unpaid on the tax books. In response, the bank notified the EOC of the error and later (September 1998) notified the county Prosecuting Attorney in writing of the situation and that it expected corrective action on the part of the county. The local bank has since paid its 1998 property taxes on the abovementioned property. The 1997 real estate tax continued to be shown as unpaid in the county's back tax records until June 15, 1999, when the County Commission authorized the abatement of this tax liability.

According to the EOC, the misapplication of the $4,303 payment in December 1997 has resulted in some political subdivisions being over or under paid. However, due to the erroneous handling of these transactions and the change in ownership of properties incorrectly shown as paid, the county apparently failed to collect approximately $4,303 in back taxes, which are due to the various political subdivisions levying taxes within the Trenton Township. In addition, because of the erroneous handling of these transactions, the sale of the properties, and the various parties involved, it appears the county's actions to resolve this situation may not be satisfactory and various legal questions may exist.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Review the practice of retaining fees on the collection of PILOT monies with the County Prosecuting Attorney to ensure monies are being properly distributed to the TIF project fund.

B. Work with the Ex Officio County Collector, the Prosecuting Attorney, and the Trenton Township Collector to resolve any legal questions regarding this issue. In the future, the Ex Officio County Collector should not accept monies and show properties as paid without first obtaining the proper paperwork and resolving any questions.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission provided the following response:

We will review this with the Prosecuting Attorney and make changes if necessary.

B. The County Commission provided the following response:

Based on the information available at the time, we believe the appropriate decision was made. We do not plan to reconsider this decision.

The Ex Officio County Collector provided the following response:

The Township Collector's assistant called me about the back taxes and told me who the payment was from. Based on this information I marked the related properties as paid and mailed paid tax receipt copies to the entity I had been told the payment was from. I had no way of knowing the payment was from the bank. The bank did not get the proper paid tax receipt copies back for their payment. Had they realized this and let someone know, the error could have been corrected.

Since this happened the Township Collector has begun putting a notice in the tax bills requesting taxpayers send a tax bill copy along with their payment so the money will be credited to the right property. This was an unusual situation and in the future I will not accept such payments without first obtaining the proper information.

I am sorry for the mistake. If this would have been brought to our attention before April 1998 when the properties were sold, we could have collected these back taxes.

5. Public Administrator

The Public Administrator is the court appointed personal representative for wards of the Associate Circuit Division. He is responsible for properly receiving, disbursing, and accounting for the assets of those individuals. During the two years and three months ended March 31, 1999, the Public Administrator filed settlements on 19 cases with total reported receipts and disbursements of approximately $314,000 and 492,000, respectively.

As discussed in our prior audit report and as noted for the current audit period, the Public Administrator has frequently been late in filing annual settlements and the Associate Circuit Court has not established adequate monitoring procedures or been diligent in its efforts to ensure settlements are filed timely. From our review of the Public Administrator's settlements and the related documentation, it is apparent that supporting documentation or explanation is not available for numerous expenditures. Again, there was no evidence in the case files to indicate satisfactory actions were taken by the Associate Circuit Court in response to insufficient records.

Basic recordkeeping procedures were not performed properly and some transactions were handled using unusual methods. The following concerns with the records and procedures were determined.

A. For twelve cases, settlement periods ranged from 13 to 31 months. Section 473.540, RSMo 1994, requires settlements to be filed annually. Timely settlements are necessary for the court to properly oversee the administration of these cases and lessen the possibility that errors or misuse of funds could go undetected.

   A similar condition was noted in our prior audit report.

B. Concerns were brought to our attention by the Prosecuting Attorney and Associate Circuit Judge regarding one case in particular. Settlements for this case pertaining to late April 1996 to early February 1999, reflected total receipts and disbursements of approximately $22,500 and $58,000, respectively. Our review of these settlements determined numerous and significant procedural and documentation problems.

   1) The assets (bank accounts) of this ward totaled approximately $96,000 when the current Public Administrator was appointed as guardian and conservator in January 1993. Disbursements for insurance, medical supplies and treatment, utilities, groceries, and other expenses significantly exceeded interest earnings and the account balances were essentially depleted in September 1997. Since then the ward has received financial support from various public assistance programs. Several bank service charges (totaling $119) were incurred as a result of insufficient funds checks written on this ward's account. Penalties were incurred for late payment of the ward's property taxes. Notices from the state Department of Social Services, Division of Family Services reported unused food stamp benefits. While these events themselves did not cause the significant decline in assets, they contributed to an already declining financial trend and were clear indicators of problems that should have been more thoroughly questioned by the court. Had more care been taken by the Public Administrator these unnecessary expenditures might not have been incurred. In addition, assistance benefits totaling approximately $1,050 might not have been exposed to the risk of loss. It appears the Public Administrator did not properly monitor, control, and document the account balances and transactions of the ward. This declining financial trend should have been addressed by the Associate Circuit Court so that alternatives and opportunities for improved fiscal management could have been implemented.

2) The Public Administrator provides a substantial amount of spending money to this ward. In April 1995 the court authorized the Public Administrator to pay $100 per week to the ward for the purchase of groceries and incidentals. These allowance payments totaled $15,943 from late April 1996 to early February 1999 and were provided to the ward in various methods and did not always comply with the court order. Allowance payments totaling $11,216 were provided by a check written directly to the ward. Allowance payments were sometimes made by writing checks to a local grocery store. These checks, which totaled $3,675, were apparently given to the ward who then used them to purchase merchandise from the grocery store and retain any change. The Public Administrator said he requested the ward provide him with the related receipt; however, we noted several instances where these were not available in the records. While these allowance payments were usually made approximately every week, the amounts varied from about $25 to $175.

The Public Administrator frequently purchased cigarettes for the ward at two local convenience stores. A review of these checks indicated they were often written for $10 to $20 more than the price of the cigarettes. The Public Administrator explained that the cigarettes and any change from the purchase were then given to the ward. However, there was no signed receipt from the ward or other evidence to support the cash given to the ward. Additionally, paid receipts from the merchant to support the purchase were not always retained. These disbursements totaled approximately $1,052.

The $100 monthly allowance approved by the court in April 1995 was intended to cover the ward's costs related to groceries and incidental expenses. If the Public Administrator believed an increased spending allowance was needed, he should have sought the approval of the court prior to making any additional disbursements.

3) Checks totaling $274 were written to a local restaurant for meals for the ward and his family members. These checks were not supported by any paid receipts and did not appear to be written for the exact meal cost.

Documentation should be retained for all support transactions made on behalf of the ward to provide assurance that assets of the wards have been used appropriately. Allowances for the wards should be made in accordance with the court order and by check payable directly to the ward and should be signed for by the ward to better ensure proper accountability of estate assets. The Public Administrator's methods do not provide adequate supporting documentation or any assurance that monies were utilized by the ward as intended.

4) The Public Administrator made reimbursements to himself totaling $481. He indicated he had made personal cash loans to the ward when monies were not available in the bank account. There was no documentation providing evidence that these loans were actually made. Better estate asset management and communication with the court should make such situations unnecessary.

5) The Public Administrator did not always properly prepare bank reconciliations or monitor the account balance of the ward. We noted instances where the bank reconciliation was incomplete or poorly documented. Complete and thorough bank reconciliations are an important aid in monitoring the account balances and ensuring that the bank balances and carrying balances are in agreement. In addition, prompt and adequate reconciliations should help eliminate the occurrence of bank service charges as previously mentioned.

In January 1999 the newly elected Associate Circuit Judge removed the Public Administrator as guardian and conservator for this ward.

C. Because of the serious problems noted with the previously discussed case, we identified other cases with similar situations (ie., ward living somewhat independently and receiving allowance payments from the Public Administrator), late settlements, and/or significant disbursement amounts. For six more cases we reviewed settlements filed during the two years and three months ended March 31, 1999. Receipts and disbursements reflected on these settlements totaled approximately $129,000 and $183,000, respectively. Our review of these six cases revealed similar concerns to those noted in part B. and some additional concerns.

The following represent similar transactions to those discussed above:

- Allowance payments and payments to wards for other expenses (ie., trips taken, shopping, etc.) totaled $27,596. There was no evidence in some of these case files that the periodic allowance amounts were approved by the court. For those cases where there was a court order authorizing the allowance amount and frequency, the amounts paid to the wards often varied from one payment to the next and did not always comply with the court's order. Several instances were noted where the Public Administrator endorsed and cashed the checks to wards and indicated he provided the cash to them. There was no receipt signed by the ward or other evidence to support the cash given to the ward.

- We noted numerous checks written to local convenience stores, a local restaurant, and a local grocery store. For many of these the settlement provided little or no description of the purpose of the disbursements and there was no supporting documentation. In addition, many of the checks were written for more than the cost of the merchandise. According to the Public Administrator the merchandise and cash were provided to the ward; however, there was no documentation to verify this. These disbursements totaled $2,078.

- The Public Administrator made reimbursements to himself totaling $340. He indicated he had made personal cash loans to the ward when monies were not available in the bank account. There was no documentation providing evidence that these loans were actually made.

- We noted numerous bank service charges totaling $176.

In addition, for one case reviewed the ward received checks totaling $5,520 for work he performed at a mental health facility. The Public Administrator received cash back totaling $954 from the deposit of these checks. The settlement description indicated these cash amounts were obtained for the ward. However, there was no documentation to verify this handling.

The court has requested additional documentation to support some disbursements reported by the Public Administrator on settlements filed in March 1999 and has not yet approved the settlements.

Given the significant concerns and weaknesses noted in the Public Administrator's procedures, the Associate Circuit Division should continue to carefully review all future settlements and request additional documentation or explanation when necessary. Procedures for providing periodic allowance payments to wards should be developed and allowance amounts should be re-evaluated and formally established by the court. In addition, the Associate Circuit Division should require the Public Administrator to write checks for only the amount of the purchase and ensure there is an invoice or paid receipt to accompany all transactions. Obtaining cash back from deposits should be prohibited. The Associate Circuit Division should re-evaluate all questionable transactions and supporting documentation provided, if any, and make a decision regarding whether to require any reimbursements to wards' by the Public Administrator.

D. The Public Administrator submits a quarterly mileage reimbursement claim to the county for miles traveled related to wards assigned to him (for example, trips made to a doctor or hospital, to visit a ward living a substantial distance from the county seat, etc.). Our review of these reimbursements indicated that some mileage claims related to cases for which the Public Administrator handles no assets, while others pertained to cases for which the Public Administrator does handle monies. Mileage reimbursements from the county General Revenue Fund to the Public Administrator totaled $3,076 and $2,419 for the two years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. For the settlements reviewed, we noted no claims made by the Public Administrator for mileage reimbursements. For those cases where the Public Administrator handles assets, it is not clear why these costs are being assessed to the county rather than the specific case to which they pertain.

E. The Public Administrator is required to report to the county the amount of fees he receives. This information is used by the county to properly meet payroll and Internal Revenue Service reporting requirements and to determine whether he is entitled to the additional salary authorized by Section 473.739, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998.

   The Public Administrator received fees from the various cases totaling $4,497 and $3,182 for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. However, he only reported fees of $700 and $900 to the county for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. Failure to properly report fees earned to the county, results in the county understating wages on his W-2 and possible violation of various employment tax withholdings and reporting requirements.

   While it appears the unreported fees did not affect his additional salary under Section 473.739, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, for the two years ended December 31, 1998, the Public Administrator should ensure all fees received are properly reported to the county.

The Public Administrator has a fiduciary responsibility to ensure all monies and other property of individuals or estates under his administrative control are protected and accounted for properly. It does not appear he is fulfilling this responsibility.

WE RECOMMEND:

A. The Associate Circuit Judge establish procedures to adequately monitor the timely filing of annual settlements.

B&C. The Associate Circuit Judge establish formal settlement review procedures and ensure that all problematic transactions are formally followed up on with the Public Administrator. Any requests for documentation should be documented. In addition, the Associate Circuit Judge needs to formally establish the frequency and amounts of spending monies to be provided to each ward and ensure the Public Administrator is adhering to the court's orders. The Associate Circuit Judge should consider requiring reimbursement by the Public Administrator to the various wards' accounts for any unnecessary costs incurred (such as bank service charges) and/or for any questionable disbursements for which adequate support is not produced for the court.

The Associate Circuit Judge require the Public Administrator:

1. To better monitor wards' assets and bring concerns to the court's attention in a timely manner. In addition, the Public Administrator needs to ensure that public assistance programs are enrolled in when appropriate and that the ward is utilizing them.

2&3. To make allowance payments to the wards in accordance with the court's orders by check payable directly to the ward and obtain signed receipts to document receipt of the monies by the ward. In addition, the court needs to require checks to be written for the amount of purchase only and require adequate documentation (such as paid receipts or invoices) to be filed or made available to support all settlement transactions.

4. To prepare complete bank reconciliations monthly and monitor the account balances to avoid unnecessary bank charges.

D. The Associate Circuit Judge work with the Public Administrator and County Commission to reconsider the appropriateness of assessing mileage costs to the county's General Revenue Fund in those cases where a ward's assets are sufficient to bear the costs.

E. The Public Administrator report all fees received to the County Clerk.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Associate Circuit Judge provided the following response:

The Grundy County Associate Circuit Judge, shortly after beginning his term on January 1, 1999, reviewed all current and active probate cases with the Probate Clerk. At that time, the court established and implemented policies and procedures to monitor and ensure annual settlements and reports were filed in a timely fashion. Also, at that time, efforts were made to obtain settlements in those files where settlements and/or reports were due or past due.

The court has diligently reviewed and scrutinized each annual settlement filed with the court since January 1, 1999. This procedure, as set forth in the audit report, resulted in the removal of the Grundy County Public Administrator as the guardian/conservator for a particular ward.

The Grundy County Associate Circuit Judge will continue to implement settlement review procedures requiring adequate support and proof that disbursements are appropriate and necessary for the benefit of each particular ward. In addition, the court will consider requiring the reimbursement by the Public Administrator to the various ward's accounts any unnecessary cost incurred to the ward because of questionable disbursements or disbursements without adequate support.

In addition, it is the court's position that all checks for allowances for the wards will be paid directly to the ward and signed by the ward, to ensure that the monies are being utilized for the ward's benefit.

The Public Administrator provided the following responses:

A. The settlements were indeed slow and I accept responsibility for this. I will make a greater effort in the future to make sure the annual reports are turned in to the attorneys on a more timely basis.

B.&
C.1. The ward refused to accept the aid from the state and I made the mistake of not making him.

2. Allowance payments have been discussed with the court; however, written authorization was not always obtained.

3. Documentation is and will be used for all future disbursements to my wards when they receive direct payments from my office.

4. Starting in 1998 the court told me what they expected on my bank reconciliations. I am trying to abide by their rules.

D. The mileage that I receive for my care of all my wards is put into my annual budget and either approved or disapproved by the County Commission each year. None of the wards that I have to drive out of the county has the funds to support a charge of any kind to them. Their monies should be used exclusively for them and costs I incur in performing my responsibilities should be reimbursed by the county as for other elected officials.

E. It is my responsibility to turn fees over to the county. In the future whatever fees I receive will be given to the county for accountability and payroll purposes.

The County Commissioners provided the following response:

D. We will confer with the Associate Circuit Judge and Public Administrator and establish a policy to address this issue.

6. Prosecuting Attorney

The Prosecuting Attorney collects bad check and court-ordered restitution monies. For bad check restitution, the Prosecuting Attorney's policy is to require the offender to remit two money orders, one payable to the merchant for restitution and one payable to the County Treasurer for the bad check administrative fee. All bad check payments are to be recorded in a sequential log. If bad check payments are made in cash, or money orders are made payable to the Prosecuting Attorney, these monies are handled through the official bank account. Court-ordered restitution payments are recorded in individual detailed accounts receivable records, in the check register, and handled through the official bank account.

A. A system to account for all bad checks submitted to the office for collection and their disposition has not been established. To ensure all bad checks are properly handled and accounted for, a log should be maintained showing each bad check and its disposition.

B.1. Receipt slips are only issued for bad check and/or court-ordered restitution monies when payments are made in cash or when requested by the payor. Receipt slips should be issued for all monies received. The method of payment (cash, check, or money order) and indication of whether the monies were deposited or transmitted directly should be provided on these receipt slips. The numerical sequence of receipt slips should be accounted for and monies deposited and/or transmitted should be reconciled to the corresponding receipt slips.

2. Monies received are not always recorded and processed in a timely manner. During a cash count conducted December 22, 1998, we noted that of the money orders on hand totaling $736, only $25 had been posted to the bad check payment log. The remaining money orders totaling $701 were not posted to the bad check payment log until about one week after receipt. The date money orders were recorded rather than the actual date of receipt is documented on the log. An immediate record of receipt which reflects the actual date of receipt is necessary to properly document and account for all monies received. In addition, we noted that deposits are made approximately once a week regardless of the date monies are received. To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, receipts should be recorded and deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. The receipt records should reflect the actual date monies are received.

C. An open items listing has not been prepared since the new Prosecuting Attorney took office. The carrying balance of his bank account on February 16, 1999, was $630. Monthly listings of open items should be prepared and reconciled to the cash balance to ensure records are in balance and sufficient funds are available for the payment of all liabilities.

Conditions similar to A and B were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Establish a system to account for all bad checks submitted to his office and their disposition.

B.1. Issue receipt slips for all monies received.

2. Record and deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Prepare a monthly open items listing and reconcile it to the cash balance.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Each check that is delivered to my office for collection has a "bad check notice" sent to the maker of the check. A record of each notice is in the computer and a list can be printed out from the computer.

B.1. A prenumbered receipt is now being issued on all payments on bad checks and court-ordered restitution.

2. As payment is received for court-ordered restitution, a stamp endorsement is made on the check or money order. Cash is rarely received, but if cash is received it is deposited daily. Money orders and checks may not be deposited daily due to workload of the secretary and banking hours.

C. An open items list is now being prepared manually each month when the bank statement is reconciled.

7. Assessor's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Assessor's Office collects money from the sale of county maps. According to receipt slips issued by the Assessor's office, collections totaled approximately $465 and $600 during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. The Assessor's Office occasionally mails maps to customers when requested and bills for the amounts due. We noted the following weaknesses in controls over these collections.

A. Receipt slips are not issued for some monies received; receipt slips issued are not always complete regarding method of payment; and some receipt slips could not be located.

To ensure that all monies received are properly accounted for, receipt slips should be issued for all monies received, should include complete information regarding the transaction, and the numerical sequence of receipt slips should be accounted for.

B. Follow-up on unpaid billings is not routinely conducted. To ensure that monies due are collected, unpaid billings should be periodically reviewed and subsequent billings issued, if necessary.

WE RECOMMEND the County Assessor:

A. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received, fully document each transaction, and account for the numerical sequence of all receipt slips.

B. Follow-up on unpaid billings periodically.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Grundy County Assessor's office has received your recommendations and taken action on them. We have implemented the changes in our office as outlined and they are now standard practice.

8. Health Center

A. Actual expenditures exceeded budget amounts for the year ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, by $1,936 and $28,919, respectively.

It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong V. Cribb 364 Mo. 1122, 273 SW2d 246 (1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

A similar condition was noted in our prior audit report.

B. The Health Center Board does not issue receipt slips. Rather, monies received are recorded on a ledger by one clerk, then transmitted to another clerk for data entry and depositing. Our review of the ledger indicated it does not always include all transactions. In addition, no reconciliation is performed between the ledger and subsequent deposits. To help ensure that all monies are properly accounted for, prenumbered receipt slips indicating the method of payments received should be issued for all monies received. The numerical sequence of receipt slips should be accounted for and the composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

WE RECOMMEND the Health Center Board:

A. Keep expenditures within the budgetary limits.

B. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Health Department Administrator provided the following responses:

A. The Grundy County Health Department will keep expenditures within the budgetary limits. In future situations, amendments to the annual budget will be made when actual expenditures exceed the budgeted amount.

B. The Grundy County Health Department currently provides a monthly breakdown of services provided and monies received in the Quicken system. Further, we have implemented a manual ledger for recording all birth and death certificate numbers issued, which in turn, balances to the Quicken monthly report. I believe this system is sufficient in tracking cash flow. If this process is sufficient, implementation of the prenumbered receipt slips will not be necessary.

9. Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Board

The Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled (FFDD) Board contracts with a Director to manage its operations. In 1998, the FFDD paid a bonus of $200 to the Director. There was no indication in the payroll records that this payment was compensation for additional hours worked. This payment represents an additional payment for services previously rendered and, as such, is in violation of Article III, Section 39 (3) of the Missouri Constitution, which prohibits counties from granting extra compensation to an official or employee after service has been rendered.

WE RECOMMEND the Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Board discontinue the practice of paying bonuses to the Director.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Director provided the following response:

It is the intention of Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled to comply with the audit recommendation of discontinuing the practice of providing a bonus to the Director.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Grundy County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

GRUNDY COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Grundy County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. County Expenditure Procedures and Agreements

   A. The county did not always take advantage of purchase discounts offered by vendors.

   B. The County Commission did not always obtain and review supporting documentation for expenditures.

   C. The county did not have a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney detailing the manner for sharing the costs of personnel and equipment between the county and the private law practice of the Prosecuting Attorney. Time sheets of employees in the Prosecuting Attorney's office were not submitted to the county.

   D. The county did not have written contracts for mutual aid agreements with volunteer ambulance and rescue units.

   E. The Sheriff did not document his review and approval of time sheets of the employees of the Sheriff's Department.

   F. The county paid bonuses to employees of the Sheriff's Department.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. Establish procedures to take advantage of purchase discounts when available.

   B. Obtain and review vendor invoices and detailed mileage statements from officeholders before approving payment or reimbursement.

   C. And the Prosecuting Attorney formalize this arrangement and prepare documentation of the allocation of resources between the county and the Prosecuting Attorney's private practice. The Prosecuting Attorney needs to ensure there is a clear distinction between his county and private practice resources and work. Employees should prepare time sheets documenting the amount of time spent on county-related activities and submit the time sheets monthly to the county.

   D. Execute written agreements with the ambulance and rescue units.

E. Ensure the Sheriff is documenting his approval of employee time sheets.
F. And the Sheriff discontinue the practice of granting additional payments to employees in the form of bonuses after services have been rendered.

Status:

A,D,
E&F. Implemented.

B. Partially implemented. The County Commission now obtains and reviews vendor invoices for some types of purchases not previously reviewed, but does not obtain and review some invoices or detailed mileage statements. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Implemented by the new Prosecuting Attorney in January 1999.

2. Budgetary Practices and Published Financial Statements

A. The county's annual published financial statements presented no information for several county funds.

B. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds.

C. Actual expenditures exceeded budgeted amounts for some funds.

D. Budgets prepared by the Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Board were not complete. The board had accumulated a significant cash reserve and did not provide information about plans and goals for the funds in the budget message.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Include all county funds in the published financial statements as required by state law.

B. Prepare and/or obtain budgets for all county funds as required by state law.

C. And Health Center Board keep expenditures within the budgetary limits. If necessary, extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and budgets properly revised and filed with the State Auditor's Office.

The Families and Friends of the Developmentally Disabled Board:

D. Prepare a complete budget document. In addition, the board should review its future financial needs and consider its cash balance when setting future tax levies.

Status:

A, B,
& C. Not implemented. See MARs No. 1 and 8.

D. Implemented.

3. Property Tax System and Computer Controls

A. The Ex Officio Collector made changes to the computerized property tax system for additions and abatements when the County Clerk's Office was unavailable to make the changes. There was no independent and subsequent comparison of approved court-ordered additions and abatements to actual changes to the property tax data or to amounts reflected on the EOC's annual settlement.

B. Passwords were not unique and/or confidential for each individual using the system and were not changed periodically.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Establish controls so that the EOC does not enter abatements or additions into the property tax system or ensure that independent, subsequent comparison of these changes to court orders is performed. Consideration should be given to generating periodic reports of changes to files and requiring independent reviews of the reports to be performed and documented.

B. Ensure access to specific computer programs/data files is restricted to authorized individuals through passwords. Passwords should be unique to individuals and changed periodically. Investigate with the software vendor the possibility of restricting access to individual functions through unique passwords.

Status:

A. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

B. Partially implemented. Passwords are now unique for individual users. However, passwords are not always periodically changed. See MAR No. 3.

4. Prosecuting Attorney

A. A system to account for all bad checks submitted to the office for collection and their disposition had not been established.

B.1. Receipt slips were not issued for some monies received.

2. Monies received were not always deposited on a timely basis.

3. Some payments were not recorded in the bad check payment log.

C. No sequential summary record of court-ordered restitution receipts and disbursements was maintained.

D. The Prosecuting Attorney approved the purchase of a computer and printer without obtaining bids.

Recommendation:

The Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Establish a system to account for all bad checks submitted to his office and their disposition.

B.1. Issue receipt slips for all monies received.

2. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

3. Ensure that all monies received for bad check restitution are recorded in the bad check payment log.

C. Establish a summary record of all court-ordered restitution transactions and reconcile periodically to the individual ledger cards.

D. Solicit bids for purchases in accordance with state law.

Status:

A, B1, &B2. Not implemented. See MAR No. 6.

B3 &D. Implemented.

C. Partially implemented. A record of court-ordered restitution transactions has been established but it is not formally reconciled to the individual ledger cards. See MAR No. 6 for related comments.

5. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Receipts were not deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. Commissions related to collect telephone calls made by prisoners were maintained in a cash fund and used by the Sheriff for jail supplies and various other office expenses.

C. Procedures for the collection of board of prisoners billings to other counties were inadequately segregated and the billing forms were not prenumbered.

D. A deputy sheriff required by a grant agreement to perform traffic safety duties on a full-time basis sometimes performed other duties unrelated to traffic safety. Amounts reimbursed by the grant for hours worked in performing the unallowable services totaled $438.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Deposit receipts intact daily or when receipts exceed $100.

B. Turn all telephone commissions earned over to the County Treasurer and discontinue expending money without authorization of the County Commission.

C. Provide for an adequate segregation of duties for board of prisoner functions. Additionally, prenumbered billing forms should be issued and the numerical sequence accounted for.

D. And the County Commission contact the federal grantor agency to resolve the questioned costs.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The frequency of deposits has improved. Bond monies are generally deposited the same day they are received. Gun permit monies and sheriff fees are deposited weekly. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Not implemented. The County Commission indicated they authorized the Sheriff to handle the telephone commission funds and the Sheriff usually provides them with a verbal report of how the funds have been used. Telephone commission receipts and disbursements totaled $5,269 and $5,208, respectively, for the two years ended December 31, 1998. By allowing the Sheriff to handle these monies in this manner, the County Commission is approving expenditures to be made outside the normal county review process and may not be adequately informed of these funds and plans for them during the budget preparation process. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Partially implemented. Procedures have now been segregated, but prenumbered billings are not utilized. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

D. Implemented.

6. Public Administrator's Procedures

A. Annual settlements were not always filed with the Probate Division on a timely basis.

B. Written bank reconciliations were not performed for the estates.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit Judge require the Public Administrator:

A. To file annual settlements on a timely basis as required by state law.
B. Correct the noted error in the checkbook balance and perform monthly bank reconciliations.

Status:

A. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

B. Partially implemented. The noted error in the checkbook balance was corrected. However, bank reconciliations are not always properly prepared and documented. See MAR No. 5.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

GRUNDY COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1841, the county of Grundy was named after Felix Grundy, a U. S. Senator from Tennessee. Grundy County is a township-organized, third-class county and is part of the Third Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Trenton.

Grundy County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Grundy County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997, and June 30, 1998 and 1997, as identified by municipality and fiscal period in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the municipal divisions' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the municipal divisions.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions (other than the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997, and June 30, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

The various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit have not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the municipal divisions are or will become year 2000-compliant, that the municipal divisions' year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the municipal divisions do business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

We also had planned to audit the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the municipal divisions' management.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of Clarkton Municipal Division were inadequate. Prenumbered receipt slips were not issued for some monies received and receipts were not always deposited intact. Also, records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and summons issued by the police department were not maintained. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements of fines, court costs, and bonds for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of Hornersville Municipal Division were inadequate. Prenumbered receipt slips were not issued for some monies received and receipts were not always deposited intact. Also, records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket issued by the police department were not maintained. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements of fines and court costs for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997.

Because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding two paragraphs, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the special purpose financial statements of the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated January 21, 1999 and April 8, 1999, on our consideration of the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting and on our tests of their compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the municipal divisions' management and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997, and June 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated January 21, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

We also had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statements of the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated January 21, 1999 and April 8, 1999. In that report we did not express an opinion on those special-purpose financial statements.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the municipal divisions' compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no material instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain other instances of noncompliance which are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit, we considered the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal controls over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal controls over financial reporting that, in our judgement, could adversely affect the municipal divisions' ability to record, process, summarize and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal controls over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be material weaknesses, and these matters are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

THIRTY-FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present only selected data for the funds administered by the nine municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit of the state of Missouri. The remaining municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit are reported on separately.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash are presented for each municipal division. The operating costs of each division are paid by the respective municipality and are not included in these financial statements.

The municipal division is responsible for cash bonds posted until case disposition allows appropriate disbursement. Bond monies relating to pending cases, whether in the custody of the city or the municipal division, are included in these financial statements.

B. Basis of Accounting

The Statements of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when they are received or disbursed. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The municipal divisions account for fines and court costs resulting from prosecution of violations of municipal ordinances before the municipal judge or received through the traffic violations bureau, as well as cash bonds posted. Municipal violations could include traffic offenses, both moving and nonmoving; parking meter and overtime parking offenses; and other violations for which amounts are received by the municipal divisions and remitted to the city treasury. The municipal divisions also may account for restitutions received and disbursed through the divisions.

2. Cash

Section 479.080, RSMo 1994, requires municipal divisions to deposit fines and court costs into the city treasury at least monthly. The municipal divisions do not maintain bank accounts for fines and court costs, transmitting fines and court costs directly to the city treasury. Escrow bank accounts for bond monies received may be maintained by the city or the municipal division.

At the financial statement dates identified in the table of contents for the years ended 1998 and 1997, all bank account balances reported for the municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Disbursements to State

The municipal divisions collect various amounts that must be remitted to the state of Missouri. These amounts include the surcharges for the Crime Victims' Compensation and Services to Victims Funds, and the Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission Fund. The state's portions of these amounts are deposited into the city treasury for all municipal divisions. Amounts remitted by the cities to the state are not included in the financial statements.

The municipal divisions of the city of Bell City, the city of Clarkton, and the city of Hornersville did not assess the Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission fee.

4. Bonds

Bonds posted by defendants for the municipal divisions of the city of Clarkton, the city of Advance, and the city of Bloomfield are deposited directly into the city treasury. The amounts held by the city at year-end could not be determined and, therefore, are not included in the financial statements.

5. City of Clarkton

Fines, court costs, and bonds received by the city of Clarkton Municipal Division were not consistently deposited into the city's Motor Fuel Street Account. Receipts that could not be traced to deposits into this account are included in the receipts and are presented as unaccountable disbursements on the financial statement for the two years ended December 31, 1998.

6. City of Hornersville

Fines and court costs received by the city of Hornersville Municipal Division were not consistently deposited into the city's Police Fund. Receipts that could not be traced to deposits into this account are included in the receipts and are presented as unaccountable disbursements on the financial statement for the two years ended April 30, 1998.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

THIRTY-FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT-
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997, and June 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated January 21, 1999.

We also had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statements of the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated January 21, 1999 and April 8, 1999. In that report we did not express an opinion on those special-financial statements.

The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our procedures related to the municipal divisions' special-purpose financial statements. During those procedures, we also identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our procedures were not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. City of Advance Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing fine, court cost, and bond monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) Bond monies received by the court are deposited into the city's general account for the city of Advance Municipal Division. The city of Advance does not maintain separate records of the bonds deposited, disbursed, and held in its general account. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

2) The Court Clerk maintains a bond ledger; however, the bond ledger does not consistently indicate the disposition of bonds. A bond ledger indicating the related case, date and amount of receipt, and date and method of disbursement is necessary to ensure proper accountability over bonds.

C. The municipal division allows defendants to make partial payments on fines and court costs. However, the court does not maintain adequate records to account for individual and total amounts owed to the court. We noted that fines and costs assessed and partial payments made were not always recorded in the case file. In addition, for three of five cases reviewed, written or signed payment agreements were not obtained. As a result, the municipal division could not determine the total amount currently owed by individuals with partial payment plans.

Accounts receivable records, including written and signed payment agreements, are necessary to ensure proper follow up action is taken and to facilitate monitoring of amounts due to the municipal division. A written and signed payment agreement is necessary to indicate the intent of the defendant to pay fines and court costs.

D. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to court dockets:

1) The final disposition of each case is not consistently documented in the court docket. The ultimate disposition of each case should be recorded on the docket to ensure the proper disposition has been recorded in the court records.

2) The Municipal Judge does not consistently sign the court dockets after case dispositions are recorded. We noted that court costs and fines assessed did not agree with the amounts authorized by the TVB schedule for five of forty-one (12 percent) tickets tested. To ensure the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court records, the judge should review each court docket and sign the docket to indicate approval of the recorded disposition.

E. Instances were noted where the Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC), Law Enforcement Training (LET), and Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees were inappropriately charged on dismissed cases. Sections 595.045.1 and 590.140.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, require these fees to be charged on all court cases for violations of municipal ordinances, except for cases dismissed by the court.

Conditions similar to D. and E. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Advance Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B.1. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile these listings to monies held in trust by the city. In addition, separate records should be maintained of bonds received, disbursed, and held in the city of Advance's general account.

2. Maintain an adequate bond ledger.

C. Establish and maintain accounts receivable records and obtain written and signed payment agreements for those defendants which are allowed to pay fines and court costs over a period of time.

D.1. Include the disposition of each case on the court docket.

2. Require the Municipal Judge to review all court dockets for propriety and sign the dockets.

E. Assess CVC, LET, and POSTC fees in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge provided the following responses:

A. Internal controls will be established to ensure that a documented review by the Mayor, or his representative, is made not less than once a quarter.

B.1. Listings as recommended will be prepared and reconciled to monies held in trust. A separate bank account will be established for the municipal division. Proper records will be maintained accordingly.

2. An adequate bond ledger will be maintained and monitored.

C. Proper records, including signed written agreements, will be established in regard to partial payments of fines and costs.

D.1. Proper records are being maintained to show the disposition of each case on the docket.

2. This recommendation is being complied with.

E. Procedures will be instigated to determine that the state law will be complied with.

2. City of Arbyrd Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing fine, court cost, and bond monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. The Court Clerk accepts cash, checks, and money orders for the payment of fines, court costs, and bonds. The Court Clerk does not consistently record the method of payment on receipt slips. To ensure receipts are deposited intact, the method of payment should be indicated on all receipt slips. The composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

C. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) Bond monies received by the court are deposited into the city's general account for the city of Arbyrd Municipal Division. The city of Arbyrd does not maintain separate records of bonds deposited, disbursed, and held in its general account. Although an open items listing was prepared at our request, monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared and reconciled to the balance of bonds held in the city's general account. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

2) The December 1, 1998 open items listing included bond receipts totaling $700 which had been held in excess of one year. An attempt should be made to determine the proper disposition of these monies. A review should be made of any bonds posted by persons who failed to make the required court appearance to determine if the bonds should be forfeited and monies paid turned over to the city treasury as provided by Section 479.210, RSMo 1994. For those bonds which cannot be forfeited and remain unclaimed, Sections 447.500 through 447.595, RSMo 1994, which relate to unclaimed property, should be used to disburse these monies.

Conditions similar to B. and C.1. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Arbyrd Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B. Record the method of payment on all receipt slips issued and reconcile the composition of receipt slips issued to the composition of deposits.

C.1. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile the listing to monies held in trust by the city. In addition, separate records should be maintained of bonds received, disbursed, and held in the city of Arbyrd's general account.

2. Forfeit any bonds for persons who failed to make the required court appearance, and attempt to locate those defendants with unclaimed bonds. Any bond monies remaining unclaimed should be remitted to the state in accordance with state law. Procedures should be established to routinely follow-up on cash bonds remaining on hand over a period of time.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. The water superintendent has agreed to compare receipt slips issued to amounts deposited in regard to cash, checks, or money orders. This recommendation has already been implemented.

B. New receipt books were ordered which have a place to indicate when cash, checks or other are received. This was not implemented before because such a large number of receipt books were on hand. Cash or check was noted on the receipt slips if the Clerk remembered. This has been implemented.

C.1. An accounts payable record is now kept for bonds. After the court session, journal entries are made to show what portion of the bond went to fines and costs, and checks are issued for any refunds. An open items list is presented to the council members which is prepared at the end of each month and reconciled to the bonds held in trust by the city.

2. When these cases were transferred to circuit court at the request of the defendants or their attorney, the bonds were not transferred . A letter from the city attorney was never received stating what happened to the cases, although letters were written requesting the dispositions. We will continue to try to find out what happened on these cases.

3. City of Bell City Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing fine, court cost, and bond monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. The TVB accepts cash, checks, and money orders for fines and court costs. Receipt slips are not issued for some monies received. In addition, the composition of receipts is not reconciled to the composition of deposits. To adequately account for all receipts and ensure all receipts are deposited intact, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received, and the numerical sequence of receipts should be accounted for properly. Furthermore, the composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

C. The municipal division operates a TVB that allows certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date. However, a court order has not been issued to formally establish the TVB.

Section 479.050, RSMo 1994, states that a TVB may be established by the Municipal Judge. Supreme Court Rule No. 37.49 requires the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB by court order, to designate a TVB Clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense. In addition, the schedule of fines and costs is required to be prominently posted at the TVB.

Conditions similar to B. and C. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Bell City Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

C. Prepare a court order authorizing the establishment of a TVB.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. The Mayor will reconcile receipt slips to deposits each month.

B. This will be implemented.

C. This will be discussed with the Associate Circuit Judge.

4. City of Bloomfield Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing fine, court cost, and bond monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) Receipts are not deposited on a timely basis. Fine and court cost monies are deposited to the city treasury approximately once or twice a month. In addition, the composition of receipt slips issued is not reconciled to the composition of deposits. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, monies should be deposited intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. Furthermore, the composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

2) The Court Clerk provides a monthly report of collection activity to the city. However, the Court Clerk does not reconcile this report to deposits. To properly account for receipts and to reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, reconciliations between the monthly reports and deposits should be performed, documented, and retained.

C. The Municipal Judge does not sign the individual case file sheets (court dockets) after case dispositions are recorded. To ensure the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court records, the judge should review each case docket and sign the docket to indicate approval of the recorded disposition.

D. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) Bond monies received by the court are deposited into the city's general account for the city of Bloomfield Municipal Division. The city of Bloomfield does not maintain separate records of bonds deposited, disbursed, and held in its general account. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared and reconciled to monies held in trust by the city. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

2) The Court Clerk does not maintain a bond ledger. A bond ledger indicating the related case, date and amount of receipt, and date and method of disbursement is necessary to ensure proper accountability over bonds.

E. The municipal division allows defendants to pay fines and costs over a period of time; however, written or signed payment agreements are not obtained. A written and signed payment agreement is necessary to indicate the intent of the defendant to pay the fines and court costs and to aid in accounting for and collecting the amounts due to the municipal division.

F. Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees collected by the municipal division are deposited into the city treasury. However, the POSTC fees have never been remitted to the state. Section 590.140.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires POSTC fees to be disbursed to the state.

Conditions similar to B.2. and C. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Bloomfield Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B.1. Deposit all monies intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. Also, reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

2. Perform, document, and retain monthly reconciliations between the monthly report and bank deposits.

C. Require the Municipal Judge to review all court dockets for propriety and sign the dockets.

D.1. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile these listings to monies held in trust by the city. In addition, separate records should be maintained of bonds received, disbursed, and held in the city of Bloomfield's general account.

2. Maintain a bond ledger.

E. Obtain a written and signed payment agreement for those defendants which are allowed to pay fines and court costs over a period of time.

F. Request the city to properly remit POSTC fees to the state in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. The Municipal Judge will reconcile receipt slips to deposits each month.

B.1. We have implemented this recommendation.

2. We will include all activity on the monthly report and reconcile to deposits.

C. The Municipal Judge will sign each court docket.

D. The Court Clerk is now maintaining a bond ledger. We will request monthly reports from the city regarding the bond account and will reconcile these to the bond ledger.

E. We will implement a continuance docket.

F. This will be implemented.

5. City of Campbell Municipal Division

A. The Court Clerk accepts cash, checks, and money orders for the payment of fines and court costs. The Court Clerk does not consistently record the method of payment on receipt slips. To ensure receipts are transmitted and deposited intact, the method of payment should be indicated on all receipt slips. The composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of transmittals and deposits.

B. Bank reconciliations are not prepared monthly, deposits are not recorded timely, and a running balance is not maintained for the municipal division's bond bank account. To ensure all differences between bank and book balances are noted in a timely manner, the bank account should be reconciled monthly, all transactions should be recorded as they occur, and a balance should be maintained in the checkbook register.

C. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance. The Court Clerk prepared an open items listing as of October 30, 1998. The open items listing totaled $192 more than the balance of bonds in the bond account. It appears this difference may be due to inaccuracies on the open items listing.

Monthly open items listings should be prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance to ensure proper accountability over open cases and ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

2) The October 30, 1998 open items listing included bond receipts totaling $3,222 which had been held in excess of one year. An attempt should be made to determine the proper disposition of these monies. A review should be made of any bonds posted by persons who failed to make the required court appearance to determine if the bonds should be forfeited and monies paid turned over to the city treasury as provided by Section 479.210, RSMo 1994. For those bonds which cannot be forfeited and remain unclaimed, Sections 447.500 through 447.595, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, which relate to unclaimed property, should be used to disburse these monies.

3) When a case is completed the bond is refunded. A check for the total amount of the bond is made payable to the defendant. If the defendant wishes to use the bond money to pay his fine and court costs, he must endorse the check and return it to the municipal division. After the fine and court costs are deducted from the bond amount, any difference is disbursed to the defendant from other cash collections. This procedure of cashing bond refund checks does not allow fines and court costs to be deposited intact.

   To ensure fines and court costs are deposited intact, the court should discontinue the practice of cashing bond refund checks. To accomplish this, the court should issue the refund checks in the amount of the difference between the fines and court costs due and the total bond amount. The amounts applied toward the fines and court costs should be separately transferred from the bond account to the city treasury.

D. Instances were noted where the Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC), Law Enforcement Training (LET), and Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees were inappropriately charged on dismissed cases. Sections 595.045.1 and 590.140.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, require these fees to be charged on all court cases for violations of municipal ordinances, except for cases dismissed by the court.

Similar conditions were also noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the city of Campbell Municipal Division:

A. Record the method of payment on all receipt slips issued and reconcile the composition of receipt slips issued to the composition of monies transmitted and deposited.

B. Reconcile the bond checking account monthly, record all transactions timely and maintain an accurate running balance in the bond checkbook register.

C.1. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile the listing to monies held in trust by the court. In addition, the reason for the apparent $192 shortage should be investigated by reviewing all open bonds on the open items listing. In the event cash is determined to be insufficient to meet bond liabilities, the municipal division will need to review this matter with the city to determine the proper resolution.

2. Forfeit any bonds for persons who failed to make the required court appearance, and attempt to locate those defendants who have a cash bond due back to them. Any bond monies remaining unclaimed should be remitted to the state in accordance with state law. Procedures should be established to routinely follow-up on cash bonds remaining on hand over a period of time.

3. Discontinue the practice of cashing bond refund checks out of other cash collections.

D. Assess CVC, LET, and POSTC fees in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. The method of payment will be recorded on all receipt slips and the City Collector is now reconciling the composition of monies transmitted and deposited.

B. This has been implemented and is done monthly.

C.1. Monthly listings of open items are now prepared and the difference is down to around $50. We will continue to investigate the difference.

2. These cases will be reviewed.

3. This will be implemented.

D. The Municipal Judge will consider this recommendation.

6. City of Cardwell Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing fine and court cost monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. Receipts are not deposited on a timely basis. Fine and court cost monies are deposited to the city treasury approximately once or twice a month. In addition, fine and court cost monies are not deposited intact. Personal checks are cashed for city residents from official court receipts. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, the court should discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from court receipts and monies should be deposited intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed until deposits are prepared. In addition, the endorsement used when deposits are made is not restrictive. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to documentation of case dispositions:

1) The final disposition of each case is not consistently documented in the court docket. The ultimate disposition of each case should be recorded on the docket to ensure the proper disposition has been recorded in the court records.

2) The Municipal Judge does not sign the court dockets after case dispositions are recorded. To ensure the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court records, the judge should review each court docket and sign the docket to indicate approval of the recorded disposition.

3) A schedule which specifies the offenses which may be paid at the TVB and the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense has been formally established by court order pursuant to Section 479.260.6, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998. However, amounts collected by the Court Clerk at the TVB did not agree to the TVB schedule for five of the nine (56 percent) tickets tested. For two of these five cases, confirmations indicated the amounts paid were more than the amount recorded. We could not determine if these additional monies had been received by the Court Clerk and deposited into the city treasury.

The Court Clerk does not have the authority to impose fines and costs except in those offenses and amounts established by the Municipal Judge in the TVB schedule. The Court Clerk should ensure that amounts collected at the TVB are in agreement with the fine and cost schedule established by the judge.

E. The municipal division allows defendants to pay fines and costs over a period of time; however, written and signed payment agreements are not obtained. In addition, for three of five cases reviewed with balances past due, warrants had not been issued.

A written and signed payment agreement is necessary to indicate the intent of the defendant to pay fines and court costs and to aid in accounting for and collecting the amounts due to the municipal division.

F. The Court Clerk does not always forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP). In seven instances out of seven items reviewed (100 percent), the required records were not forwarded. Section 302.225, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires records of any pleas or findings of guilty on traffic violations under the laws of the state, county, or municipal ordinance to be forwarded to the MSHP within ten days.

G. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to fines, court costs and fees:

1) Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC) and Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees collected by the municipal division are deposited directly into the city treasury. The Court Clerk remits these fees to the state approximately once a year. In addition, the amounts disbursed to the state for fees collected from July 1993 through November 1998 were not accurate. The Court Clerk disbursed $762 in CVC fees and $99 in POSTC fees in excess of amounts collected. Section 595.045.5, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires 95 percent of the CVC fee to be paid to the state monthly. POSTC fees should also be disbursed monthly to the state.

2) Instances were noted where the Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC), Law Enforcement Training (LET), and Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees were inappropriately charged on dismissed cases. Sections 595.045.1 and 590.140.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, require these fees to be charged on all court cases for violations of municipal ordinances, except for cases dismissed by the court.

3) The municipal division assesses various amounts for seat belt violations heard in court. For five traffic tickets reviewed with seat belt violations the amounts assessed ranged from $50 to $83.

Section 307.178.5, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, states a fine not to exceed $10 may be imposed and no court costs shall be imposed on any person due to a seat belt law violation.

Conditions similar to B., D.2., E., and G.1. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Cardwell Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B. Deposit all monies intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. In addition, the court should discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from court receipts.

C. Restrictively endorse all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

D.1. Include the disposition of each case on the court docket.

2. Require the Municipal Judge to review all court dockets for propriety and sign the dockets.

3. Ensure the amounts collected at the TVB are in agreement with the fine and cost schedule established by the judge.

E. Obtain written and signed payment agreements for those defendants which are allowed to pay fines and court costs over a period of time and institute procedures to collect amounts owed.

F. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

G.1. Ensure that CVC and POSTC fees are disbursed monthly in accordance with state law.

2. Assess CVC, LET, and POSTC fees in accordance with state law.

3. Assess fines for seat belt violations in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge provided the following responses:

A-C, F
G.1&2.These recommendations will be implemented.

D.1&2.
G.3. These recommendations have been implemented.

D.3. This will be implemented. The Municipal Judge will review TVB cases.

E. Signed payment agreements are being used and warrants are issued if show cause orders are ignored.

7. City of Clarkton Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing fine, court cost, and bond monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. During our initial review, we noted that some payments recorded on the receipt slips could not be traced to a deposit into the city's Motor Fuel Street Account, the account designated to receive all court collections. In addition, the Court Clerk indicated all court receipts should be deposited into this account. Since we could not account for all court receipts, we performed additional procedures for the period January 1, 1997 through March 31, 1999.

For this period, we compared checks and cash deposited in the Motor Fuel Street Account to the corresponding receipts. We determined total court receipts by comparing the receipt slips to the corresponding bank deposits for the audit period. We noted deposits containing unrecorded receipts and receipt slip amounts that could not be traced to bank deposits. The following table summarizes the results of our review:

	3 Months Ended March 31, 1999	Year Ended December 31, 1998	1997	Total
Receipts recorded on receipt slips	$ 14,099	15,605	26,778	56,482
Monies received, but not recorded on receipt slips	363	1,878	2,443	4,684
Total court receipts identified	14,462	17,483	29,221	61,166
Less deposits to Motor Fuel Street Account	14,213	13,476	28,966	56,655
Court receipts not deposited to Motor Fuel Street Account	$ 249	4,007	255	4,511

In addition, we noted the amount of cash deposited fluctuated significantly as follows:

A new Court Clerk was appointed May 6, 1998. She resigned January 11, 1999 while we were conducting the audit. We noted nothing to explain the significant decline in the percentage of cash deposited during 1998. In fact, the number of cases filed with the municipal division increased from 162 during 1997 to 260 during 1998. Based on this cash deposit activity it appears there should have been some additional cash deposits during the period May 6, 1998 to January 11, 1999.

Because court monies are commingled with city funds and deposits are not made intact, we could not determine if court dollars were deposited in other city accounts. The municipal division, along with the city, should review this situation and take necessary actions to recover any monies determined to be missing.

C. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) Receipt slips are not issued for some monies received. Also, the police department occasionally collects monies for fines and court costs when the Court C

Period	Total Deposited	Cash Deposited	Percent Cash
Period January 1, 1998 to May 5, 1998	$ 34,090	28,185	83 %
Period May 6, 1998 to January 11, 1999	9,030	4,483	50
Period January 12 to March 31, 1999	13,535	9,287	69

Clerk does not prepare a court receipt slip for the monies transmitted from the police department. To adequately account for all receipts and ensure all receipts are deposited intact, a prenumbered receipt slip should be issued for all monies received and the numerical sequence of receipts should be accounted for properly.

2) The Court Clerk does not consistently note the method of payment on the receipt slip, and the composition of receipts is not reconciled to the composition of deposits. To provide assurance all monies received have been properly deposited intact, the method of payment should be recorded on each receipt slip, and the composition of monies received should be reconciled to the composition of monies deposited.

D. The municipal division does not file with the city a monthly report of all cases heard in court. Section 479.080.3, RSMo 1994, requires the Court Clerk to prepare a monthly listing of all cases heard in court, including all fines and court costs collected, to be verified by the Court Clerk or Municipal Judge and filed with the City Clerk.

E. Numerous bank statements, canceled checks, and deposit slips could not be located. In addition, several records indicating the assignment of ticket books to officers could not be located.

Supreme Court Administrative Rule No. 8 requires that all financial records be maintained for five years or upon completion of an audit. Retention of applicable records is necessary to properly account for all municipal monies received.

F. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to court dockets:

1) The final disposition of each case is not consistently documented in the court docket. The ultimate disposition of each case should be recorded on the docket to ensure the proper disposition has been entered in to the court records.

2) The Municipal Judge does not sign the court dockets after case dispositions are recorded. To ensure the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court records, the judge should review each court docket and sign the docket to indicate approval of the recorded disposition.

G. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) The Court Clerk does not perform reconciliations for the municipal division's bank account. Monthly bank reconciliations are necessary to ensure the bank account is in agreement with the accounting records and to detect errors on a timely basis. In addition, all bank reconciliations should be documented and all differences fully investigated and explained.

2) The Court Clerk does not maintain a bond ledger and does not prepare a monthly listing of open items (liabilities).

A bond ledger indicating date and amount of receipt and date and method of disbursement is necessary to ensure proper accountability over bonds. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust by the court are sufficient to meet liabilities.

3) The bond escrow bank statement indicated a deposit of $100 on December 17, 1998. However, the bond was not receipted, and the municipal division is unable to indicate who posted the bond.

To provide proper accountability over bonds and to ensure all bonds are deposited, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all bonds and the details of each bond should be included on the bond ledger and monthly listing of open items.

H. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to traffic tickets and summonses:

1) Neither the police department nor the municipal division maintains a log to account for traffic tickets and summonses issued and their ultimate disposition. In addition, a log of summonses assigned is not maintained.

Without a proper accounting for the numerical sequence and disposition of traffic tickets and summonses, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured that all tickets and summonses issued were properly submitted to the court. A record of the ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and summons issued should be maintained as well as a log of summonses assigned, to ensure all traffic ticket and summonses have been accounted for properly.

2) The Court Clerk does not forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP). Section 302.225, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires records of any pleas or findings of guilty on traffic violations under the laws of the state, county, or municipal ordinance to be forwarded to the MSHP within ten days.

I. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to the municipal division's TVB:

1) Although the municipal division operates a TVB that allows certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date, a court order has not been issued to formally establish the TVB.

2) A schedule which specifies the offenses which may be paid at the TVB and the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense has been formally established by court order pursuant to Section 479.260, RSMo 1994. However, this schedule of fines and court costs has not been prominently posted at the TVB.

Section 479.050, RSMo 1994, states that a TVB may be established by the Municipal Judge. Supreme Court Rule No. 37.49 requires the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB by court order, to designate a TVB Clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense. In addition, the schedule of fines and costs is required to be prominently posted at the TVB.

J. The municipal division allows defendants to make partial payments on fines and court costs. However, the court does not maintain adequate records to account for individual and total amounts owed to the court and written and signed payment agreements are not obtained. We noted that partial payments made were not always recorded on the case file and docket book.

Accounts receivable records, including written and signed payment agreements, are necessary to ensure proper follow up action is taken and to facilitate monitoring of amounts due to the municipal division. A written and signed payment agreement is necessary to indicate the intent of the defendant to pay fines and court costs.

K. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to fees:

1) Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC) fees collected by the municipal division are deposited into the city treasury. The Court Clerk does not maintain documentation of CVC fees collected. CVC fees have never been remitted to the state. Section 595.045, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires CVC fees to be disbursed to the state monthly. To properly account for the collections and ultimate disbursement of CVC fees, the court should document CVC collections.

2) Instances were noted where the Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC) and Law Enforcement Training (LET) fees were inappropriately charged on dismissed cases. Sections 595.045.1 and 590.140.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, require these fees to be charged on all court cases for violations of municipal ordinances, except for cases dismissed by the court.

3) Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees were not assessed or collected in accordance with state law. Section 590.140.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires this fee to be charged on all court cases for violations of municipal ordinances, except for cases dismissed by the court.

Conditions similar to C., D., F., G.2., H.-J., K.1., and K.2. were also noted in our prior report.

Because of the problems noted above, we were unable to express an opinion on the financial statements of the city of Clarkton Municipal Division as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. These deficiencies are serious and should be corrected immediately.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Clarkton Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B. Along with the city, consider performing an in-depth review of court and city records. Necessary actions should be taken to obtain restitution for any funds determined to be missing.

C.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

2. Record the method of payment on each receipt slip and reconcile the composition of monies received to the composition of monies deposited to ensure all monies are deposited intact.

D. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these with the city in accordance with state law.

E. Ensure all financial records are appropriately retained.

F.1. Include the disposition of each case on the court docket.

2. Require the Municipal Judge to review all court dockets for propriety and sign the dockets.

G.1. Reconcile the bond checking account monthly and maintain documentation of the reconciliations.

2. Maintain a bond ledger and prepare monthly listings of open items. Reconcile these listings to monies held in trust by the court.

3. Investigate and determine who posted the $100 bond and issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

H.1. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets and summonses assigned and issued.

2. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

I.1. Prepare a court order authorizing the establishment of a TVB.

2. Prominently post the schedule of fines and costs at the TVB.

J. Establish and maintain accounts receivable records and obtain written and signed payment agreements for those defendants which are allowed to pay fines and court costs over a period of time.

K.1. Maintain documentation of CVC collections and disbursements, determine and pay amounts due to the state for CVC, and, in the future, ensure CVC fees are remitted to the state in accordance with state law.

2. Assess CVC and LET fees in accordance with state law.

3. Assess POSTC fees in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Mayor and the current Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. Our outside bookkeeper will perform and document a review of receipt slips and deposits.

B. We will look into this situation further. We are trying to get an audit of the city.

C.1. The police department is issuing receipt slips. We are currently issuing receipt slips for all monies collected by the court. In addition, we are issuing receipt slips to the police department for monies transmitted by them.

2. We are currently recording the method of payment on each receipt slip and we will reconcile to the composition of deposits.

D., F.1., K.3. These recommendations have been implemented.

E., G.1., G.2., K.2. These recommendations will be implemented.

F.2. Case files are signed by the Municipal Judge after the final disposition of the case.

G.3. We will check this out and determine who posted the bond. The police department and the court are now issuing prenumbered receipt slips for all bond receipts.

H.1. We will work with the police department to maintain a log or the court will maintain a log to track all tickets and/or summonses.

2. This is done after each court date.

I.1. This has been done.

2. This has been posted.

J. Payment agreements are issued and signed, and payments are recorded on the case file.

K.1. We are now remitting CVC fees to the state and we will determine how to maintain documentation of CVC collections and disbursements.

8. City of Dudley Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing and disbursing fine and court cost monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the City Clerk/Court Clerk performs all of these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed until deposits are prepared. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

C. The Court Clerk accepts cash, checks and money orders for the payment of fines and court costs. Although the method of payment is noted on the receipt slips, the composition of receipts is not reconciled to the composition of deposits.

To provide assurance all monies received have been properly deposited, the composition of monies received should be reconciled to the composition of monies deposited.

D. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to the municipal division's TVB:

1) Although the municipal division operates a TVB that allows certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date; a court order has not been issued to formally establish the TVB.

2) A schedule which specifies the offenses which may be paid at the TVB and the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense has not been formally established by court order pursuant to Section 479.260, RSMo 1994.

Section 479.050, RSMo 1994, states that a TVB may be established by the Municipal Judge. Supreme Court Rule No. 37.49 requires the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB by court order, to designate a TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense. In addition, the schedule of fines and costs is required to be prominently posted at the TVB.

E. The municipal division does not file with the city a monthly report of all cases heard in court. Section 479.080.3, RSMo 1994, requires the Court Clerk to prepare a monthly listing of all cases heard in court, including all fines and court costs collected, to be verified by the Court Clerk or Municipal Judge and filed with the City Clerk.

F. The city adopted an ordinance on March 7, 1996, authorizing the Court Clerk to charge court costs of $30 for each municipal court case. The Court Clerk could not explain what costs and fees were included in the $30. Section 488.012.6, RSMo Cumulative Supp., 1998, provides for a $12 court cost to be collected for municipal cases. In addition, Section 595.045.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp., 1998, provides for a fee of $5 to be collected for Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC) fees and Section 590.140, RSMo Cumulative Supp., 1998, provides that an additional $1 be collected for Peace Officers Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees. Thus, it appears that the court costs assessed are excessive. Furthermore it appears costs of $30 would include the collection of CVC and POSTC fees. However, the state's portion of CVC and POSTC fees have never been remitted to the state as required by law.

The municipal division needs to review the court costs currently assessed and ensure compliance with state laws.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Dudley Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B. Restrictively endorse all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

C. Record the method of payment on each receipt slip and reconcile the composition of monies received to the composition of monies deposited.

D.1. Prepare a court order authorizing the establishment of a TVB.

2. Formally prepare and prominently post the schedule of fines and costs at the TVB.

E. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these with the city in accordance with state law.

F. Assess court costs and fees in accordance with state law. In addition, the court should properly remit CVC and POSTC fees to the state as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. An alderman will be the independent person who will review the municipal division records. His review will be documented.

B.&C. These recommendations have been implemented.

D.1. The Clerk is working with the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB.

2. Once the TVB is established, a schedule of fines and costs will be prominently posted in city hall.

E. Corrected. A monthly summary has been prepared for review by the city aldermen and Mayor.

F. Court costs have been adjusted to comply with state law and the city is remitting CVC and POSTC fees as required by state law.

9. City of Hornersville Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing fine and court cost monies collected by the municipal division are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited.

B. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) Receipt slips are not issued for some monies received. From May 1996 to October 1998, we noted fifteen instances, totaling $376, where fine and court cost monies were deposited in the Police Fund and could not be traced to a court receipt slip. Also, the police department occasionally collects monies for fines and court costs when the Court Clerk is not present. However, the Court Clerk does not prepare a court receipt slip for the monies transmitted. To adequately account for all receipts and ensure all receipts are deposited intact, a prenumbered receipt slip should be issue for all monies received and the numerical sequence of receipts should be accounted for properly.

2) The Court Clerk does not consistently note the method of payment on the receipt slip, and the composition of receipts is not reconciled to the composition of deposits. To provide assurance all monies received have been properly deposited, the method of payment should be recorded on each receipt slip and the composition of monies received should be reconciled to the composition of monies deposited.

3) Receipts are not deposited intact or on a timely basis. Fine and court cost monies along with some city water collections were deposited to the city treasury's Police Fund. In addition, bank deposits are not reconciled to the court receipt slips issued. From April 1995 to September 1998, we noted thirty-two receipt slips for court collections in which receipts totaling over $1,100 were apparently not deposited into the Police Fund. Since court monies are commingled with city funds and deposits are not made intact, we could not determine if these dollars were deposited into other city accounts or if a shortage exists. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, monies should be deposited intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

4) Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed until deposits are prepared. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

C. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to court dockets:

1) We noted twenty-two tickets out of seventy-eight tickets reviewed (28 percent) did not trace to a case file or court docket. The municipal division was unable to provide supporting documents indicating final disposition of the issued tickets. In addition, five confirmations were returned indicating that the ticket had been processed and fine and costs were paid at city hall. We were unable to determine if these monies had been received by the Court Clerk and deposited into the city treasury.

2) During our review of case files, we noted instances in which case files did not contain the individual court docket. We also noted two instances in which the Court Clerk indicated the charges were dropped; however the Municipal Judge's court docket did not indicate charges were dropped. Thus, proper disposition could not be determined.

Section 479.070, RSMo 1994, requires the proceedings of every case commenced before the court be entered on the docket. The Municipal Judge should ensure all cases are included on the court docket and document on the court docket any fines, sentences, or court orders. This ensures the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court records.

D. The municipal division does not file with the city a monthly report of all cases heard in court. Section 479.080.3, RSMo 1994, requires the Court Clerk to prepare a monthly listing of all cases heard in court, including all fines and court costs collected, to be verified by the Court Clerk or Municipal Judge, and filed with the City Clerk.

E. Numerous traffic ticket books and at least one police department receipt book could not be located. As a result, it was not possible to account for all traffic tickets and all monies received by the municipal division.

Supreme Court Administrative Rule No. 8 requires that all financial records be maintained for five years or upon completion of an audit. Retention of applicable records is necessary to properly account for all municipal division monies received.

F. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to traffic tickets and complaint forms:

1) Neither the police department nor the municipal division maintains a log to account for traffic tickets and complaint forms assigned and issued and their ultimate disposition. In addition, complaint forms are not prenumbered, and voided traffic tickets are not properly defaced.

Without a proper accounting for the numerical sequence and disposition of traffic tickets and complaint forms, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured that all tickets and complaint forms issued are properly submitted to the court. A record of the ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and complaint form should be maintained to ensure all tickets and complaint forms have been accounted for properly.

2) The Court Clerk does not forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP). Section 302.225, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires records of any pleas of findings of guilty on traffic violations under the laws of the state, county, or municipal ordinances to be forwarded to the MSHP within ten days.

G. The municipal division allows defendants to make partial payments on fines and court costs. However, the court does not maintain adequate records to account for individual and total amounts owed to the court and written and signed payment agreements are not consistently obtained. We noted that partial payments made were not always recorded on the case file.

Accounts receivable records, including written and signed payment agreements, are necessary to ensure proper follow up action is taken and to facilitate monitoring of amounts due to the municipal division. A written and signed payment agreement is necessary to indicate the intent of the defendant to pay fines and court costs.

H. During our review, we noted the following concerns relating to fees:

1) Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC) fees collected by the municipal division are deposited directly into the city treasury. The city has never remitted these fees to the state. Section 595.045.5, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires 95 percent of the CVC fee to be paid to the state monthly.

2) Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees were not assessed or collected in accordance with state law. Section 590.140.1, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires this fee to be charged on all court cases for violations of municipal ordinances except for cases dismissed by the court.

Because of the problems noted above, we were unable to express an opinion on the financial statements of the city of Hornersville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997. These deficiencies are serious and should be corrected immediately.

Conditions similar to B.-G. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Hornersville Municipal Division:

A. Establish a documented review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

2. Record the method of payment on each receipt slip and reconcile the composition of monies received to the composition of monies deposited.

3. Review the exceptions noted to determine that all court collections were deposited into the city treasury. In addition, we recommend the municipal division deposit all monies intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

4. Restrictively endorse all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

C. Ensure that case files are prepared for all tickets issued and final dispositions of cases are recorded on the court dockets.

D. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these with the city in accordance with state law.

E. Ensure all municipal division financial records are appropriately retained.

F.1. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets and complaint forms assigned and issued. In addition, all complaint forms issued should be prenumbered and voided tickets should be properly defaced.

2. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

G. Establish and maintain accounts receivable records and obtain written and signed payment agreements for those defendants which are allowed to pay fines and court costs over a period of time.

H.1. Determine and pay amounts due to the state for CVC, and in the future ensure CVC fees are remitted to the state in accordance with state law.

2. Assess POSTC fees in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and the Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. The outside accountant will document an independent comparison of receipt slips to amounts deposited.

B.1. Receipt slips are issued for all monies received. Fines and costs are deposited directly into the city's Police Fund in a timely manner. Deposits are made at least weekly or when the amount exceeds $100. The police department no longer collects fine money.

2. The method of payment is now marked on each prenumbered receipt slip and reconciled to the deposit.

3. Before the audit, some court monies were deposited into other accounts. Now all monies are deposited on a timely basis. Each deposit goes directly into the proper account (water money into the Water Fund, fine money into the Police Fund, etc.). Court money is now kept in a separate box in another drawer.

4. Checks and money orders are now endorsed immediately upon receipt.

C.1. All tickets are assigned a case number as they are received by the Court Clerk. Money received at city hall has a prenumbered receipt slip issued at that time.

2. Each case has an individual court docket sheet attached to the case file. All cases are signed by the Municipal Judge at the time of disposition.

D. A monthly report is now filed on all cases heard in court. This report is reviewed by the Mayor and Council monthly.

E. Only one traffic ticket book is issued to the police department at a time. They cannot receive a new book until all tickets have been accounted for and the old book has been turned into the Court Clerk.

F.1. The Police Department has been advised that all traffic tickets must be accounted for. All voided traffic tickets must remain in the ticket book and VOID must be written across them. Complaint forms will no longer be used.

2. All required records of convictions on traffic offenses are now forwarded to the Missouri State Highway Patrol after each court.

G. Written and signed payment agreements are now used for anyone paying a fine in partial payments. All payments are recorded on the case file.

H.1. CVC fees collected by the municipal division are remitted to the state monthly. In July 1999, amounts due to the state for the previous year were remitted to the state.

2. POSTC fees are collected according to state law.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

THIRTY-FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by eight of the municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fifth Judicial Circuit on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the years ended 1993, 1992, and 1991. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the municipal divisions should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. City of Advance Municipal Division

A.1. The numerical sequence of receipt slips was not accounted for and receipt slips were not reconciled to transmittals or monthly reports.

2. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed until deposited.

3. All persons collecting fines and court costs were not adequately bonded.

B. The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk were husband and wife.

C. The Municipal Judge had not issued a court order to formally establish the TVB, and a schedule of fines and costs had not been posted.

D. The court did not record the disposition of all cases on the docket.

E. Records of convictions on traffic ticket offenses were not always forwarded to the MSHP.

F. CVC and LET fees were not assessed in accordance with state law.

Recommendation:

The city of Advance Municipal Division:

A.1. Account for the numerical sequence of receipt slips issued and reconcile the receipt slips written to the monies transmitted to the city and the monthly report.

2. Restrictively endorse all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

3. Request the city to obtain a bond for all persons handling court monies.

E. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

F. Assess CVC and LET fees in accordance with state law.

Status:

The numerical sequence of receipt slips was usually accounted for and reconciled to the deposit slips; however, we noted a few deposit slips were not reconciled to receipts. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the municipal division should still consider fully implementing these recommendations.

A.3. Implemented. Bond coverage of $1,000 was obtained for the Court Clerk.

B. This recommendation does not apply to the current Municipal Judge and Court Clerk.

C. Implemented.

D&F. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

2. Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

B. An adequate bond ledger was not maintained and monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

C.1. CVC and LET fees were not assessed in accordance with state law.

2. The state's portion of CVC fees was remitted to the state approximately three times a year.

D. The Municipal Judge did not sign the docket after dispositions were recorded.

The city of Arbyrd Municipal Division:

A.1. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued, and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

2. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.
